

WEDNESDAY

THE kermess still continues the chief topic of conversation. Between whiles people are visiting the shops and the modistes and the milliners, getting ready their spring garments for the season of entertaining that immediately follows Lent. Wardrobes are an engrossing subject at this time of the year, and crossing attention, time and means. The spring openings in many of the shops have commanded a good deal of the spare attention.

Rehearsals for the kermess bespeak a beautiful entertainment on the four nights planned for this affair at the Armory. The dates have been changed to Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of the week following Easter instead of four succeeding nights. Thus the dancers are enabled to have one night of rest in the midst of their strenuous work.

Last week the full list of chaperones and dancers for the Spanish dance and the Marsovin dance was published. The latest additions authorized through the "Merry Widow" will be made particularly charming by Mrs. Rose Bauer who will sing the music. The Indian dance will have music in it. Mrs. Ross Courten Reed in Indian costume will sing. The chaperones are: Mrs. W. W. Alexander, Mrs. L. J. Goldsmith, Mrs. C. F. Adams, and Mrs. Warren E. Thomas. The dancers are: Mrs. John K. Kollock, Mrs. William H. G. Reed, Mrs. David Honeyman, Mrs. E. C. Meara, Mrs. S. G. Reed, Mrs. F. G. Wheeler, Mrs. F. N. Fenton, Mrs. Ernest L. Lewis, Mrs. David G. Lewis, Mrs. Richard Nunn, Miss Susie Clark, Miss Mary Hillyer, John K. Kollock, William H. Warren, Ernest Laidlaw, S. G. Reed, Dr. M. Coghlan, J. Wesley Ladd, Mr. Rochester, John Banks, Rodney Gilman, Mr. Davis, Morton H. Inley, and Dr. A. Kiehle.

The Irish harvest dance will be given under the chaperonage of Mrs. Margaret R. Burke, Miss Augusta Marshall, Mrs. J. P. O'Brien, Mrs. C. M. Magruder and Mrs. James A. Beckitt. The dancers will be Mrs. Paul W. Hill, Mrs. Ginnins, Mrs. Norris B. Gregg, Miss Josephine Cronan, Miss Ann O'Brien, Miss Helen Magnus, Miss Nancy Lewis, Miss Irene Higgins, J. A. Beckitt, Cas Campbell, William Belcher, Fred Martin, M. T. Alexander, Herbert Clemens, and Victor Cullon.

The dance of the Teddy Bears and French Dolls will be an especially charming feature. The rehearsals are held in the afternoon under the chaperonage of Miss Ann O'Brien, Mrs. H. H. Inley, and Mrs. Hamilton Brooke. The dancers are Elizabeth Shepherd, Peggy Boyer, Irene Canby, Elizabeth Hughes, Miss Keane, Otwana Wolcott, Carloline Alingworth, Georgiana Meara, Virginia Boddy, Joshua Nunn, Charles Voolhuis, Lillian, Olin Gambhill, Alton Effinger, Philip Chipman, Ambrose Cronin, Alexander Sargeant, and G. B. Gilbert.

The Fluffy Ruffles Dance will be a pretty one done by the younger girls. The chaperones are Mrs. Hunt Lewis, Mrs. Peter Kott, Mrs. Henry H. G. Reed, and Miss Louise Flanders. The dancers are Miss Beckley Biddle, Miss Marie Hausman, Miss Winnie Lewis, Miss Margaret Root, Miss Meta Buehner, Miss Hammond, Miss Dorothy Morrison, Miss Jean Boydwell, Lester Hodson, Chester G. Murphy, Mr. Davis, Don Monroe, Mr. Unander, James Alexander, Mr. Ketchum and Harold Sawyer.

The booths are expected to be a worthy source of revenue and will be somewhat of an excitement. The lemonade booth will be in charge of Miss Eleanor Gile. The art and stationery booth will be in charge of Mrs. William L. Wood and there picture postal cards of dancers in costume will be sold. Some fine art treasures, a donation from the Armory will be auctioned off, and this will lend interest.

The refreshments are in charge of Mrs. Howard L. Mather and Mrs. S. Biles, with prominent girls as waitresses. Cafe and buffet dishes, all from Woman Exchange, will be sold. Candies and bon bon will be sold by Mrs. E. T. Williams and Mrs. Frank H. Hart, with a corps of girls as assistants.

The sale of the boxes at the Armory is in the hands of Thomas Scott Brooke and is out of 20 have been sold already at $100 apiece. The use of the Armory for the four days has been tendered as a gift from the Oregon National Guard. The box holders are Miss Failing, Miss May Failing, A. L. Mills, W. Burns, Mrs. W. W. Alexander, Henry L. Corbett, N. F. Felschner, Mrs. L. Corbett, Mrs. C. H. Lewis, Mrs. New-Mark, Sigmund Frank, T. Scott Brooke, W. B. Ayer, Walter Peter Kerr, and Thomas Kerr, Edward Cokingham, W. D. Wheelwright, T. B. Wilcox and J. C. Almsworth.

X. Legrand, Mrs. Archibald Durbin, Mrs. Newton Morgan, Mrs. A. Caray, Mrs. Tweedman, Mr. and Mrs. George Muro, Miss Jennie Friskerren, Miss Essie Teichthosen, Miss Dorothy Crawford, Miss Dorothy Muro, C. Milton Moore and Charles Mahoney.

Miss Mary Lela Goddard entertained Wednesday evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Marc Bunnell of Seattle, guests of Dr. and Mrs. George D. Peters of Irvington. Military whist was the game played and the six tables represented the nations, France, Italy, England, Ireland, Japan and the United States. Partners were found by matching small flags. Ralph Fenton, Miss Hannah Connel, James B. Kerr and James Conley were the prize winners at the evening.

The Hunt club enjoyed a delightful cross country ride last Saturday. The course started at the head of Johnson street, crossed over the divide at Mount Zion and finished on Court Crest. Those in the run were Mrs. William Wood, Mrs. H. C. Wortman, Miss Flanders, Miss William H. Warren, Miss Sally Leadbetter, Miss Monroe, Miss Marchant, Mrs. Gantenbein, Mrs. O. Burns, Mrs. P. G. Buffum, Miss Kieran, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Skuse, Mr.

looking and most handsomely gowned assemblages seen at a concert in Portland. The concert given by Miss Steers and Miss Coman have come to figure as the most fashionable and dresse of the public events, and yet it is a long standing joke that these concerts almost invariably fall on the rainiest and most disagreeable nights of the season. Tuesday was one of the most beautiful nights, and the audience appreciated the fact. Miss Marie Souls had two boxes for a number of her pupils, who made an attractive party. The H. W. Pittocks and the F. G. Leadbetters were in one box, and Mrs. A. D. Charlton and Mrs. J. W. Berry in another. Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett had with her Madam Frost, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett and Miss Alta Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Blake have returned to this country from their consulate in Dumferline, Scotland, and will visit in the states for some time. Mrs. Blake arrived Thursday morning from Kansas City, where they visited Mr. Blake's parents, and is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Maxwell. Mrs. Blake was one of the most popular and clever girls of the younger set and was much sought after. There will doubtless be a good deal of entertaining for her. Mr. Blake is expected on a visit later.

J. Hutchinson announces a Good Friday concert to be given that night at the White Temple, to commemorate the day. The proceeds will be devoted to the missions for seamen. The program will include solemn sacred music and will serve to establish the precedent followed in England and other European countries of observing Good Friday as a sacred day. The soloists will be Mrs. Herman Bohman of Los Angeles, soprano; George P. Walcker, basso, in his final Portland appearance, and Henry L. Beitman, violinist, and Miss Genevieve Frazer, pianist, and J. Hutchinson, organist. Miss Laura Fox will accompany.

The entertainment to be given at the First M. E. church, on the evening of April 21, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society of that church, promises to be a very artistic and unique affair.

The program is being prepared by an enthusiastic committee, consisting of Mrs. P. W. Lewis, Mrs. Raymond Wilcox and Mrs. Frank M. Taylor, and will be made up of two parts.

Part I—Concert, numbers, organ, piano and voice, together with dramatic selections.

Part II will be devoted to an allegory, entitled "The Seckers" arranged by Mrs. Lewis, and given with musical accompaniment, the different parts being taken by nine women of the church. A complete list of the participants will be given at a later date.

An error in these columns last week placed the marriage date of Miss Effie Houghton and the usher Raymond Wilcox later than it will take place. Wednesday, April 21, is the day chosen and the wedding will be celebrated in the First Presbyterian church. Miss Claire Houghton will attend her sister as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Hazel Dolph, Miss Nan Robertson, Miss Ilsa Koehler and Miss Grace Warren. The best man will be George Warren and the ushers Raymond Wilcox, Edward Failing and Charles Holbrook. This will be the most brilliant event of the post-Lent season.

The next Assembly dance has been set for April 22, Thursday night. The patronesses for the evening are Mrs. John C. Almsworth, Mrs. W. C. Alvord, Mrs. Winslow B. Ayer, Mrs. C. F. Beebe, Mrs. W. J. Burns, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Mrs. John K. Kollock, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. L. Allen Lewis, Mrs. K. A. Mackenzie, Mrs. William H. Warren, Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, and Mrs. Gordon Voorhies.

Mrs. David C. Lewis was the hostess at last week's Tuesday at home at the woman's exchange. These informal afternoons are proving most popular and each Tuesday finds a large number of matrons and maids gathered for a chat over the tea-cups. Those who are interested in helping the exchange are thus given an excellent opportunity, and a pleasant afternoon is enjoyed as well.

Mrs. Hamilton Brooke has taken apartments at Alexandra Court. With her for the present is Miss Mollie Erickson, whose husband died last week.

and Mrs. William Prudhomme, Thomas Scott Brooke, J. W. Crutcher, Dr. A. W. Cumming, Ambrose Cronin, Dr. J. W. Coghlan, Dr. Emmett Drake, F. O. Downing, Hugh H. Herdman, Sidney Lovenslager, Leonard Lang, H. L. Pittock, Thomas S. McGrath, Ben Neustadter, W. N. Patullo, A. F. Greuter and Mr. Spencer.

A number of high school boys and girls assembled on the corner of Skidmore and Williams avenue and stole a surprise march on Freddie G. Welden on the anniversary of his sixteenth birthday. Games were played and the most enjoyed was the game of Street Sixteen in which Robert Ray acted as grand marshal. Those present were: Miss Maple Robinson, Miss Margaret Margert, Miss Hazel Wieden, Miss Marie Meyer, Miss Velma Beaumont, Miss Olga Doehring, Miss Flora Patterson, Miss Lillian Schirre, Raymond Moore, Claud Crosby, Duane Wieden, Jesse Bloch, Joe Jordan, Otto Heller, Harold Fitzgibbon, Freddie Wieden, Robert Kay.

Mrs. Henry Waldo Cox entertained the Consumers' league at her home Friday afternoon. Mrs. Nurnam, wife of the Japanese consul, gave some pleasant musical numbers in costume on the Japanese harp and was much applauded. Miss Mary Montgomery, the president, gave the address. Miss Cox Church gave several organ numbers. After the program Mrs. Luther K. Dyott and Miss Helen Robinson were assisted by Miss Helen Harmon. Miss Genevieve Adel, Miss Fay Nichols and Miss...

of paintings in the lighted galleries during the summer months. There are a good many exceptionally fine works of art in Portland homes and it is expected that during the vacation months many will be willing to lend them to the museum. Dr. Holt C. Wilson and C. E. E. Wood composed the hanging committee which will arrange the exhibit.

Mrs. J. W. Gearin and Miss Helen Gearin, who are so popular in Portland society, are in Honolulu, guests at the Moana hotel. They were included recently in a shark fishing party which included Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Miller of Marysville, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Nuts of Boston, Mr. Tompkins of Colorado, Donald Straker of Massachusetts, England, F. F. Hicks of New York, and Colonel Brooks of New York.

Miss Cornelia Cook left Wednesday for Lowell, Mass., to visit her sister, who is attending school at Rogers hall. Miss Cornelia was a graduate from this school last June and she has spent the past year at home. Some months ago she made her debut at a brilliant tea. She is very popular with the younger set. The two sisters will return together in June after the close of school.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Smith Johnson of Maplewood, N. J., have sent out announcements of the marriage of their cousin, Miss Rachel Dew, to William Sherratt, Tuesday, March 9. Mr. Sherratt has spent the past three years in Portland and lived at the Norton, and has many friends here. Mr. and Mrs. Sherratt will be at home in Cordova, Alaska, after May 1.

Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mrs. William M. Ladd, Mrs. James Laidlaw, Mrs. Henry Waldo Cox and Mrs. Frederic Egger will be the patronesses for a recital to be given under the auspices of the Emma amateurs at Ellers hall next Thursday evening. Miss Kathleen Lawler, George H. Stroet and Emil Bina will be the soloists.

The afternoon tea hours recently instituted at the Portland have found favor with society, and every afternoon may be seen three parties of friends who meet informally. The new decoration in the room are particularly effective and the Spanish string orchestra under the direction of M. B. Palacios is a popular innovation.

Mrs. W. S. Ladd received many felicitations Thursday on her 52d birthday and many friends called or left flowers.

In the evening there was a family dinner in her honor and Mrs. H. W. Corbett, Miss Failing and Miss May Failing were included.

Mrs. W. Wynn Johnson left Tuesday morning for California to spend a month with relatives in Stockton. While she is gone she will look over the Johnson vineyards near Jackson, and will spend some time there with her son.

Mr. and Mrs. John Emerson Cronan are expected home from their wedding trip this week. They will visit for a few weeks with Mrs. Cronan's mother, Mrs. Edwige Stott, before they go into their own home.

The Daughters of the Confederacy will meet at 2:30 next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. M. Lee at 495 Fifth street, corner of Sherman. All southern women are cordially invited.

The Lhevinns concert was the largest and most fashionable event of the week and a most representative audience attended. The theaters have called out some of the less strict observers of Lent.

Miss Gladys Lang, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Lang has sent out invitations for a dance April 2 at the Portland Heights club. About 60 of her school friends will be entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sellar and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Hirsch and Henry Ottenheimer have returned from a weeks' visit in southern California. Mrs. Ottenheimer will return next week.

Mrs. Charles Lauer received felicitations from many friends Thursday on her birthday. The pretty Lauer home on Everett street was a bower of flowers sent in by her acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Moody have just returned from a delightful trip to Hawaii where they spent several weeks. They visited in Portland last week on route home to Shanhku.

Edward Ehrman was receiving congratulations Thursday on his birthday. A number of friends called in the evening and spent a pleasant informal time.

Mrs. Richard Koehler and Miss Ilsa Koehler returned Wednesday morning from their trip to California.

OPENING EXHIBIT OF SMART, MODISH YET PRACTICAL EASTER MILLINERY

MONDAY, TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

Revealing latest modes and exploiting the new shapes, colors and materials in a radiant manner. Our recently enlarged salesroom enables us to make a most extensive display, embracing elegant Paris and New York models, as well as adaptations and originals from our own workrooms, each the product of an individual artist, and each expressing some particular phase.

THESE "ORDAINED-OF-FASHION" CREATIONS

Show such a wealth of new ideas in shapes, in colors, in trimmings that it would be folly to try to illustrate or describe their many delightful newnesses.

INSPECTION INVITED

You should by all means come. While the hats rival any to be found in Portland, prices are lower—style and quality considered—than at any other store, the feature that has made this largest exclusive millinery store so popular.
