Washouts Interfere With Trade.

Washouts along the various lines of railroads centering in Portland have had a dampening effect upon the shipping produce trade of this city. A large per cent of the country upon which Portland depends for most of its shipping trade can not be reached because of the demoralization of the roadbeds, and this is causing some quiet along the street. City trade in produce row is quite lively, and is decidedly better than had been anticipated. There is a better movement in all lines. There are already signs of an opening of the spring trade, although the season is more than a month away.

Potatoes Quite Strong.

There is quite a strong tone in the local potato situation. While outside shipments recently have been nominal owing to weather conditions considerable buying for the south continues at country points, with dealers freely offering $1 per hundred pounds for best shipping stock at primary points. While it may be possible that a reaction will set in after the liberal purchases already made here begin to move toward the southern markets, and a glut in supplies there is possible for a while the trade believes it is improbable.

Those dealers who have a regular trade for our onions in the south every year, and who have been doing practically nothing in that line recently, are now awaiting offers of supplies from growers. The dull period has extended for so long a time that the dealers are not exactly sure where they stand, and therefore are inviting offers to sell from growers so they can wake up. Locally the onion market is firm, but dealers are offering for a fraction less in a jobbing way. Prices along the street have recently been too high, considering the buying cost, and are now being adjusted. Generally speaking the value today on best onions is $2.

The flop in sentiment of Messrs. Isaac Pincus & Sons of Tacoma, as told in The Journal yesterday has created much talk in the trade here. While some dealers profess to believe that the Tacoma firm has something up its sleeve in making the bullish announcement, others are of the opinion that the talk will send prices to a higher point here and stimulate 1909 contracts. Several sales were reported during the past 24 hours, but they were for small amounts at the range quoted by The Journal of late. The New York Producers' Price Current gives the following view of the situation in its latest issue:

"The market in New York state continues very active at higher prices, and dealers are buying poorer grades, which they would not have touched some time ago, there being no choice hops left back in this state. Locally there has been a little more inquiry, but no business of importance has been transacted. Inquiry from brewers rather better than heretofore. Continental markets are quiet and unchanged, and same may be said of the English market."

New York hop prices per pound:

Brief Notes of the Trade.

Market for celery is quite good because of the better quality. Price about the same.

No fresh salmon is now offered in the local market, because of the rise in the river.

Dressed meat markets are soft, with prices practically unchanged for the day.

Eggs are holding fairly steady again, with values ruling between 37½@40c.

No strength is shown in the chicken situation, and hens and mixed lots are down about ½c a pound. Broilers and fryers are firm at former figures.

AMALGAMATED 1 POINT ADVANCED

New York, Jan. 21.—Declaration of the regular dividend on Amalgamated Copper was a help to that security and American Smelter common in the trading today, and at the close of the session a net advance of a full point was shown. The disposition of London to steady somewhat its otherwise weak views regarding the copper price has had a stiffening effect here and sellers yesterday were inclined to buy back today at least a part of their sales.

The improvement in copper shares was an indirect aid to the rest of the market, although a decline was here and there shown in the general list. Union Pacific closed 1 point higher. Southern Pacific ⅝. U. S. Steel 1⅞. Reading ½. Northern Pacific ⅜. N. Y. Central ½. Missouri Pacific ¼. Erie 1⅛. St. Paul ⅝. B. & O. ⅜. Atchison ¼. American Smelter 2 and Amalgamated Copper 1 point.

MUCH STRENGTH NOTED IN ALL APPLE PRODUCING SECTIONS

The strength in the local apple market is very pronounced at this time and prices are showing a tendency to move still higher. Apples are selling today along Front street at fully $1 advance over the figures which ruled previous to the cold snap.

Most of the poor stuff has been cleaned up and is out of the way and small remaining supplies of good quality are being sought on all sides. There is additional strength in apple prices elsewhere.

According to mail advices from various growing centers of the country, only nominal supplies are still retained by producers. In this state few growers have any apples at all to sell.

Trade in the local wheat market is at a complete standstill. Awed by high prices to which millers have boosted values here, Mexico buyers have practically given up the idea of securing wheat here. It is stated, however, that some of the recent purchases made in this market for San Francisco account were in reality to go to the southern republic.

As in the cash situation there is no trading in futures on the Portland board of trade. The entire market is stationary with the tone very firm and unchanged prices ruling.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—There was little stir in any of the world's wheat markets today. Foreign markets were narrow and slightly depressed in value with little inclination among either buyers or sellers to do business at the present basis. Liverpool opened and closed ⅛d under yesterday.

At home the wheat market walked in a narrow path—there being but little change in price at any time during today's session. May wheat opened and closed at the same figure, or a loss of ⅛c from yesterday. July went ⅛c lower to 97⅞c at the opening, and closed that amount asked. A loss of ⅛c was shown in the July opening at 94⅞c. It closed with a further loss of ⅛c.

There was little news either from home or foreign fields to affect the market today, and both sides are awaiting definite advices before going further into the market.

CATTLE MARKET IS OVERLOADED

Supplies Are Too Liberal to Maintain Famine Values —Drop of 15c Today.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK RUN.

	Hogs.	Cattle.	Sheep.
Thursday	360	485	...
Wednesday	276	598	...
Tuesday	...	59	...
Monday	624	765	735
Saturday	...	...	257
Friday	60	350	...

Portland Union Stockyards, Jan. 21.—Taking advantage of the famine prices which have ruled in this market during the past few days many shippers have started carloads of cattle in this direction and the result is the same as in former periods wherein supplies were accumulating—prices are moving down hill.

While something extra select in steers may still possibly squeeze $5.25 out of buyers, the general run of top stuff will not bring over $5.10 and $5.15 and most commission sellers believe the former price to be the extreme high mark.

There was another heavy run of cattle in the yards during the past 24 hours—485 head putting in appearance compared with 598 yesterday and 765 on Monday. The bulk of these offerings consisted of ordinary quality and for that reason caused more easiness in prices than would have been the case were a somewhat better showing made of top quality.

Packers Are Buying at Decline.

While unwilling to pay the famine top of the market today killers did not neglect the market and their purchases averaged quite well. However, there was no disposition among them to bid for supplies and unable to sell at the former top commission handlers took the next best course and met the packers' offerings half way.

There continues a very firm tone here for hogs although the run for the past few days in the yards has been quite fair—even better than expected. Several loads of top stuff were sold today and $7.25 is still obtainable in a limited way for select quality.

No sheep are coming forward to the yards, there being no arrivals here since Sunday night. The market is therefore unusually firm with prices nominally quoted.

Today's run of livestock in the yards compares with this day in recent years as follows:

	Hogs.	Cattle.	Sheep.
1909	360	485	...
1908	100	100	25
1907	84	223	...
1906	...	165	...
1905	...	200	200

A year ago today there continued a weaker tone in hogs and a firm one in cattle and sheep. No change in prices for the day.

Yards' Representative Prices.

Following prices are representative of latest transactions in the yards and indicate demand, supplies and quality offered:

COWS.

	Weight.	Price.
17 cows	16,075	$4.15
13 cows	10,075	4.10
28 cows	31,925	4.00
29 cows	25,275	4.00
CALVES.
1 calf	210	$5.00

The following is the general range of values on stock ruling in the yards for late shipment:

Hogs—Best east of mountains, $7.00@7.25; ordinary, $6.75; blockers and feeders, $6.00.

Cattle—Best steers, weighing 1200 pounds, $5@5.10; medium steers, $4.50@4.75; poor steers, $4.25@4.50; best cows, $4@4.15; medium cows, $4.00.

Sheep — Best wethers, $5.25@5.50; ordinary wethers, $5; lambs, $5.50@5.75; straight ewes, $4.50@4.75; mixed lots, $4.50.

LIBERTY BELL TO BE GIVEN PASS

Harvey E. Lounsbury, district freight agent of the Harriman lines in Oregon, notified the Rose Festival association this morning, that he would make arrangements to have the Liberty Bell hauled free of charge over his lines, contingent, of course, upon the sending of the relic to the Festival next June. Similar agreement has already been secured through the efforts of the "Million club" of San Francisco from the Harriman offices there.

Inasmuch as the bell travels by special train consisting of about two Pullmans and the specially constructed car for the bell, this concession will mean the elimination of thousands of dollars of expense for the journey which would otherwise have to be shouldered by the Festival and the Seattle fair.

Organization of the special committee which will have charge of the program for "Home Coming day," the opening day of the Festival will be accomplished the last of this week. It is expected to make the day a combined military, historical and civilian affair, in which the United Spanish War Veterans, the National Guardsmen of the state, with regulars from the Vancouver post, G. A. R., Oregon Pioneers and kindred organizations will play a part.

Negotiations are on foot for the Rose Festival and Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition to hold a meeting with railroad officials for the purpose of ascertaining just what concessions the different roads of the northwest are to make in the way of special excursions, rates and moving of the large crowds of visitors who are expected to take in both celebrations next summer. It has been found that these matters cannot be handled satisfactorily by correspondence and the information is desired for the purpose of inducing eastern pleasure seekers to come here in vastly greater numbers because of the unusual attractions at the two cities.

FILES SUIT AGAINST ROBERT WAKEFIELD

Jacob Ruel has brought suit against Robert Wakefield, doing business as the Portland Bridge & Building company, for $10,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained December 8, 1907, through the negligence of the defendant while the plaintiff was working on the bridge over the Clackamas river near Oregon City which was being constructed by the bridge company. Ruel states in his complaint that the rails of the track fell on him, badly bruising and injuring him.

Smallpox Scare Is Over.

According to J. R. Kelso, councilman of Milwaukie, the smallpox epidemic said to be prevalent there is principally talk. There are no smallpox cases being treated now and although there were several cases reported the victims are all well and at their work. W. H. Black, a streetcar conductor, was the first to contract the disease, but he has been at work for over six weeks, while since that three other cases have been reported, all of which are now cured and the patients at work again.

La Fayette, Or., Jan. 21.—Mrs. Elsina Johnson, wife of Daniel Johnson, deceased, 80 years of age, died at her home in La Fayette last Monday. She was born in Cattaraugus county, New York. When about 4 years old she moved with her family to Indiana. Here she was married in 1844. A few months afterward she came to Oregon. The family located on a farm in Yamhill county in the spring of '45, living there continuously for 30 years. From there they moved to La Fayette, where Mrs. Johnson had since resided.

The first court ever held in Yamhill county met late in the forties, under a large oak tree in La Fayette, and it was the honor of Mrs. Johnson to entertain the members during the session. Among the prominent men in attendance were Judge Peter H. Burnett and Samuel Thurston, and all the prominent lawyers of Oregon at that time.

Mrs. Johnson is survived by George W. Perkins, a brother, who is the last of the original family, and her children, H. J. Johnson of La Fayette, Lillian English, Portland; J. R. Johnson, Quincy, Wash.; Mrs. Jennie Bryan and Mrs. Maud Bryan of La Fayette.

MIGHT BE SENT TO THE WHIPPING POST

Frederick Siedow, who has been arrested several times before for the same offense and on the more serious charge of shooting at his wife, was arrested yesterday for committing assault and battery upon his wife. The charge under which he will be arraigned this afternoon includes as a penalty the whipping post, but as this instance was not an aggravated one, consisting of a slap, it is doubtful if Siedow feels the stroke of the lash.

STUFF POCKETS WITH SMALL COIN

Two Unmasked Burglars Make Haul in a Pine Street Saloon.

Dropping nickels and dimes from the drawer of the cash register as they stuffed its contents, $50, in their pockets, two holdup men ran out of the saloon of H. L. Denver, Pine street between Sixth and Seventh, a few minutes before 12 o'clock last night and were swallowed up in the darkness before the police could be notified by the frightened proprietor.

Neither wore a mask, and Denver, although badly scared when he was brought face to face with the business end of a revolver, was able to obtain a fair description of them. Detectives Price and Tennant searched every rooming house in the north end for men answering their description and today believe the robbers are hiding in some of the lodging houses in the southern part of the city. Denver saw them run down Pine street and turn north on Fifth, but this apparently was a ruse to throw the detectives off the train.

Denver's saloon is the same in which Harry Kenny was shot and killed by Harry Daly a few weeks ago. Daly has been sentenced to hang for the crime. Several saloonkeepers who thought the location a good one have been before the liquor license committee, and changes in ownership have consequently been frequent.

The men who robbed Denver last night came into the saloon and called for whiskey. When Denver turned toward them with the glasses and bottle he found himself looking into the muzzle of a gun held by one of them, a man described as about 40 years old, of rough appearance, with a dark brown mustache and dark complexion. His companion was better dressed and somewhat younger.

Denver surrendered and the thugs took possession of the cash register. They ran out of the saloon by the rear door and it was here that the detectives found a trail of small change.

COCACOLA INDULGED IN STRONGER DRINK

Veto Cocacola, one of the oddest names ever placed upon the records of the local police court, together with three other Italians, was arrested on Sheridan street, the Broadway of Little Italy, by Officer Ogg last night. The policeman could understand nothing except that a fight was in progress. Notwithstanding Cocacola's name it appeared to the judge this morning that the quartet had been drinking something stronger, so fines of $2 each for drunkenness were imposed.

Says He Was Bunkoed.

Alleging that he was buncoed on a timber claim by Bernard Wilson and A. J. Matter, Tip E. Hundey has brought suit against the two for $451.

The plaintiff alleges that in June of last year the defendants agreed to locate him on a timber claim in Curry county bearing at least 3,500,000 feet of timber, log measure, for the sum of $250. They took him down to Curry county and showed him the timber and he filed on a claim which they said was the one the timber was on, and paid them the $250. Later he found that the tract he had filed on was merely burnt over land and that the timber he had seen was on another quarter-section which already belonged to some one else.

TRY THE MONEY-BACK CURE FOR INDIGESTION

Nine times in ten stomach derangements are responsible for sallow complexion, dull eyes and thin body.

It is the stomach that supplies nourishing blood to the muscles, the nerves and skin. If the stomach is healthy, plenty of nutritious matter will be absorbed by the blood. If it is not healthy, the food will ferment, and undigested, will pass along through the bowels, furnishing so little nutritious matter that the blood becomes impoverished, and the glow of health vanishes.

If you suffer from nervousness, sick headache, belching of gas, sour taste in the mouth, heaviness after eating, or any other miserable stomach disturbance, you need Mi-o-na, and the sooner you get it the quicker you will be healthier and happier.

It will relieve any distressed stomach condition almost immediately. It will cure if used according to directions. Woodard, Clarke & Co. sells it for 50 cents a large box, and they think enough of it guarantee it to cure indigestion.
