At Sunnyside M. E. church, corner East Yamhill and Thirty-fifth streets, W. T. Euster, pastor, special meetings are being held every night, arranged so that besides special music under the direction of Professor Harold Coffin, from the Moody Bible school of Chicago, services of various kinds will be held Sunday. There will be four services of a special nature beside that for the boys' brigade in the afternoon. The first service will be at 7 o'clock in the evening right after a special meeting for the Sunday school at 10 o'clock. Then at 8 o'clock there will be a meeting for women. This will be a special service for all women over the age of 15 years. At 9 o'clock there will be a boys' brigade meeting, and in the evening a special service for all the people of the church. The service will be at 7:30, when the song service begins, and at 8 o'clock the sermon comes. The meetings will continue each evening without interruption until the close, as the time is short.

The Woman's club will hold its regular meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Woodcraft hall, Tenth and Taylor streets. The members will have a rare treat in the piano numbers to be rendered by Mrs. John Flanders Beaumont, who has recently come here from Chicago, where she was for 16 years teacher of piano and harp. Prior to that she was accompanist to Madame Camille Uro in her concert tour. Her numbers will be "Le Papillon" by Lavalie; "Tremolo" by Gottschalk; and "Rigoletto" by Verdi. An address on Oregon's forest trees will be given by George H. Himes, which will be illustrated by 50 stereoscopic views by the artist J. C. Fritchard is chairman of the day.

Mrs. Mary E. Sanders has come from her home in Sunnyside, Wash., to hunt for her husband, Edgar Sanders, who went from Sunnyside to Pendleton to buy out the bicycle shop of E. C. Joy, and wrote for his wife to come to him in Pendleton, she says. When she learned there was no officer in the city that had gone to Portland, and she followed at once. She has asked the Portland police to help her find her husband. Mrs. Sanders complicates matters by declaring that her husband returned a number of threatening letters before leaving Sunnyside, and for this reason she fears that he has met with foul play. She declares she will undertake tracing the identity of the persons who wrote the letters.

Stern law interfered last evening with the pleasure of a crowd of boys and girls, whose parents for the greater part are well known people, when they were nabbed by an officer in the act of snowballing a stalled streetcar. Several car windows were broken by the snowballs that constituted the offense. A Williams avenue car became stalled at East First and Holladay avenue last evening and the youngsters had a lot of fun with it until the conductor hurried away and returned with a policeman. Most of the offenders escaped, of course, but some of the boys and girls were questioned and their names taken, although they were not formally arrested.

Members of the Oregon State Dairy Association and of the State Creamery-men's association presented their requests for legislation to the members of the Malheur delegation at the luncheon given to the legislators yesterday afternoon. The promoters of the luncheon ask for an annual appropriation of $6000 for the purpose of sending out field agents to instruct farmers and dairymen in how to get the best results out of the dairy business. The members of the legislature who attended the banquet promised to give the measure their serious consideration.

Mrs. F. O. Downing, a prominent society woman of Portland, yesterday suffered a broken ankle as a result of a fall sustained while calling on Mrs. Oscar E. Huber, 48 North Commercial street. Mrs. Downing slipped on the polished floor of the Huber home and broke two ribs, bones in the ankle and was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital in an automobile where the broken bones were resting comfortably this morning.

The annual election and entertainment of the East Side Business Men's club has been postponed until the evening of January 21. The entertainment was to have taken place last night but it was called off on account of inclement weather.

Carl Carlson, Sigard Johnson and E. Osberg were declared guilty of highway robbery by a jury in Judge Morrow's department of the circuit court at 11 o'clock last night. On the night of December 4 they held up John Gunderson

RICE MYSTERY IS UNSOLVED

Seldom has the entire city been searched so thoroughly as is being done this week in the effort to find Miss Gertrude Louise Rice, who left her home at 707 Gilliam street to go to work early Tuesday morning, and after being seen two hours later down town, disappeared from sight as if the earth had opened and swallowed her.

As Miss Rice, who was employed by the Oregon Life Insurance company, was dreading a serious surgical operation, which physicians had told her would be necessary for her, it is feared that she became mentally unbalanced and took her own life.

Miss Rice was seen at Sixth and Alder streets at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning by Miss Alice Cornwall, an employee of the Oregon Life Insurance company. She was seen to be in her usual health and spirits.

HOME IS AWAITING MISS ROSE EYTINGE

Statements published in this city to the effect that Rose Eyttinge, now en route east to enter a home for actresses will not be admitted on arrival at her destination are incorrect. The statement is a great injustice and has been a source of much annoyance to Miss Eyttinge's hundreds of friends in this city and throughout Oregon. As was also stated in The Journal, she goes to a home on Staten Island. The home is known as the Actors' Fund home, instead of the Forrest home, as was at first announced. Miss Eyttinge's friends, many of whom are justly indignant, may quiet their fears, for every preliminary was fully arranged before hand and by the magnificent free masonry of the actors' profession, a luxurious home is waiting for her on arrival in New York.

SEATTLE MAN GROUND BENEATH CAR WHEELS

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 7.—Caught beneath the wheels of the West Queen Anne hill counterweight and dragged for more than 100 feet up the hill, Maxwell, a member of the cable repair gang for the Seattle Electric company, today was rescued from a predicament heard by his brother, C. Maxwell, who was on the surface, powerless to render aid.

Maxwell had gone into the pit at the foot of Queen Anne hill to get a number of jacks. The east weight was out of commission and Maxwell apparently crossed over to the west weight. While he was rummaging about a streetcar at the top of the hill caught the cable and started to descend.

As the car started down the hill the counter weight started up. Maxwell was caught beneath the wheels and dragged to death.
