TODAY'S WHOLESALE MARKETS.

Turkeys firmer and higher.
Chickens in bad shape.
Eggs are just holding.
Potatoes steady but slow.
Dressed meats are stiff.
Cold affects fruit sales.
Continuance of hop business.
Butter arrivals are heavier.
All sorts of cranberry prices.
Hay is showing advance.

Firmer Tone for Turkeys.

The market for turkeys is in better shape along Front street. While the bulk of the arrivals will not start in this direction until Monday or Tuesday, there have been better supplies during the past few days. Prices are higher and sales of first class quality have been made as high as 24c a pound for dressed stock along the street, although some have been at 23½c and others at 20c a pound.

Just what the turkey market will do during the coming week cannot be foretold but the indications are for a continuation of the good feeling now shown. The market seems to have reached the top—in fact it is a trifle too high for safety if arrivals are more liberal than now expected. It is generally dangerous for dressed turkeys to go above 22½c in the wholesale market, which would put the price to consumers at retail around 25c. With birds selling above that figure it would be impossible for the retail trade to sell under 30c a pound and at that price there is always a heavy cut in the demand.

Little Hope for Chickens.

There seems little hope for the chicken market just now. Arrivals are very heavy, everyone having a coop seeming to be anxious to get them to market when they are least wanted—and this is the time. The price is down another notch or two and while some receivers have been holding out for 10½@11c a pound, they have been unable to clean up above 10c and perhaps this may be the figure later in the day.

Trade in the egg market is only fair around 40c for local ranch stock and in order to get a freer movement some receivers are said to be willing to clean up at a fraction less. Arrivals of eggs are just about the same. Market for eastern stock here is unchanged.

Cold Affects Fruit Sales.

The cold weather of the last two days has greatly affected the sale of fruits along Front street. While the movement of apples is still quite liberal the trade is not willing to bid up on its quotations and good stock is still moving around $1 a box.

Potatoes Are Steady but Slow.

Although showing practically no outside business, except perhaps for Early Rose seed—and these are scarce—the local market for potatoes is quite steady. In the south prices continue very low and values are below a profitable shipping business for Oregon potatoes. There were reports this morning that a large quantity of potatoes were hurt by the late heavy frosts but the information cannot be confirmed.

Brief Notes of Wholesale Trade.

Movement of outside creamery butter to this market is increasing and for that reason an easier tone is reflected in the market for anything except the best known brands.

Cheese market is firmer. No price change.

Hop business at low prices continues rather liberal for a period so close to the holidays.

Dressed meats of all kinds are firm at unchanged prices.

Local cauliflower is practically out of market but some supplies are coming from California and are being quoted higher.

Front street sells at the following prices. Those paid shippers are less regular commissions:

NEBRASKA HOGS COME FORWARD

Packers Bringing in Trainloads Again—Offer 10c Less Here Today.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK RUN.

Portland Union Stockyards, Dec. 19.—There was weakness in the hog market today and the price is fully 10c lower than during the past few days. Pacific coast packers have begun to bring in shipments from Nebraska points and as the market there has of late shown considerable weakness, they are able to bring supplies here and land them at slightly lower prices than they are at present offering locally.

Cattle market is firm with prices quite well maintained and the same is true of sheep.

"The hog market is 10c lower today," said Tom Benson of T. C. Benson & Son. "Owing to the approaching holidays, packers are not inclined to bid up on the supplies and I do not expect any improvement in the tone during the coming week. Cattle and sheep are firm for good stuff."

Bring Eastern Hogs Cheaper.

"With packers able to buy hogs in the Nebraska market and bring them out here and still save money from what they have been paying locally, there is a weaker feeling in the local line and the price is down 10c for the day," said Lee M. Lacey of Hunt & Lacey. "Cattle and sheep are both firm for good fat stuff. Personally I look for a lower range for hog values from this time forth and small advances in best cattle and sheep from time to time."

Today's arrivals of livestock in the yards compare with this day in recent years as follows:

	Hogs.	Cattle.	Sheep.
1908	325	27	210
1907	105	55	100
1906	...	...	...
1905	83	...	...

A year ago today hogs and cattle were firm; sheep easy with no change in values.

Yard's Representative Prices.

Following prices are representative of late transactions in the local yards and indicate state of demand and prices paid for various grades and weights:

HEIFERS AND COWS.

	Weight.	Price.
8 cows	883	$2.50
2 cows	2,360	3.50
11 cows	10,035	3.50

STEERS.

26 steers	29,535	$4.50
26 steers	28,834	4.50
2 steers	2,216	4.25
144 steers	162,280	4.40
24 steers	26,640	4.25
24 steers	26,635	4.25

HOGS.

22 hogs	4,976	$6.25
97 hogs	18,685	6.25

Following is the general range of values on stock running in the yards for late shipments:

Hogs—Best east of mountains, $6@6.25; ordinary, $6; blockers and China fats, $5.50@5.75; stockers and feeders, $5@5.50.

Cattle — Best steers, weighing 1200 pounds, $4.50@4.65; medium steers, $4.25; poor steers, $3.50; best cows, $3.25@3.50; medium cows, $2.75; stags, $2.75@3.00; bulls, $2@2.25.

SHARP ADVANCE IN HAY MARKET

Price Moved Up $1 to $2 Ton —Forced Feeding the Real Cause.

BOARD OF TRADE RECEIPTS.

Wednesday	4	3,000	5	6	5
Tuesday	26	1,500	2	..	6
Monday	67	8,300	12	1	9

There was a sharp advance in the hay market here today, following the cold weather. Prices are advanced from $1 to $2 a ton with the market very firm at the higher range. The change in weather has forced feeding in the country with the result that there is a heavier demand for hay and feeds at primary points and a much smaller number of arrivals is coming in this direction. Today's receipts were the smallest of the week.

The market for grains is being held very firm here both for cash and future deliveries. On the Portland Board of Trade there was no change in values during the day and yesterday's quotations were continued. There was another advance of 1c in the San Francisco market for barley today and this tended toward making this market more bullish although holders did not advance their asking prices for the grain during the day.

Today 1000 sacks of bluestem mixed with forty fold were sold on the Board of Trade at 97c tracks.

STOCK MARKET JOLTED AGAIN

Severe Losses Again Noted—Smaller Reserves in Banks Brings Liquidation.

New York, Dec. 19.—A bank statement that continues to show a loss in reserves and a general feeling of apprehension among financiers as to the probable action of congress in tariff affairs, caused severe losses in the leading issues in the stock market today. For a Saturday, with its very short session, the declines were very heavy. Southern Pacific, New York Central, Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and St. Paul were among the principal losers.

VANCOUVER TO BE WELL PAVED TOWN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Vancouver, Wash., Dec. 19.—Following the decision of the city council to compel the laying of cement sidewalks where wooden walks become old and rotten, great activity is manifested in this line. While all of this work did not result from the resolution passed by the city fathers a part of it did, and together the various walks now being put in will help the appearance of the city greatly.

The Elwel Realty company is laying a much needed walk in front of the Riverview hotel property near the ferry landing, 200 feet of cement is being put in on Washington street between Fourth and Fifth streets, and a like amount is to be laid on the south side of Fifth street between Washington and Main streets. Two hundred feet have just been completed on Fourth street. Besides these there are several new walks going down in the residence sections.

THOMAS FITZPATRICK DEAD AT YACOLT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Vancouver, Wash., Dec. 19.—Word has been received here of the death at Yacolt of Thomas Fitzpatrick of consumption. The body will be brought to Knapp's undertaking parlors today but so far no funeral arrangements have been made. Deceased was a member of the Tacoma camp W. O. W. and the Red Men lodge of Yacolt. He leaves a widow but otherwise it is not known here what other relatives, if any, survive him.

J. M. Sapper Released.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Vancouver, Wash., Dec. 19.—J. M. Sapper, a second hand goods man of Portland, arrested on suspicion of having stolen several suits of clothes from Dr. R. J. Mercer and L. J. Breslin, was brought up for a hearing before City Justice Sugg this morning. The justice released Sapper, as he did not consider the evidence sufficient to hold him.

Friends Entertained.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Vancouver, Wash., Dec. 19.—Between 30 and 40 friends of Mesdames T. H. Adams and C. C. Gridley were entertained at an at home last evening at the Adams residence on East Eighteenth street. There was a musical and literary program, followed with light refreshments.

Chicago, Dec. 19.—There was a sharp loss in the local wheat market today following the receipt of more favorable news from the growing American crop and from Argentina.

There was a disposition among the general trade to sell wheat here at the opening and several fractions were nipped off the closing value at today's opening; with foreign markets sharply depressed and Liverpool showing a closing decline of ⅜ to ⅝d as compared with the previous closing.

After the opening here the market became very sluggish and changed but little from the opening.

TROUBLE OVER A DEVIL'S LANE

M. Charlebois and Edward Irwin in Collision — Charlebois in Justice Court.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Vancouver, Wash., Dec. 19.—Because he did not believe his neighbor should stand on his ground while putting on the wire of a fence between the two farms, M. Charlebois, it is alleged, yesterday threatened to shoot Edward Irvin and was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Walters on a charge of threatening to kill.

Charlebois and Irvin, it seems, have been at loggerheads for some time. Recently, according to Charlebois, he erected a fence four feet from the edge of the line between his farm and that of Irvin, but Irvin later commenced to build a second fence, either directly on the line or slightly on Charlebois' property. When it came to putting on the wire, Irvin had to stand on Charlebois' ground, and thereupon the latter, according to his own statement, secured first a hatchet and later a gun with which to drive off the alleged trespasser.

This morning Charlebois was taken into justice court and, pleading that he had a right to do as he had done, was bound over to appear before the superior court.

CAREER OF DECEASED MARINE ENGINEER

Harry Coats Had Run on the Columbia and Willamette Rivers for 33 Years.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Vancouver, Wash., Dec. 19.—Harry Coats, who died in Portland recently, was one of the best known marine engineers on the Columbia and Willamette rivers and was widely known in this section. He entered the steamboat service in 1875 and for many years was employed on the boats of the old Oregon Steam Navigation company, being chief engineer of the old steamer Hassalo that ran on the upper river before the days of the Cascade locks. During later years he was in the government service as marine engineer. He is survived by his wife and two children, a son and daughter. The son, Claude, is acting engineer on the Vancouver ferry. Mrs. Coats has been an invalid for several years, suffering from a paralytic stroke. Mr. Coats was 59 years of age.

OWNER OF LONELY DOG IS WANTED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Vancouver, Wash., Dec. 19.—Wanted—The master of a valuable shepherd dog that has taken up his temporary residence at Mrs. Tomlinson's boarding house, East Ninth and B streets. That is the notice given out by the landlady, and she is truly at a loss to know what to do with the dog, as he is plainly mourning the loss of his master.

Several days ago the dog made his appearance in front of the house, and has since continued to keep on the lookout for some one. Until last evening he refused to eat. Although refusing to return the friendliness of those about the house, the new arrival also refuses to leave. He is a fine specimen, and evidently of considerable value.

MUNGER AT WORK IN NEW FERRYBOAT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Vancouver, Wash., Dec. 19.—Albert Munger, engineer on the Vancouver ferry, yesterday went to St. Johns, Or., where he is to superintend the setting of the machinery for the new Vancouver ferryboat. It will take about a month to complete this work. Were it not for the delay in constructing the boiler, the craft could be placed in service by the middle of next month. During Engineer Munger's absence Claude Coats will take his place.

DESCHUTES RIVER TO BE HARNESSED

Proposed Project Will Benefit Farming in Wasco and Sherman.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

The Dalles, Or., Dec. 19.—The construction of a large power plant on the Deschutes river, near Sherar's bridge, has been commenced by the Interior Development company. If present plans are carried out it will mean a great deal toward the development of Wasco and Sherman counties. Notices of appropriation of water have been filed in the county clerk's office. A force of about 15 or 20 men is at work on the proposed canal.

A dam 60 feet high will be built 1600 feet above the falls of the Deschutes and from this a canal 85 feet wide and 35 feet deep will convey the water for two thirds of the distance to the site of the proposed plant. The water will be conveyed the remainder of the distance in eight parallel pipes, each eleven feet in diameter. A fall of 105 feet can be secured. With the immense volume of water an enormous horse power can be developed.

It is estimated by engineers that sufficient water can be thrown into Sherman county to irrigate the entire county. At the end of the pipe line a power house will be built and hydro electric machinery installed.

M. A. Moody and other prominent capitalists are back of the proposition. The force of men is soon to be doubled and when the winter is over hundreds of men will be put to work.

STAND FIRM ON BROADWAY SITE

At a meeting of the North Albina Push club held Thursday night, a resolution was adopted deprecating the movement that has been inaugurated to bring about a change in the location of the proposed Albina bridge from Broadway to Hancock street. The following is a copy of the resolutions passed by the club:

"Whereas the common council of the city has adopted a resolution and ordinance submitting the question of a bond issue in the sum of $2,000,000, for the construction of a high bridge across the Willamette river, terminating at
