(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, April 20.—Secretary Bal-nger has decided that Harriman may build the Deschutes railread through the canyon, subject to certain restric-tions which will be imposed. The per-mission will be under the distinct un-derstanding that construction shall commence immediately. Railroad rights are not to be acquired, as they have often been in the past, to be held in-definitely, under a "dog in the manger" policy, merely to keep other companies from the use of rights of way. Desgon people who are now here seem convinced that the prospect is ex-cellent for the construction of the road in the near future and that matters will be adjusted so that the railroad and the reclamation service may co-operate. Deschutes railroad through the

It is probable the secretary will not accept the recommendation of the recla-mation service engineers to entirely abandon the Deschutes plan, but will so edjust matters that the arid lands in-volved may be reclaimed if it is pos-sible to do so. San Francisco in the primaries this spring. Francis J. Heney today said: "I cannot consider it for a moment. I cannot allow my name to be used for any office whatever." As the local political pot has begun to boil and the continuance of the graft prosecution, after the expiration of the terms of the present city and county officials is being made an is-sue, this statement by Heney is consid-ered important b ythose who are prom-linent in the local situation.

Both Attorney Cotton and General lanager O'Brien of the O. R. & N.

Manager O'Brien of the O. R. & N. company stated today that they doubt-ed that any official approval had been given the report of the reclamation en-gineers, because they had received no notification of it of any kind. "I have heard nothing from Wash-ington," said Mr. O'Brien, "and I be-leve that under the circumstances I would have been notified in some way if Secretary Ballinger had taken such metion. In fact, I am not at all certain that Mr. Ballinger has the right to Hmit us as to time, although that is a purely legal question." NO SENSATION

Blow at Entire System. The government's object in bringing the suit is not only to compet the Har-riman interests to relinquish the con-trol of the Union Pacific, which avolds competition between the Great North-ern and the Union Pacific, but to com-pel a similar giving up of control of every Harriman line running parallel to any other line of the same ownership, by which ownership trade and com-merce is restricted and competition de-stroyed. The success of the suit means the overthrow of the entire Harriman system, which at present, with its con-necting lines, girdles the United States. Much history is contained within the bill of complaint filed with the federal circuit clerk by C. A. Severance, special representative of the United States at-torney general. The transfer of 900,000 shares of stock in 1991, by which Har-iman the bill of stock in 1991, by which Hartorney general. The transfer of 960,000 shares of stock in 1991, by which Har-riman made the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific practically continua-tions of each other under the same con-trol, is explained in detail. The devious from one brokerage firm to another and finally to Schiff & Kahn in New York, at that time the chosen manipulators of Harriman schemes, are carefully noted.

An amazing knowledge of the agents Harriman has employed, the plans he has made, and even of his supposed most secret thoughts is displayed. The most secret thoughts is displayed. The weak points in the chain are named and the ability of the government to show that these weak places are fatal to a continuation of the Harriman monopoly, is stated to be a thing assured. Frightened by the evidence strength being shown among the mass of the voters of the city by A. G. They say that the Baker theatre convention was not framed up for the nomination of Simon, but that the friends of the senator "got away" with the frame up.

Beach, but that the plan fell down, and it then swung to Dr. J. R. Wetherbee. The Wetherbee boom then burst and the convention managers then got in behind C. W. Hodson, but that they were not careful in the selection of the delegates and the convention "got away" and stampeded to Simon. There-fore, they contend that the convention was not "framed" for Simon, because the friends of Simon broke the slate." It is also denied that Senator Simon

The point raised which was decided affirmatively, was whether this state, by virtue of the logislative enactments, may obtain jurisdiction of the person of the defendant by a service of the summons upon its attorney in fact and resident general agent, in this case John W. clear the ground. With the usual uniqueness which ac-companies popular movements in Walla Walla, the pioneer saloon and the pio-neer church go down together. At the corner of Second and Poplar streets the abandoned First Methodist Episcopal church is being dismantled, this being the oldest structure dedicated to the worship of God in the entire Walla Walla valley. Over 45 years ago the edifice was erected by a faithful class of about, a score, and at the time it was a much better building than either the organization or the town could af-ford. But the builders saw into the fu-ture, and it was but a few years until the seating capacity was taxed. Since ture, and it was but a rew years until the seating capacity was taxed. Since that time the Methodists have been working to secure a better and more modern building. A few years ago a new church, known as Wilbur memo-rial, was erected to remove the conges-tion, and for two years the congregation of the ploneer church has been planning new 550 000 place of working of the pioneer church has been blanning a new $50,000 place of worship. The old building is in a rapidly de-veloping business district, and the land has been sold for $15,000 cash, as a site for a new office building. Tha necessity of abandoning the church came last week, and the old frame structure is being demolished by work-men who have no idea of the sacred memories which surrounded the plain white building in which President Hayes was tendered a public reception on his trip to the west over a score of years ago, and in which many prominent gath-erings have been held. Two blocks from the church stands the only log building in Walla Walla. Nobedy who has been here less than a quarter of a century knows that the building is of crude logs, for it has been veneered with polished oak and plate glass until it has become the foremost "haberdashery" front in the city. But the crude logs are there just as they were placed half a century ago, and they are now to be removed that a briek hank building may find a slip ized under the laws of the state of Call-fornia. Chief Justice Moore holds that the state has jurisdiction by county of re-lation under circumstances such as are enumerated in this case. The case of H. F. Rietzel vs. S. P. Couroy and the Madras Milling & Mer-cantile company was affirmed in an opinion written by Chief Justice Moore. This case was brought to procure a dis-solution of a partnership and was ap-pealed from the circuit court for Crook county, W. L. Bradshaw, judge. A motion to dismiss the case of the state ex rel O. N. Ford vs. T. S. Fields was allowed. The case was appealed from the circuit court for Multhomah county, C. U. Gantenbein, judge. The opinion was written by Justice Slater. Motion for rehearing was denied in two cases: Benjamin Young and others vs. the Columbia Land & Investment court of Clatsop county, Thomas A. Mo-Bride, Judge: affirmed by the supreme court February 9, opinion by Justice Eakin; and Frank J. Neal and others vs. L. Bradshaw, judge. It was argued and submitted December S; the opinion was written by Justice Slater.

The old saloon build-ing adjoins the Baker-Boyer bank on Main street, and as the business of the bank has exbanded beyond the quarters occupied, a larger building is to be con-structed this summer. When sawmills were first introduced in this section, nearly 60 years ago, one of the first structures to be built was a crude residence, on what is now East Main street. Since the early days it has been known as the "Dodd house." It occupies a corner in the business dis-trict and is now being torn down that a store building may occup the land. Many years ago the old house was re-modeled as a cheap lodging house, but is was afterwardc considered a fire trap, and for some time has been abandoned Southern Pacific have been requested to be present. Heretofore the heavy coast line traf-fic of the Southern Pacific has passed through this city, and the first intima-tion of the proposed change in the route was given to the chamber Tuesday by Walter Trinkler, president of the Mer-chants' association. Trinkler stated that on the completion of the tunnel at Laurel the trains over the coast line f would he run into San Francisco by way of Santa Crus and Los Gatos.
