

GRAIN BAG TOLL CAUSES PROTEST

Gilliam County Farmers to Circulate Petition Asking a Reduction.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Condon, Or., Dec. 18.—The executive committee of the Gilliam County Improvement association has named January 6 as the day for the big booster meeting to be held in this city in behalf of the experimental farm and the advertising in general of the resources of Gilliam county.

Another important question discussed was the rebate on grain bags. It was decided to circulate a petition among the ranchers, to be sent to the congressman of this district, asking him to work for the reduction of duty on sacks.

KELLOGG OUT MAY MEAN BALLINGER IN

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, Dec. 18.—Frank B. Kellogg said today: "It is official" he was asked. "Yes, as far as I am concerned."

This means that Wade Ellis of Ohio might be attorney general, making it probable that Garfield will be secretary of the interior, which opens the way for Ballinger of Seattle to the interior portfolio.

GIVES ALL TO HIS FIRST TRIP OF PHILAND EMPIRE

David T. Hanbury Turns Over $4,000,000 Worth, With String to It.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Dec. 18.—An odd sequel to their sensational divorce case, which was patched up last spring, David T. Hanbury, the multi-millionaire, and his former wife, the young girl, have cemented the restoration of their affection with a record breaking gift of property valued at $4,000,000.

Deeds giving to the wife the enormous holdings of the husband were recorded in Napa yesterday, the transfer containing this stipulation, however, that while Mrs. Hanbury assumes legal possession of her husband's fortune she will not exercise absolute control until after his death.

This princely gift, which makes the vivacious Mrs. Hanbury one of the richest women in California, includes the Hanbury brewing interests in this city, a share in the Hanbury breweries of London and the Hanbury champagne wineries of England and France, mining interests in Nevada, California and Oregon and large real estate holdings in and around this city, particularly at the junction of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers.

Those who have followed the matrimonial vicissitudes of Mr. and Mrs. Hanbury are inclined to believe the husband is perfectly satisfied to let bygones be bygones. His stupendous gift, following his bitter attack on his wife's character in his recent divorce suit, shows that the pair have lightly hopped over the extreme of discord to the extreme of affection.

Evidence dragged into daylight last spring by both parties in the Hanbury divorce suit revealed Mrs. Hanbury as the young and giddy wife of a mature but bibulous husband. Incompatibility of temperaments, however, was only a minor feature of their troubles.

Hanbury placed private detectives on the witness of Mrs. Hanbury, where she earned the sobriquet of "the college girl." She thoroughly had Hanbury's detectives done their work, for the revelations became too pointed one day in the course of the trial the woman collapsed in the courtroom.

Mrs. Hanbury, on the other hand, turned up a few stories on her husband. She put the witness on the stand who told of Hanbury's alleged capacity for intoxicants, describing a typical day as being opened with a few highballs, followed with a quart of beer for breakfast, assorted drinks until noon, another quart of beer for lunch, variegated beverages for the rest of the afternoon and champagne for the evening hours.

PAYETTE-BOISE PROJECT READY

Water Will Flow Into Mammoth Deer Flat Reservoir Tomorrow.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Nampa, Idaho, Dec. 18.—Tomorrow is the date fixed by the Payette-Boise Water Users' association for turning water into the Deer Flat reservoir from the Boise river. The event will be one of great importance to this section and will be made the occasion for a jubilee celebration in which all the towns interested in the Payette-Boise reclamation project will take part.

The filling of the Deer Flat reservoir marks the practical completion of one of the most extensive works of its kind ever undertaken in this country. The chief feature of the project is the great converting dam on the Boise river, which stands as a monument to the skill and ingenuity of the government engineers and contractors. The primary purpose of the dam is to tame the river torrent in the spring and thus obtain an adequate water supply for the irrigation project at all seasons of the year.

When filled to its capacity the great reservoir will form an inland lake several miles in extent and capable of supplying water for the irrigation of more than 100,000 acres of land.

The whole project is a part of the government's irrigation service, which, as some one has said, "is making the dry places wet and the wet places dry." The various irrigation projects in Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Arizona and New Mexico are rapidly changing the country from a land of sagebrush and cacti to one of prosperous farms and flourishing towns. In several sections of Idaho the transformation already is marvellous.

SYNDICATE ON DEAL FOR PALMILLA MINE

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Dec. 18.—Japhet Lindberg, president of the Pioneer Mining company of Nome, Eric Lindholm, a director of the same company and a successful mining man whose fortune is estimated in the millions, and another mining company and a number of wealthy capitalists, it was learned today, will probably form a pool in the month to lease the Palmilla gold and silver mine in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico. Negotiations with this end in view are now being conducted by Lindberg, who is in San Francisco on his way to Mexico. On the report which he will make on his return will depend the whole deal, involving the transfer of many millions of dollars.

The Palmilla mine was formerly one of the most fabulous producers. Fifty millions of dollars in gold and silver has been taken from it. Work in its shafts at lower levels was stopped several years ago when water flooded it and baffled the ingenuity of its engineers. The water is now under control and will probably have been pumped dry, ready for a new force of miners to resume operations.

PORTLAND-PASCO BOAT SERVICE ANNOUNCED BY MANAGER DORSEY B. SMITH.

Portland-Pasco Boat Service Announced by Manager Dorsey B. Smith.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pasco, Wash., Dec. 18.—News that the long looked for boat service between this city and Portland will soon become a reality, was made public here today by Dorsey B. Smith, general manager of the Open River Transportation company.

The Inland Empire will make its maiden trip between Celilo and Pasco, leaving Celilo on the morning of December 20," said Mr. Smith. "This is the first steamer of the new and permanent line to be established on the upper Columbia in connection with steamers now operating between Portland and the portage road, and is merely a trial trip to assure our many friends in this district that the first steamer is actually completed, and that the line will positively be established as soon as the second steamer is ready for service."

We do not consider it advisable to attempt a regular service until the winter season is completed. We will therefore concentrate our efforts on the completion of the new steamer and establish this line immediately after the winter season. The boats, J. N. Teal, Sarah Dixon, Relief, Inland Empire and Celilo Falls will operate on the river during coming season. The first two mentioned will operate on the lower river between Big Eddy and The Dalles to Portland. The other boats will operate on the upper river, where the company intends to establish its terminus.

WILSON'S FATHER FIGHTS FOR HIM

(United Press Leased Wire.) Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 18.—James A. Wilson, father of John Walter Wilson, who was charged Wednesday by a coroner's jury at San Francisco with the murder of his son, today declares his belief in his son's innocence, and will exert every effort in his power to clear his name. He is known to be possessed of slender means, but the father says he will devote what little he has to provide an adequate defense for his son.

SALARIES INCREASE QUESTION IN COURT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 18.—Whether the present state officials will get the salary increase which Secretary of State Curry certified to as adopted by a majority of two votes at the recent election will be tested in the supreme court. A friendly suit has been filed against State Comptroller Nye by Surveyor General Kingsbury in the shape of a writ of mandate ordering him to appear in the Third district court of appeals Saturday morning and show cause why the salary increase should not be paid.

PRESIDENT ASKED TO PUT MARINES BACK

Washington, Dec. 18.—Members of the senate are planning a further attack on the president following the introduction yesterday of a resolution calling upon the committee of military affairs to investigate the action of the president in ordering the withdrawal of marines from the battleships of the United States navy.

The resolution provides that the committee ascertain whether congress has not the right to provide rules for the government of the marine corps which will bind the president as commander in chief of the army and navy to continue the corps in the manner intended by law.

The resolution was referred to the committee on naval affairs at the instance of Senator Hale because the marine corps is part of the naval branch of the United States.

Senator Rayner, who introduced the resolution, acquiesced, saying he named the military affairs committee because the marines were now "police men, patrolmen, janitors, or something like that."

James Parvin. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., Dec. 18.—James Parvin, 77 years of age, one of the best known pioneers of Lane county, died at his home at Dexter yesterday. He was born in Indiana. In 1853 he came across the plains to Oregon and settled in Lane county, taking up a donation claim near where he resided at the time of his death. He took up another claim later and afterward bought additional land, until he had 640 acres of the finest farming land in the county. In February, 1854, Mr. Parvin was married to Selenia Parker. She and three children survive him. The children are: H. M. Parvin of Dexter, Mrs. Ida Williams of Dexter, Mrs. Jennie Spaffler of Gentryburg, S. D.

Mr. Parvin, besides being engaged in farming, was a carpenter by trade. He was also engaged in the general merchandise business at Dexter. He was a conservative business man, thoroughly reliable and was well liked by all who knew him. He was counted among the county's most substantial citizens. His remains were interred in the Pleasant Hill cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. R. C. Callison, one of the earliest pioneer ministers of the state.

AUTO SPILL SPOILS A MAD LAND RACE

(United Press Leased Wire.) Tacoma, Dec. 18.—In trying to beat the Northern Pacific "sagebrush flier" from Sunnyvale to North Yuma in a race to file on government land, which was thrown open yesterday, Newton and Arthur Dennis of Prosser met with an automobile accident which spoiled their plans. The machine, at breakfast speed in the dark hours of the morning, hit a sandbank eight miles this side of Sunnyvale. It overturned, and all the occupants were spilled. Arthur Dennis later arrived at Yakima by train with a broken arm as a souvenir of his adventure.

General Weston Coming Home. Washington, Dec. 18.—General John Weston, former commander of the Philippine division of the United States army, has left Nagasaki, Japan, for the United States, taking passage on the transport Sheridan, which sailed from Manila December 15. He will remain in San Francisco in temporary charge of the district of California.

THE STORY OF THE BUTTE BOYS

It Will Be Told in All Its Fullness at the Stockholders' Meeting Tomorrow [Saturday] Evening, at Alisky Hall, Third and Morrison Streets

EVERY STOCKHOLDER SHOULD HEAR IT

No matter what your engagement for Saturday evening may be, abandon or postpone it — if you are a stockholder in the BUTTE BOYS CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY. This company has held several important stockholders' meetings, but none of the moment of this one. It will concern every man and woman with a dollar invested in its shares. Announcements will be made tomorrow evening that OUGHT to be heard by every member of the company, and that each one MUST hear or be sorry for his or her neglect. The exciting, sensational moment has arrived. News from Goldfield this morning is of a most important character. No one can afford not to be informed of the latest developments. If he has his own interests at heart, he will listen to an explanation of what has happened and is about to happen. If he does not come to the meeting, we cannot tell him—and he will live to regret his ignorance. Also the actual condition of the mine's affairs will be explained. This also ought to be heard by everybody at all interested. The truth is,

WE ARE WITHIN SMELLING DISTANCE OF THE GOLD

You'll know that if you attend the meeting. And if you will read this from the Goldfield paper—the Tribune—you will see how near the former leases of the Florence Daisy came to reaching the treasure they so greatly sought. THEY CAME WITHIN HALF A FOOT OF IT—AND GOT COLD PEDESTALS AND—QUIT! This is the usual fate of the quitter. It has happened to him several times in Goldfield history. But it will not happen to us. WE ARE GOING TO KEEP AT IT—until every stockholder in the Butte Boys has got rich return for his investment. If you are one you are included in this announcement,

But Read What the Goldfield News Says

FROM THE GOLDFIELD TRIBUNE.

MOST RECENT STRIKE IN FLORENCE IMMENSELY RICH

A strike that promises to rival the phenomenal production of the famous Engineers' lease, which earned nearly $600,000 in dividends in three months, was made a few days ago in the lease block adjoining, formerly known as the Daisy Florence, but now held and operated by the Mitchell-Fairfield Development company. The find was made last level. Four inches of quartz assays $461.60 a ton and four inches of talc assay parallel to it assays $437.80 a ton. Between the quartz and the talc lies a narrow streak of ore that is half gold, making the average value for the nine inches something sensational. It is estimated that the record of the Engineers' will easily be duplicated and possibly exceeded.

A strange freak of fortune in connection with this discovery is the fact that the picture streak was found within six inches of where the former owners of the lease stopped work after spending upward of $100,000 in a vain endeavor to locate the treasure. The Daisy Florence was controlled by Campbell, Davidson & Co. of Chicago. They sunk a shaft 315 feet and did a vast amount of lateral work and while good assays were frequently obtained they could not locate an ore body. The company finally exhausted its treasury and the lease was passed into the hands of the Mitchell-Fairfield Development company.

that the consideration being $900 and 7 1/2 per cent of the net earnings for the Daisy Florence shareholders. Crosscuts had been driven to the north and south on the 315 foot level, the former being out 50 feet from the shaft and the latter about 20 feet. It was in this south crosscut that Foreman Koster discovered a knife blade of almost pure gold last Sunday. He decided to follow this seam and the first round of shots uncovered the bonanza. In addition to the nine inches of very rich stuff there is considerable good rock on both sides and the ore as it is being broken down runs better than $200 a ton.

STAR LEASING COMPANY.

The Goldfield Star Leasing & Mining company, operating on the Lone Star, is down 250 feet in its vertical shaft. A station is being cut at that point and a crosscut will be driven to tap the old incline where some rich ore was uncovered a couple of months ago. The crosscut should enter the ore in about 80 feet.

30,000 SHARES LEFT AT 4 CENTS EACH

We have sold 20,000 of the 50,000 shares donated to the company by some of its largest stockholders to be sold at 4 cents per share, and no matter what happens at the mine, THIS stock will be sold at this price. We cannot raise it, because it was fixed by the donors, but its sale does not enlarge the outstanding stock. It is shares previously sold and now being resold to replenish the company's treasury.

IT'S GOING THOUGH, PEOPLE. IT WILL NOT LAST LONG

If you want some of this pie you must speak quickly. It will not be spread out before you for many days.
