

JAMES J. HILL SAYS TARIFF IS NOT ON REVENUE BASIS

SESSION ENDS RESPOND FEST

Total of Appropriations at Legislative Session Just Closed Is Comparatively Small—Is an Increase Over 1907.

Salem, Or., Feb. 20.—Oregon's twenty-fifth biennial session of the legislature is at an end and with many good laws to its credit. In spite of the fact that it has been criticized for extravagance, that it has been said that its members in the house played as much as they worked, in spite of the fact that the senate has been charged with being a corporation body, still in spite of all these things it has given to the people of the state much needed legislation called for during many years from former legislatures and not until now received.

By Carl Smith.
(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 20.—Including the contingent appropriation of $300,000 for the purchase of the Oregon City locks, the total appropriation made by the twenty-fifth legislative session of Oregon assembly was $3,661,556.25. These figures are reasonably accurate, though the journals of the session may show some discrepancies.

As compared with the recent growth and development of the state the appropriation is not large. The increase over 1907 is not as large as the increase appropriation in 1907 was over the appropriation of the 1905 session of $282,441.

On Witness-stand Young Man Declares Senator Carmack Shot at Him—Sister of Accused Man Gives Him Encouragement.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 20.—Senator Carmack shot at me once; then he fired again. I thought his next shot would kill me. I fired at him to save my own life. I believed I was in danger of death at his hands. I thought so then; I think so now.

Intensely pale, his face drawn and deep lines about his eyes and mouth indicating mental suffering, Robin J. Cooper, for the first time, today described the killing of his father's enemy in the streets of Nashville last November. He has suffered much since his arrest and he showed this by his straight-forwardness that indicated his belief that what he said was true and for the first time the side of the Cooper in the tragedy that shocked a nation was made public.

Widow McCay testified, Coyne and Miss Fraser, an English actress, lived across the street from where he was stopping. He said he would have lived in the same house with Coyne, only "it was more interesting for Mr. Coyne for me not to be there."

PROBLEM OF COST OF LIVING HARD TO SOLVE

WHAT IS THE SOLUTION?
Tariff does not produce enough revenue. Wheat product is growing less each year. What shall we tax agriculture? Capital does not produce now what it did 25 years ago. We may have to find $700,000,000 to pay country's food bill.

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.)
New York, Feb. 20.—They talk about revising the tariff," said James J. Hill today. "Why, at the present rate of expenditures, the tariff is now scarcely on a revenue basis. How, then, is it to be scaled, unless we shove down the cost of government?"

"I am not a free trader," he went on, "but I see the evils in present tariff schedules, although I do not know how they are to be remedied, unless we shall call a halt upon the cost of government or shift the tax thus placed upon the people to domestic products."
