THE OREGON DAILY JOURNAL, PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 17, 1909

The Reason NAMET FCC CHOFCATE For This Mammoth Shoe Sale and How It Happens to Be a Nameless Shoe Sale: The owners of this $30,000 Shoe stock are at present conducting one of the leading shoe stores in Portland handling only the best and most reliable makes of High-Class Shoes for men, women and children, and are compelled by contract not to make any cut in prices in their own store on the penalty of losing the agency. Finding themselves overstocked, sadly in need of money, no chance to force business in their own store, they have decided to raise money quickly and rented a temporary store located at 109 Fifth st., bet. Washington and Stark, where you may expect the most sensational sacrifice shoe sale ever attempted in Portland. No misrepresentation, no exaggerations will be tolerated. You will find here every article advertised and hundreds of other greater values. Sale Starts Thursday, February 18th, 9 A. M. 109 Fifth Street Two Doors North of Washington St.

Sale Starts Thursday, Feb. 18th at 9 A. M. and will continue for a few days only 109 Fifth Street This is without doubt the strongest Shoe sale ever attempted, owing to this one fact-every shoe is an Agency Shoe and not handled by sales managers. And for this reason we are compelled to withhold the names of the manufacturers so as to not incriminate ourselves. You need only attend this sale to see for yourself. The best makes of shoes. You will very readily recognize the names on the shoes of the makers, which is in itself a sufficient guarantee. We have all kinds of shoes, all sizes, all widths, all toes, all styles - suitable for bankers, merchants, mechanics, laborers; shoes for babies, shoes for children, shoes for women, shoes for anybody and everybody. Greatest and best shoe sale ever known.

COME EARLY AND AVOID CROWDS

Mrs. Henry Peterson Commits Suicide at Multnomah Station.

Mrs. Henry Peterson, living near Multnomah station on the Oregon Electric line, went out into her yard yesterday, cut a section of clothes line, and used it to hang herself. Returning to the house she tied one end of the cord to a door knob, and passed the line over the upper hinge of the door. Then after tying the other end of the line after tying the other end of the line about her neck she mounted a nail keg, kicked out the keg and the slipnose soon ended her life. Her feet were but a few inches from the floor when the body was found. From a letter written by Mrs. Peter-son to her sister, Mrs. E. W. Eldredge, at Lents, it is evident that her hus-band's desertion was the primary cause for the suicide. They had been married but a year when Peterson, a Civil war veteran and a pensioner, left her, ap-parently lured away by his desire for a wandering life. He was 50 years of age and his wife 50 years old when they were married. The fact that Mrs. Peterson was los-ing her eyseight increased her melan-cholia, which had been evident to all who knew her. The body was found cholia, which had been evident to all who knew her. The body was found by a neighbor, Mrs. George Wey, who went to the house to visit Mrs. Peter-son. Deputy Coroner Howe went to the house, which is west of Carson Heights, and found the letter addressed to Mrs. Eldridge, which proved +bet a suicide had been committed. The body was re-moved to the Dunning morgue late yes-terday afternoon. terday afternoon.
