SIX COLLEGES IN BIG TRACK MEET

Conference Decides on Athletic Tournament at Delegate Meeting in Seattle.

For the first time in the history of college athletics in the northwest, a conference track meet will be held in Seattle Saturday, June 5 next. Teams will participate from the six colleges, the University of Oregon, Idaho and Washington, Whitman college, Washington state college and Oregon Agricultural college. The meet will be held in connection with the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, and will be under the direction of Dean Miner Roberts of the University of Washington faculty.

Arriving on the June meeting of the "Big Six" was the last official act of the conference of college delegates in Seattle yesterday. Outside the gates of the exposition, the delegates met and adopted as printed in the Journal yesterday, this was the most important action of the conference.

Heretofore the relative merits of the track teams of the northwest colleges have been determined largely by dual meets, and the two triangular meetings. Actual competition all along the line this year is expected to bring some crack performers to the fore. Should the conference meet become an annual affair, it will probably sound the death-knell of the Whitman-Idaho-Pullman and Oregon-Idaho-Washington triangular meets.

The five-year rule enacted by the delegates does not seem to be clear to the average follower of athletics. By the five-year rule it is not intended that a student can compete in one branch of athletics for five years. His intent is this: Suppose a student has made the football team during the four years of his college course and has made the track or baseball team in his third year, and then at the end of the first year of his senior year is compelled to leave college. Upon his return to finish his course in college, the five-year rule operates to permit him to engage in track or baseball work the second semester which was not completed.

Physical Director Angell of Oregon Agricultural college and Physical Director Hayward and Delegates George and Knell of Oregon returned to Portland from Seattle this morning. They will depart for their respective homes this afternoon.

SOCCER FOOTBALL AT VAUGHN STREET

The annual New Year's afternoon association football game will this season be between the Columbian and Multnomah, two city league teams, which will meet in a league match at the baseball grounds at 2:30 o'clock. The Multnomah team, which will be refereed, the game should be a close one, as the Rangers are able to get the pick over two dozen good players on any holiday and Manager Marischal Keith has been busy all week getting into the line the best of his large membership. The probable line-ups will be:

Cricketers: Goal, Cumming; backs, Mitchell, Jago, halves, Kellow, Robertson, Naylor; forwards, Eyles, Bruce, A. Mills, Maclean, Teale.

Rangers: Goal, Hutchinson; backs, Coxon, C. A. Stewart; halves, McCafferty, Walker, Lawrence; forwards, Kilpack, Kyle, Medcalf, Stevenson, Quarterman.

Closing Game of Schedule.

The closing game of the city league season will be between the Columbian and Multnomah, provided an agreement can be reached as to grounds. The Columbian want to play on the baseball grounds, the Multnomah team on the club grounds. The former say the M. A. C. field would be an advantage to the Columbian, while the Multnomah claim is that the former game between these two teams was taken to the baseball grounds at the Columbian's request and that a number of other concessions have been made throughout the season which entitle the club to name the field for the concluding match. The Portland Football association will be asked to decide the location, when it will be left to the losing team to go to the other team's grounds or default.

CRACK MARATHONERS IN RACE TOMORROW

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Dec. 31.—A record-breaking force of more than 100 runners will participate in the big Marathon run at the Empire City track tomorrow under the auspices of the Yonkers A. A. Included among the entries are many star performers, such as James H. Crowley, winner of last year's race; Sammy Mellor, who finished second in the Chicago Marathon; and the Indian, Corve, the 100-mile champion. The race will be 26 miles, 385 yards in length and will start in the public square in Yonkers and run two miles to the Empire City track, where the remainder of the run will take place.

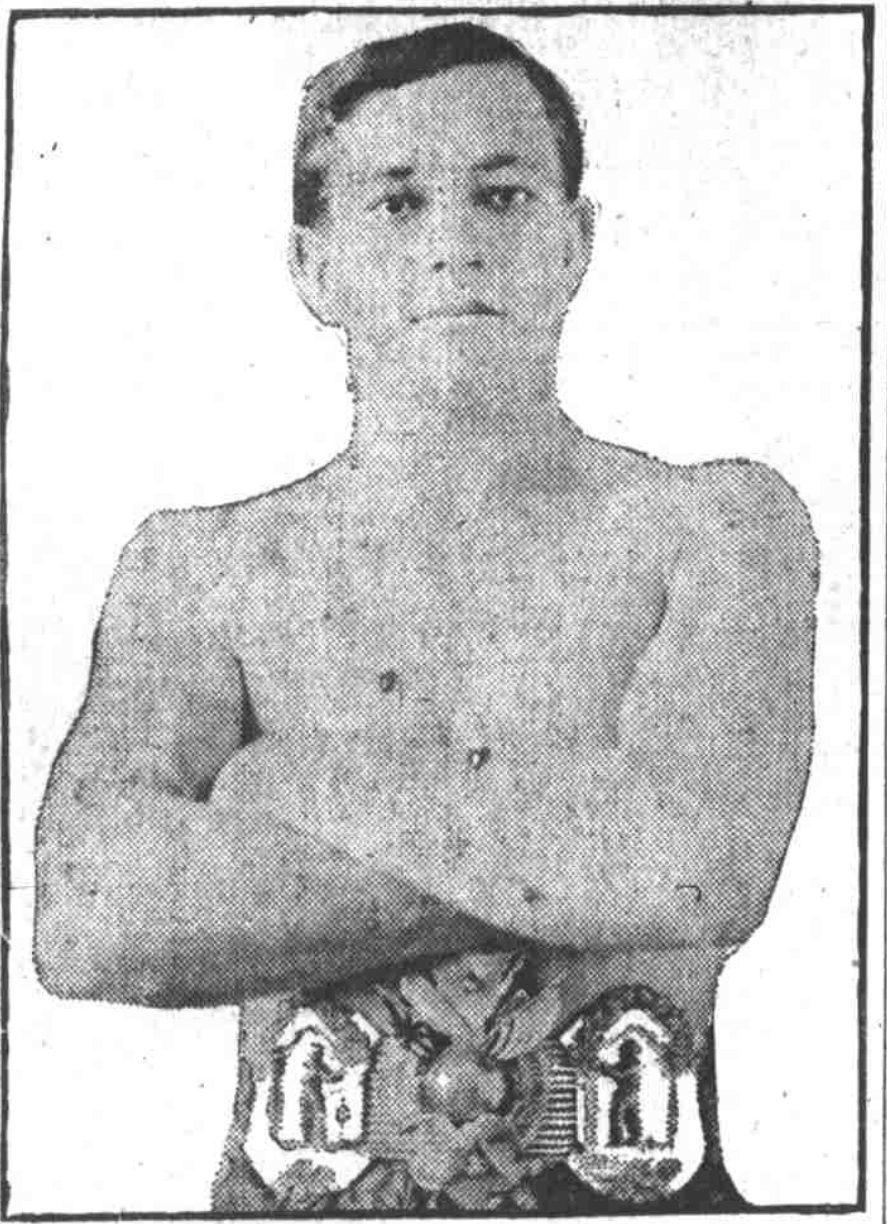

ALBINA LOCKS ARMS AGAIN WITH INDIANS

The Albina Athletic club football team leaves New Year's morning for Chemawa, Or., to try to win back the title of the Albina Indians for Christmas day. This will be a hard fought game as the Indians are undefeated in their history. The club has been working hard since Christmas. The club lineup is as follows: R. G. Fortier, R. T. Morrow, R. E. Palmer, C. Davis, L. G. Christensen, J. Abbott, L. E. Beattie, Q. Howard, R. H. Donason, L. H. Henderson, F. Berg.

Silverton Takes Both Games.

Junction City, Or., Dec. 31.—In the double header played between the Junction City boys and girls and the Silverton high school boys and girls last night Silverton won both games. The score of the girls' game was 15 to 5 and the boys' game 32 to 3. This is the third of the series of league games that Silverton high school boys have won. The Silverton boys will play Eugene January 1 on Eugene's floor.

"Negro, Nevo," Ketchel; "Yep," O'Conner

San Francisco, Dec. 31.—"Nope, I'll never enter the ring to fight a negro," is the stand Stanley Ketchel, the world's middleweight champion, today is taking with his friend in Grand Rapids, according to a dispatch received from the champion.

"The next man Ketchel faces will be Sam Langford," is the prediction of Joe O'Conner, Ketchel's manager. In his most "very reticent" interview, Sporting men here are wondering who has

LAST FOOTBALL SEEN TOMORROW

Whitworth College and Multnomah Start Play at 2:30 o'clock.

The final game of the local football season will be played on Multnomah field tomorrow afternoon when the crack Whitworth college football eleven meets the sturdy Multnomah club at 2:30 o'clock. Multnomah field is in fairly good shape for the game, although the occasional rain and northerly wind predicted for tomorrow might leave it somewhat slow.

A defeat of Multnomah will put a big feather in the cap of the Tacoma students, who hope next year to put out a team which will sweep everything before it. The season just closed saw the Whitworth eleven develop into one of the strongest football aggregations in the northwest. Their practice of the past two weeks shows that they have lost none of the cunning that characterized their work against rival colleges.

Manager Pratt and Coach Keuber of Whitworth have decided on Frank Longman and Hugh Boyd as officials for tomorrow's game.

The acquisition of Dr. Tom Ross to the "Winged M" ranks has been hailed with joy by the club members. Ross is a bigger man than Dr. Rader, the regular manager, and is expected to play a big role in the game.

All the gates leading to the field will be opened so that the large holiday crowd can be handled with convenience and dispatch. The grandstand is free to all the general admission tickets of the club members.

The possibility of rain will have no effect on the spectators who will be amply protected from stray drops in the big grandstand.

J. PETERSON IS FULL OF CLASS

Countryman Believes Swedish Middleweight Will Trim O'Connell.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Rainier, Or., Dec. 31.—For one I am mighty glad to know that Jack Peterson is coming out to the coast to meet O'Connell next Thursday night. I know what Mr. Peterson can do for I saw him in several of his matches. He is a fellow that is something of an aggressor, but appears to me to be somewhat stronger than the Portland wrestler. He is the classiest middleweight that I saw on a recent trip to the middle west and I predict that he will make short work of O'Connell.

O'Connell in all his matches in Portland and while I am convinced that he is a wonderfully clever defensive wrestler, I am sure that he is not the equal of Peterson at the offensive game. I must admit, though, that O'Connell has not had much chance to show what he can do in an aggressive way. I consider his matches, with the exception of the Dwyer match, to have been too easy to test his ability as an aggressor. In the Dwyer match, he did not take the aggressive, I think, because he did not want to take the risk of being thrown while trying to rush the big Chicagoan.

In Peterson the Multnomah instructor will find a fellow who is on the rush all the time. He has had experience enough to place him near the top of the list of middleweights, if not the very pinnacle. I understand that O'Connell has agreed to meet any middleweight he chooses, and he has chosen Peterson. He places the top scale at 155 pounds and this Peterson can make quite handily, although I think he would put up a better weight at 155 pounds.

Peterson wrote me the other day, that he would arrive in Portland several days before the match, and that he had concluded to do this for it will place him in a position to meet a lot of the boys. He is a light complexioned, curly headed chap with the usual good natured Swedish temperament. I am sure that the wrestling followers will be impressed with him. Anyhow, don't overlook his chances in next Thursday night's go with O'Connell. I am believing in the work for 2400.

Yours for a good match,
OLOF SWANSON.

DAN SULLIVAN THROWS JOHNSON OF SEATTLE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Hoquiam, Wash., Dec. 31.—At Fire Hotel in this city last night Dan A. Sullivan of Montana defeated Johnson of Seattle, claimant of the middleweight championship of the Pacific coast, in a straight four round most interesting wrestling match ever witnessed anywhere. Sullivan out-topped Johnson in every department of the game and finally made him quit after three hours and forty-two minutes. Sullivan was refereed by a local official and the referee awarded the match to Sullivan. The most interesting feature of the bout was the length of time consumed, which broke all records. Sullivan won two straight falls from Battling Swanson of this place.

POCKETS CUE BALL AND LOSES INCISORS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Oakland, Cal., Dec. 31.—John Robbins of Fruitvale has proved to the world that he is such a game sports he can put a billiard ball in his mouth, but he is minus several teeth, half a dog's bill to pay as a New Year's greeting, not to mention the dentist who would have to say, "But he won $250 and nobody will deny he's a 'game sport,' so he's satisfied."

He was playing billiards at Melrose yesterday, when a friend said: "I'll bet you $250 you can't pocket a billiard ball in your mouth."

"You're on," said Robbins without hesitation. With great difficulty he forced the ball into his mouth. Then the trouble came. Dr. J. H. Callan was summoned, but found it impossible to remove the ball until several of Robbins' teeth had been extracted and even then he had to use a small pinch bar. Robbins almost choked to death and suffered great agony.

FITPATRICK THE CHAMPION MAHER

Foxy Old Sam Hounded Tommy Burns Around World for Fight.

Now that the peacans have been sung for Jack Johnson and the platitudes said for Tommy Burns, it is about time to bestow some praise upon wise old Sam Fitzpatrick, the persistent manager of the Galveston black, who hounded the Canadian three-fourths of the way around the world in order to get a match for his fighter.

Convinced that Johnson could trim Burns to a cannibal's taste, Fitzpatrick spent thousands of dollars hanging on the trail of the lemon champion. There was no letup, once the old man took up the pursuit. From the United States Fitzpatrick and Johnson followed Burns to England, thence into Ireland and across the Dover to France. On every hand the public was made to know that Burns had to meet Johnson. The fate of plucking the easy ones across the Atlantic. Suddenly Burns took ship for the Antipodes, but Fitzpatrick had made it so warm for Tommy there that there was no getting out of a match, and he finally consented to the meeting which was the new champion to the throne, a black man, the first in the history of the game.

When the game flourished here several years ago, he was a familiar figure on the Antipodes, but Fitzpatrick had made it so warm for Tommy there that there was no getting out of a match, and he finally consented to the meeting which was the new champion to the throne, a black man, the first in the history of the game.

Fitzpatrick therefore is entitled to the greatest credit for bringing Johnson into the world's championship.

Started Seven Years Ago.

Johnson broke into prominence in 1901 when he met some good men, including Tom McMorris, who was then running a saloon in Chicago. Although Johnson gave Galveston as his birthplace, he was really born in Chicago, a product as it was in that city that he got his first real start.

Chicago followers of the game recall him when he made his early appearances here. He was always a drawing card, as in his apparently careless and unassuming manner, he was a black man was apparent. He made one or two appearances against men of his own color, such as Klondyke, whom he met in Chicago, and against the white, lachy Hogan refereeing, and then was sent against Frank Childs. This was the first time that Johnson was seen at the end of six rounds. This was in 1904.

When Johnson commenced drifting around the country and Joe Jeaneke served as a trial horse for him. They met seven times, no decision being rendered in four of their bouts. Johnson kept improving in cleverness as the seasons passed on and finally he came to be talked of as possible championship material.

Could He Take Punishment?

There was no question about the cleverness of the big fellow or about his ability to land a knockout punch. But there was considerable argument as to whether or not he could stand punishment. The way the white men on two occasions under hard punishment made it seem likely that he would collapse. He was knocked out by a right hand from Sailor Burke in six rounds and then knocked out a tough boxer like Jim Flynn in the 11th at San Francisco, his ability was generally recognized.

It was Sam Fitzpatrick who really brought him into the limelight. An Australian of the name of Joe Goddard, Peter Jackson and Bob McMorris flourished. Fitzpatrick was perfectly acquainted with the game. He recognized the through act, lack of other material, Johnson had as much claim to prominence as any other man of his weight. He prepared to boost the big black's stock.

His first step was to follow Burns to the coast, challenging him for a bout, and then to follow him to England. Here Johnson was a great card in music halls, and he added to his ability reputation by acting as a referee. He was in four rounds and knocking out Ben Taylor in eight rounds. Both bouts were won by Johnson. When Burns left the country and sailed for Australia Johnson and Fitzpatrick followed him. So the bout just decided was the first of the many that followed. There has gone almost around the world.

BRINARD CUBS HAND CRIMP TO GOLD SEALS

The "Brainard Cub" indoor baseball team of the East Side Athletic club, put a crimp in the aspiration of the "Gold Seals" team last night by winning a fast game to the sum of 19 to 5. The game was played in the East Side Athletic club gymnasium and occupied one hour and twenty minutes.

During the first few innings the "Gold Seals" found McKenzie, the Cub pitcher, to be a hard hitter. The "Brainard Cub" team had the hardest hitting "gym" this season, but are a little weak in fielding. The "Cubs" hit hard and ran bases like four-time winners. Their fielding was much above the average. Barrell's work behind the bat was a feature. The teams lined up as follows:

NEW YORK'S AUTO SHOW SURPASSES ALL OTHERS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Dec. 31.—During the next seven days the center of interest for the automobile world will be the Grand Central Palace auto show. The International show under the auspices of the American Motor Car Manufacturers' association has its opening tonight, after months spent in perfecting plans and making ready.

The vastness of the show this year is indicated by the fact that more than 300 automobile and accessory manufacturers are represented. The exhibits embrace everything pertaining to the motor industry from the smallest bolt to the finished up-to-date, handsomely modeled touring car. The exhibition is divided into five distinct departments. The entire main floor and part of the gallery section are devoted to American and foreign gasoline, steam and electric pleasure vehicles. On the first gallery floor are the commercial and taxicab vehicles and motorcycles. Tires, parts and accessories are distributed about the galleries. The exhibition of commercial vehicles this year is larger and more representative than ever before.

Dance the old year out tonight.
