STANFORD TAKES KEITH CUP HOME

Holman, Portland Boy, Plays a Great Rugby Game Against Vancouver.

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 20.—The Cooper-Keith cup goes down to California, the fates having decreed at Brockton yesterday afternoon that its journey here must cease with this vic of the conquering Stanford rugby team. The score of 10 points to three is indicative of the home superiority of the Stanford team although had the home-sters pursued the first half of the game with the same vigor as they displayed in the second half there might have been a different tale to relate.

It was without doubt the most strenuous rugby battle that has ever been fought out on the Brockton polo grounds. Every man went into the fray determined to win out and they fought as only trained athletes can fight.

Referee Jenkinson lined the men up shortly after 2:30 and from the kick-off Stanford were let into the home 25 yards to the ball being badly handled by the home defense. Shortly after this a free kick was awarded to Vancouver on the goal line, but was not used to advantage and the return kick and subsequent following up brought back play to the home 25 left wing.

Stanford Scores.
After a little close play Stanford scored an excellent try, Cook scoring and this was converted by Crawford kicking the goal. After the kick smart open work by the home team brought the play into the Stanford 25 when an injury to a visiting member caused a temporary cessation of the game.

Johnston badly fumbled the ball from the scrum, play being transferred to midfield, Bryant being conspicuous by very clever play but lacked support. After this confusion on the part of the home-sters play somewhat lagged, which was relieved by a dangerous rush by the visitors but Bell-Young saved the situation at the expense of a twisted knee and he was forced to retire from the game.

Johnston was now relegated to the position of custodian of the goal line and shortly afterwards a rush by the Stanford boys resulted in another try being scored by Cheda, which was converted, half time being called soon after this, the visitors thus leading by 10 points to 0.

Desperate play marked the opening of the second half, Bryant being again conspicuous by a brilliant individual run which nearly resulted in a try, but the absence of support nullified his effort.

Goal Not Converted.
After a series of scrums and line outs the ball was taken to the visitors' 25 and Enzer cleverly leading the visiting defense, scored a brilliant try for Vancouver, which was not converted.

The remainder of the game found the home team principally in the visiting 25, a couple of minors ensuing, however, the visitors were again in the lead, setting in with the Stanford team plucky victors.

The better team won there can be no doubt as at Stanford had their combination was superior to the home-sters, playing the open better and being in a better position to take advantage of the situation. It is not an easy matter to discriminate individually as the Stanford team as a whole was a good hard game, but Crawford, Holman and Paul-ner are worthy of special mention.

The visiting forwards were far superior collectively to the home front line and in the scrimmages the ball invariably came out to their half.

The teams will play again on January 1.

TURN VEREIN HOLDS ANNUAL EXERCISES

Fully 500 people were turned away from the annual entertainment given by the Portland Turn Verein society at their hall at Fourth and Yamhill streets last night. The hall was filled early in the evening with friends and parents of the members of the society and by 8 o'clock the doors had to be locked.

A fine program was rendered by the classes and the splendid work of Professor Gensersky was evident throughout the exercises. The association plans to send a team to the Seattle fair next year with every hope of capturing a number of prizes. They have only to keep up the splendid form shown in the exercises last night to do this.

The most difficult feats were pulled off without the least bit of hesitation or inaccuracy. The work of the active class was especially fine. The ladies' classes, too, were unusually good, while the dumbbell drill by a class of little tots all under the age of 6 years was of merit. The program was as follows:

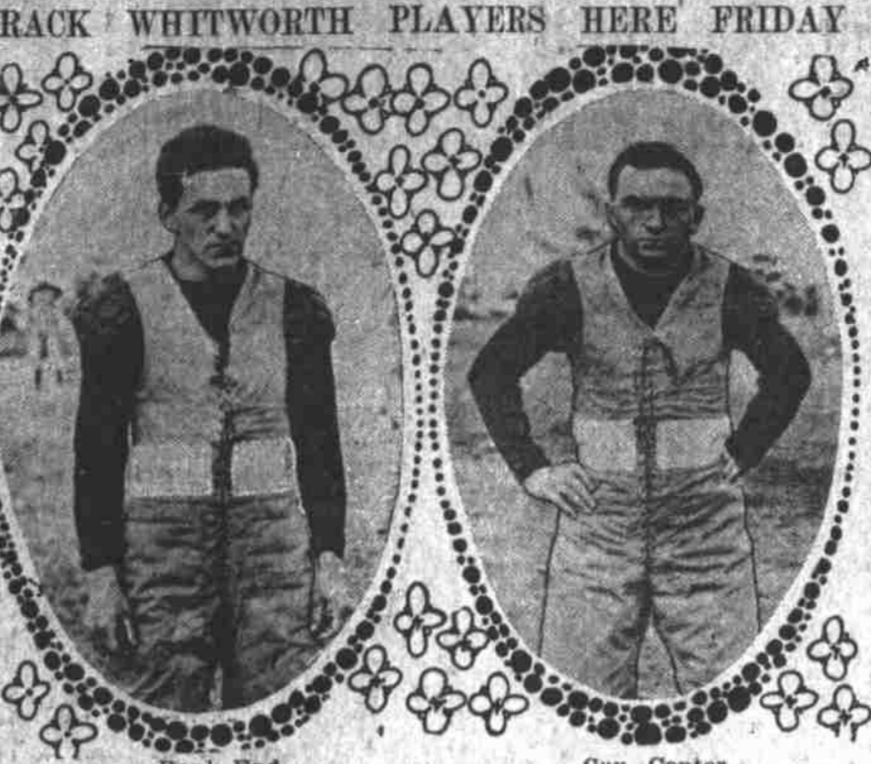

- 1—Entrance of all classes.
- 2—Parallel bar and pyramid exercises by advanced ladies' class.
- 3—Junior and girls' and boys' classes in exercises on horses, rings and ladders.
- 4—Dumbbell drill by children under 6 years of age.
- 5—Callisthenic drill by junior boys' class.
- 6—High parallel work by active class.
- 7—Figure march and drill by ladies' class.
- 8—Gilbert's dancing steps by ladies' class.
- 9—"Lonely" by girls' class.
- 10—Pyramids by actives.

LANGFORD AFTER CHAMP KETCHEL

Boston Black Agrees to Stop White Man in Twenty Rounds.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Dec. 30.—San Langford, the Boston black, today issued a challenge to Stanley Ketchel, middle-weight champion, in which he offers to agree to stop Ketchel in 20 rounds or forfeit the entire purse.

New confidence, since his easy victory over Flynn, has led the negro to take this extraordinary step in an effort to force Ketchel into a battle.

Joe O'Connor stated positively that he will permit Ketchel to fight again for at least a month, but Joe Woodward, manager for Langford, says he will override Herman and Moring months if necessary to get a battle for the championship.

Woodward offers to deposit a substantial forfeit to back up his guarantee that Langford will stop Ketchel in 20 rounds.

If he can not arrange a fight with Ketchel, Woodward says he will match

YAKIMA HUNTSMAN IS THERE WITH VENISON

North Yakima, Wash., Dec. 30.—Toting half a deer 27 miles through the mountains in one day in order to make good his boast to have venison for Sunday dinner, Charley Wade, of the Valley Hardware company here, accomplished a feat that is looked upon as a record.

He informed a number of friends last week that he was going venison hunting and invited them to his house for Sunday dinner.

When they scouted the idea he was willing to lay a wager that the venison would be provided. He went into the mountains early in the week in search of the game. It was not until Saturday morning that he was rewarded, shooting a deer that weighed 135 pounds. Knowing that he could not carry the whole deer, he took one half and the hide, and started out for North Yakima, 27 miles distant.

He reached North Yakima almost exhausted, but his friends had venison Sunday.

FOOTBALL DATE BADLY MUDDLED

Multnomah Directors Evolve New Plan Which Is Not Favored by Alumni.

Another turn was given the already badly twisted Thanksgiving day football date for 1909, by the Multnomah club directors at their weekly meeting last night. Sunday morning last at an informal meeting Manager Pratt was informed that he might go ahead and contract for a game with Oregon Agricultural college for 1909, giving the University of Oregon the 1910 date if that college making its agreement with the Aggies. Last night it was decided to play the winner of the annual Oregon-O. A. C. Thanksgiving day, allowing the defeated team to play some one of the northern colleges on the holiday.

On the face of it it appears that this would be an equitable solution of the difficulty, but underneath it can be plainly seen that the directors are not nearly so close to a solution as in the case of the Sunday morning meeting. It is believed by alumni of both colleges who reside here that the proposition is impracticable. They say the chances are 10 to 1 that neither the Aggies nor the varsity will accept it. Such a proposal means that in addition to the two Oregon elevens some other college must enter into the agreement. It means further that the northern football team will have to take on a college of importance will agree to it. It means also the disruption of the winter football season with both Oregon and the University of Washington, which will be a great drawing card for next year in view of the fact that it is the 1908 champion, is to play either of the two teams Thanksgiving day, then how about the annual games between the varsity and the Aggies eleven? Who is to judge which team shall be given the local Thanksgiving day game? Before a game can be arranged on the plan made last night, these and lot more minor questions must be answered.

Verily it appears that the club directors have been monkeying with the Multnomah club in a way which is inclined to view the advances of O. A. C. with relation to the Thanksgiving day game in a very unfavorable light. It is a matter of some importance, and it is the only proper procedure at this time.

CHANGE WANTS SHAY TO REPLACE EVERS

Stockton, Cal., Dec. 30.—The latest state league players to consider a return to organized baseball is Danny Shay, who, it is reported today, will sign with Frank Chance to play second base for the Chicago National league team during the coming year. Shay today acknowledged that he had the matter under consideration and added that if there should be a state league during the coming season he will stay here because of the climate.

A rumor that "Doc" Moskiman would go to the Cubs as a member of the Chicago testing staff was denied by Chance. Chance intimated that Shay would be acceptable to replace Johnny Evers, who is contemplating retirement from the game to become editor of a Troy, N. Y., newspaper, but that the Chicago team had not tried to get Moskiman.

BARRY KAUFMAN BATTLE TONIGHT

Delaney's Fighter Has Sore Foot While Chicagoan Is Dazzlingly Fast.

By Ed Moriarty.
Los Angeles, Dec. 30.—Win or lose, Jimmy Barry has established the fact today that confidence is one of his assets. Barry walked up to the Pitcher brothers' betting establishment late yesterday afternoon and wagered $500 to $1000 that he would win from Kaufman tonight. It is said that "Chicago" O'Brien, a turfman, put up the long end.

Billy Delaney declares that his man is in perfect trim, despite the fact that a week or so ago Kaufman was suffering from a sore foot, the nature of which could not be learned.

Barry has shown dazzling speed in his workouts and it is the general opinion that in this respect he has it over Kaufman.

Both Beat Flynn.
Again, Kaufman knocked out Jim Flynn, while Jim Barry was unable to turn the trick in 10 rounds. Barry displayed a very bad hand after the fight with Flynn. At the time it could readily be seen that Jim must have suffered during the bout.

Barry is claiming that his hands are not in the best of shape just now, though the writer does not know for certain whether there be a foundation for his assertions.

Jim Flynn is openly declaring that Barry will romp home. Flynn having fought both men, realizes the style of each. Barry's speed will overcome the strength of Kaufman.

Forty-five rounds is some distance, and chances are that one of the fellows will be lying on the mat with no particular intention in view before the schedule's limit.

Jack Keefe and Muggsy Mullins are to fight the only preliminary which is scheduled for six rounds.

Packey McFarland has wired that he will be in from Seattle in time to see the big scrap. Packey is to meet Dick Hyland in a scheduled 10 round go before McCarey's club January 15.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 30.—Several changes of importance were considered in the special meeting of the conference college delegates here yesterday and will be finally passed upon today.

GRISWOLD DIES OF BROKEN HEART

Grieving Over Yale Crew's Defeat Drives Stroke Oar Into Grave.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Dec. 30.—Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Griswold left here today for Erie, Pa., with the body of their son Dwight, stroke oar of the Yale varsity crew, who fainted in the great race last spring, causing his college to lose to her old rival, Harvard, and who died of a broken heart in the German hospital here yesterday.

The death certificate says that he died of typhoid pneumonia, but his friends say that he simply faded gradually away, after his collapse at the critical moment of the race, and from a powerful athlete in a few months was reduced almost to a weakling. When he caught cold recently he had little power to resist it. Typhoid found him an easy victim, and a week ago his parents were summoned.

Griswold came to San Francisco soon after the race last spring, to become connected with the California Coal company through C. N. Watkins, a friend. He was here when he was told off the gloom that fell upon him when he realized that his failure had brought defeat to his college.

His mind dwelt upon the day of the race, when William H. Taft, then Secretary of war, was present among the Yale rowers, and the family of President Roosevelt led the Harvard supporters from the presidential yacht. The scene on the banks of the German canal at New London, Conn., seldom seemed to leave him for any length of time.

Those who became acquainted with him here are convinced that he died of a broken heart. His father is president of the Griswold Manufacturing company at Erie, Pa., where the body will be buried.

GOLF CLUB HOLDS LAST PLAY FRIDAY

The Waverly Golf club will bring its season to an end New Year's day with a men's handicap and mixed foursomes meeting. There will be some 25 entrants in the men's handicap, while at least a dozen couples will take part in the mixed foursomes.

Play in the men's handicap will commence by the Pacific Coast league for starting the mixed foursomes. Most of the best players in the city have entered for play and some good games are likely to be seen.

New officers and directors of the club will be elected January 9, the date being the annual meeting. Contrary to the usual rule there will be no entertainment given this New Year's night.

OUTLAWS MAY CLASH AMONG THEMSELVES

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Dec. 30.—Members of the California State league will meet tonight to consider the final rejection or acceptance of the conciliatory offer made by the Pacific Coast league for the termination of the baseball war on the coast.

It is said that several of the club

DOCTORS' MISTAKES

And How These Are Reduced to a Minimum in the Methods of an Expert Specialist

Doctors make more mistakes than are made in any other profession. I believe, am qualified to make a definite statement in this regard as fully half my work as a Specialist consists of correcting the mistakes of other doctors.

Let a man with a chronic disorder go to 10 different doctors, and he is more likely to get 10 different opinions than five that are alike. And if five doctors did agree on a diagnosis, each one would be sure to offer a prescription different from the other four. There are some two thousand different diseases known as "chronic ailments," and probably twenty thousand symptoms, either direct or remote. They range all the way from falling of the hair to pains in the toe, and the average doctor is supposed to know them all, or at least to refuse to treat them if he can get pay for his services. He may be conscientious in his desire to help the sufferer, but in underestimating so large a task he is more likely to fail ten times than cure once. And he cannot, without injuring the patient's confidence in his ability, recommend the services of a specialist instead of his own.

If afflicted with any of the ailments constituting my specialty, seek an expert's and not an amateur's services. You can come to me knowing that I have treated hundreds of cases like your own, and thousands of others very similar. You can rest assured that I will know just what to do—will not make a single mistake in the treatment of your case, and that a complete and permanent cure will follow.

The Leading Specialist
DR. TAYLOR.

Not a Dollar Need Be Paid Until I Cure You

The incurable cases that come under my observation have been those of men who have neglected to seek treatment in time, or have tried to cure themselves with electric belts, patent nostrums, a drug store treatment, or some other worthless means. Such treatments are far worse than none at all. They nearly invariably produce complications—that is, they cure as the original disease. Sometimes they appear to benefit for a time, but as sure as fate their after effects will prove harmful—many times fatal. BEWARE OF THEM. They cannot cure you, no matter how eloquently they are advertised. Seek my scientific SPECIFIC BLOOD POISON, LOST STRENGTH and all reflex ailments is guaranteed.
