An interesting engagement was announced yesterday at a luncheon given by Mrs. Morton H. Insey in compliment to her sister, Miss Leslie Knapp, and for Miss Effie Houghton, bride-elect. During the course of the luncheon the engagement of Miss Knapp to Carol M. Hurlburt was announced. Miss Knapp is one of the most popular and charming of the younger set. She made her debut two seasons ago at a large loss given by her mother and her attractive ways have made her a favorite ever since. She is a pretty brunette with delicate coloring and a very girlish appearance. Her frocks look particularly well because they combine richness with originality. Miss Knapp is a St. Helen's hall girl and she later attended Miss Spence's school in New York. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Knapp, one of the oldest and most prominent families of Portland. She is a sister of Mrs. Morton H. Insey, Mrs. Patterson Ertlinger and Captain A. J. Brasco, now stationed in the Philippines.

Mr. Hurlburt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hurlburt and is a mining engineer of promise. He was originally a student at the University of California and later took his special work at the Colorado School of Mines at Golden. His fraternity is Chi Psi. He has been in eastern Oregon for several months and returned last night. The date for the wedding has not yet been set, but will probably be some time distant.

The announcement created a good deal of excitement at yesterday's luncheon. Mrs. Insey's guests were Miss Knapp, Miss Effie Houghton, Miss Clara Houghton, Miss Lisa Wood, Miss Hazel Dolph, Miss Alta Smith, Miss Frances Wilson, Miss Margaret Walter, Miss Genevieve Thompson, Miss Grace Warren, Miss Dorothy Morrison, Miss Grace Monroe and Miss Aveline Webster.

Mrs. Samuel Kerr entertained Friday afternoon in compliment to Miss Susan Stott with five tables at bridge. Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot was the prize winner. Mrs. Kerr was assisted in entertaining by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Kerr. The flowers used in decorating the rooms were especially attractive huge yellow chrysanthemums with tinted Oregon grape. Miss Effie Houghton, who was unable to attend, sent them in lieu of her presence. Shaded candles were used throughout the rooms and gave a lovely soft light. Mrs. Kerr's guests were Miss Stott, Mrs. Raleigh Stott, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. Charles E. Cheney, Mrs. Frank Kerr, Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Mrs. J. Ernest Laddlaw, Mrs. Leona Stout, Mrs. Frank Freeman, Miss Bertha Toungue, Miss Grace Warren, Miss Frances Warren, Miss Hazel Crocker, Mrs. George Cottner, Mason, Miss Hazel Dolph, Mrs. George K. Wentworth Jr., Miss Claire Houghton, Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot and her mother, Mrs. W. J. Lacey.

A delightful affair was the first members night at the Portland Heights club Thursday evening which was largely attended. There were 12 tables of bridge and 12 of five hundred and the game extended through the early part of the evening. The prizes were bouquets of violets and lilies of the valley for the women and decks of cards for the men. At bridge Mrs. Harry Northrup and Walter V. Smith were the winners and at five hundred, Mrs. Reeves and Mr. Halliwell.

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Fred Page, Mrs. F. I. Fuller and Mrs. George W. Collins. Mrs. Page wore a handsome gown of rose satin, cut in the latest style with yolk and sleeves of handsome white lace. Mrs. Fuller wore a deep cream lace over satin with touches of pale blue panne on the bodice. Mrs. Collins was in black net over an orchid shade of satin. The hostesses for the year at the club who arranged the list of hostesses for each function are Mrs. A. D. Charlton, Mrs. J. D. Hart and Mrs. A. C. Panton. They were prominent among the guests and lent their assistance. Mrs. Charlton wore beautiful pale blue satin ornamented with white lace and insertion. Mrs. Hart was in pale gray chiffon with the Gibson key design worked in narrow black velvet ribbon. Mrs. Panton wore a dainty chiffon over Dresden silk, hand embroidered in pastel shades.

The billiard room was a popular resort for the men and there was dancing at 11 o'clock. The members are looking forward to a delightful season this winter.

The formal installation of the Nu Upsilon chapter of Gamma Phi Beta at the University of Oregon took place at the sorority house in Eugene last night. A number of members went up from Portland to attend the exercises and almost all the members were present. Miss Helen MacDonald was the toastmistress at the banquet following the ceremony. The members of the other chapters who attended were: Miss Edith Prosch, Miss Therese Preston, Miss Helen MacDonald and Miss Lillian Eisenble of the University of Washington; Miss Carolyn Gerson key design of the Minnesota chapter, and Miss Ruth Guppy of the Michigan chapter. Misses Mary, Grace and Jeanne Gray and Miss Constance Covell are members of the Oregon chapter who went up. The Portland girls who are members now in college are Miss Vivian Holmes, Miss Winifred Higgins of the Stanford chapter; Miss Alice Benson of the California chapter; Miss Rachel Beard of the Minnesota chapter, and Miss Ruth Guppy of the Michigan chapter. Misses Mary, Grace and Jeanne Gray and Miss Constance Covell are members of the Oregon chapter who went up.

The many friends of Dr. W. M. Killingsworth will be gratified to know that he is now a senior doctor in the Emergency hospital, New York City, securing the appointment by a competitive examination. Miss Nina Killingsworth is visiting her brother, Dr. Killingsworth, and will remain east, visiting other important cities during the winter.

Preparations are being made for seeing the new year in and it is said that all the tables at the leading grills are engaged for that evening. There is special music usually arranged for that
