

STATE AID TO COOS RAILROAD TO DOISE

Two Novices Baffled by Strongbox of Yale Laundry.

Washington State Law Will Put Certain Saloons Out of Business.

Oregon-Idaho Congress Goes On Record as Favoring District Railroad Plan and Government Support of Malheur Project.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Ontario, Or., March 27.—A resolution was adopted at the afternoon session of the congress asking the county courts of Malheur and Harney to construct a road from Ontario to Burns suitable for an automobile highway. The congress is taking steps to unite with other organizations, who have measures to submit to the vote of the people, to submit their amendment to the constitution, authorizing the construction of state railroads, at a special election in September, 1909.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Ontario, Or., March 27.—The Oregon-Idaho Development congress will go on record as favoring state or district owned railroads, and government aid for the Malheur project. Colonel Wood and Colonel Hofer were cheered to the echo when in strong terms they condemned the attitude of the Portland morning daily in opposing the state owned railroad scheme. Frank Davey of Burns, in his address yesterday afternoon, said:

"It is our plain duty to build this railroad across the state, opening up the great inland empire."

Reilly Alderson, secretary of the Hoise Commercial club, prophesied that the road would be built it would be extended on to Butte and connect with transcontinental lines.

District Rail Plan Feasible.
E. M. Helghe, president and general manager of the Pacific and Idaho Northern, said to Evergreen, Idaho, said the district railroad plan was entirely feasible and pledged his support. Mr. Helghe said:

"A district containing 100,000 acres is worth $5 an acre before a railroad comes or $50,000. Suppose a railroad is built, costing $1,000,000. The land as a result goes to $100 an acre, or $10,000,000, making a net profit of $9,000,000. The cost of the road is $1,000,000. The net profit is $8,000,000. Considering the immense profit to the land, the railroad could, if necessary, be operated at a loss, still making the district added railroad profitable."

The opera house was crowded last evening to listen to Colonel Wood's address on "State Owned Railroads." He said there was nothing in the Oregon constitution to prevent the building of a road and except the provision against the state going $500,000 in debt for such a purpose, and clearly pointed out how that could and should be overcome.

Wood Scores E. M. Harriman.
He scored Harriman for bottling up the central part of the state by holding all of the mountain passes, and said Oregon would be compelled to. The only way to open up this vast region was for the state to take up the matter and condemn the Harriman right of way.

Four transcontinental lines are now trying to get into central Oregon, he said, and he said that the state should build the road from Ontario to Coos Bay and Portland, the two greatest cities in the state, and that the increased value of land along the route would more than pay for the cost of the road. The line would be completed as soon as completed if desired. No well informed persons were opposed to this plan except the Harriman interests.

Ed Lang of Eugene Loses Leg and May Die as Result of a Shooting Affray.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., March 27.—Ed Lang, who was shot in the leg yesterday afternoon by William R. Walker at the latter's home near Eugene, is in a critical condition at the general hospital here. Physicians state that if he lives through the day he will have a chance for recovery. He was near death several times last night but his strong vitality kept him up.

Walker has been released on $2000 bonds. He says he knows very little of yesterday's affair, as he was very much under the influence of liquor when the shooting occurred. When brought to Eugene in an auto yesterday by Sheriff Brown he was so drunk that he could not stand and immediately after taken to the sheriff's office fell into a deep sleep from which he did not awaken until this morning. In case Lang dies the charge against Walker will be changed from assault with intent to kill to manslaughter.

Lang, who was formerly in the employ of Walker at the hop yard, came to the latter's home in Eugene and began to abuse Walker's aged mother. Walker resented this and a quarrel ensued. Walker secured a shotgun in an adjoining room and fired at Lang, the entire charge of birdshot entering his right leg between the knee. The wound is deep and the bone is broken. Lang was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later.

Oregon-Idaho Congress Goes On Record as Favoring District Railroad Plan and Government Support of Malheur Project.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Ontario, Or., March 27.—A resolution was adopted at the afternoon session of the congress asking the county courts of Malheur and Harney to construct a road from Ontario to Burns suitable for an automobile highway. The congress is taking steps to unite with other organizations, who have measures to submit to the vote of the people, to submit their amendment to the constitution, authorizing the construction of state railroads, at a special election in September, 1909.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Ontario, Or., March 27.—The Oregon-Idaho Development congress will go on record as favoring state or district owned railroads, and government aid for the Malheur project. Colonel Wood and Colonel Hofer were cheered to the echo when in strong terms they condemned the attitude of the Portland morning daily in opposing the state owned railroad scheme. Frank Davey of Burns, in his address yesterday afternoon, said:

"It is our plain duty to build this railroad across the state, opening up the great inland empire."

Reilly Alderson, secretary of the Hoise Commercial club, prophesied that the road would be built it would be extended on to Butte and connect with transcontinental lines.

District Rail Plan Feasible.
E. M. Helghe, president and general manager of the Pacific and Idaho Northern, said to Evergreen, Idaho, said the district railroad plan was entirely feasible and pledged his support. Mr. Helghe said:

"A district containing 100,000 acres is worth $5 an acre before a railroad comes or $50,000. Suppose a railroad is built, costing $1,000,000. The land as a result goes to $100 an acre, or $10,000,000, making a net profit of $9,000,000. The cost of the road is $1,000,000. The net profit is $8,000,000. Considering the immense profit to the land, the railroad could, if necessary, be operated at a loss, still making the district added railroad profitable."

The opera house was crowded last evening to listen to Colonel Wood's address on "State Owned Railroads." He said there was nothing in the Oregon constitution to prevent the building of a road and except the provision against the state going $500,000 in debt for such a purpose, and clearly pointed out how that could and should be overcome.

Wood Scores E. M. Harriman.
He scored Harriman for bottling up the central part of the state by holding all of the mountain passes, and said Oregon would be compelled to. The only way to open up this vast region was for the state to take up the matter and condemn the Harriman right of way.

Four transcontinental lines are now trying to get into central Oregon, he said, and he said that the state should build the road from Ontario to Coos Bay and Portland, the two greatest cities in the state, and that the increased value of land along the route would more than pay for the cost of the road. The line would be completed as soon as completed if desired. No well informed persons were opposed to this plan except the Harriman interests.

Ed Lang of Eugene Loses Leg and May Die as Result of a Shooting Affray.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., March 27.—Ed Lang, who was shot in the leg yesterday afternoon by William R. Walker at the latter's home near Eugene, is in a critical condition at the general hospital here. Physicians state that if he lives through the day he will have a chance for recovery. He was near death several times last night but his strong vitality kept him up.

Walker has been released on $2000 bonds. He says he knows very little of yesterday's affair, as he was very much under the influence of liquor when the shooting occurred. When brought to Eugene in an auto yesterday by Sheriff Brown he was so drunk that he could not stand and immediately after taken to the sheriff's office fell into a deep sleep from which he did not awaken until this morning. In case Lang dies the charge against Walker will be changed from assault with intent to kill to manslaughter.

Lang, who was formerly in the employ of Walker at the hop yard, came to the latter's home in Eugene and began to abuse Walker's aged mother. Walker resented this and a quarrel ensued. Walker secured a shotgun in an adjoining room and fired at Lang, the entire charge of birdshot entering his right leg between the knee. The wound is deep and the bone is broken. Lang was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later.

Lang, who was formerly in the employ of Walker at the hop yard, came to the latter's home in Eugene and began to abuse Walker's aged mother. Walker resented this and a quarrel ensued. Walker secured a shotgun in an adjoining room and fired at Lang, the entire charge of birdshot entering his right leg between the knee. The wound is deep and the bone is broken. Lang was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later.

Oregon-Idaho Congress Goes On Record as Favoring District Railroad Plan and Government Support of Malheur Project.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Ontario, Or., March 27.—A resolution was adopted at the afternoon session of the congress asking the county courts of Malheur and Harney to construct a road from Ontario to Burns suitable for an automobile highway. The congress is taking steps to unite with other organizations, who have measures to submit to the vote of the people, to submit their amendment to the constitution, authorizing the construction of state railroads, at a special election in September, 1909.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Ontario, Or., March 27.—The Oregon-Idaho Development congress will go on record as favoring state or district owned railroads, and government aid for the Malheur project. Colonel Wood and Colonel Hofer were cheered to the echo when in strong terms they condemned the attitude of the Portland morning daily in opposing the state owned railroad scheme. Frank Davey of Burns, in his address yesterday afternoon, said:

"It is our plain duty to build this railroad across the state, opening up the great inland empire."

Reilly Alderson, secretary of the Hoise Commercial club, prophesied that the road would be built it would be extended on to Butte and connect with transcontinental lines.

District Rail Plan Feasible.
E. M. Helghe, president and general manager of the Pacific and Idaho Northern, said to Evergreen, Idaho, said the district railroad plan was entirely feasible and pledged his support. Mr. Helghe said:

"A district containing 100,000 acres is worth $5 an acre before a railroad comes or $50,000. Suppose a railroad is built, costing $1,000,000. The land as a result goes to $100 an acre, or $10,000,000, making a net profit of $9,000,000. The cost of the road is $1,000,000. The net profit is $8,000,000. Considering the immense profit to the land, the railroad could, if necessary, be operated at a loss, still making the district added railroad profitable."

The opera house was crowded last evening to listen to Colonel Wood's address on "State Owned Railroads." He said there was nothing in the Oregon constitution to prevent the building of a road and except the provision against the state going $500,000 in debt for such a purpose, and clearly pointed out how that could and should be overcome.

Wood Scores E. M. Harriman.
He scored Harriman for bottling up the central part of the state by holding all of the mountain passes, and said Oregon would be compelled to. The only way to open up this vast region was for the state to take up the matter and condemn the Harriman right of way.

Four transcontinental lines are now trying to get into central Oregon, he said, and he said that the state should build the road from Ontario to Coos Bay and Portland, the two greatest cities in the state, and that the increased value of land along the route would more than pay for the cost of the road. The line would be completed as soon as completed if desired. No well informed persons were opposed to this plan except the Harriman interests.

Ed Lang of Eugene Loses Leg and May Die as Result of a Shooting Affray.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., March 27.—Ed Lang, who was shot in the leg yesterday afternoon by William R. Walker at the latter's home near Eugene, is in a critical condition at the general hospital here. Physicians state that if he lives through the day he will have a chance for recovery. He was near death several times last night but his strong vitality kept him up.

Walker has been released on $2000 bonds. He says he knows very little of yesterday's affair, as he was very much under the influence of liquor when the shooting occurred. When brought to Eugene in an auto yesterday by Sheriff Brown he was so drunk that he could not stand and immediately after taken to the sheriff's office fell into a deep sleep from which he did not awaken until this morning. In case Lang dies the charge against Walker will be changed from assault with intent to kill to manslaughter.

Lang, who was formerly in the employ of Walker at the hop yard, came to the latter's home in Eugene and began to abuse Walker's aged mother. Walker resented this and a quarrel ensued. Walker secured a shotgun in an adjoining room and fired at Lang, the entire charge of birdshot entering his right leg between the knee. The wound is deep and the bone is broken. Lang was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later.

Lang, who was formerly in the employ of Walker at the hop yard, came to the latter's home in Eugene and began to abuse Walker's aged mother. Walker resented this and a quarrel ensued. Walker secured a shotgun in an adjoining room and fired at Lang, the entire charge of birdshot entering his right leg between the knee. The wound is deep and the bone is broken. Lang was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later.

Oregon-Idaho Congress Goes On Record as Favoring District Railroad Plan and Government Support of Malheur Project.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Ontario, Or., March 27.—A resolution was adopted at the afternoon session of the congress asking the county courts of Malheur and Harney to construct a road from Ontario to Burns suitable for an automobile highway. The congress is taking steps to unite with other organizations, who have measures to submit to the vote of the people, to submit their amendment to the constitution, authorizing the construction of state railroads, at a special election in September, 1909.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Ontario, Or., March 27.—The Oregon-Idaho Development congress will go on record as favoring state or district owned railroads, and government aid for the Malheur project. Colonel Wood and Colonel Hofer were cheered to the echo when in strong terms they condemned the attitude of the Portland morning daily in opposing the state owned railroad scheme. Frank Davey of Burns, in his address yesterday afternoon, said:

"It is our plain duty to build this railroad across the state, opening up the great inland empire."

Reilly Alderson, secretary of the Hoise Commercial club, prophesied that the road would be built it would be extended on to Butte and connect with transcontinental lines.

District Rail Plan Feasible.
E. M. Helghe, president and general manager of the Pacific and Idaho Northern, said to Evergreen, Idaho, said the district railroad plan was entirely feasible and pledged his support. Mr. Helghe said:

"A district containing 100,000 acres is worth $5 an acre before a railroad comes or $50,000. Suppose a railroad is built, costing $1,000,000. The land as a result goes to $100 an acre, or $10,000,000, making a net profit of $9,000,000. The cost of the road is $1,000,000. The net profit is $8,000,000. Considering the immense profit to the land, the railroad could, if necessary, be operated at a loss, still making the district added railroad profitable."

The opera house was crowded last evening to listen to Colonel Wood's address on "State Owned Railroads." He said there was nothing in the Oregon constitution to prevent the building of a road and except the provision against the state going $500,000 in debt for such a purpose, and clearly pointed out how that could and should be overcome.

Wood Scores E. M. Harriman.
He scored Harriman for bottling up the central part of the state by holding all of the mountain passes, and said Oregon would be compelled to. The only way to open up this vast region was for the state to take up the matter and condemn the Harriman right of way.

Four transcontinental lines are now trying to get into central Oregon, he said, and he said that the state should build the road from Ontario to Coos Bay and Portland, the two greatest cities in the state, and that the increased value of land along the route would more than pay for the cost of the road. The line would be completed as soon as completed if desired. No well informed persons were opposed to this plan except the Harriman interests.

Ed Lang of Eugene Loses Leg and May Die as Result of a Shooting Affray.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., March 27.—Ed Lang, who was shot in the leg yesterday afternoon by William R. Walker at the latter's home near Eugene, is in a critical condition at the general hospital here. Physicians state that if he lives through the day he will have a chance for recovery. He was near death several times last night but his strong vitality kept him up.

Walker has been released on $2000 bonds. He says he knows very little of yesterday's affair, as he was very much under the influence of liquor when the shooting occurred. When brought to Eugene in an auto yesterday by Sheriff Brown he was so drunk that he could not stand and immediately after taken to the sheriff's office fell into a deep sleep from which he did not awaken until this morning. In case Lang dies the charge against Walker will be changed from assault with intent to kill to manslaughter.

Lang, who was formerly in the employ of Walker at the hop yard, came to the latter's home in Eugene and began to abuse Walker's aged mother. Walker resented this and a quarrel ensued. Walker secured a shotgun in an adjoining room and fired at Lang, the entire charge of birdshot entering his right leg between the knee. The wound is deep and the bone is broken. Lang was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later.

Lang, who was formerly in the employ of Walker at the hop yard, came to the latter's home in Eugene and began to abuse Walker's aged mother. Walker resented this and a quarrel ensued. Walker secured a shotgun in an adjoining room and fired at Lang, the entire charge of birdshot entering his right leg between the knee. The wound is deep and the bone is broken. Lang was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later, and was nearly dead an hour later.

BRYCE APOSTLE OF WORLD-CITIZENSHIP

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Berkeley, Cal., March 27.—"Be a world citizen. Don't spend too much time reading about your president or your own country. Read about all countries and learn something about the problems which are perplexing them." This is the advice given the students of the University of California by James Bryce, the British ambassador. The distinguished statesman told the undergraduates that he wished he had been born late enough to be entering the institution at Berkeley at the present date.

In making the second address in a series of five at Berkeley yesterday.

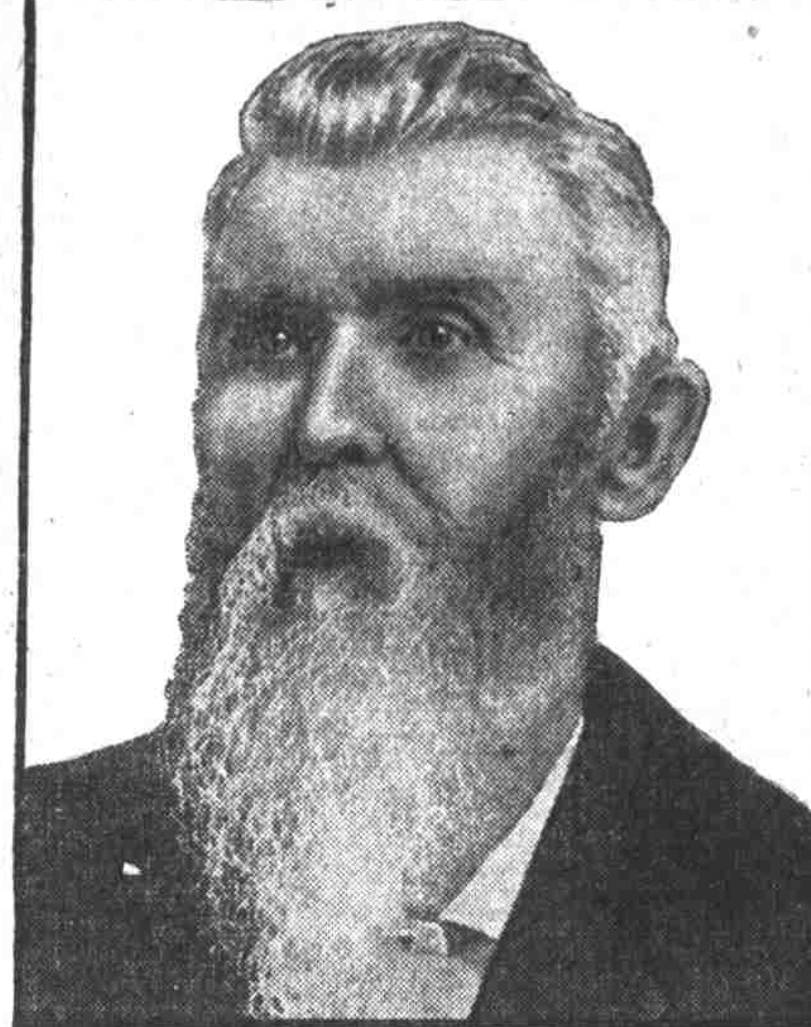

EARLE'S AFFINITY PLEADS DECEPTION

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Middleton, N. Y., March 27.—"He's a lunatic and has never been legally separated from his former wife. He led me to believe he had been divorced." Making this excuse for her sensational adventure with her "affinity," Julia Kuttner Earle has brought suit to annul the ties which bind her to Ferdinand Finney Earle, the Oregon county artist. Mrs. Earle said that the one child, born of their union, is adjudged the legitimate son of Earle and that she has awarded him custody. It is believed Earle, who has lately returned from a western trip, will fight the suit.

Free Theatre Tickets.

Every patron who inserts a cash want ad in next Sunday's Journal will be given a ticket to the Lyric theatre for next week. One ticket to a customer. For further particulars read announcement on want pages today.

Helped Build Lincoln's Cottage Only 35 Years Old in Spirit

MR. ANDY LEWIS FILLINGER, 84 Years Old.

Mr. Andy Lewis Fillingier, of Danville, Ill., who is 84 years old and helped to build a cottage for Abraham Lincoln about 1855, says he has been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey since that time as a tonic medicine with entire satisfaction. He feels like a man of 35.

April 4, 1908, Mr. Fillingier wrote: "As I now remember, I began using your medicine as a tonic and stimulant in about 1855, or at least at the time I was building Abraham Lincoln's house in the city of Springfield, Ill., and have continued its use until the present day with beneficial results."

"I am now past 84 years of age, and feel like a man of 35 years. I can truthfully say Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey gives entire satisfaction to the user."

Every testimonial is guaranteed genuine and is published in good faith with full consent.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If you wish to keep young, strong and vigorous and to have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions. It tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children; is a promoter of health and longevity; makes the old young and keeps the young strong. CAUTION—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It is the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles only; never in bulk. Price $1.00. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Write Consulting Physician, Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., for a free illustrated medical booklet and free advice.

There Is Only One Way To Succeed in Business

Tell the absolute truth. Stick just as close to the facts as though you knew that one single deviation from them would lose the sale. Be just as square and honest as you know how to the people with whom you are in communication. Do not try to cover up defects, if there are any. The customer will think more of you if you tell him these things. Do not be afraid to let the man or woman with whom you are talking business look you square in the eye. Follow these little rules and you cannot help but get business.

It's the Jacobs-Stine Way

Do not get sore at what a knocker says. Let him go the limit—say all the mean things he can. Keep uppermost in mind the stability, integrity and honor of your own firm and the merits of your own property. Let your selling argument be a survival of the fittest. Honor wins in the long run.

Wellesley-On-the-Hill

Is founded upon merit. The strongest argument in its favor is, let your customer see it. Let him realize that with one half a million people in Portland in 1912, lots in WELLESLEY-ON-THE-HILL will be in demand at four times the price at which they can now be obtained. That much for investment. For the homeseeker, WELLESLEY-ON-THE-HILL is a good place to live. It has every feature that every other part of Portland has, and a great many more. Get ready to go out and see the property Sunday. Take an East Ankeny-Hyde Park car at the corner of Third and Yamhill streets, ride to the end of the line, where automobiles will meet you and convey you to any part of WELLESLEY-ON-THE-HILL. Go out Sunday. Do not delay another minute after that day. The earlier in the day you visit the property, the better opportunity for a first-class selection. Later in the day the crowds become large and our salesmen cannot give you the attention they would like.

The Jacobs-Stine Company

Largest Realty Operators on Pacific Coast 148 Fifth Street

Oregon Life

Is Best for Oregonians