All Sources of Supply, Says Bonebrake, Belong to the People.

(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 25.—Representative Bonebrake, of the house yesterday introduced a bill providing for the safe state property. The measure provides that all water from all sources of supply within the state belong to the public and that no person or corporation shall be entitled to use any water for power or other purposes except as provided in the bill.

Must Post Notice.
Any corporation or person desiring to appropriate water for power purposes may do so, according to the bill, by posting a notice at the point of intended diversion. A notice of such intended appropriation shall also be filed with the county clerk and the state engineer. Following this the state engineer is to make all necessary surveys or to approve the surveys, that have been made by the appropriator and determine the amount of the power that the appropriator is entitled to.

The appropriator shall pay $4 for every horsepower annually in advance on or before the second of January of each year. Municipalities shall pay half this sum. After five years of use all corporations or individuals using water power so appropriated shall pay in addition to the $2 fee a sum equal to 2 percent of the gross earnings of the plant. The franchise granted by the state shall extend for 25 years, and shall then give the company holding it the preferential right to secure a second appropriation.

If at any time the fees required by the law are not paid, the franchise lapses and reverts to the state. The provisions are given in final form by the bill. Penalties for violation of the law are provided for in the bill. A fine of $1000, or a fine of from 30 to 200 days, or both.

Anti-Local Option Bill Introduced in House by McCue.

Salem, Or., Jan. 25.—Conrad Krebs and the brewing interests of the state have come through with the proposed anti-local option bill, it having been introduced in the house yesterday afternoon. The measure is in final form and provides that the proposition of whether the hop industry should be destroyed or added to the people of the state shall be put to the voters at the next general election of November, 1910.

At that time the bill provides the secretary of state in making up the ballot shall place thereon two statements in the same form as are used in voting for the local option law. One shall be for the protection and promotion of the hop industry. The other shall be for the protection and promotion of the local option law.

The people shall vote on these questions and if a majority cast their votes for the proposition to protect the hop industry, the county courts, as soon as the votes have been counted, shall issue proclamations that the sale of beer is legal in all parts of the state where it has been heretofore prohibited by the local option law. If a majority cast their votes for the proposition to protect the local option law, the following preamble has been provided for the measure:

NESMITH COUNTY HEARING THURSDAY

Salem, Or., Jan. 25.—The state and county committees of the senate will hold a public hearing on Thursday evening to wrestle with the Nesmith county bill. Delegates will be present from Cottage Grove, prospective county seat of the new county, and from Lane and Douglas counties, from which it is proposed to divide territory.

A lively time is expected, and it seems probable that the committee when it reports will say the legislature has no power to form a new county. Many legislators look with favor on the measure prepared by Senators F. J. Miller and J. Smith. The effect of county division by general law and relegating the question to a vote of the territory affected.

DISTRICT ATTORNEYS BELONG TO PUBLIC

Salem, Or., Jan. 25.—Senator C. J. Smith of Yamhill county has introduced a bill to do away with the possibility of the district attorneys in any county of the state carrying on private practice. It expressly requires that they shall not give any of their time to practice outside their official duties. Smith thinks that the number of abuses that have grown up in some counties.

Mariner's Bill Calls Him County Examiner and Creates a System.

(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 25.—Representative Mariner has side stepped the constitutional provision making the creation of a state auditor possible by the introduction of a bill retaining the office of county examiner. The constitution provides that the secretary of state is by virtue of his office the state auditor, having charge of the auditing of the state books and accounts.

In the measure proposed by Mariner the secretary of state is to appoint a county examiner, with the approval of the governor. The official is to be an expert accountant and is to be qualified in a bond of $10,000.

The duties of the examiner are to be defined in the bill. He is to keep a record of the accounts of the county examiner in a book to be kept for the use of the auditor. He is to have the power to issue subpoenas and demand the evidence of required witnesses.

It is provided that any opposing him in the discharge of his duty shall be guilty of a felony and subject to a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1000, or imprisonment for not less than one year in the penitentiary. All violations of the law, or refusal to abide by the rulings of the examiner, are to be referred to the attorney general or to the district attorney in the district in which the violation is committed. These officials are to prosecute the cases in behalf of the examiner and the state.

Alaskan Inspectors Find They Did All They Could for the Bark Bengal.

Charge was made at the time of the investigation that the captains could have saved all of the lives on the bark.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Jan. 25.—Cable advices from Juneau state that United States Marine Inspectors Whitney and Newhall have exonerated Captain Erwin Farrar of the tug Hattie Gage and Captain Patrick Hamilton of the tug Kayak of the charge of cowardice made by the captain and crew of the bark Bengal, when the latter craft was wrecked on Coronation island, Alaska, last fall and 11 lives were lost.

The charge was made at the time of the investigation that the captains could have saved all of the lives on the bark. The Alaskan inspectors believe the crews of the tugs did all that was possible to render aid, which was exceedingly difficult, owing to the ice. The Star of Bengal was loaded with fish and the crews of the fishing station at Coronation Island were en route to San Francisco.

CLOSED SEASON FOR CHINA PHEASANTS

(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 25.—A closed season for two years for china pheasants seems to be a safe prediction. The most sportsmen have no objection to this measure to preserve the brilliant bird, which multiplies rapidly in favorable seasons but has been decimated by the wet season last spring and the cold weather this winter. The effect of the cold weather has been less disastrous than was at first thought, but pheasants are so scarce that the legislature will likely prohibit hunting for two years.

DELEGATES HEAD SAFETY PLEAS

Hold Meeting and Discuss Increase of County Stipends.

Salem, Or., Jan. 25.—The Multnomah delegation held a meeting last night without its chairman, in fact, Senator John B. Coffey and one of his colleagues, Senator Besch, walked down the street, declaring there would be no meeting just about the time that Representative Jaeger, leader of the "insurgents," was calling the meeting to order. It was designated an informal meeting, but a full presentation of Multnomah salary increase bills was made by District Attorney Cameron, Justices Bell and Olson and Constable Wagner.

Early in the afternoon the clash between Chairman Coffey and some other members of the delegation began to develop. Coffey said there would be no meeting until tonight. Representative Mahone, secretary of the delegation, said the meeting would be held without further delay and just before the house adjourned for the day. He took the responsibility of announcing a meeting.

Excitable Delegates.
He "invited" all the Multnomah members to attend and nearly all were there. The notable exceptions were Coffey, Besch and McArthur. Albee and Clemens were absent, the former having been steered away by the positive announcement of Coffey that there would be no meeting until tonight.

All of this threw an unusual glow behind the scenes, though many of the members present were not aware of the little game played by Coffey and Jaeger. The latter was exultant over the success of the "rump" gathering. Jaeger presided and Mahone kept the minutes.

Justice Olson asked for a stenographer, for payment of office rent and increase of his salary, which he said was $3000 to $4000. Chief Deputy Fitzgerald, he said, had been increased from $1800 to $2000, but he admitted that Fitzgerald would be willing to accept $2400. He pointed out that his four deputies have to pay $10 office rent each, so that a net salary of $140 and the other two $90 each. He told of 16 places where the district attorney or his deputies may be called at any time. He explained that the expenses of the office have been $2000 less during the last six months than during the final six months of his predecessor.

Constable Wagner presented the argument for the Brad bill, which he said would increase his salary in his office $192 per month. He wants $200 instead of $180. He explained that the law allows only one deputy, he has been granted three assistants by the county court at $75 per month.

What Justice Olson Wants.
Justice Olson said he did not believe in lobbying and he wanted no increase in his salary. But he made a plea for a four year term and for increasing the salaries of the clerks. He said more money was needed to hold good men and expedite the business of the court. He said the Portland justices have handled 2000 cases in six months, and it was a mistake to suppose these cases did not require much time.

Olson also presented two bills that are to be introduced at the session. One extends the jurisdiction of the justice court to cases involving $800, instead of only $250. The other changes the jury fee from $1.00 to $1.50 and witness fees from $1.50 to $2.

Justice Bell seconded Olson's argument in a forcible and businesslike manner. He questioned as to the proposed increase of filing fees, and they agreed that $4 and $1 for plaintiff and defendant, respectively, would be about right. This is on the theory that most plaintiffs are corporations or men of wealth, and that the defendant is usually a poor man, should be charged only a small fee.

Vice Consul E. M. Cederburgh of Norway made an earnest plea for the reduction of sailor fees from $30 to $10. He called attention to the industry of the chamber of commerce of Portland and told of some of the harassing exactions of blood money at the boarding houses in the city.

WOMEN SUFFER FROM NERVOUS DEBILITY

This Rockford Woman Was Discouraged But the Tonic Treatment Cured Her.

The first thing to do in nervous debility is to stop the cause of the trouble. If possible, whether it is irregular living, worry, or whatever may be. Then the nerves must be given special nourishment and the blood must be kept pure and rich. This is the stick headache. I never felt well after the birth of our little girl. I was all run down and there were times when I could not get up or stand up because of the dizziness. My head ached continually. I could not sleep, was nervous, irritable and gradually grew more and more discouraged. I thought I would never get any better.

"I was treated by our doctor for over a year but finally gave up my medicines and began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I had taken them for a while I began to feel better, and seemed to be getting stronger. The dizzy spells and headaches were less frequent and I became a more cheerful person. I took several boxes and was entirely cured. I cannot tell how thankful I am that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me and will praise them to everyone suffering as I did."

The pills contain no morphine, opiate, narcotic or any other drug, and do not cause a habit. They do not act on the bowels but make new blood and strengthen the nerves. If you want good health you must mean good blood.

Thin blood means stunted nerves, weakened digestion, functional disorders, headaches, possible neuritis, sciatica and even partial paralysis. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood, purify it and give it strength. They cure disease. They are for men and women, young and old. They are sold by all druggists. Each bottle contains 50 pills on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50, by Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.
