Newspaper Men Give Supper.—A score or so of newspaper men of Portland attended a farewell supper in honor of C. D. Stratton at the Tennessee grill last night. Mr. Stratton, who has resigned as assistant city editor of the Journal to become assistant city editor of the Seattle Times, has been connected with the editorial department of Portland newspapers for the past five years, first with the Journal, then with the Oregonian, and later with the Journal. In returning to Seattle Mr. Stratton goes to a city that has been his home for the greater part of his life and in the newspaper circles of which he is perhaps even as well known and well liked as he is in those of Portland. Among those who offered toasts to Mr. Stratton's future good fortune were R. A. Watson, R. W. Hagood, William H. Soules, O. C. Merrick, Arthur A. Greene, F. W. Bell of the United Press, S. B. Vincent of the Associated Press, James Vincent Sayre, James McCool and Monroe Goldstein.

Woodmen Memorial Day.—The united camps of the Woodmen of the World of this city, with a few exceptions, will this year give special attention to the Woodmen of the World memorial day, Sunday, June 6. The camps have united to make the occasion one of great moment. The Taylor Street Methodist church will probably be selected for the evening services. A fine quartet and vocal and instrumental soloists have been secured, and there will also be an interesting oration. The following camps are represented: Webfoot, Prospect, Portland, George Washington, Sunnyside, Prosperity. All camps are invited to participate.

Irish League Meeting.—Wallace McCann was the principal speaker before the Irish league in St. Stephens hall, corner of East Forty-fourth and Taylor streets, last night. He spoke of "Irish Land Reforms," telling his hearers of the wonderful reforms accomplished in Ireland under the guidance of the patriot, Michael Davitt. He explained how the Irish people are fast becoming a happy and contented people under the present law which makes it possible for them to obtain homes by the payment of little more than what used to be the rental for the same places. J. Hennessy Murphy, president.

Portland Building to Mention.—The chamber of commerce is investigating the reasons why Portland was not included in the list of cities with building operations just published by the geological survey in Washington, D. C. In the future the chamber will forward copies of the local report for each month to the survey so that that excuse can not be offered for failure to include this city with the 50 others of which mention is made.

East Siders Meet Tonight.—Encouraged by the change in attitude of the school board, the East Side Business Men's club will tonight make many of the preliminary arrangements for the east side's participation in the coming Rose Festival. Reports of committees outstanding will be heard and the general plans laid. The meeting will be held in the Healy building, Grand avenue and East Morrison streets.

Mass Meeting Monday.—Monday, May 16, a mass meeting of citizens of North Albion and the Peninsula will be held at which it is planned to discuss fully the attitude of several organizations against the P. R. L. & P. company's franchise recently passed by the council. Several prominent speakers will be secured for the evening.

In Interest of Rose Show.—The executive committee of the Peninsula Rose Festival association will meet tonight to make further plans for the coming Rose Festival. The work of the society has been left entirely in the hands of the committee of whom much is expected.

Mrs. Hanton Gets Divorce.—Eva Hanton was granted a divorce yesterday from George W. Hanton. Judge Gantenbein heard the case. Mrs. Hanton testified that her husband when drunk abused her of infidelity and knocked her down.

The Osteopathic Specialist.—Dr. Arnold Lindsay, on rheumatism, stomach and all female diseases, has removed from Falling building to 208 Third building, Tenth and Morrison streets. Phone Main 7350, A-4163.

Beginning May 1, we reduce the price of all our Australian coal to $8.50 per ton delivered, 50 cents per ton reduction on five ton lots. Pacific Coast Coal Co., 249 Washington. Main 229, A-2298.

Case for Reform School.—Leonard Hicks, 17-year-old boy, living with his mother at 1187 Delaware avenue, was ordered to the reform school yesterday.

when his case came before Judge Brown in the juvenile court. He had interfered with the St. Johns streetcar service. Harold Pennington, paroled, will be returned to the institution.

Trippers' Excursion.—Everything is in readiness for the "Trippers' excursion" to be given by the Daughters of St. David's Saturday night. A very classic imagination is required to absorb the wonders of this panoramic journey, as distances are annihilated with surprising leaps. For instance, the start is made from Boston, 140 East Twelfth street, and the next halt is Japan, at 554 East Taylor street, a distance of over 5000 miles, reached in about seven minutes. From thence the journey is made to Holland, Spain, and Alaska via overland route, thus avoiding sea-sickness. The inner man will be satisfied with dishes appropriate to the countries visited. Round trip tickets are 50 cents.

Burglar With Green Hat.—An attempt was made to break into the Chinese restaurant at 208 Second avenue at 10 o'clock last evening. The proprietor reports to the police that a man, apparently about 40 years of age, wearing a gray suit and a green hat, broke open a window at that time and attempted to enter when he was discovered and made good his escape.

Reinstein Bonds Approved.—The bonds of M. Reinstein and S. Breslau, indicted by the last grand jury on a charge of forgery by altering public records, have been approved in the circuit court and as a result the case out of the municipal docket were this morning dismissed on motion of Deputy District Attorney Frank Hennessy.

Gets Paid for Overcoat.—The Pullman company will be obliged to pay W. B. King $60.50 for an overcoat that was stolen from him in one of the company's cars attached to a Southern Pacific train near Bend, Ore. Cal. decided that effect was handed down by Judge Cleland.

No Damages for Mrs. Roman.—Judge Cleland granted a non-suit in the damage case of Mrs. Rosa Roman against John Graham, who owned the store at Mississippi avenue and Russell street. Mrs. Roman in walking about the building fell down stairs and was injured.

Church Entertainment.—An eloquent and entertaining program of light gymnastics, will be given at the United Brethren church, East Fifteenth and Taylor streets, Thursday evening, May 7.

Thursday Special Purify Liquor Co.—$1.50 grade port, sherry, Tokay, Madeira, Muscat, Angelica and Burgundy at $1 per gallon for all week. Also pure food whiskey, regular $4, at $3 per gallon. Phone East 4427, B-1253. Free delivery. 303 East Morrison.

Calico Dress Social.—Ren Butler Relief corps will give a calico dress social and supper at Hunter's hall, 211 Taylor street, May 7, from 5 to 8 o'clock. The sewing circle will hold its next meeting Thursday, May 13, at the home of Mrs. Hattie Moodie, 1487 East Oak street.

Woman's Press Club.—The annual meeting of the Woman's Press club of Oregon will be held Wednesday evening, May 12, at the home of Mrs. Emma S. Marzouk, 688 Multnomah street, at 7:45 o'clock. Only members are invited to this meeting.

The Butter.—I ate bread and butter for breakfast this morning and it tasted so good. My wife got the butter at a Smith's store and it cost only 55c per roll. Read Smith's adv., back page.

If You Suspect There is anything wrong about your eyesight, ask anyone to direct you to Dr. Geo. Rubenstein, the reliable optician, 189 Third street, opposite Baker theatre.

Darkey Stories.—Poems, ballads, alternating with dramatic readings, by Eva W. McGuire, Portland's most popular reader. White Temple, Friday evening. Admission, 50c.

Learn to Swim now. guaranteed course $5. fine, large, clean water. Open 10 to 12. Ringler's natatorium, 383 1/2 East Morrison, corner Grand avenue. Phone 5.

Drunk Man Bobbed.—Andrew Karr lost $250 somewhere while he was drinking yesterday, and as a result the European saloon, 23 North Second street, is under police surveillance. This saloon, which was the scene of a cutting affray a short time ago, was where Karr was found drunk but the day before.

fore, and when he was turned loose from the station had $250 in his possession. This money was all gone last night, and Karr says he has no idea when or how it went.

Burglars Scares Away.—The proprietor of the Reno restaurant, 308 First street, thinks an attempt was made to enter his place of business last night. At 1:15 this morning he heard two men trying the back door and when he shouted to them they went away. Officers Inskip and Smith state they tried the front door at about that time and think this is what was heard.

AT THE THEATRES

Crowds at the Bungalow.
 The Bungalow is crowded at every performance this week of the romantic play "When Knighthood Was in Flower." It is splendidly performed by the Baker Stock company with Izetta Jewel in the role of Mary Tudor and Sydney Ayres as Charles Brandon. The scenic and costume effects are gorgeous. Matinee Saturday.

"Heart of Columbia"—Pantages.
 Miss Loraine Buchanan and Robert Hall Russell, at Pantages theatre, present a tabloid comedy called "The Heart of Columbia." The plot concerns a detective, who disguises as a statue and ultimately falls in love with the beautiful leader of the invading band of burglars.

Side Aches at Orpheum.
 The audiences at the Orpheum this week, and they are the capacity of the house, are leaving nightly with their sides aching from laughing. Without doubt, the bill is one of the best that has appeared in a long time, and is good for two hours of wholesome fun. You cannot afford to miss this week.

Grand's Novelties.
 Novelties and many of them are offered at the Grand. Williams and Walker's "chocolate drops," otherwise King and Bailey, bring the first colored girl act to Portland. Four dusky belles appear with the singers and dancers. El Barto, the magician, is another entertaining feature. The Manetta Five have a singing act worth while. All the other numbers on the program are interesting.

New Bill at Star.
 Timely, up to date and new is the bill at the Star. Good music, funny burlesque and motion pictures keep the audience interested. There is not a dull moment at this popular amusement resort.

BRIDGE PETITION TO GO ON JUNE BALLOT

City Auditor Barbur has ordered the initiative petition for the relocation of Madison street bridge at Market street placed upon the ballot, as the check put upon the petition showed that it had many more signatures than necessary. The check on the amendment for a high bridge at Sherman street also makes it appear likely that it will find its place on the ballot.
