

HORSEKNOCKS MESSENGER DOWN

Paul Hansen, A. D. T. Employee, Trampled Under Hoofs of Runaway Animal and Dragged Half Block, Is Badly Injured.

Paul Hansen, aged 16, runaway, youthful wanderer and of late messenger boy, is in St. Vincent's hospital with a badly trampled hand, a painfully wrenched right elbow, a bruised and battered jaw and concussion of the brain. He was run down by a frightened horse at the corner of Second and Washington this morning at 8:30 o'clock, tangled up with his bicycle and dragged for half a block under the wheels of the vehicle before the driver, W. G. Jenks, could stop his horse. The youthful victim of the accident will recover, according to Dr. George B. Storey, who was called to attend him.

Jenks, who is a driver and solicitor employed by the Blake-McFall company, was driving down Second street this morning when the horse, a recent importation from the country, took sudden fright at a Burnside street car rounding the corner from Washington into Second, and bolted down Second street just ahead of the rig, and turning in answer to the warning cry of Jenks, swerved his wheel directly in front of the runaway animal.

The shoulder of the horse struck him, throwing him to the pavement, tangled in his bicycle. The bicycle was caught in the running gear of the wagon and was dragged for half a block before Jenks, assisted by bystanders, could stop the horse.

Hansen was lifted from under the rig and carried to a nearby drug store, the city having no receiving hospital, and the police were notified and Dr. George B. Storey was called.

Nearly half an hour elapsed before Dr. Storey reached the store, City Physician Ziegler in the meantime having refused to attend the case in view of the fact that Dr. Storey had been called.

While waiting for the physician Hansen writhed and groaned on a writing desk, where he had been laid by the witness of the accident. After Dr. Storey's arrival more time was necessary before the Red Cross ambulance could be notified to take the boy to the hospital.

Boy's Story is Told.
While waiting at the store young Hansen said that he had come to Portland a little more than a month ago from San Francisco. He said he was an orphan, both of his parents being dead. He was born at Summit, Or., he said.

CITIZENS' TICKET ELECTED; FERRY PURCHASE DEFEATED

A. MESSON, RECORDER.

J. F. HENDRICKS, MAYOR.

St. Johns voters yesterday elected the entire Citizens' ticket to office for the year of 1909 and in doing so expressed its confidence in the past administration, most of whose members were re-elected. J. F. Hendricks, the new mayor, is the only one of the executive officers not serving at the present time.

A hot fight was waged for the position of city attorney, but for every other office there was but little contest. Rumors of trades in the Green and Socialist camps by which the Socialists support for Green for city attorney caused consternation in the Green camp for a while, but they proved groundless. Collier received 231 votes while the Green and Socialist forces together controlled 230 votes. Green received 184 of these.

but had gone to San Francisco for the death of his parents, and he had come to Portland to be with his brother, Waldemar Hansen, who was a messenger boy for the Hasty company. Paul himself works for the A. D. T. company, also at the place where he was living at 320 Front street.

At the lodgings on Front street, however, Waldemar Hansen, the brother, told a different story. He said Paul had run away from home several months ago, going to San Francisco. Later he had come to Portland to be with Waldemar.

S. Hansen, who owns a small farm near West Salem, is the father of the two boys. Both are quiet and well behaved, attending to their own business, making no disturbance in the house, and keeping to themselves.

Waldemar was in bed when told of his brother's accident, having worked on the night shift of the Hasty service, hurriedly dressed and went to the hospital to visit his injured brother. The Blake-McFall company is paying the hospital and two days' wages to the young sufferer. The parents are well known residents of West Salem.

Keep Bachelor's Hall.
Mrs. S. J. Eppier, the proprietress of the rooming house at 20 1/2 Front street, where the two boys are keeping bachelor hall, has been taking a motherly interest in her two youthful roomers for some time. Several weeks ago Paul, the injured boy, came to her, she said, and looked at one of her rooms, saying he was looking for a friend who was at work and could not come. He engaged a room and the next day the older boy put in his appearance.

Mrs. Eppier noticed, however, that the younger boy slipped into the room after the older one had rented it, both making it their home. She lectured them for this, telling them that they were virtually stealing their room rent. The two boys then took a housekeeping room in which they have since lived.

Both of the boys are quiet and well behaved, attending to their own business, making no disturbance in the house, and keeping to themselves.

KETTLER FAILS TO APPEAR IN COURT

Fritz C. Kettler, who was to have been tried today on the charge of poisoning Anna L. Babcock's dog and thereby "wantonly injuring an animal," did not appear in the circuit court this morning. After hearing explanations that Kettler had misunderstood the date, Judge Morrow continued the case, the understanding being that it will be taken up at the first opportunity.

DEEP SEATED COUGH CURED IN 5 HOURS

New Home-Made Syrup. (Cut this out.)
From Boston Press.

Progress in medical compounds never ceases, and now it is stated by a prominent medical man that any deep-seated cough or cold on the lungs can be actually cured in five hours by the clock. Opium and morphine have been resorted to in the past, as relief measures. But now it is learned that the system must be treated to rid it of inflammation and congestion. A tonic laxative cough syrup does the work so quickly and thoroughly as to be almost magical. What heretofore has taken weeks to cure can be accomplished in hours. Get this formula, or mix it at home, and always keep it on hand. One-half ounce fluid white cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardui and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Shake the bottle and take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day until the system is purified and toned up. Give children less according to age. One SUIVING usually cures a whole family, as the dose is small.

SAYS ARMOUR TAKES AT RANDOM

C. C. Colt, President of the Union Meat Company, Declares That Swifts Have Not Slightest Intention to Abandon Packing Plant.

C. C. Colt, president of the Union Meat company, is at a loss for an interpretation of Harold Armour's visit to Portland.

"I never met the man," he declared this morning. "I will add," he continued, "that no Armour has any right to interfere in any way with the construction of our plant here. His statement that inadequate transportation facilities will delay the completion of the plant is not true. We have 200 men on our payroll, which amounts to several thousands of dollars per week, and all are working as hard as they can to get the plant ready for active operation by July."

"Armour left a wrong impression when he said that when he departed in any way with the local concern. This is not a project of Swift & Co., but of Swift alone. The Armour is not connected with the local venture in any way."

A touch of mystery was given Armour's visit here when he departed last night, accompanied by his real estate man, A. Herman, for Chicago, by way of Chicago. Armour had announced his intention yesterday of remaining until Thursday. During a conversation yesterday afternoon he stated that his people were dissatisfied with local transportation facilities and added that he would spend all of today in the search of new locations. The departure last night was accordingly made with little or no publicity. Both Armour and Herman seemed greatly perturbed by the contents of a message they received.

Mr. Colt declared this morning that he believed the reason for Armour's visit was to leave the impression that the Union Meat company did not intend to keep its word in regard to the construction of a plant on the peninsula.

"We fought against such reports for three years," the packer declared. "We have no intention of departing from our original purpose. Do you suppose for a moment that the Swift interests would deliberately sink thousands of dollars in deep-seated facilities and then leave without adequate reason? Why, that would make them look like fools, not to mention me."

"The transportation facilities in Portland are the best in the west. Our plant has the best location in the city. We have access now to the Hill and Harriman lines. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul will pass close to us. We are deep-seated facilities and any part of the world. What better could anyone ask? We are eminently well satisfied with our location and will continue to build as has been announced heretofore."

SIMON TO BE NOMINEE

inee should Senator Simon refuse at the last moment, definitely and finally, to become a candidate, thus leaving his friends in a quandary without a leader. Dr. J. B. Wetherbee, J. W. Hodson, and Phil Metchan, C. W. Hodson, M. C. George and others hitherto mentioned in brief in this statement, are anxious for the consideration of the convention. Since yesterday the boom of the old-time political leader has risen like a tidal wave among the delegates, and it threatens to sweep the convention off its feet tomorrow morning. Throughout the day delegates called upon Senator Simon urging him to consent to have his name placed before the convention and to accept nomination. He was told that should he give his consent the convention would come to him practically to a man.

Gratified With Offer.

The senator, however, was cautious and in brief it must either be all Simon or all Smith when the convention casts its vote tomorrow morning. Senator Smith is friendly to Dr. Simon, and Dr. Smith is friendly to Senator Simon. Neither is out for the nomination against the other and either one would be willing to see the other receive the nomination.

Should the convention nominate Senator Simon, Dr. Smith will join in the applause. Should he reverse be true, Senator Simon will not be displeased. But should the nomination go to Senator Smith, he would want it to be a landslide, and the same desire would abide in the consciousness of Dr. Smith should his name be on the list.

Only One Contest.

Judging from the gossip of today the convention will nominate a candidate for mayor, draft a platform, pass a few resolutions calling for the universal harmony of the Republican party, pledge unity of purpose, and then adjourn. Since there is no contest for city auditor, city attorney and city treasurer there seems to be a common sentiment that it would be well to endorse the candidates for these offices.

AN OBSTACLE TO ROAD UP DESCHUTES

atious delays for the railroad. It is understood that the promoters of this new and enormous irrigation scheme realize that their project will not all the country on the lower Deschutes and that they will be unable to construct their dam if the railroad is allowed to build through the canyon.

Besides this irrigating project there still remains the Deschutes Power & Development company, one of the original objectors to the construction of the road through the canyon bed. This concern has as yet expended no money in construction work, and comparatively little is known of its plans and purposes.
