WATER FIGHT IN WASCO COUNTY

Efforts of Portland Men to Secure Appropriations Meet Opposition.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) The Dalles, Or., Dec. 11.—A big battle is promised in the courts of The Dalles in the near future, when it will be decided who is entitled to appropriate the waters of Clear lake, in the southern part of Wasco county. Several corporations have filed notices of appropriation of the waters of this lake and also for a portion of Boulder creek, Cedar creek and White river, in the immediate vicinity of the lake. The waters of these streams and of Clear lake will be used to irrigate the Juniper flat and Wapinitia country, comprising an arid district embracing thousands of acres of the best land in Wasco county. J. H. Kelly of Portland is the latest appropriator and he has filed notice of appropriation for the waters of Boulder and Cedar creeks and White river, as well as the waters of Clear lake. J. H. Kelly also of Portland has spent thousands of dollars in

NOBLE HUNTER TO VISIT ROOSEVELT

Earl of Warwick Knows Country Where President Will Hunt.

New York, Dec. 11.—The earl of Warwick, who has had several years of hunting in the regions of Africa that President Roosevelt is planning to visit, is preparing to go to Washington for a hunting talk with the president. He arrived yesterday on the White Star liner Oceanic. The earl says the country selected by Roosevelt abounds in great game. With the free permission of the British government to shoot anything in sight, the president will have an opportunity to kill elephants, lions, rhinoceros and other animals usually stringently protected by his majesty's laws. The earl's last hunt was in Africa two years ago and he will prefer to the president his experiences. The territory is more easily accessible now than formerly, according to the earl, and the climate of eastern Africa is fine. He expects to stay at Metzger's

WOULD-BE DYNAMITER ARRESTED AT SALEM

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., Dec. 11.—What is thought by the authorities to have been a plot to "trap" the state penitentiary by blowing it up with explosives was discovered by Deputy Sheriff William Esch of Marion county yesterday afternoon, when a Japanese, ex-convict was arrested in the vicinity of the state prison with 12 sticks of 1 1/2 ounce dynamite and a bottle of "soup" on him. After an examination by Warden Curtis and Sheriff Esch, the Japanese was locked in the county jail. The Jap had been released from the penitentiary only a week or so. He had spent most of his time in Salem since his release. It was learned yesterday that he had purchased considerable explosives. He was taken by Sheriff Esch while prowling about in the vicinity of the penitentiary. Upon being threatened with return to the penitentiary the Jap confessed that he had been taught to make the "soup" by a convict named Campbell, sent up from Wasco county for larceny. "Soup" is a kind of explosive prepared by boiling dynamite and is a substitute for glycerine.

The reason for the operation is not known. It is reported that President Castro ate and drank enormously while here and showed every indication that on his visit he was seeking anything but lost health.
