

DEBATE TO OUTSIDE STATES

Dairy Industry in Oregon Suffers Through Lack of Proper Business Principles—The Convention Adjourns Today.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Dec. 11.—"Be Patriotic and Fill Oregon With Cows" was the theme of the message delivered to the dairy association by James Withycomb this morning, who occupied most of the convention's time. Lack of sound business principles among dairymen was the meat of the address delivered by Dr. Withycomb. He said the dairymen of Oregon were selling their calves cheaper than any other state, and that they did not know they were up against a losing proposition.

Dr. Withycomb also discussed feed problems and the purpose of the cow. He showed where the dairymen were making a mistake in not raising vetch and kale, the best of dairy feed, and were instead buying their feed at twice the cost, and of an inferior grade, for dairy cattle.

"This is an age of specialization," said Dr. Withycomb, in speaking of the special purpose of the cow. "Running horses are selected for years with one definite purpose in mind. No one would think of selecting a draft horse for a race. Neither can you expect a beef cow to give milk. Dairymen must raise dairy cows. Cows raised both for milk and beef are a failure. They will either not milk or give only a few times over the life of a cow. Like anything else, cannot serve two purposes at the same time."

W. L. Crissey, secretary of the association, was on the program this morning, as was also C. L. Mitchell of the bureau of animal industry of the United States government and Mrs. S. A. Youkum of Marshfield, first vice president of the association. With the election of officers this afternoon the convention will close. During the two days the spirit of the gathering has centered around the fact that during the past year outside states have been acquiring Oregon-bred cattle, to the great detriment of the industry in this state. Every speaker acquainted with local conditions abhorred the tendency and warned those present to bring about change in 1909 and "fill Oregon with cows."

Able addresses were delivered yesterday afternoon by Dr. E. N. Hutchinson of the bureau of animal industry, department of agriculture, J. W. Bailey, state dairy and food commissioner and C. H. Frazer, field manager for the Corvallis Creamery company. Each handled his address in a masterful manner and the large attendance listened attentively.

"Tuberculosis" was the subject of Dr. Hutchinson's talk. He told how disease had spread among the cattle and what preventives should be employed. Plenty of air and sunlight, well ventilated and clean barns were necessary to healthy cattle in every climate, said Dr. Hutchinson. He told of the experiments carried on by the United States government under the principles that had been gathered from the experiments.

Hutchinson, Dairy Commissioner Bailey addressed the convention on "Needed Legislation." He said that the creamery men and larger dairy interests were organizing an organization during the past years by which much had been accomplished, but that all the dairymen should be done by the state. He said his office was not clothed with sufficient authority to enforce proper regulations and in other particulars to obtain the best results or to produce the highest quality of dairy products.

Bailey also said that the dairymen of Oregon were too impatient and were not willing to work and wait for results as the dairymen in other states. He said the reason for the decrease in production in 1908 over 1907 was because dairymen were too anxious to get every dollar out of the industry immediately. They are not willing to expend the required labor and money to raise more cattle.

Following Dr. Hutchinson's address, Commissioner Bailey addressed the convention on "Needed Legislation." He said that the creamery men and larger dairy interests were organizing an organization during the past years by which much had been accomplished, but that all the dairymen should be done by the state. He said his office was not clothed with sufficient authority to enforce proper regulations and in other particulars to obtain the best results or to produce the highest quality of dairy products.

CONGESTION OF DOCKET DELAYS OPENING OF TRIAL OF LAWYER FOR MURDER.

December 21 is now the date on which it is probable that James A. Finch will be called before a jury to answer for the murder of Ralph B. Fisher. It was at first thought that the case would be reached by next Tuesday, but this is now seen to be impossible, and one week from next Monday will be held open.

Harry Daly, indicted for the murder of Harry Kenny, will be tried before Finch. The indictment against him was returned at the same time, but the killing of Kenny took place several days before Fisher's. The trial is expected to begin on Thursday, but has been reserved for the beginning of Daly's trial.

Long drawn jury trials in the circuit court this week have congested the docket to such an extent that the judges are now two full days behind with their work. The Johnson murder case has occupied three days of Judge Cleland's time, and the W. E. Douglass embezzlement case has been on trial four days before Judge Morrow, with the end not yet in sight.

Today was the time set for the trial of Antonio Petrosso, who is charged with the murder of Vincenzo Descenzia, but all the judges are attending to the trial of cases and the case will not face a jury until Monday. He will be tried in Judge Morrow's department.

The Fulton amendment is one of great interest to the people of Oregon engaged in business enterprises which compel interstate shipments of goods and merchandise. Indirectly it is of importance to all the people, for it has to do with the rates charged by transportation companies and therefore with the price of different commodities.

The amendment in effect provides that in the event of a new interstate rate being published as about to go into effect, if the rate should be objected to by the shippers affected by the proposed increase, the commission may, after investigation, issue an injunction against the railroad, prohibiting the new rate until the matter has been heard by the commission and judged by it.

Because of the great importance to the Oregon shippers of the success of the amendment, it is urged that all those interested write at once to the members of the senate committee on interstate commerce, urging them to not only bring the amendment from the committee at once but that it be accompanied by a favorable report. The members of the committee are: Stephen B. Ekins of West Virginia, Sheldon C. Cullum of Illinois, Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, John Keam of New Jersey, Jonathan P. Dolliver of Iowa, Joseph B. Foraker of Ohio, Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota, W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, Benjamin R. Tillman of South Carolina, Murphy J. Foster of Louisiana and Francis G. Newlands of Nevada.

Some one made the remark that he had been trying to cheat the hangman. "I am not afraid of the hangman," he replied. "All I am anxious about is my son."

WILL REPORT ON AID TO SHIPPERS

Senate Committee Will Soon Act on Fulton's Amendment, Which Will Affect the Prices of Many Commodities in Oregon.

A report on the Fulton amendment to the Hepburn act, has been promised by the senate committee on interstate commerce before the holidays, according to private advices received in the city. It is now practically certain that this important matter will come up for consideration and final action during the present session of congress.

Johnson was allowed about 15 minutes' rest at the jail, and was then taken upstairs to the courtroom, and there he looked toward the judge and his own behalf. Although terribly weakened from the loss of blood, suffering great pain from the gash in his throat, and with his windpipe still gaping open so that the air sucked in and out with a horrible sound when he tried to talk, he managed to gasp and choke out his story.

The jurors state that, even with men accused of murder, it is the custom of the jail to allow them to have a razor to shave with before being taken into court. Johnson, it appears, had no razor, and he was told to prevent his doing with the razor as he pleased.

THOUSAND FINE; IN JAIL A YEAR

This for Edgar Reinhart, Who Beat His Mother and His Sister.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Vancouver, Wash., Dec. 11.—For hugging his sister, Hattie Reinhart, until she writhed in pain, Edgar Reinhart, charged with assault and battery, was today fined $1000 and sentenced to serve one year in the county jail.

"Guilty or not guilty?" asked Judge W. W. McCredie.
Reinhart replied, "I am guilty and ask no leniency or mercy; give me the limit, and if I come before you again for the same charge, give me death."
Reinhart was arrested at his mother's home near Burn Ridge Wednesday, for beating his sister and ill-treating his mother. Yesterday his sister and his mother signed a complaint and today he was arraigned and sentenced.

TOOK INCANDESCENT TO BED WITH HIM

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 11.—A lighted incandescent lamp taken to bed last night by Delbert R. Crane, a University of California student, caused a small conflagration which consumed all his life clothes and came within a fraction of roasting the young man himself while he slept. When Crane awoke at 4:30 o'clock this morning he was enveloped in a dense cloud of smoke, coming from his smoldering bedclothes. His night-shirt was on fire, and he had little time in which to save himself from a bad scorching. The fire was quickly put out without communicating to the rest of the room.

Crane is leader of the cadet band at the State university, and is a member of the Kildgerod club.

SEATTLE CLAIMS FOUR SUBMARINES

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Dec. 11.—In all probability four of the eight submarines authorized at the last session of congress will be built by the Moran company of Seattle.

According to contracts awarded yesterday at least two of the submarines will be constructed at the local yards, and word received by J. V. Esterson, vice president and general manager of the Moran company, indicates that it is more than likely that the entire four awarded for construction on the Pacific coast will be turned out at the local yards.

It is stated that the bid of the Electric Boat company of Quincy, Mass., was accepted for building four, to be delivered at the Mare Island navy yard. This company will assign its contract to the Moran company.

NOBODY HURT BUT AUTO DID A STUNT

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Dec. 11.—Mrs. G. P. Wells and Miss Charley Bonini are in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, following a raising experience in an automobile runaway. They both escaped with minor counsel table and took his old seat, where he was sitting just before he was shot. A few minutes later he went into the law office of the judge, and the evidence with the judge was the object of his visit.

Ruef was visibly affected by the demonstration and mumbled and muttered to his stenographer.

FEARED BEING GRABBED

Woman's Nervousness from Coffee Drinking.

The brain acts through the nerves. When the nerves are irritated by coffee drinking the mind often imagines things which have no real existence—such as approaching danger, unfriendly criticism, etc.

A Michigan woman suffered in this way, but found how to overcome it. She writes: "For 20 years I drank coffee thinking it would give me strength when tired and nervous. The more coffee I drank, the more tired and nervous I became until I broke down entirely. Then I changed my work from sewing to housework. This gave me more exercise and was beneficial, but I kept on drinking coffee—thought I could not do without it. I was so nervous at times that if I left alone I would not go from one room to another for fear someone would grab me, and my little children had to go around on tiptoe and speak in whispers. Finally an attack of the grip weakened me so my nerves rebelled and the smell even of coffee was nauseating. Then my husband prepared some Postum for me believing the long use of coffee had caused my breakdown, so that my head and hands shook like the palsies."

SILK STITCHING NOT COTTON IN SELZ ROYAL BLUE SHOE

The difference between stitching a shoe with silk thread or cotton thread is only a fraction of a cent a pair; cotton $1.50 a pound, best silk $6.50. But it's enough to tempt some makers to use cotton.

There's another evidence of the sound quality of Selz Royal Blue shoes; they're all stitched with silk, always. A little point; shows the honest purpose of the maker. Selz guarantees every pair of shoes he makes to you.
