Fine Wall Papers and Interior Decorations

Our various decorative departments—wall paper, drapery and carpet—are most complete in their displays and facilities for executing high-class decorative work in all branches, and most worthy of consideration by those who are building or contemplating so doing. Wood finishing and wall coloring are most essential in home decoration and should not be decided upon until a complete scheme of furnishing is planned. It is most important and at the same time much easier to have your woodwork conform to your furniture; the wall decoration to the floor coverings and hangings as to proceed with walls and woodwork and then be compelled to search for that which is not made and finally to select something that is not in keeping with your scheme. Do not contract for wood-finishing or wall tinting with your house building contract—it is impossible to obtain the desired results by so doing—no one but a skilled decorator is capable of producing the results that make the home beautiful. Contracts are usually let under specifications to the lowest bidder for this work, and the homeowner receives only what he pays for. Competition in interior decoration has had the effect of reducing this art to a very low grade. We do not wish to be classed in this rank, nor do we propose to do inferior decorative work at any price. We are pleased to quote prices for doing wood finishing and wall decorating, but will not enter into competition for such work.

Our line of wall papers and fabrics is more extensive and exclusive than any in the West—our advising decorators are men of experience and are at your service without expense regardless of your purchases with us.

Lace hangings to your order to fit any size windows or glass doors made in sets to match. Sundry hangings to use with or without laces. Something different in vestibule trimmings. Cretonne, taffeta and English prints for sleeping room treatments.

New Spring Patterns in Extra Wilton Velvets

Our new line of these Carpets is now ready for inspection, and is shown in the double as well as the single widths. This fabric is the most durable of its kind, and is especially adapted to the covering of large surfaces and where it is exposed to hard wear. Its double width avoids numerous seams and gives it a solid effect. These new floor coverings are shown mostly in allover designs and up-to-date colorings. The Carpet Department—Sixth Floor.
