SAYS ANTI-JAP

Representative Kahn Warns That Exclusion Must be Accomplished.

Washington, March 33.-While waitng to interview the president, Repreing to interview the president, Representative Kahn of California today made the following statement in reference to the attitude of the Pacific coast on the Asiatic question:

"The present caim on the Pacific coast is no indication that the anti-Japanese sentiment is any weaker. We are merely waiting to see if the national government will make good its promises to keep the cooles out. If the coast is not protected from a yellew invasion, the legislature at its next session will pass the drastic anti-Japanese bills that Rooseveit se strenuously opposed and which were tabled later in deference to his wishes."

The British Antarctic steamer Nimrod left New Zealand on a voyage of discovery on January 1, 1968. No further news was learned from the expedition until March 10 of the same year when it was reported that Captain Engiand of the Nimrod and Captain Shackleton, in charge of the expedition, had disagreed. The Nimrod left the Shackleton party at the foot of Mount Erebus and was to proceed in a stated direction while Shackleton and his men were to make their way over the ice.

Discovery of the south pole has always beer considered a more difficult undertaking than the discovery of the north pole, for the reason that vast stretches of unbroken sea and ice exist in the south and islands and mainlands do not appear. The magnetic needle becomes almost in operative and the mariner is compelled to take his bearings by the stars.

The discovery of the south pole would be regarded of tremendous through the first of the sole and many of the features of the club. BALDWIN EXPEDITION

DISCUSSES DISCOVERY

In discussing the significance of the discovery of the south pole. A. Andree of the United States weather bureau says that the voyages of discovery have been more valuable for what scientific data was gathered along the route than had the main object been attained.

"I would want to take a little time to think the matter over," said Mr. Andrees who was a member of the Baldwin Arctic expedition. "I would not like to say just what the scientific significance of the discovery is without considering the matter closely. The fact of the matter is that all the nations have been attempting to be first in discovering the poles for many years. Scientific societies have discouraged the idea of hunting for the pole, for that alone, as it was considered to be a sort of a dare and not done for strictly scientific purposes. It was a sort of race to see who would reach the pole first. On these trips, however, many new islands and lands were discovered and much invaluable scientific data was collected. This has been the chief value of the expeditions up to this time."

terms includes the main business center the west side, the business district of the east side, the business district of South Portland and Albina. All of the residence districts of the city are to be left without saloons or depots of any kind.

The right is reserved to operate bars in bona fide hotels of 190 rooms or more within the whole limits of the city, but these bars are to be included in the 250 set out in the proposed amendment.

in the 250 set out in the property amendment.

The tranchise asked for is not effective as against the sale of liquors in drug stores, under physicians' prescription as is now the case. It is also provided that the association is not to allow women in the places maintained by it, is not to permit sambling or disorderly conduct of any kind, or to have closed boxes in any of its places. All places are to be closed at midnight and kept closed until 5 o'clock in the morning and all day Sunday.

would be regarded of tremendous lunch, could do so.

Family Liquor Stores. There would be still another class of establishments similar in most features to the present family liquor store. Here no liquor would be sold except in original packages, for use away from the premises. No bar would be maintained in connection with this establishment and no liquor would be drunk on the premises.

and no liquor would be drula via premises.

It is argued that this plan gives increased revenue to the city. For 1308 Portland received for its saloons and wholesale houses combined $359,750. The new plan, it is pointed out would give the city $365,000 annually for its retail liquor licenses alone, leaving the wholesale and druggists' licenses as they now are.

"The Anti-Saloon league will make no compromise with any men or movement which has as its object the licensing of the sale of intoxicating liquors. As an organization the movement will be opposed, though what attitude the individual members of the league will take I do not know."

The plan has been under consideration for several months. Recently a similar proposition was put up to the council of Medford in the spirit of "trying it on the dog." It was well received by the Medford council, but was afterwards withdrawn, it having been offered for the purpose of sounding public sentiment rather than for securing the Medford franchise.

It was at first intended to take the Portland plan before the city council and ask it to put the proposed amendment on the June ballot, but this plan was abandoned, it being feared that the matter would be held up by the city fathers. It was decided, after a conference held a few days ago between McAllister and the representatives of the eastern capitalists back of the mevement, to put the amendment on the ballot through the initative and let the people vote on the question directly in June.

The belief that the balloon was unable to cross the mountains into the desert is based upon the fact that the American carried little or no ballast, because of the number of passengers. Captain Mueller, however, is one of the most skillful aeronauts in the United States, and local aeronauts believe he would overcome this handicap in case of emergency, by casting overboard everything movable, cutting loose the basket and forcing the party into the large ring above, if their lives depended upon it.

A number of skilled mountaineers are directing the searchers in the canyona. Phil Beague, who is reputed to know every sheep trail in the Sierra Madre range, went up to Alpine tavern on Mount Lowe last night and this morning sent parties down through the various canyons in that territory.

J. R. Giddings and his son are directing the search in Millard's canyon and have also sent mes as high up the range as Brown mountain. Forest Ranger George C Crow and Fire Warden Ben Beed left Passadera early today for Eagle canyon and Mount Wilson, where Crow believes he saw the balloon Sunday evening. New Issue Made Necessary for 500,000 Club Dinner Tonight.

Tickets for the $60,000 club dinner to be given at the Commercial club rooms tonight at 6:30 o'clock were all gone at noon today, and the backers of the movement will try this afternoon to arrange for more places.

"Though all the tickets for the 300 places have been sold," said Tom Richardson, "we hope to be able to care for all who come. We will try to provide for all."

all who come. We will try to provide for all."

Interest in the movement to bring about the organization of such a club is evidenced by the manaer in which business, men have taken hold of the idea, and also the rapidity with which the tickets have sold.

The dinner will be served prior to the formation of the club, and will be followed by addresses by Theodore B. Wilcox, B. S. Josselyn, A. L. Mills, Edward Ehrman, C. F. Swigert, F. B. Molbrook and others, who will explain the objects and purposes of the organization.

Following the addresses, organization of the club will be effected, and the personnel of the committees which will canvass the city tomorrow will be amnounced. The work will be carried on systematically, and no trouble is anticipated in raising $100,000 a year for two years for publicity work. Everyone will be asked to give.

ing him in a mental dilemma for a while, Mr. Fearsome becomes enthus-iastic over Portland investments, destroys Mr. Doubting Thomas and comes out victor.

The publication of "The Death of Doubting Thomas" is limited and may be had upon inquiry at any real estate office in the city. It is believed that the use of such literature points a moral to the average timid investor and will lighten his path to lucrative business ventures more than any other argument that has been put forth recently.

The Satisfaction That Comes from Owning

To know that the piano that stands in your home will be admired by every musician who tries it is gratifying to you as

To know that your choice is approved by such famous pianists as Paderewski and Rosenthal is a still further source of satisfaction.

The recognition that the greatest musicians in the world are according to the Weber Piano, is evidence that it possesses something which other pianos lack.

Throughout the Weber's half century of existence it has won numerous honors, but never was the consensus of opinion in the musical world so emphatically in its favor as at the present day.

Recent Weber models, typifying the highest development of the modern pianoforte are here for your inspection.
