LADD & BUSH WIN BANK CASE

Gilbert Decision Reversed—No Rehearing for Walton—Other Decisions.

(By Journal Leased Wire.) Salem, Or., April 30.—Discussing somewhat from the usual custom, the supreme court handed down three decisions today. It is unusual for the court to announce decisions more than once each week, and then only on Tuesdays. Because of the fact that Justice Bean will leave the bench today or tomorrow the custom was broken.

The most important case decided today was that of Ladd & Bush, owners of stock in the bank and came to the attention of the court because of the decision of the supreme court in the case of the Moscow National bank, which was decided in 1901, and Ladd & Bush, also of this city.

At the time of the failure of the Gilbert bank there was a run on the Moscow National, which was controlled by Gilbert Brothers. Ladd & Bush also owned stock in the bank and came to its rescue by rushing cash to Moscow to meet the demands of the depositors.

In the lower court Judge William Galloway rendered a decree in favor of the petitioners and adverse to Ladd & Bush. This decree is reversed by the supreme court in the decision rendered today.

A motion to rehear was denied in State vs. Charles W. Walton, a Multnomah county case. Walton was found guilty of assault with intent to kill in the case of Harrington vs. Sutter, appealed from the circuit court for Jackson county. K. Haines, judge, the appellant having allowed the time for taking the appeal to lapse.

HAYWOOD PAYS PORTLAND VISIT

Labor Leader Here on Campaign of Protest—Sees Trouble Ahead.

William D. Haywood, self-styled "The Underdog," came to Portland this morning to protest. He has been conducting a campaign of protestation throughout California and says he has been meeting with phenomenal success and encouragement. He will be one of the principal speakers at the labor meeting on Sunday and announced this morning at the Perkins hotel that he will attack a scheme of government that permits the present use of the injunction; that he will organize a militia organized to intimidate labor, and that he will try to elevate the minds of workmen above the consideration of the dollar—make them understand that their toil has no value when the wages they receive for it.

"I found 12,000 men out of work in San Francisco," declared Mr. Haywood. "If the scheme of reducing production is carried out, every coast city will suffer. I think it an unfortunate idea that property with high prices can be induced to return by curtailing production. I feel sure that the lumber mills should be kept running for there is certainly a demand for the lumber that the northwest produces.

"As for Portland—why it is the fairest city on the map; the New York of the west. Everything runs down hill to Portland. It has advantages that no coast city can equal, not even San Francisco, with the splendid harbor there. Nothing can mar Portland's future, but wrong treatment of the working class.

Mr. Haywood talked entertainingly of his past experiences. He said he had always protested because he believes that his particular mission. He was just as happy in jail running for governor of Colorado, at the same time during the Stoenberg trial, as he is now with his freedom and an opportunity to fight what he considers unbearable wrongs.

Haywood will deliver the principal address at the labor meeting to be held next Sunday in the Exposition rink. The meeting was planned by the Oregon labor leaders as a protest against the bill introduced by the United States court against Governor Mitchell and Morrison in the celebrated case of the Oregon coast and will be addressed by Haywood and other prominent labor representatives.

TO AVOID TARIFF DISCRIMINATION

Text of Maximum and Minimum Provision Gets Taft's O. K.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, April 30.—Senator Aldrich announced today that the text of the maximum and minimum features of the tariff bill had been agreed upon by the senate finance committee. The announcement was made at a meeting following a consultation with President Taft and Attorney General Wickesham, during which they placed their approval upon the plan.

The new section provides that the minimum rates shall be the same as those in the Aldrich bill, and that the maximum rate shall be 25 per cent ad valorem in addition to the rates specified in the bill.

It also provides a rate of 5 cents a pound on coffee and 10 cents a pound on tea, which had been free in the bill. The application of these higher duties is left to the discretion of the president.

In case of discrimination against the exports of the United States by foreign countries he is authorized to issue a proclamation putting the maximum rates into effect. The proclamation may apply the maximum rates to the discrimination country as a whole, or to a province or dependency, which discriminates against this country. This is left to the discretion of the president.

When discrimination ceases the president is authorized to terminate the application of the higher rates by proclamation.

The section says in part: "That from the 31st day of March, 1910, except as otherwise provided in this section, there shall be levied, collected or paid on articles when imported from any foreign country into the United States and any of its possessions, except the Philippines, the rates of duty prescribed by the schedules and paragraphs of the dutiable list in section one of this act, and in addition thereto 25 per cent ad valorem."

The text then proceeds to explain the provisions regarding the proclamation by the president in the event of discrimination by foreign countries. Continuing, the section says: "When the provisions of the general tariff of the United States shall be applicable to articles imported from any foreign country they shall be applicable to the products of such country whether imported directly from the country of production or otherwise."

M'CURBER WANTS GENERAL REDUCTION

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, April 30.—During the general discussion of the tariff in the senate today, M'Curber of North Dakota spoke in favor of a general reduction of the tariff. He declared the public had a right to expect this, and that he favored taking the tariff entirely off iron, coal, lumber and oil. He charged that the lumber companies were selling a high tariff so that they might secure exorbitant prices for their products.

STEELER TO PAY $2500 FINE

President of Butte Creek Company Sentenced for Land Conspiracy—H. H. Hendricks, Secretary, Gets 13 Months in Prison.

"Fines" is being inscribed in the annals of the Butte Creek Livestock, Land & Lumber company, in the federal court today. The net of government prosecution is closing around the members of the organization, convicted of conspiring for the fraudulent occupation of 20,000 acres of the public domain in Wheeler county.

Hamilton H. Hendricks, secretary and treasurer of the company, convicted of subornation of perjury, was sentenced to 13 months imprisonment on McNail's Island, also to pay a fine of $500. On a conspiracy charge to which Hendricks had pleaded guilty a $100 fine was imposed. W. H. Steeler, president of the company, convicted of conspiracy, was fined $2500 by Judge Hunt.

At the request of Special Prosecutor Tracy C. Becker, the sentence of C. B. Zachary, superintendent of the company, was deferred until the afternoon session of the court, as further consultation between attorneys was deemed necessary in this case. Hearing of the arguments on the motion for a new trial in the case of former United States District Attorney Hall was then commenced. Judge Lionel R. Webster, representing the defendant who was convicted of conspiracy in connection with the officers of the Butte Creek company.

Evidence Against Hall

Evidence produced at the former trial of Mr. Hall tended to establish that as United States district attorney he had protected members of the Butte Creek Livestock, Land & Lumber company in a conspiracy to fence 20,000 acres of land in Wheeler county, having been assured that President Steeler of the company, who at that time, in 1901, was state senator, could be induced to vote for George W. McBride as United States senator, rather than for Senator Joseph Simon, of whom Steeler had been up to that time an ardent supporter.

The main argument made by Judge Webster for a new trial was that in reaching a conviction a sufficient consideration of authorities had not been made. In imposing sentence upon Hendricks Judge Hunt stated that he had much respect for Hendricks' evident intelligence, and that even if Hendricks should serve a prison sentence he could still come out and begin life all over again with bright prospects. Hendricks asked for a day's delay in the execution of sentence that he might confer with his attorneys with a view to appealing the case, and this delay was granted.

Judge Hunt stated in connection with his sentence of Winlock W. Steeler that he considered the crime of conspiring to fence the public domain equal to an aggravated case of fencing itself, and that he was inclined to impose sentence in accordance with this view.

Will Go to San Francisco

Judge Hunt arrived in Portland this morning and appeared in the federal court room shortly after 10 o'clock. He stated that he would remain in Portland until tomorrow evening when he will leave for San Francisco, where he will sit as one of the judges in the United States circuit court of appeals. He is the understanding that the newly appointed federal Judge Bean will go to Helena and hold a session of federal court in place of Judge Hunt, who will probably be absent a month or more.

At the request of Special Prosecutor Becker the cases against George Sorenson and Dan W. Farley were passed indefinitely. Heman W. Stone, charged with land frauds in connection with the case of Glicier, was also passed indefinitely. It having appeared that the land which he was accused of holding fraudulently had been purchased before he had any information that Glicier was holding it illegally.

HAINS BREAKS DOWN IN COURT

(United Press Leased Wire.) Flushing, La., April 30.—Captain Peter C. Hains, on trial for the murder of William E. Annis, collapsed during today's session of the trial and was carried from the court by two deputies. It is stated that he is suffering from a complete nervous and mental breakdown. His cheeks are sunken and his eyes are circled with dark rings.

Thornton Jenkins Hains testified today. His direct story of the killing differed little from his original story told at his own trial.

General Peter C. Hains, father of the defendant, was cross examined but the prosecution was unable to develop anything of value.

ACCUSED OFFICIAL ON WAY TO SPOKANE

(United Press Leased Wire.) Oakland, Cal., April 30.—P. H. Hilliker, accused of embezzlement in Washington, is on his way to Spokane today in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Pugh. Hilliker is charged with the embezzlement of $15,000 while agent for the now defunct Pacific Livestock Insurance company of Spokane. It was in connection with this agency's failure that State Insurance Commissioner Behrley of Washington was indicted.

Claiming that he was merely an agent of the concern and that he had no knowledge of its affairs, Hilliker declared before his departure that he was a victim of the stockholders who, he alleged, were trying to throw the responsibility of their losses upon the officials of the company.
