

RIVALRY FOR HONORED POSITION GRASS ARMS

Will Raser Gives George Olson Hard Run and Might Overtake Him—Several New Names Appear in The Journal Contest.

Herewith is presented the score in the Savings Contest which includes all votes received up to and including Saturday night, May 10. Every week changes are noted in the score and each new contestant lives the interest making it necessary for everyone of the contestants to work in order to hold their standing.

This week George Olson continues to lead with 17,000 votes following him as closely as possible. The first five leaders remain in the same position but their scores are getting close that some changes can be looked for soon. Dean Vanzandt has at last taken hold of the contest and intends very soon to be at the top of the list. He jumps nearly 17,000 votes and takes seventh place. Raymond Fox enters for the first time with a little over 11,000 votes and takes ninth place. These two contestants will bear watching and will surely overtake the leaders. Howard of Albany makes a very good showing and promises to do better every week. Wendell Taylor of The Dalles is fast coming to the front and makes an increase of nearly 5,000 votes. Miss Thea Duncan of Lafayette makes also other large increases. James Keady the new contestant from Waldport is also climbing up the ladder of votes and is on down the list of contestants. Every one is hard at work and chances occur every day or two.

Residents of all parts of the Oregon country realize more and more the necessity of having The Oregon Journal delivered to their homes. It is essential because it covers the news thoroughly and without bias. A reader of The Oregon Journal knows what is going on in the world, his state and his home city.

The Oregon Journal does much more than this. It gives every reader the opportunity of a liberal education at home for a nominal price. No better start can be made towards this end than the savings habit. This is possible through The Journal Savings Contest which gives every boy and girl in the Oregon country an opportunity to save a substantial sum of money. There are many other features in The Journal of benefit to the young and a help in their education. Chiefly among these is the school page which is published in The Journal every Sunday. This is one of the many encouragements The Journal gives to boys and girls obtaining an education. It is well worth looking into if you are thinking of going to college. It is a throng of workers and every one starts a savings account.

RAILWAY CONDUCTORS MEET AT BOSTON

Boston, Mass., May 11.—Nearly 10,000 delegates and their friends are in Boston for the 32d biennial convention of the Order of Railway Conductors of the United States, Canada and Mexico. Today was devoted chiefly to welcoming the visitors. Tomorrow morning the business sessions will begin, with Grand Chief Conductor A. B. Garretson presiding. The convention will remain in session an entire week, as much business of importance awaits attention. The old proposition of removing the headquarters of the organization from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, has been revived.

ITALY MAY SEND NEW AMBASSADOR

Indianapolis has put in a strong bid for the headquarters in case it is decided to change.

Episcopal Church Congress.

Boston, Mass., May 11.—A four days' meeting of the Episcopal church congress was opened in this city this morning with the celebration of holy communion at Trinity church. Many prominent speakers are to be heard at the congress, among them being Canon H. Hensley Henson of England, President Luther of Trinity college, Bishop Doane of Albany and Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington of Grace church, New York.

ITALY MAY SEND NEW AMBASSADOR

New York, May 11.—The Italian ambassador and Baroness Mayor des Planches were among the passengers sailing for Europe today. Although no official announcement has yet been made, it is understood the baron and baroness may not return to Washington, for the former has already served longer than it is customary at one post.

How Journal Subscription Coupons May Be Secured

Single coupons will appear in every issue of The Journal (from March 10 to May 31, inclusive), and these can be cut out of The Journal and mailed or delivered to The Journal office, counting as one vote each. Those who buy a copy of The Journal upon the streets will thus obtain a coupon with each copy, and those who take the paper by mail or carrier will have the same privilege. These coupons can be clipped and sent in to any contestant's credit. Coupons will be given for SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE JOURNAL, PAID FOR IN ADVANCE, as follows: One coupon for each cent of advance payment of 50 cents and under; two coupons for every cent of advance payment over 50 cents and up to $1.50; three coupons for every cent of advance payment over $1.50 to $3; four coupons for every cent of advance payment over $3 to $5; and five coupons for every cent of advance payment over $5. Thus a person taking The Daily Journal for a month and paying 50 cents in advance would be entitled to 50 coupons; one paying 65 cents for the daily and Sunday for a month in advance, would receive 130 coupons, two for every cent paid; and larger sums of payment for subscription to the Daily, Sunday or Semi-Weekly Journal will secure the proportionate number of coupons as detailed above.

To those soliciting contract subscriptions, delivered by carrier, for which no advance payment is required, coupons will be given as follows: For contract subscriptions of three months' term, 150 coupons; four months, 250 coupons; six months, 500 coupons, 12 months, 1500 coupons. If the contract subscriber takes and pays for the paper for the full term contracted for, the respective contestant will be paid a cash commission of 10 per cent on the amount collected by The Journal from his or her contract subscriptions.

A Few of the Many Testimonials We Have on File

Mrs. K. Clarke, 428 Columbia street, says: I have visited seven dentists, had 12 plates made by them, and they were all failures. I had a Whalebone Plate made by the Chicago Dental Parlors. This is the only plate that gave me entire satisfaction. I can eat anything. I would not part with my plate for $1000.00.

It is now one month since I got my teeth. I put them in my mouth when I got them and have not taken them out since. Can eat anything. Am 60 years old. I have tried three sets elsewhere, spent $40 for them, and would advise anybody to get a set of Whalebone Teeth who has trouble like I had. S. E. STOWERS, 264 E. 37th St.

CITY'S LAST SQUATTER WILL GO WHEN DEATH APPEARS IN SHACK

"Ven death tears me away, I go!"

In an unpainted shanty on Hancock street, at its junction with Larrabee, J. N. Anderson, a quaint old Swedish carpenter is watching them run a race with the courts himself the prize. His only companion is a rough haired cur dog and he wants no other. Although for more than three months he has done no work his nerve is good as ever and he vows he will never allow himself to be removed from the little house he calls home.

In Anderson's case, it is a question of being taken away, house and all. "I come here in bank jubilee of 1903," he related yesterday. It seems that Anderson had all his little savings in a local bank that went under as a result of the panic of 1903. He left the place he had been living in on the west side, and built the shack on Hancock street. He says he gave heirs of the Montgomery estate, adjoining, $54 for a residence in the public grounds. Now he would like to have his money back. He has been ordered to move off the street, and two years ago started to obey the order. In two years' time he has moved about 30 feet. At the present time his little house is standing almost flush with Larrabee street, resting on a queer framework of scantlings and jacknaws.

During his illness, Anderson's white hair and beard have grown long, until he is truly a remarkable figure. Lying on the quilts with which he has spread his bed the old man has formulated unique ideas concerning government and its deficiencies.

One Sam is a prisoner, bound hand and foot down in Wall street," he declared. A revolution is coming soon, he thinks and when it comes and succeeds, there will be no allowing all aged permission provision as they please until, in the course of time, death comes to take them all away.

Boston, Mass., May 11.—President Elliot of Harvard university was honored today with the decoration of the Order of the Rising Sun, the highest honor in the gift of the Japanese government. The ceremonies attending the bestowal of the decoration were performed by Count Kogoro Takahira, Japanese imperial ambassador to the United States.
