

DEFINITE DEAL BY SHUBERT MAN

It Is Supposed the Columbia, Leased at San Francisco, Is Theirs.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, April 30.—It is believed here today that W. B. Pringle's lease of the former site of the Columbia theatre was secured at the instigation of the Shubert interests. Pringle, who is the local representative of the Shuberts, would neither confirm nor deny the report that the eastern theatrical magnates intended to erect on the site one of the handsomest playhouses in the west. He stated, however, that work on a class building at this location would begin in the near future, and it is generally supposed the building will be the home of the Shubert productions. The lessees agreed to pay for a 20-year lease, $12,000, or $150 a month. The deal will be closed today.

"EAT CALIFORNIA RAISINS," THEY CRY

Los Angeles, Cal., April 30.—"Eat California raisins" was the slogan today throughout a large section of the country. Advice received from many points give evidence of a widespread observance of "Raisin day," as a result of the concerted effort of the raisin growers of California to advertise their product and promote a larger consumption of the fruit, which they claim is fully as nourishing as beef. In order to acquaint the people at large with the value of raisins as an article of food, thousands of pounds of the most delicious raisins grown in California were distributed free throughout the United States and Canada. Boxes of raisins were presented to President Taft, his cabinet, to members of congress, governors of states, and other public men throughout the land. The Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe and other railroads observed the day by making raisins a free item on the bills of fare in all their dining cars, and to further extol the virtues of the California product millions of stickers, posters and folders were distributed broadcast from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from

PENNSYLVANIA LAW LINKS ALL RAILROADS

A bill of the Pennsylvania state legislature now awaiting action of the governor is of much interest to Oregon railroad people as it confers upon electric railroads the right to make arrangements for the full interchange of freight with steam railroads, and a companion measure which has progressed to the same stage permits electric railroads of the state to carry heavy freight. If these two bills become a law the transportation situation in Pennsylvania probably will be greatly affected, and a number of new and radical changes in freight arrangements at several points are expected to be put in force at once. Senator Wolf, who is a director of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company, was the actual sponsor of the bills, and it is understood to be his opinion that the department stores of Philadelphia will at once use the subway to get their goods delivered to the residence districts at night, and in that event within a year and a half the income of the rapid transit company will be increased nearly $1,000,000 through the freight department alone. It is also believed in some quarters that the Pennsylvania railroad intends to make use of trolley roads to sections not now reached by the system, and that the Pennsylvania may endeavor to obtain exclusive interchange with the trolley companies in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

GREAT PROHIBITION DEBATE AT CHICAGO

Chicago, April 30.—Orchestra hall, spacious though it is, promises to be entirely inadequate to accommodate the crowd that will seek admission tonight to hear the debate on the prohibition question between President Samuel Dickle of Albion college and Mayor David S. Rose of Milwaukee. No event of a similar nature that has ever taken place in Chicago has attracted so much attention. In order to insure a representative attendance the tickets were given for distribution to the board of trade and other commercial organizations and to the leading clubs. The supply of tickets was exhausted several days ago and though liberal premiums are being freely offered none is to be had today. Many requests for tickets were received from points throughout Illinois, Wisconsin and neighboring states. The debate tonight will be the second in series between Dr. Dickle and Mayor Rose, in which the former speaks in favor of the total prohibition of the liquor traffic and the Milwaukee executive takes the opposite view. The agreement provides for a series of three debates. The first was held in Milwaukee several weeks ago and the third and final debate will probably be held in some city in the south the latter part of May.

OLIVE LOGAN NOT A PAUPER

London Dramatic Says She Had Money and Jewels, but Hints at Theft.

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, April 30.—That Olive Logan, the American authoress, died a pauper in the Hanstead asylum is indignantly denied by Corliss Claffin, the London dramatic agent who befriended her at the British capital. He stated that at the time of her death she possessed considerable money and jewelry and hints at a mystery surrounding their disappearance. Mrs. Logan was a member of the Lyceum club of Piccadilly. It is stated that several hundred pounds was awaiting her at the club rooms.

Death Roll of the Northwest

James McCord. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., April 30.—James McCord, a Lane county pioneer and a member of the Soldiers' home at Roseburg, died at Marcola, in this county, this week. He was visiting relatives. He was born in Cass county, Missouri, September 14, 1834, and came across the plains to Oregon in 1853, first settling in Lane county, where he had resided up to the time of entering the home a few years ago. He served in company D, mounted Oregon volunteers, during the civil war. He leaves a wife, a son and two daughters.

Louisa J. Sexton Hunter. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Brownsville, Ore., April 30.—Mrs. Louisa J. Sexton Hunter died at her home in Crawfordville, Oregon, Monday, after a week's illness of pneumonia. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter moved to Crawfordville about a month ago from Junction City, where they had lived for about three years, having moved there from Kansas.

SMUGGLING GANG LOST THIS SHIPMENT

(United Press Leased Wire.) Oakland, Cal., April 30.—That the firm of Abrahamson Brothers of this city, one of the largest dry goods houses on the coast, was an innocent victim of the gigantic smuggling plot recently revealed in New York became known here today. Two weeks prior to the discovery that the smugglers had shipped goods to California in the name of Miss Nellie Grant, granddaughter of Ulysses S. Grant, a valuable consignment of goods arrived at the local customs house for Abrahamson brothers. The firm expected no European shipment and the goods were brought here under bond and examined. The consignment was contained much costly bric-a-brac and other dutiable merchandise. Special Agent Frank Johnson was put on the case by the customs officials but was unable to clear up the matter and the goods were returned to New York. Following the exposure of the plot to get goods into the country by consigning shipments to well known importers, the officials have arrived at the conclusion that the name of the local firm was used by the gang and a report has been made to New York.

FRANCE IN FEAR OF MAY DAY TROUBLE

Paris, April 30.—France is looking forward with undisguised apprehension to the May day demonstrations tomorrow. Not in years has such a general condition of unrest prevailed among the working classes in all parts of the republic. The strikes of late have been both numerous and disastrous, notably those of the postal employees and telegraph operators in the government service and the button workers at Meru, where the strike was accompanied by bloodshed. That serious labor disturbances will be inaugurated tomorrow appears certain in view of the action of the General Federation of Labor and the Unions of Paris in calling upon the unions throughout the country to join in a general demonstrative strike. The authorities in Paris and other industrial centers of France, acting on general orders from the central government, are taking every precaution to suppress the threatened riotous outbreaks.

SCHOOL SENSATION STIRS WALLA WALLA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., April 30.—Quite a tempest has been stirred up in the local school teapot by the announcement that the board of education would ask for the resignation of Superintendent O. S. Jones and Principal E. J. Klemme of the high school. Both are known to have a large number of enemies, as well as a powerful coterie of friends. Superintendent Jones last spring secured the dismissal of Professor Shepherd of the high school—a member of the state board of education. In this he was assisted by Klemme. It was generally reported that Jones was afraid Shepherd would succeed to his place. Several other teachers were also dismissed during the tenure of the two and now it is thought that the friends of those who were ousted will get busy and even up the score. Superintendent Jones and Principal Klemme claim to know nothing of the matter.

Institute at White Salmon.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) White Salmon, Wash., April 30.—A farmers' institute, conducted by Professor W. S. Thornber, M. S., and Mrs. P. Ashburn and M. Olson of the state college at Pullman, was held here April 27 and 28. There was a representative attendance from all parts of the valley and western Klickitat county.
