MERRY PORTLAND WIDOW ENGAGED TO RICH COUNT

Hungarian Nobleman Takes Out License to Wed Maude Howard Bryan in New York, But Fair American Would Be Sure of No Other Entanglements.

Pretty, fascinating Maude Howard Bryan, very merry widow, who left a broad trail of bleeding masculine hearts in Portland when she departed suddenly for New York a year ago, is willing and anxious to join in a second matrimonial venture with Count Koiman Csaky, the noted Hungarian nobleman and mine owner, but the ceremony will not be performed until she is satisfied that he is legally divorced from Marie De Szell, now the wife of Jan Kubelik, the world-famed violinist.

New York society and musical circles are agog over these developments in the exquisite romance of the Hungarian nobleman and the handsome widow who came to Portland about 10 years ago a simple country girl, with hair hanging in sickly braids about her face and limp bonnet tied with strings under her chin. Quite serious is society and with consuming interest it is discussing the postponement.

The count and Mrs. Bryan met in New York, probably at the Rochelle apartments, where the latter was living. No one remembers the courtship or the announcement of the engagement. Probably it was never publicly announced, but, anyway, New York society, which had been regarding the count and his money with greedy eyes, was first surprised and then chagrined to awaken Tuesday of last week to find that the two had taken out marriage license No. 992 at the New York city hall. The license cost $2, which the count paid.

Wedding Is Delayed.

But the days passed and no ceremony was performed. New York felt that it was being cheated out of a sensation. The reporters investigated.

"Oh, no," flared Mrs. Bryan, indignantly. "How could you think such a thing. Of course the count and I are to be married. But before we do I desire to be satisfied that he is properly divorced from his first wife."

"Horrors!" gasped the count, when the newspaper men appeared. "I just won't talk. So there!"

"It is not that I do not love the count," declared Mrs. Bryan in an interview given to The Journal's correspondent yesterday, "for I love him just as much as I ever did, and I am sure that everything will untangle itself properly.

"But just at present I can't get in the mood to use the certificate. I've heard a lot about how the count married Marie De Szell and how a divorce came later and afterward the woman married Kubelik.

Wants to See the Papers.

"Yes, the count tells me it was he and not the woman who was granted the divorce—and I believe him, of course—but unprotected women, especially those who come from such small places as Chicago, San Francisco and Portland, where I came from, must always insist upon credentials, and I cannot consent to the performance of the ceremony until the count gets his papers of divorce from Hungary."

The license issued allows the couple 30 days in which to marry and Mrs. Bryan was certain that this would be sufficient time to secure the papers from Hungary.

Mrs. Maude Bryan is first remembered in Portland as a girl of about 20 years of age. This was about 10 years ago, and few remember her maiden name, and her sister, Mrs. Nicholas Browning, who runs the Frances rooming house at 162 Park street, has refused to impart any information. Many, however, remember her as a country girl, unsophisticated and ignorant of the ways of the world. She soon acquired city ways and attracted many admirers.

Some months later it was reported that she had married a Captain Bryan, master of an ocean going steamer, a union which local records do not show. Immediately afterward she began to participate in the gay life of the cafes and Bohemian folk.

Mrs. Bryan owned her home at 335 Sixth street, corner of Market.

SAWYER SAYS CHARGES UNTRUE

Former Principal of Oakland Schools Declares He Will Explain Everything Satisfactorily—Denies Story of Boy.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Oakland, Or., Jan. 20.—Professor George Sawyer is a physical wreck. He will be taken to a secluded resort in the southern part of Douglas county, where he will be under the care of physicians and away from his former friends and acquaintances. Sawyer denies that he was accompanied from Red Bluff, Cal., by a boy, and declares positively that he was not in the company of any other person while away.

Sawyer states that charges were preferred against him but that they were not true; that he will clear everything up here to the satisfaction of Oakland people. It is generally believed that the charges to which Sawyer refers were responsible for his hasty departure. Their nature has not been made public. Had his wife not received word from him Tuesday, she had intended to give out information which, it is said, would throw light on Sawyer's strange conduct. She now refuses to talk.

Sawyer says that he brought the $2000 back.

Professor H. E. Slattery has been appointed principal of the Oakland public schools, succeeding Sawyer. Mr. Slattery comes well recommended, having held similar positions in the states of Texas and Washington, from both of which he holds state certificates. He is also a lawyer, having graduated from the Des Moines, Iowa, law school, having taken the degrees of bachelor of law and science. He has been in Oregon since last August, having come to Oakland from Eugene, at which point he practiced law, and where his family is at present located.

NORMAL SCHOOL AT PORTLAND

Abraham of Douglas Proposes System of Five, on a District Basis.

(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.)

Salem, Or., Jan. 20.—Senator Abraham of Douglas is the author of a normal school bill, introduced this morning, in which it is proposed to divide the state into five normal school districts. The schools at Ashland, Drain, Monmouth and Weston, Umatilla county, are to remain where they are and an additional school is to be established at Portland.

It is proposed to make the county judges of each district a normal taxation board, who shall fix the rate of taxation to support the schools, the tax to be levied as taxes are for county purposes.

The First district is to comprise the counties of Jackson, Josephine, Klamath, Lake and Harney; the Second, Lane, Douglas, Coos and Curry; the Third, Lincoln, Benton, Marion, Linn, Tillamook, Polk and Yamhill; the Fourth, Clatsop, Columbia, Washington, Multnomah, Clackamas and Hood River; the Fifth, Gilliam, Wheeler, Morrow, Umatilla, Union, Baker, Wallowa, Malheur, Grant, Wasco, Sherman and Crook.

TRANSFER OF CIRCUIT JUDGES

Bowerman Introduces Bill to Facilitate Business in the Courts.

Salem, Or., Jan. 20.—President Bowerman of the senate this morning introduced a bill providing that the supreme court may transfer a circuit judge to another circuit, to assist in clearing the docket, where there is a congestion of cases. This bill aims to relieve the situation in Multnomah county and in Judge McBride's district.

This idea was sprung at a meeting last night of the Multnomah delegation by Henry E. McGinn in a speech opposing the increase of the number of judges in Multnomah county, but apparently it was not original with McGinn, as he had Bowerman's bill in his pocket at the time. It had been given him by "Pike" Davis, who had in turn obtained it from Bowerman, the latter having shown it to him to ask his opinion. Davis wanted to get McGinn's opinion and McGinn lost no time in using it as a portion of his argument.

President Bowerman thinks that the bill will relieve the stress of cases in the two congested circuits. At almost any time, he says, some judges have nothing to do, and they could under this bill be sent where they are needed. The bill allows any judge assigned to outside duty his traveling and hotel expenses.

BOURNE GREETS NEW COLLEAGUE

Salem, Or., Jan. 20.—The following telegram was received by Governor Chamberlain from Senator Bourne this morning:

"Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—To Honorable George E. Chamberlain—Through your election as an incident, I congratulate the people of Oregon on the triumph of their law and the vindication of the good name of their legislature as the representatives of the popular will legally ascertained. Your election will be most far reaching in its effect. A legislature overwhelmingly Republican has elected you, a Democrat, because the electorate of your state elevated you from the position of your party's choice into that of the people's choice. Though we were nominated by different parties we are equally of the people and I congratulate you personally and assure you of my heartiest cooperation here in working for the best interests of the nation and state as we shall see the light.

JONATHAN BOURNE JR."

COMMISSION IS WANTED BY BEAN

Bill Introduced Providing for Department to Govern Insurance Matters.

(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.)

Salem, Or., Jan. 20.—The state insurance commissioner bill made its appearance this morning, being introduced by Representative Bean. It provides for the establishment of the insurance department of the state of Oregon.

The governor is to appoint an insurance commissioner, who is to hold office for four years. The first appointee is to hold office until the first Monday in January, 1913. The salary of the commissioner is to be $4000. He is to have a clerk at $100 a month and a stenographer at $75 a month. The bond of the commissioner is to be $25,000.

The bill provides that the $50,000 deposit now exacted shall be cut to $25,000 and that the companies asking for privilege to do business in the state may deposit a bond from any surety company meeting with the approval of the secretary of state to cover the deposit required by the law, provided the companies so applying have a certificate entitling them to transact business in the state of New York.

BEAN SUPPORTS TAX COMMISSION

Lane County Man Reintroduces Freeman's Measure Killed at Last Session.

(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.)

Salem, Jan. 20.—Friends of the tax commission have come to the support of the Freeman bill, which was killed at the session of 1907. Bean of Lane has introduced the Freeman bill as it was reported by the tax commission and considered by the legislature. This year the state grange is supporting the measure, and a strong effort will be made to pass it.

During 1906 the state tax commission prepared three measures, one providing for the collection of taxes, one for the assessment and one for the appointment of a tax commissioner. The last was defeated, the other two passed. It is now argued that all three measures were meant to work together in harmony, and for that reason also the passage of Mr. Bean's bill will be urged.

AGRIC. COLLEGE ASKS FOR FUNDS

Salem, Or., Jan. 20.—Oregon Agricultural college wants $260,000 for the years 1909 and 1910. A bill providing for the wants of the college was introduced this morning by Bonebrake.

It wants $35,000 for equipment, $35,000 for heating plant, $45,000 for a horticultural building and $15,000 for the purchase of additional land.

For 1910 it is desired that $25,000 be appropriated for equipment, $35,000 for an armory and a drill hall, $55,000 for a central agricultural hall and $15,000 for additional lands. The sum total of the appropriation asked for is $260,000.

Salem, Or., Jan. 20.—A bill was introduced in the house by Representative Farrell providing for the taxation of all devises, inheritances, bequests, legacies or gifts of any beneficial nature or of any kind of property either personal or real. LEAVE POLYGS TO THE STATES

Senate Rejects Recommendation on Memorial to Congress.

Salem, Or., Jan. 20.—On the ground that an anti-polygamy memorial to congress would be a reflection on the state of Utah and an encroachment on the right of the states to deal with such questions by criminal statutes, the senate this morning killed a favorable report from the committee on resolutions.

Senator Abraham of Douglas took the lead, declaring he was jealous of the rights of the states. He thought there was no serious infraction of the law in Utah. Barrett mildly supported the memorial. Oliver opposed it, saying he thought too much dignity would be given by such action.

Hart of Baker said such movements would tend to national control of everything and he believed the treatment of polygamy was a matter properly reserved to the states. Norton of Josephine thought the state laws were ineffective and said he was willing to forego his state rights opinions. He was surprised that Republican senators should be so jealous of state rights.

Nottingham opposed and moved indefinite postponement, which was carried by a decisive vote.

Representative Calkins also desires to have a law which will enable persons bringing suit against a railroad corporation to secure service by leaving the necessary papers with any ticket agent or other responsible employe of the company.

Representative Farrell also desires a law passed which will make all stockholders of savings banks in the state liable for double the amount of their stock in case of the failure of the institution.

PEOPLE'S LOBBY MAN IS BARRED

California Assembly Will Stand for No Standing Up, Whatsoever.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 20.—By an almost unanimous vote the lower house of the legislature today deprived George B. Anderson, head of the people's legislative bureau, of the right to enter the assembly chambers or the gallery.

This action was taken following the reading of a letter sent by the people's lobby to Assemblyman Albert P. Wheelan of San Francisco, asking that the representative from the bay explain why he was not in his seat yesterday when the vote on the proposition to send the Otis racetrack bill back to the public morals committee was taken.

The assembly barred Anderson from the house on the ground that he had grossly insulted the legislator from San Francisco and the assembly as a whole.

PREPARING GAG FOR TILLMAN

Evidence That the Senate Has Had Enough and the Country Too Much.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)

Washington, Jan. 20.—Senate leaders are considering invoking the rule of the senate against vilification, to prevent Tillman from delivering the speech he is now preparing, in which he purposes to give his opinion of Roosevelt on account of the latter's attack in relation to Tillman's Oregon land negotiations.

It is understood the real reason for the contemplated action, as in the case of Willett, who was taken from the floor of the house Monday for a similar reason is the public sentiment throughout the country, which is responsible for innumerable protests at the waste of the entire time of the session in quarreling while vital issues go unheeded. Senators and representatives are hearing from their constituencies rather sharply.

Tillman has said: "I have heard the Republican leaders have planned to muzzle me, but they can't do it. I shall deliver my speech and tell the truth about Theodore Roosevelt."

Tillman's mail has been congested and his office has been crowded with persons seeking to lay before him matter to use in his address roasting the president.

HOW PITCHFORK AND STICK GOT GOING

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, Jan. 20.—The clash of adjectives and other weapons between the president and Senator Tillman, in which the president accuses the South Carolina senator of being mixed up in an Oregon land deal in a fashion unbecoming a member of the upper house, and in which Senator Tillman vigorously defends himself by jabbing away with his pitchfork, recalls that it was over an invitation to a White House dinner that the trouble between the two men started.

It was at the time of the visit of Prince Henry and his entourage to this country. Senator Tillman had just had his famous fight on the senate floor with McLaurin, his colleague from South Carolina. The senate, horrified, had called Tillman before the bar of that body and was proceeding to inquire into the case.

The president gave a dinner to his distinguished German visitors and had invited diplomats, the justices of the supreme court and leading men in congressional and official life.

Tillman, among others, was asked. This was before the row with McLaurin.

Then the trouble with McLaurin came up, and the president was called on to decide whether it would be well to have the senator at his dinner, in view of the fact that the senate had taken action.

The story as told from the administration viewpoint is that the president waited for two or three days in the hope that the senator would withdraw his acceptance of the invitation. The president even got Senator Morgan of Alabama to broach the matter to Tillman.

Senator Tillman was displeased and did not see fit to withdraw the acceptance. Thereupon the president withdrew the invitation.

This was the beginning of trouble between the president and Senator Tillman. Since that time some hot shot has been exchanged. Especially has Senator Tillman gone after the president roughshod on several occasions. The president has had but little chance to reply, but at last the Oregon land matters furnished him an opportunity.

LANDLADY WINS ON ONE CHARGE

Miss Emma Hendon, landlady of the Cadillac rooming house, corner of Third and Columbia streets, was able this morning in police court to defeat the charge of selling liquor without a license filed against her because the four young women arrested in the house last Sunday morning did not make the same statements to Judge Van Zante that they had previously made to Deputy District Attorney Hennessy. Miss Hendon will be tried later in the week on the charge of running a disorderly house.

CONFESSES TO A SECOND ROBBERY

Lester Luckey, who with C. H. Holman, was charged with holding up Carl Harris at Park and Madison streets 10 days ago, has confessed to another holdup which was never reported to the police. Luckey says this was committed in front of the Elton court, Eleventh and Yamhill streets, January 10. He does not know the name of the victim, and the detectives are now trying to learn who was robbed at this place. Holman and he obtained but little money from the man, Luckey says.

Holman is a barber and has been in the city for several weeks. Luckey's relatives live in the city. Holman was arrested Monday night for accosting a woman on the street. He confessed to holding up Harris and also gave the officers the name and address of his partner in crime, Lester Luckey.

CRESTON BAKER BEATEN BY THUGS

While working alone in his bakery at Creston station last night at 10 o'clock, R. E. Olson was attacked by two thugs, beaten to insensibility and left unconscious on the floor where he lay in a pool of blood all night till found this morning at 5:30 by one of the employes, Charles H. Altig.

Olson is at present in a semiconscious condition and so far has been able to give but a very limited account of last night's tragedy.

Olson had been working in a rear room all evening and was just about to close up when the thugs entered and said they wanted to get warm. Olson told them that the bakery was no place to loaf and they sprang on him, beating him over the head until he fell unconscious when they went hastily through his pockets and relieved him of about $15.

Olson is inclined to believe that the motive of the crime was not robbery, but revenge, because of the fact that the robbers were so hasty in their actions and because his bakery was burned to the ground last fall after being set on fire by some one thought to be an incendiary.

The sheriff's office was notified this morning and deputies have been detailed on the case.

Constipation Caused By Indigestion

Is Cured by Helping the Stomach Do Its Work as It Should.

All forms of constipation, bowel or intestinal trouble owe most of their origin to the improper digestion of food. The bowels measure 30 feet. The inside walls or surfaces are wound tightly about with millions of nerves. These nerves give life and control millions of little mouths or suckers which are supposed to take nourishment from the food as it leaves the stomach and passes along this 30 foot human canal.

When indigestion, dyspepsia or stomach trouble occurs, the food being undigested, passes over these millions of mouths, it is a fermented decaying mass and holds no nourishment as it should.

The little mouths suck it up, impart these impurities to the blood, impregnate the little nerves with poison and so the work of constipation and bowel trouble begins.

A natural juice or secretion belongs normally in the little cells and glands along the mucous membrane of the 30 foot canal or bowel. When indigestion occurs this juice is lacking and so the mass of waste matter cannot pass along as it should and is piled up and caked in the bowel thus bringing pain and misery.

After a while the nerves and nerve centers which give vigor and life to the bowel become paralyzed, thus forever prohibiting the bowel from performing its natural duties.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, when taken after meals, digests the food properly even though the stomach is sick and it passes to the bowels nourishment and juices, which help the intestines not only to do their work at once, but builds them up, restores vitality to the nerves, brings new secretion to the glands and cells, helps bowel action and enriches the blood.

The stomach is the cause. Common sense and science are one on this point. You see it yourself. One little grain of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will perfectly digest 3000 grains of food. The assimilation of a meal by one of these tablets is an easy matter and it keeps the stomach clean and sweet so that in a brief time this organ is restored.

PREACHER SAYS YOUNG IS GENTILE

Newberg, Or., Jan. 20.—To the Editor of The Journal—I was pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in Baker City for four years, from 1896 to 1900; am personally acquainted with John C. Young and know that he is not a Mormon. I knew the leaders of the Mormon church in eastern Oregon. They did not claim Young as a Mormon. But why all this tempest in a teapot among preachers as to Mr. Young's religious belief? John C. Young is the equal of any man in Oregon. He has filled with credit every position held by him. He will make an honest, efficient postmaster for Portland and even frightened preachers will get their mail unopened. F. L. YOUNG.
