Ivory Soap is the standard by which all other soaps are judged.

Some soap manufacturers claim that their product is "as good" or "as pure" or "as cheap" as Ivory.

Possibly it is. But neither you nor any other sensible woman will bother with the "as good' kind! You want real Ivory Soap; not the imitation kind.

The intelligent playgoers—that class of people whom we love to write about, but never actually know—were out in full force at the Hellig last night to see William Vaugh Moody's western play, "The Great Divide." They were rewarded with an absorbingly interesting, entirely unnatural, delightfully acted drama. They seemed to like it, if the almost breathless attention that was accorded by everyone in the house

"BEN HUR'S" TRIUMPH GREATEST ON RECORD

When General Lew Wallace penned his immortal Ben Hur: A Tale of the Christ," he thought little or not at all, of its possibilities as a drama. In fact, it was the significance of the living Christ's influence on the people of his own time that General Wallace wanted to show. However, in writing his masterplece the Indianian "builded better than he knew," for when dramatized "Ben Hur" scored the greatest triumph ever known in America. The staging of "Ben Hur" at the Heilig theatrs next week promises to be very successful.

COURTHOUSE PLANS NOT YET PREPARED

No definite arrangements have yet been made between the county commissioners and any architect for drawing plans for the new courthouse which is to be built soon on the site of the present county building. It has not been decided whether the county will advertise a competition or whether an architect will be appointed by the commissioners. However, a prominent firm has been considered one of the heads of which was called into consultation not long ago. It is expected that arrangements will be completed soon.

The new courthouse will probably be four stories high, of steel frame construction and will occupy the entire block.

AT THE THEATRES

Tonight and Twice Tomorrow. Henry Miller's excellent company of players will present the interesting and absorbing drama, "The Great Divide" at the Heilig theatre, tonight, tomorrow and Thursday nights, with a special price matinee tomorrow afternoon.

Buster on Hand. Buster Brown and Tige will hold reception on the stage at the Grand tomorrow after the matines. Another reception for the children will be held Saturday afternoon. Buster and the dog have made one of the biggest kinds of hits at the Grand.

"Thorns and Orange Blossoms." "Thorus and Orange Blossoms," this week's offering at the Star is proving especially interesting to the patrons of that theatre. It is a dramatization of one of Bertha M. Clay's most widely read novels.

Sensational Bill at Orpheum. There is a sensational bill on at the Orpheum this week that will set the tongues of the followers of vaudeville wagging, irrespective of the cold weather. "The Van Dyck." just a sketch, has one of the most brilliant actors in vaudeville, Harrison Hunter, who has a support worthy of his effort.

Best Melodrama This Season. "A Gambler's Devotion" at the Lyric theatre this week is the best melodrama seen here this season and the Lyric Stock company is playing it exceptionally well.

Earthquake Pictures a Hit. Animated pictures showing Italian scenes and the destruction by the recent earthquake of the cities of Palermo and Messina, are run in conjunction with the regular Pantages vaudeville enter-tainment.

Bargain Matinee Tomorrow. "Babes in Toyland" at the Baker all this week will be seen at the bargain matinee tomorrow. No more delightful entertainment has ever appeared here this fantastic operatic extrava-

"Masters of Men" Tonight. Considerable talk has been aroused by the political play "Masters of Men" which the Baker Stock company opened the week with, but which was not pre-sented last night on account of the charity behefit. Tonight it will go on the Bungalow boards again.

Copley Is Acquitted.

M. F. Copley, charged with a statutory offense involving a 7-year-old girl named Meta Nonken, was acquitted by a jury in Judge Cleland's department of the circuit court yesterday afternoon. Copley was tried once before but the indictment was faulty.

CALHOUN ON TRIAL

has split the city into two warring factions.

Calhoun, rich, shrewd, resourceful and stubborn, has engaged the cleverest lawyers he could find to defend him. He has surrounded them and himself with a small army of private detectives, intently watching every move made by Burns and his agents. He has lined up behind him some of the most influential papers in the state, and he has, as his secret but active aides a number of the city's wealthiest men. He enters the fight with formidable allies. There will be plenty of money and brains working to keep him from the penitentiary, and, if Hency knows what he is talking about, there will be darker and more cruel influences at work, for the graft prosecutor does not hesitate to accuse the Calhoun interests of sharing with the Calhoun interests of sharing with Ruef in all the venomous dynamiting, kidnaping, jury bribing plots which have hampered his work here since its in-hampered his work here since its inception.

Hency expects to win despite such opposition. Two years' warfare has sharpened his native shrewdness and has taught him what to expect from his opponents. He has learned the weak spots in the armor of his encmies, and he has not falled to profit by the mistakes which he and his associates have committed. The failures to convict others of the graft defendants have not discouraged him but have spurred him on to renewed efforts. He has devoted many months to perfecting this case.

Hency asserts that the evidence which will be presented against Patrick Calhoun will be stronger than that used in any of the three trials of Tirey L. Ford, chief counsel for the United Railroads—stronger, too, than that used in convicting Ruef.

SEATTLE MAN TELLS

OF THE EARTHQUAKE

George Wellman, of the Dupont Powder company, 230 Stark street, had a telephone message from his brother. J. H. Wellman of Seattle, about 5:15 yesterday afternoon, telling of the earthquake which shook up the sound city. J. H. Wellman called up from Seattle on a business matter, and in the course of the conversation informed his brother that Seattle had been jarred shortly after 3 o'clock by a temblor. He asked whether or not Portland had felt the shake.

a star attraction of the big celebration next June, is gathering fresh and vigorous support from an ever-widening circle. With San Francisco, Seattle and Spokane aiready at work in behalf of the movement, Salt Lake, through Mayor Bransford, has just written President Ralph W. Hoyt a letter pledging the hearty assistance of that city. Mayor Bransford's letter follows:

Salt Lake, Utah, Jan. 9.—Honorable Ralph W. Hoyt, President Portland Rose Festival, Portland Or.—My Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your communication requesting the assistance of this city, and all patriotic citizens in your efforts to have the Liberty Bell brought to the Pacific coast in June, 1909, and I can assure you that my most earnest efforts will be directed along that line.

"I shall do everything possible to secure the bringing of this sacred memorial to the coast.

"I will take the matter up with the Commercial club and all other bodies, so that nothing will be left undone in the matter.

"Trusting that your efforts will be successful. I am. very respectfully

"Trusting that your efforts will be successful, I am, very respectfully yours, J. S. BRANSFORD, Mayor." Good missionary work for the featival is being done abroad by George F. Russell. manager of the Pennoyer estate, who is now touring the continent. He has agreed to act as official representative of the Portland Rose Festival at the Mid-Lent fetes at Nice next month and the later floral tournaments at Milan.

The birds are having a hard time finding anything to eat the snow covered the ground. Berries are gone and seeds are scarce. Give the birds � those broken biscuits, some crusts of bread-those little left & overs that seem too insignificant for other uses. The birds will appreciate them.

The sufferings and inconveniences of the people may not . be preventable, but theirs are, 4 and it is only ordinary kindness to see that the little creatures have both food and water while this inclement weather lasts.
