

SALOON FOES HOPE FOR VICTORY

Confident McKenna Charter Amendment Will Be Carried at Coming Election—Would Deal the Liquor Traffic Severe Blow.

Drastic revision of the laws governing the liquor traffic in Portland, as provided for in the charter amendment drafted by Francis I. McKenna, is confidently predicted by people who are watching the trend of public sentiment against the saloons.

City Auditor Barber is now checking up the names on the petition for the McKenna amendment preliminary to having it placed on the official ballot. Everywhere that the petition was circulated its signers have expressed themselves hopeful that it will be voted upon favorably by the voters at the coming election.

Should the McKenna amendment be adopted the saloon business will be revolutionized in Portland. An excise board is provided for and this board would have absolute jurisdiction over the traffic. Licenses could be issued and revoked by the board at will. The council would have nothing whatever to say in the matter.

The new law would make a saloon an unattractive place for patrons. One of the provisions prohibits chairs, tables or any furniture except a bar, in any room where liquor is sold. The entire interior of a saloon must be visible from the street.

Restaurants are not permitted to obtain liquor licenses. Any intoxicating liquor procured by patrons of these places must be paid for on delivery by the waiter and the liquor must be brought in sealed packages or bottles and opened at the table. This provision would prohibit the drinking of draft beer in cafes.

Under the proposed regime any citizen who feels morally certain that liquor is being sold illegally in any building, whether he has proof or not, may appear before the county court and obtain a search warrant and with the aid of the police raid the place. The presence of liquor on the premises is considered sufficient evidence of guilt and the parties in whose possession it is found are fined not less than $100 therefor.

These are only a few of the more sweeping changes that would be brought about by the passage of the McKenna amendment.

One of the tender mistakes, abounding in such words as "girlie," "pet," "darling," "dear," and "love," was placed in evidence. It was not read aloud, as Mrs. Chitwood's attorney remarked that he was not accustomed to writing such things, and the judge remarked that he was not used to reading them, so he would consider it read.

Mrs. Chitwood said that her husband called her names and threw her relatives out of the house, although he gave his own relations the freedom of the house. They were married in October, 1905. The wife will resume her maiden name, Marie J. Swanson.

Lenora May Hiett secured a divorce from James E. Hiett, because he has not written to her for nearly three years. She said that in his last letter, in May, 1906, he told her he would send her money as soon as he received his check that month, he being then in South Dakota and she at Laurel, Or. After that she never heard from him, and does not know where he is. They were married in 1899.

Divorce on the ground of desertion was granted to Knopf Knopf from Ruth Knopf, nee Minkler, to whom he was married in May, 1905. She left him in November, 1907.

Likewise on the ground of desertion, Mickle Gillotti was granted a decree from Sarah Emma Gillotti. They were married in October, 1904, and separated in February of last year.

LINE INTO BEND FROM THE SOUTH

Recent Activities Point to Extension of Harriman's California Road.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Bend, Or., April 15.—Reports reaching this place from Klamath Falls have led some to believe that Harriman may be intending to build his railroad into this section from the south, thus opening up this part of the state to San Francisco and the coast. It is reported that a Harriman crew has been working all winter on winter on a line of road, 10 miles north of Klamath Falls. The reports reaching Bend state that a contract for grading 30 miles of road has been let and that work has commenced.

In connection with these reports it is being claimed that several San Francisco commercial men have visited Bend recently and stated that while they did not expect information regarding their plans to be made public, they were here to work up future business; that their houses would not send them here without information regarding them that the San Francisco wholesale houses would soon have this field opened up to them.

The fact that the Harriman lines are known to have heavy interests in San Francisco and California in general, lends further credence to the belief that he may be trying to annex this territory to the San Francisco field.

DESPERATE DESERTER RESISTS; IS KILLED

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, April 15.—After a desperate battle in which his face was cut to ribbons, Patrolman John Anderson shot and killed a Japanese deserter from one of the ships in the harbor who resisted arrest, early today. When the policeman attempted to place the Japanese under arrest in a lodging house, where he had been hiding, the deserter drew a knife and attacked him. They clinched and struggled down the hallway of the lodging house and into the street, the policeman receiving a number of severe wounds. He realized that he could not disarm the Japanese and drawing his gun, he shot him through the heart, killing him instantly.

The Japanese's name was learned to be Tomio Kawano. He deserted from the liner Chitru Maru.

One of the tender mistakes, abounding in such words as "girlie," "pet," "darling," "dear," and "love," was placed in evidence. It was not read aloud, as Mrs. Chitwood's attorney remarked that he was not accustomed to writing such things, and the judge remarked that he was not used to reading them, so he would consider it read.

Whether the Harriman lines will decide to meet the rates of the northern lines fixed by the commission as regards the St. Paul-Spokane business or whether they will decide to go out of the business between those two points has not yet been decided.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

He carried it home. A few days ago a prospector passing through this city stopped at the Carter home. He noticed the rock and told Carter it was highly mineralized. Carter sent it to a Portland assayer. The report just received shows that the rock contains, ten cents, $5.70 in copper, $5 in gold and 30 cents in silver. Carter has made an examination of the locality where the rock was picked up and says there seems to be a quantity of the same kind of rock. He will locate a claim.

LOCATION FOR MUTE SCHOOL IS CHOSEN

(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.)
Salem, Or., April 15.—Fifty four acres of land, adjoining Salem on the north end of the Oregon Electric Railway, have been chosen for the new location of the mute school. The tract includes three farms known as the Bartholomy, Giddings and Bonham places. The price asked for the entire 54 acres is $17,425. The legislature at its last session authorized the moving of the mute school from its present location because of the unsatisfactory conditions existing at the old site.

There is plenty of room on the new location to provide for future expansion and for gardens and building sufficient to maintain an efficient institution for the teaching of mute children.

FAKE KIDNAPER PLEADS GUILTY

Milton Youth Who Lost His Nerve Will Be Sentenced Saturday.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pendleton, April 15.—The grand jury today reported seven new indictments. One told Toby Bush for trial for killing elk out of season and another charges Leonard A. Raup with attempt to blackmail by means of a fake kidnap scheme.

In the former case Bush, who is a well known rancher in the Birch creek section, came to town a few weeks ago and told how he had killed a large elk near his ranch. The elk was far down the timber line and was a magnificent specimen. Bush openly boasted of the killing and as a defense stated that at this particular time there was no penalty against such an act. His argument was that the old game law had been repealed and the new law passed by the legislature was defective and could not be corrected until the meeting of the special session of the legislature which Governor Benson had just called. It was evident that the district attorney and the grand jury did not see the logic of the argument, for they today held him to appear before the next term of court.

The second true bill returned was that against Leonard A. Raup, the Milton kid of 20, who tried a fake kidnaping game on his uncle, S. A. Miller, former mayor of Milton, and missed getting the $100 which he demanded only because he lost his nerve at the last minute. Young Raup had written a letter to his uncle telling him that a mysterious man had captured his nephew (young Raup, himself) and that unless the uncle left $1200 at a certain spot on the railroad track, near Milton, that not only would the nephew be burned at the stake but in addition the five-year-old girl of the former Milton mayor would be killed. The uncle once sent for the sheriff, and in the meantime drew out of the bank the $1200 in gold.

About this time young Raup appeared, saying that he had escaped from the kidnapers. The officers suspected him and he was arrested and brought to Pendleton, where he later confessed, giving as an explanation that he needed the money.

On being brought before the grand jury, young Raup entered a plea of guilty. Sentence will be passed upon him by Judge Beas Saturday morning.

The other indictments returned by the grand jury relate to cases of thievery.

MAIL CLERKS PUT THROUGH PACES

Examinations of railway postal clerks for Oregon and Washington under the supervision of F. W. Whitney, chief clerk of the railway mail service for the district, with office in Portland, illustrates the tremendous amount of memory work which a postal clerk must perform before he can satisfactorily hold his position.

As soon as the Idaho postal clerks begin making up the mail consigned to Oregon and Washington, before each of them is a large case with a compartment for the mail to be sent to each office. There are 1000 of these offices in Washington and 900 in Oregon. To make speed the clerk must know the place for each consignment. When he comes to the Portland mail as must divide it according to the routes traversed by various carriers. By the time the train reaches Portland each carrier's packages must be made up and ready for delivery.

The clerk has no time for hesitation. He must know exactly where to place each letter and paper. The examination consists of filing cards instead of letters in a case set up in the mail office. If the clerk does not make an average of 38 per cent or above, he receives a letter of reproof from the superintendent. Most of them make a high grade, but their ability is the result of long practice.

Little Jack Horner sat in a corner eating his Christmas pie,
He let a piece fall on his waist and said "What a careless boy am I,
But I needn't worry about this stain,
Fels-Naptha'll make it all clean again."

Did you ever think of the difference between washing and cleaning?
You can wash with any kind of soap in any kind of water, hot or cold.
You can boil clothes and rub them on a washboard until your back aches.
All that is washing.
But it isn't always cleaning.
Most soaps are just washing soaps.
They furnish a little lather and let you do the work.
Fels-Naptha is a cleaning soap.
It works all by itself in cool or lukewarm water, saving all the trouble and discomfort of boiling and hot suds.
Fels-Naptha Soap cleans your clothes.
It really reaches the dirt and dissolves it.

It does this while the soaped clothes are soaking in cool or lukewarm water, while you are thinking of something else or resting.
When Fels-Naptha Soap gets through with them—thirty minutes or so is long enough—you rub lightly, rinse the clothes and they're cleaner, sweeter and whiter than you could get them by washing all day in the old-fashioned manner.
You'll find directions for using Fels-Naptha printed on the back of the red and green wrapper.

Are You a Lard Eater?

Half the time when a person feels blue and out of sorts you may take it for granted that he is a victim of the "lard habit." Lard-cooked food and good stomachs are never friends for long. Lard food is not healthful food and no ordinary stomach can thoroughly digest it.

Lard is greasy, indigestible, and sometimes absolutely harmful; Cottolene makes food digestible, nutritious, delicious. Cottolene is the perfect shortening and frying medium. It is pure and healthful. It contains not an ounce of hog-fat.

Cottolene is one of the products which pure food advocates always endorse.
