

COUGHS MAKE BOLD DASH FOR LIBERTY

LEADER DESIGNS HOW MEN DEFEYING GUARDS APPEAR IN COURT

Warden Curtis and Three Men of Salem Penitentiary Force Quickly Put an End to Desperate Jailbreak—Prisoners Saw Bars.

San Francisco, March 29.—All the cases of the United Railroads officials and employees and of the Burns men arrested Saturday were continued this morning in Judge Deasy's court until Wednesday for arraignment.

Frank J. Murphy, Ruff's attorney, was the only one of the defendants who announced himself ready for arraignment. He was arraigned and his case will be set for trial Wednesday morning.

J. H. Handien, claims agent of the United Railroads, Luther Brown, chief of the Calhoun protective agency, and William M. Abbott, chief counsel for Patrick Calhoun, appeared in court accompanied by Calhoun.

As soon as Judge Deasy took his seat Attorney James P. Sheehan of the United Railroads, who represented the defendants, made a motion for a continuance of one week. Assistant District Attorney Louis J. Ward objected to the continuance and stated that the prosecution was ready to proceed. He said he desired that the three men be arraigned at once.

After a conference between the court, the district attorney's representatives and the attorneys for the defendants, it was agreed that the cases be continued for two days.

Murphy hurries the proceedings.

Following the disposition of the cases of the United Railroads officials, Attorney Frank J. Murphy, charged with having purchased stolen reports, and Detective Burns' former deputies approached the bar. Murphy was represented by his clerk, Attorney C. M. Douglas. Douglas stated that his client Murphy was ready for arraignment.

At 12:30 A. P. Attorney Peery, representing Jerry Van Wormer, the United Railroads detective, asked for a continuance of Van Wormer's case for one week.

The length of the continuance asked by Peery was objected to by Ward, who suggested that the cases be continued until Wednesday morning at which time the date of arraignment will be set.

Cornin, the last man called, who is a Burns detective, stated that he expected to be represented by Senator Elms, and his case was continued with the rest until Wednesday.

Cornin, who has been on the detinue book since Saturday morning, was looked today as a warrant charging him with grand larceny. He is the last of the party to be charged.

Three brought in handcuffed.

There was a marked contrast between the entrance of the United Railroads employees and the men who confessed to William J. Burns to having stolen documents and reports from the district attorney's office.

Handien, Brown and Abbott, supported by Calhoun, walked into the courtroom as free men. Hamlin, McKinley and Platt were brought in under heavy guard, handcuffed.

Cornin remained in the city prison and was not charged until after court convened.

Two of the principals left the courtroom immediately after the disposition of their cases. Hamlin, McKinley and Platt were taken to the city prison and again looked in separate cells. Hamlin, McKinley and Cornin so far have been unable to secure bail. Platt was taken on $1000 bond furnished by the American Bonding company as soon as he was returned to the prison from the courtroom.

NOT MANY POLITICAL CHANGES CAUSED BY COSGROVE'S DEATH ENTER INTO COMPARE

Seattle, Wash., March 29.—The death of Governor Samuel G. Cosgrove cannot make much change in the politics of Washington just now. The new governor, M. E. Hay, will retain his appointees but will further his efforts toward his new reform political machine.

John L. Wilson and Samuel A. Perkins will continue to pull their strings on Hay and increase their efforts to make him believe he is a power and their map for reelection nearly four years from now, but in reality they are grooming W. H. Paultham of Puyallup for the gubernatorial position.

The first session of the committee to investigate Insurance Commissioner Schively and other state officers was to have been held at Olympia tomorrow but was postponed for two weeks on account of the death of Cosgrove.

Governor Cosgrove died yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock of heart disease, superinduced by the strain he had been under in the effort to overcome a bad attack of Bright's disease. The kidney trouble had been almost conquered by rigorous treatment, but in his weakened physical condition the governor was unable to withstand the shock when his heart began to fail him.

Governor Cosgrove was born in Ohio in 1847 and during the civil war fought with the Fourteenth Ohio volunteers. He was a member of the state constitutional convention and a McKinley and Roosevelt elector. Governor Cosgrove was a lifelong Republican.

For many years Mr. Cosgrove was a resident of Pomroy, Wash., where he practiced law. His fortune is estimated at $200,000. He leaves a family consisting of a widow, a son and two daughters.

SLAYERS LOOT MURDERER'S CABIN

Bullet Punctured Body Tells Mute Tale of Brutal Crime to Hunters.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Tacoma, Wash., March 29.—Lying 100 yards from his lonely cabin in the forest, a mile south of Summit station, on the old Puget Sound electric line, the body of Frank Moser, a rancher, 35 years old, was found by Tacoma hunters yesterday. Two bullet holes in the man's head, one in the chest and one in the left hand, indicate a brutal murder with robbery as the probable motive.

Two men from the body lay the hat and 15 feet away lay a handkerchief, either Moser's or the murderer's. The dead man's pockets had been rifled and his cabin plundered. In the latter Moser's purse lay on the floor, his combination lock open and the key on the trail and after slaying him robbed the man. Moser was a hard working Russian Pole who came here three years ago, buying the little place from a local real estate firm and working hard to make it a paying farm.

Belgrade, March 29.—The government of Serbia today received the ministers of England, France, Russia and Italy and agreed to accept the recommendation that she accept the ultimatum conditionally presented by England, but which in reality is the ultimatum of Austria in the Balkan dispute. It is hoped this action may relieve the general situation.

A dispatch to the Globe says King Peter and Queen Alexandra and their family are going to Switzerland and that the Princess Helena will go to Rome. King Peter still issues a manifesto advising the Serbs to accept the ultimatum presented by the Austrians and urging them to elect his successor and urging them to elect Prince Nicholas of Montenegro.

HOTELMEN TO CRAZY SNAKE BAND BESEIGED IN HILLS

Complete Preliminary Organization of Mutual Protective Association—Will Fight New Laws Detrimental to Business.

Portland's prominent hotelmen have organized for mutual protection and mutual benefit. The Portland hotel, the Imperial, the Perkins, the Oregon, the Cornelius and the Victoria took the initial steps and joined in the preliminary organization, which was effected at a meeting last Friday night. Mr. Dickinson of the Perkins and Frank Richardson of the Victoria were elected temporary president and secretary, respectively. The permanent organization will be consummated at a meeting to be held during the present week, probably Saturday.

For a long time the Portland hotelmen have been contemplating an organization for mutual protection and benefit, but up to the present have been unable to agree on any definite plan. It is intended that the organization shall settle several long standing disputes among the hotels of the city, will provide uniform regulation of the hotel business, will cut down the expenses of management and will look after possible hostile legislation, either by the city through restrictive regulations and ordinances or by the legislature through obnoxious laws.

Fought Fire Escape Bill.

The passage of the fire escape bill at the regular session of the legislature brought to the attention of the hotelmen the necessity for organization. The bill, as it was originally drafted and passed through the legislature for Portland hotels to have coils of rope in each room for use as fire escapes, even though the same hotel had fire escapes of iron. This clause was objectionable to the Portland hotel proprietors and many of them went to Salem during the session to have the bill amended so as not to apply to the Portland hotels. From this it was argued that the hotels had fire escapes of iron. OLD JAIL WALL TUMBLES DOWN

Three Laborers Killed at Los Angeles—Other Fatalities Expected.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., March 29.—Three men are known to be dead; two are probably fatally injured and three or four more dead bodies may be buried in the ruins of the old county jail building here, which collapsed this morning while it was being razed.

Rescuers are working in the ruins and Contractor D. Hennessy said at 10:30 o'clock that he was afraid the death list might be doubled. The dead: Frank Rowe, foreman, rescued while alive, but died shortly after being taken to receiving hospital.

Mike Warden, laborer, first name unknown. Probably fatally injured.

Louis Lambardo, laborer.

Charles Kane, laborer.

The injured men were hurried to the receiving hospital, where efforts to save them are being made, but little hope for their recovery is entertained.

1910 ELECTION TO MAKE STATE DRY?

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., March 29.—At a meeting of the local ministers with E. F. Zimmerman of Portland, as the representative of the Oregon Anti-Saloon League, it was decided this morning to call a convention of all the temperance forces of eastern Oregon to meet in Pendleton, April 22. The convention is called for the purpose of determining if conditions are ripe in eastern Oregon for voting on the question of statewide prohibition in 1910.

The decision comes as the result of a mass meeting held here last night, which was addressed by E. F. Zimmerman in order to promote the law's enforcement and to keep up local enthusiasm. These meetings are planned to be a regular monthly affair in the future.

The reason of the convention's discussion of the matter as statewide prohibition is that since the matter has been passed upon at Portland and the Williams vote the deciding vote will be that of eastern Oregon.

CRAZY SNAKE BAND BESEIGED IN HILLS

Irreconcilable Indian Chief Moves With Outlaws in Night to Natural Fortress. In Basin That Is Difficult of Assault, Five Companies of Militia in Field.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Stidham, Okla., March 29.—Chief Crazy Snake was located today with a number of Indians, heavily armed, lying in K'avinne two miles from the site of his former camp, which he abandoned last night. The Indians' position is in a natural fortress, with but one approach, permitting a few men to stand off an army.

Five companies of state militia are still camped at Hickory Ground, according to today's advice.

Early firing reported in the hills was done by a volunteer posse.

No general fight occurred during the morning and it is understood negotiations for an amicable settlement are under way, owing to the impracticability of Crazy Snake's stronghold.

Signal fires have been sighted and it is believed they are calls for assistance and reinforcements by Crazy Snake. The chief now has more than 100 of his tribe and number of horses.

Twenty-four negroes and halfbreeds have been killed since the trouble began at Hickory Ground, according to Dr. Wallace, who attended the wounded. The surgeon stated that three bodies were found Thursday after the fighting of that day, eight Friday, six Saturday and seven yesterday. The men were
