

SOCIETY

Dr. and Mrs. Clarence True Wilson reached home from their two weeks' stay at Hood River last Thursday and were given a delightful reception at Centenary church Friday night by the Ladies' Aid society. They will be at home to callers at 508 East Oak street, Friday, and will keep open house on that day each week to their church people and other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol Blumauer and Miss Hazel Blumauer left Thursday for New York to sail almost immediately for Europe, where they expect to join the Marcus Fleischners for Christmas. Going with them as far as Philadelphia was Mrs. A. L. Hertz, who will spend several weeks there and in New York.

Mrs. Cecil H. Bauer received informally last Tuesday afternoon at her charming new home on North Nineteenth street. No cards were sent out but many of her friends called and enjoyed seeing the attractive house with its beautiful music room. Mrs. L. N. Fleischner assisted Mrs. Bauer.

Miss Frances Lewis who recently returned from abroad will be hostess at a large luncheon next Thursday in compliment to Mrs. Harry Stinson Sladen, who was Miss Miriam Strong, one of the most popular brides of the season.

Mrs. Samuel Keer has invitations out for a large bridge party in compliment to Miss Susan Stott next Friday afternoon. Miss Stott's marriage to John Emerson Cronan is to be celebrated shortly after the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Yeon together with their infant daughter and Mrs. Margaret Mock, sisters of Mrs. Yeon, left December 5 for Coronado Beach. They expect to remain in California until early spring.

Miss Mildred Meyer has returned from a delightful two months' trip to California. Miss Meyer possesses a pretty light soprano voice and sang at a number of small affairs while gone.

Mrs. W. D. Jellison and Miss Jellison have invitations out for a card party at the Portland Heights club next Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wilcox returned last week from a four weeks' visit in New York and in their homes in Massachusetts.

Miss Felling entertained informally at bridge Monday afternoon with a few tables.

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Coffey have gone east to be gone about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Whitney have moved from Willamette heights and are now at home at Twenty-fourth and Marshall streets. The Willamette heights community, which numbers so many delightful families, misses these popular people who have been in Portland but a short while.

Next Friday Mrs. L. N. Fleischner is to entertain at bridge, with several tables.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK

The first entertainment and social under the auspices of the Kenilworth Young People's club took place in the Kenilworth Presbyterian church Thursday evening. Most of the young people in the neighborhood were present, and many of the older ones. After the singing of "America" by the audience, led by the club members, about 35 strong, the chairman, W. M. Laughton, president of the club, gave a short address of welcome and explained the aims and objects of the club.

This club is filling a long felt want in a community where the young people have formerly had nothing of this nature to occupy their attention during the winter evenings. The club is run on musical, literary and social lines. Debates, mock trials and lectures are among the things scheduled for future meetings. The members have undertaken the task of raising money to build a club house and gymnasium and the assistance of those in the neighborhood, who are interested in the young people, is earnestly invited.

Following is the program: "America" by the club and audience; chairman's remarks, W. M. Laughton; solo, "Just a Song at Twilight," Miss Compton; instrumental solo, "Holy City," Mr. Tomlinson; duet, "Sing Me to Sleep," Miss Lily Beachrest and W. M. Laughton Jr.; solo, "Where Hath Scotland Found Her Fame," Robert Gray; reading, "Gossip of the Seaside," Mrs. Tomlinson; solo, "Asleep in the Deep," Ray Utter; violin solo, "Scottish Mairn," Robert Gray; character solo and chorus, "Old Black Joe," J. W. Reynolds and chorus.

The Mizpah social club met at the home of Mrs. Nora Armstrong, 627 East Ninth street Thursday, December 3. Whist was played and Mrs. L. C. McCormick received first prize and Mrs. Bertha Perkins the second. The club was then called to order and the following officers elected: Mrs. Nora Armstrong, president; Mrs. Greenwood, vice president; and Mrs. Haynes Jr., secretary. The club will meet January 21, 1909, at the home of Mrs. Ella Lombard at 1217 East Madison street to assist her to celebrate her birthday. Those present were: Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Greenwood, Mrs. Haynes Jr., Mrs. Kellogg, Mrs. McCormick, Mrs. McVicker, Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Farrell, Mrs. Roady, Mrs. Shilz, Mrs. Etipe, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Wise and Mrs. Greenwood Jr.

Mrs. R. W. Jamieson and her son, Robert, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jamieson and Seneca Jamieson entertained several of the younger set at what Saturday evening, December 5, in honor of Miss Victoria Goldman's birthday. Several hands of cards were played, resulting in Miss Mary King and Paul Semlar receiving first prizes, and Miss Verna Goldman receiving the consolation prize. E. Sheldon and Velguth furnished mandolin and guitar music throughout the entire evening. Mr. Velguth also gave several vocal selections assisted by some of the others present. Light refreshments were served. Those present were the Misses Victoria Goldman, Verna Goldman, Edith Berna, Jennie Linn, Hulda Linn, Mary King, Maude Hingley, and Paul Semlar, Robert McMullen, Herman Huckle, Henry Hingley, Bernard Wingman, Robert Jamieson, Mr. Patty, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. King, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jamieson, Seneca Jamieson, and Mrs. R. M. Jamieson.

Master Francis Stormes entertained a number of his little friends and playmates at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stormes, 682 Borthwick street, in honor of his fourth birthday Saturday afternoon a week ago. The afternoon was enjoyed with music and games after which a light but dainty lunch was served. Those present were: Eve Jacobson, Maudie Fryer, Beth Goodale, Riva Bays, Oral Hensenling, Mable Polin, Kitty Ryan, Charlotte Hix, Louis Hix, Mable Hix, Gladys Wilson, Edward Bays, David Bennett, Paul Polin, Raymond McCormack, Laurence Wilson, Blair Shippy. Those assisting were Mrs. D. A. Bays and Mrs. Seymour Friendly.

The La Gale Douzaine five hundred club was highly entertained at the home of Miss Persis Billings, 671 Kearney street, last Monday evening. Miss Deane Woods made the highest score. After playing 24 hands at cards a dainty luncheon was served. Those present were the Misses Della Woods, Edith Bern, Gladys Gilbaugh, Laura Van Horn, Era Strickler, Isabel Gilbaugh, Lilla Winters, Bertha Brahaut, Lenta Stalback, Mrs. William Hingley, Mrs. Louis Allehoff and Mrs. Silas H. Soule. This will be the last meeting of the club until after the holidays.

The girls of the Aloha Club Jr. gave a party in honor of the Ladd school football team, December 5, at the home of Miss Alice Brown, 104 Twelfth street. The house was tastefully decorated with Oregon grape and remnants. Those present were: Mildred Scott, Gracey Vogler, Alice Brown, Gladys Eppery, Mary Benton, Naome Love, Pearl Walt, Erna Nelson, Stella Weaver, Warren Jackson, Denton Culbertson, John Nelson, William Lewis, Herbert Metzger, Harry Davis, Eugene West, Earl Cash, Carroll Chapman and Has Hatler.

The Maccabee club of the L. O. T. M. of the World held its last meeting of the year Tuesday at the beautiful home of Mrs. Swan, the commander of Golden Rule live. Luncheon was served at small tables. An interesting musical and literary program had been prepared and election of new officers followed. The following officers were elected to serve for six months: President, Mrs. Elizabeth Hyde; vice president, Mrs. Ella Manning; secretary, Mrs. Minnie Moore; treasurer, Mrs. Ora Allen.

The Ladies of Laurelwood Hive No. 58, Ladies of the Maccabees of the World met Friday, December 4, at the Woodman hall at Arleta and held their election of officers for 1909.
