AFRICAN KNOCKS JIM FLYNN GOLD

Husky Pueblo Fireman Sent to Dreamland in the First Round.

(United Press Landed Wire.)
San Francisco, Dec. 22.—Sam Langford, the "Boston bone-breaker," as he was dubbed last night by Billy Jordan, is likely to be a more spectator at most of the fights he attends in the near future. When he knocked Jim Flynn gold in the first round last night he added about a foot of solid stone wall to the color line that has been separating him from a chance at a purse almost ever since the public began to realize his ability as a fighter.

It was so easy for Langford that he did not know he had been in a fight. He went back to his corner and sat down and chatted with the crowd about him, as if he had just walked out and knocked an apple off a fence post.

Flynn rushed the negro at the start. The chocolate demon was cool and as light on his feet as a feather. He floated the jump, blocked most of his blows and met his rushes with terrific body blows, such as the fans here have not seen in many a day.

Killing Was Swift.

The fierce exchange of blows gave the negro the advantage every time. It was swift work. It could not have lasted in any other way.

The end came with startling suddenness. Flynn went in with his head down. Langford met him with a little more vigor perhaps than before, and as if he had been feeling out his man and had decided where to put in the final blow, Flynn staggered as he came on. Before the fireman regained his balance the great sledge hammer right arm of the negro had swung in a misty night, took the work squarely to the point of the jaw. Flynn stopped like he had been shot. In the fractional part of a second that he remained on his feet, a vicious, powerful straight arm jab with the left landed on the same spot and the fight was over.

It was fully five minutes before Flynn could be lifted into his corner by his second.

A prominent San Franciscan, sitting in a box, expressed the opinion of many, when he declared:

Would Garry a Gat.

"I know how I could get him. I'd shoot him. A white man that would get in a ring with that thing without a gun, is a fool."

Langford never agrees to fight Langford, which is most exceedingly improbable. Langford's managers probably will insist that no firearms be carried in any way.

Langford now is more isolated than ever. If he had any of the instincts of the money-fighters he would have let Flynn remain in the ring for a few rounds at least. He would have permitted himself to be able to make some more engagements. But he is just a natural born fighter and he went to it like the jump, and came out laughing like half a ripe watermelon.

The fans are looking for a return engagement for months. At least Jimmy Langford and his manager are sure to be in the ring for a few more rounds to a draw. This gave the local public as good an exhibition as they wanted and the crowd was satisfied.

RED HOT GOSSIP FOR RABBIT FANS

No local umpire, of which there is quite a crop, will get a chance in the Northwest of league, according to a statement made this morning by President Lucas. Lucas, in addition to Bob Carothers, says he will have one other northwestern league diamond official of last season and an eastern man. He is not ready to give out their names.

Roger Bresnahan, the new manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, wants young blood on his team. The only veteran on the team, Billy Gilbert, will be retained. Bresnahan says that only the figures on his first next season are Kenzie and Fred Hunter in the outfield.

"Wanted, an office room." This is the slogan of President Lucas of the Northwestern league. Lucas has been hunting around for three weeks for an office and hasn't found one yet.

Fred Merkle, who received a lot of cheap notoriety by failing to touch second base in a memorable game between the Cubs and Giants and caused an additional game to decide the National league championship, is wanted by Roger Bresnahan.

Mrs. Ty Cobb, boss of the Ty Cobb household and guardian of the Ty Cobb purse strings, says she doesn't care whether Ty ever pings the horsehide or scoops a floater again. Mrs. Ty recently fell for a cool million.

George Stallings, the new manager of the New York Americans, is to sacrifice several heads in the interest of harmony. On the other hand, McKeon, manager of the Boston Braves, is ready to stand pat on his team of last season.

SOCCER TEAMS IN GOOD CONDITION

Christmas Day Game Promises to Prove Fast and Exciting Match.

Portland's now numerous soccer following is doing little else than talk of the Christmas afternoon game on Multnomah field, when Multnomah will pit its first team against the Portland Cricketers in the most important match of the present league season. Once before the two clubs met, the Cricketers were new to one another and without practice. The result was the worst boating ever administered in a Portland game, the score being 12 to 0.

The clubmen are practically forced by circumstances to put two injured men into the game. Crosby, right fullback of the Cricketers, is still suffering from a wrenched shoulder, which he got in last Saturday's game against the Rangers. He is still suffering from a wrenched shoulder, which he got in last Saturday's game against the Rangers.

Mr. J. Chumley, the newly appointed manager of the Cricketers, promptly fired three of the men who played in the first game with Multnomah. Instead on the forward line there will be a fast new trio—Bryant, a new arrival from Glasgow, Art Mills, a first class left wing man, and Maclean, also fresh from Scottish games. These three are pronounced the equals of Multnomah's crack inside trio—Sig Mills, Harry Matthews and James A. Dick.

Nelson Allen, pastor of Hawthorne Park Presbyterian church, was surprised Sunday morning at the conclusion of his sermon by the presentation of a substantial check as an expression of the good wishes of his church which he may carry with him on his trip to Egypt and the Holy Land. The presentation was made by C. W. Pallett, of the First Baptist church, planning to sail from New York City on the 18th of the Caronia of the Cunard line, and to Alexandria. They will spend about three weeks in Egypt and Palestine.

FOOTBALL FANS ARE WATCHING MEETING

Football followers throughout Oregon will watch with a great deal of interest the result of the meeting of the Multnomah club directors tonight to determine whether the University of Oregon shall continue the Thanksgiving day attraction, or whether that important date shall be turned over to Oregon Agricultural college during alternate years. Most of the directors are said to favor the alternate year plan and it is not likely that there will be any contention about awarding the game to the Aggies.

Should the directors consign the game to the Corvallis eleven, it is hardly likely the Oregon alumni contend, that the varsity will ever again meet the "Winged M." Eugene will immediately assert, enter into a long time contract with the University of Washington to play alternate holidays at Seattle and Eugene.

Machinists Win Indoors.

Although outfielding the Helsar & Under Machinists last night, the clever indoor baseball team of the Catholic club suffered defeat by the score of 3 to 13. The machinists won by outbating the clubmen. Crosby occupied the slab for the H. & N. outfit and allowed 14 hits compared with 23 secured off Swireid. The postal team, Crosby captured 14 men in the seven innings he twirled.

Oregons Beat Anaconda.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Anaconda, Mont., Dec. 22.—The Oregon basketball team, which is touring the United States, defeated Anaconda last night, 22 to 16. Anaconda led in the first half, 11 to 6. However, the Oregonians strengthened in the second half and quickly overcame the disadvantage.

OUTLAWS PLAN MOVE ON COAST STRONGHOLD

(United Press Landed Wire.)
San Francisco, Dec. 22.—With the smoke of the preliminary battle still in the air, the state leaguers already are making plans for the big baseball war that is sure to follow the complete fall-through of the negotiations with the Pacific Coast league. One of the first moves of the outlaws will be the establishment, in either San Francisco or Oakland, of modern grounds. As soon as the site has been secured scouts will be sent after some of the stars now playing organized ball. Then the circuit will be rearranged. Alameda will be dropped and Los Angeles added. President Herman had had his eye on Los Angeles for some time and now, knowing his strength, he no longer fears to go into the Angel City. A number of Los Angeles fans have promised to find the financial backing, and as soon as it is forthcoming a good team will be gathered.

Frank Chance's purpose in coming to California," said this same authority, "was solely to size up the baseball situation with a view of lining himself with outlaw ball."

Chance is known to have had some friction with President Murphy of the Chicago club, and it is said that this was one of the principal reasons for his unexpected move.

The Outlaw Story.

(United Press Landed Wire.)
Fresno, Cal., Dec. 22.—Frank Chance, captain manager of the Chicago Cubs, will abandon organized baseball and become a member of the "outlaws" was the sensational announcement made today by a prominent baseball official, one of the directors of the Fresno club.

According to this man's statement, Chance will join the San Francisco club and will devote his whole energies to building up the game in California and making it the greatest baseball state in the country.

How Drugs Eat Up the Vitality

Most of the medicines sold today are merely combinations of alcohol and poison. The very foundation of the doctor's prescription is poison.

When you take a drug containing poison you do yourself more harm than good, and you are sure to enervate your nerves and lower your vitality.

You must understand that disease is a result of insufficient vitality, and before you can cure any ailment you must build up vitality in the body. Instead of building up, they tear down. They sap the body of its force until it is like a dried-up lemon.

To attempt to cure a chronic or nervous disease with drugs is like trying to put out a fire with oil.

The human body is electrical. Human vitality is created by electricity. When your body has plenty of electricity it has plenty of vitality. That means health.

Electro-Vigor is the dry-cell battery for saturating the nervous system and vitalizing life-giving electricity. It builds up vitality and strength in every weakened organ and removes the cause of disease by giving to every ailing part the power to do its work as Nature intended.

Electro-Vigor does not shock or blister. Its influence is powerful, yet soothing and pleasant to the nerves. It makes its own power, therefore it is always charged, ready for use. It is applied while you sleep.

People who have dosed themselves for years with drugs, have found a lasting cure in Electro-Vigor.

After three months' use of Electro-Vigor the losses are completely stopped and my power has returned. I will endorse your treatment at any time.

"CALL ME ANYTHING BUT A GENTLEMAN"

(United Press Landed Wire.)
Seattle, Dec. 22.—"I don't care what they call me, as long as they do not insult me by calling me a 'gentleman' in the social report of Edward J. Lewis of Portland, state Socialist organizer for Oregon. Lewis was arrested for beating W. E. Parks, another Socialist, at the labor temple. Lewis, who believes the terms 'gentleman' and 'socialist' are the direct antithesis of each other, was referred to by the former title in a newspaper. He is wroth as a result.
