DEATH TRIBUTE OF FALL SPORT

Ten Fatalities and 504 Injuries of All Kinds Make Up Football List.

That the new game has not eliminated the element of danger from football is shown by the fact that 10 deaths and 504 injuries due to the play were reported.

However, of the large total of 504 accidents to players, but 50 were of a really serious nature. Inasmuch as the common every day occurrences of a gridiron campaign—strained tendons, twisted knees, wrists, shoulders and ankles, charley horses and sprains—are in the three figure total, it can readily be seen how the list shows such an apparently alarming condition of affairs. Nevertheless, the 10 deaths that the king of fall sports has exacted as tribute is a fact that cannot be smoothed over. It is the highest total that has resulted from the game since 1901, with the exception of 1905, the season preceding the change in the rules, when 24 players met their death on the lime lined field.

Broken collar bones were the most frequent from the injuries and 43 accidents may be traced to this cause. The other usual forms of breaks—legs, arms, wrists, wrists, wrists—all figured in the "break" column. There were 16 cases of concussion of the brain and 23 majority of the injury total may, as has been said before, be laid at the door of minor injuries, such as sprains, cuts, etc.

All deaths, with one exception, were caused in open play, the exception being the case of a spectator who was run over by the players and so seriously injured that he died two weeks later. Two players died from spinal injuries, one from paralysis caused by an open tackle, one from a broken neck, two from concussion of the brain, two from internal injuries and strains and one from a kick in vital parts, and one player fell dead of heart failure.

SIXTY AGGIES TURN OUT FOR WRESTLING

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Dec. 14.—Saturday afternoon last the wrestling classes were started under Ed O'Connell and Edgar Frank, the Multnomah club experts. About 60 boys showed up for the four classes and several showed great ability. The class period was given to give promise of developing into good wrestlers.

A few of the simple holds were taught and the boys were given, under the careful instruction and correction of the instructor, a few minutes of practice, the period winding up with little bouts between the best students and one of the Portland men.

After the classes were all over Mr. O'Connell and Mr. Frank gave an exhibition bout which was highly enjoyed and which served to intensify the students' desire to learn the game. The boys will take up the sport with a will and results are expected.

ALBINA'S ELEVEN WILL TRY CHEMAWA SECOND

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Chemawa, Or., Dec. 14.—The Chemawa football team, which has not been defeated this year, will meet the Albina Athletic club team of Portland tomorrow night at Chemawa. Chemawa second is a very strong aggregation and among the teams defeated by them were the Albany High by a score of 12 to 0, and Junction City schools, 26 to 0. The team work of the Indian second is excellent, but while they are fast they are of light weight, not averaging over 140 pounds to the man. The Albina club has made a good showing this year and is expected to make a redoubtable team to maintain the supremacy. The game between Chemawa first and the Young Men's Catholic club being postponed until the day after Christmas, allowed Flemming's ponies to play this game.

This Date in Sport Annals.

1893.—At Troy, N. Y.—Annual meeting of Eastern league; pennant for 1893 awarded to the Erie club.
1905.—At Chicago—H. Handy won 800 yards in 7:31 5-8, and 660 yards in 8:04 2-5.

Harrisburg Wins Game.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Harrisburg, Or., Dec. 14.—The Harrisburg Basketball team defeated Cottage Grove Friday night last, the score being 26 to 20. The best of playing prevailed throughout the game and the boys from the Grove accepted their defeat in a cheerful way.

BEAUTIFULLY MUSCLED WRESTLER WHO MEETS ED O'CONNELL, THE MULTNOMAH CLUB PHENOM IN THE EXPOSITION RINK NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT.

Dwyer is the wealthiest professional athlete in the world, and has the greatest chest expansion of any athlete, measuring 12 1/2 inches. Dwyer will arrive in Portland Wednesday night from Chicago, where he is wrestling instructor at the new Illinois Athletic club, the largest in the world.

RED HOT GOSSIP FOR RABID FANS

Manager McCredie will probably try Lee Magee, the fast second baseman secured from Waterloo of the Central association, around the keystone sack in the Coast league. This is all conditional on whether the big league catcher, Mac has in view makes good.

There is a likelihood that Bud Sharpe, the crack first baseman of the team, may take Hal Chase's place with the Yanks next season. He was the star of the Eastern league at hitting, besides leading all the other first sackers.

Orval Overall and Mordcael Brown are sorting cattle in the stockyards as off season employment. It is outdoor work and both are glad to be thus employed.

Andy Briwaler, the phenomenal young pitcher of the Los Angeles champions, who has been traded to the winter leaguers in California, will rest for the remainder of the season, commencing his work with the other day, but an early start should prove the sensation of the league again next year.

Oscar Jones is getting his regular bumps in the winter league. Seems as if the old hoodoo is still with the popular Seal scabber as the other day he was knocked out of the box.

George Stovall, first baseman for the Naps, is wintering and playing baseball at Long Beach, Cal. He is keeping in good condition for the pennant race next season.

Class A baseball is the dream of the pugilist and playing baseball is the dream of the pugilist. With all due respect to the caliber of the teams, they will hardly be in a class with the Coasters. Then again there would be a worse rumpus kicked up in the east over class A matters than that indulged in several weeks ago by the American association and Eastern League.

South Portland Wins.

The South Portland football team went out of town for the first time this season to play the much touted Oregon City team, the result being a defeat for the Falls City lads. When time was called the score was 10 to 0 in favor of South Portland. Considering the shape of the field the game was very fast and interesting. The youngsters who distinguished themselves were Jones, Amacher, Prudeaux, Ross, Kelly, Mitchell for South Portland, while Carl, Rony, Green and Montgomery played good ball for Oregon City.

Multnomah Defeated Collegians.

Dallas, Or., Dec. 14.—The basketball team defeated Multnomah Saturday night is not the team sent out by Dallas to tour the east, but is the regular college team, three of whom are new players. The touring team, known as "The Oregonians," is not a member of the State Basketball league, but will play as independents, being under the control and auspices of the citizens of Dallas and not playing for the college.

Dwyer-O'Connell IS GOOD ADVERTISER

As an advertising medium, the O'Connell-Dwyer wrestling match in the Exposition rink Thursday night was a Portland lot of good. The eastern press as far as Chicago is taking up the matter and printing accounts of the meeting between the class grapplers.

Mike is well known all over the east for his wrestling fame and as the tutor of President Roosevelt, and his Dallas is not overlooking him on this trip to the far west.

The big gallery in the Exposition rink will be made quick and span for the event. The gallery is so arranged that it will seat from 2000 to 3000 people. There being ample room so that everybody may be seated during the match. This will be welcome to the numerous fans who have had to stand and pore over the bouts in the previous matches. The ring-side seats will be better arranged than ever before.

Lewis vs. Lewis.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 14.—Harry Lewis of Philadelphia and Willie Lewis of New York are scheduled to meet in the feature bout of tonight's show at the Edgewood A. C. of this city. The articles provide for a 12-round contest at 148 pounds. This will be their second meeting in the ring, their previous one having been a six-round bout in New York, which was fast and interesting.

VARSITY PLANS FOR ATHLETICS

University of Washington's Action Decided the Call for Conference.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
University of Oregon, Eugene, Dec. 14.—The University of Oregon athletic council met in an executive session Friday night and transacted a great deal of important business. In consequence of the action of the University of Washington during the football season they decided to take the initiative in the matter of calling a special meeting of the conference colleges and universities to consider more drastic measures to prevent a recurrence of such unethical methods. In the event of such a meeting, the University of Oregon will have a large number of delegates. The meeting will probably be held at Pullman or Walla Walla in the spring.

A committee was also appointed to open negotiations with Coach Forbes for next year. Coach Forbes was the unanimous choice but should they fail to secure him the committee was instructed to secure the services of some other Yale man. The Yale system proved so successful this year. The committee was also given the power to choose an assistant coach. It is probable that Otis Amsticker, who assisted Forbes this year, will be retained.

Fourteen Get Letters.
Fourteen new men were awarded the official "O" and 21, including Manager McEwan, were given sweaters. Those who won their "O's" this year are Dodson, Kiltz, Sullivan, Holley, Hayes, Sweck, Michael, Main, Means, Latour-Lakes, Handley, Jackson, and Newton. The others who had already won their letter were given sweaters. They are Moulton, Clarke, Pihank, McIntyre, Hurd and Gillies. Letters of the future awarding of letters was also brought up as it is felt that the present rule, giving the letter too easily, was especially since under the present system so large a squad is retained and so many men are used in the games that the committee was appointed to look into this matter.

A committee composed of President Campbell, Professor Peterson and Hayward was appointed to make arrangements for a permanent trophy room. When the room has been secured this committee will be in charge of it.

Improve Kincaid Field.
A committee was also appointed to arrange for a permanent athletic field and to improve Kincaid field by the addition of more grandstand and bleacher seats. The committee is now recommending that the Oregon-O. A. C. game be played on the campus in the future. The annual triangular field meet with Washington will take place in Portland in the future instead of Seattle, as it has in the past.

Coach Hayward was appointed temporary football manager with authority to handle a school athletic team. Later on a regular manager will be appointed unless it is decided to place the football activities under one graduate manager.

The schedules for both baseball and track for the coming season were approved in full.

REVIVED PIGS ARE IN THE LIMELIGHT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pugilistic revival has been the order of the day, says Jeff Thompson, the first time in 12 years "Jack" McAuliffe, former lightweight champion of the world has decided to indulge in public boxing exhibitions. He is on the road right now, and is expected to give an ovation in Boston the other day.

Jack was lightweight champion when he was younger and has been old enough to eat hay for several years. The Joe Choyanski who was something of a fighter when John L. Sullivan was in his prime declares that he knows what he says when he promises to get back into the fighting game. Joe has been boxing steadily since he was 17 years old. He has always taken good care of his health and condition.

Choyanski's last fight was with Jim Corbett in San Francisco 24 years ago. Corbett just noted Choyanski out during the past few days. He has been a champion. He fought all over the world and his record is splendid. He has knockouts over famous fighters of all lands. He was clever as a light weight and always carried a remarkable punch.

In the same line is the effort of Young Corbett to regain his lost laurels in a fight with the young and up-and-coming fighter, Jim Corbett. Corbett is not an old-timer like McAuliffe and Choyanski. As a matter of fact, he is young and ought to be at his best now. But he threw his vitality away in his prosperous days. Now and then there is another man like the same, but with indifferent success. In fact, he usually gets knocked out. He has been away for a month or two this time, and came away with out any bell ringing or corner speeches. He means business, whatever he may be able to accomplish. Young Corbett has a harder row to hoe than most of the other old-timers. He has had to contend with rolls and rolls of fat. He took the fat off—most of it. With the old vitality he might be able to make another fortune. Small chance!

SOUTHWEST GALES DRIVING DUCKS IN

Duck shooting was hardly up to the average yesterday, taken as a whole, although in spots, particularly on the Deer Island club preserves, birds were plentiful and most of the club members got the limit.

At the Dead Willows the flight was smaller than usual at this season, but nearly every bird that was killed there was a mallard. All the shooting was fair, most of the birds killed being mallard and wideopen.

The brisk southwest gales of the past few days is expected to make ducks plentiful in all the lakes along the Willamette and lower Columbia rivers.

VIVISECTIONIST VETS FACE CRUELTY CHARGE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 14.—Two hundred medical students in the Grand Rapids veterinary college are facing serious charges in police court because, it is alleged, they saw fit last week to perform six operations simultaneously on a single horse without giving it an anesthetic.

A newspaper man who is one of the witnesses against the students, testifies that during the operations the beast became maddened with pain and broke away. When it was recaptured the students were asked why they did not give an anesthetic and the answer they are said to have given was, "It isn't necessary."

The vivisection case not only involves all the students in the institution, but also Dr. H. L. Schuh, director of the college.

STOCKERS TO BE AT BAKER CITY

Eastern Oregon Metropolis Plans to Entertain Hundreds of Visitors.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Baker City, Or., Dec. 14.—One of the most important features in the development of Oregon will be the Oregon-Idaho development congress which convenes in this city Tuesday afternoon. Many of the government's prominent workers will be here at that time and take part in the deliberations.

Another important meeting will be held here at the same time, when the stockmen and sheep growers meet with the government officials to arrange the allotment of the cattle and sheep ranges for the coming year. Hundreds of sheepmen and cattle raisers from all parts of eastern Oregon will assemble in Baker City to discuss their affairs with the government's representatives. Forest supervisors and rangers will also be here.

The visitors to Baker City will be well entertained while here by the representatives of the commercial associations, who have provided for a banquet at the Geiser Grand hotel Tuesday evening, between the afternoon and evening session. The meeting with the government officials will bring in many stockmen. It is expected that at least 500 visitors will be here from eastern Oregon.

BOMB THROWER IN CHICAGO POLITICS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Dec. 14.—Hostility to the institution known as the First ward alderman's annual ball is believed to be behind the havoc wrought by a bomb that wrecked last night a number of small buildings appurtenant to the Coliseum.

There is no clue to the identity of the bomb throwers. The congregations of Grace Episcopal and Wabash Methodist churches, which are the principal churches and guests of nearby hotels rushed to the streets in a panic.

Last week Rev. W. C. Waters, rector of Grace Episcopal church, which joins the Coliseum on the north, sought and failed to secure an injunction to prevent the holding of the ball, the ground being that it was prejudicial to the morals of the community.

The ball is supported by "First Warders," who are represented in the city council by Michael Kenna and John Coughlin. The proceeds of the ball, estimated at from $15,000 to $25,000, are used for the expenses of the campaign of the alderman whose term expires the following spring.

This is the seventh bomb explosion that has occurred in Chicago. The others are supposed to have been a series in the "gangsters' war."

The leading feature of the exhibition is the traveling exhibit of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

An extensive program of illustrated addresses, platform meetings and conferences will be conducted along the lines of the recent International Congress on Tuberculosis at Washington. The program gives particular attention to the general topics discussed at Washington as they relate to the negro race.

FOREST GROVE STORE VISITED BY BURGLAR

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Forest Grove, Or., Dec. 14.—The contents of the Forest Grove store were broken into late Saturday night and $35 in gold and small change taken. Mr. Emerson is in the habit of concealing his day's receipts in a safe in the store and he thinks the thief was some one who was in the store Saturday and saw him take the money from its hiding place in order to make change. Entrance was gained by breaking the window in the rear of the store. The money was taken and there is no clue to the robber.

INLAND SHIPPERS PROTEST RATES

Extortion and Discrimination Burden of Complaints Filed.

Washington, Dec. 14.—One feature of the proposed general increase of railway freight rates on January 1 is that Seattle and probably Tacoma and Portland will enjoy an advantage over a list of other points in Washington and Oregon.

The Interstate Commerce commission has received many telegraphic protests from shippers and commercial organizations against the project for increasing the freight rates scheduled to become effective at the beginning of the new year.

The increase notices, which have been filed with the commission ranging from 3 to 18 per cent, are concurred in by practically every railroad in the United States and apply between Atlantic seaboard and Pacific coast and intermediate points.

While the Pacific coast is aflame with indignation about the increases, said Commissioner Franklin K. Lane, "and from Puget sound to southern California we are deluged with telegraphic protests from shippers and commercial organizations against the project to prohibit them, and that such increases could not be made except if they were subject to attack only for unreasonableness, by formal complaint to the commission, and that the only relief we could give them was as speedy a hearing as possible of the complaints when made."

There is another evidence of the necessity for lodging in the commission the power which we asked last year, to suspend temporarily the effectiveness of an increase in rates pending examination to their reasonableness or complaint."

E. H. Harriman is reported here to be the prime mover in this concerted movement among railroads to increase freight rates. Every trunk line east of Puget sound, including the Frank Line association, the roads making up the central freight association, which includes all lines stretching from Pittsburg to
