Advises United Stand. "Valuable time is being consumed in debating the question of putting other candidates in the field. If any candidate standing fairly and squarely on the primary law can be named, who may be regarded as more likely to combine the connection forces against Mr. Simon. he opposition forces against Mr. Simon, am willing, if it can be honorably done, o step aside and give him a free field. I am willing, if it can be honorably done, to step aside and give him a free field. If no such can be found, and none such has yet appeared amongst the independent candidates discussed, it behoves all the friends of good government in the city to stand with me, and aid me in making this contest. If this is done, if those who are striving to keep this a clean, orderly and progressive city, divide their forces in the face of the enemy by multiplying candidates, the result of the June election can be announced without waiting further.

"I have only the good of the community in view in becoming a candidate. I have no political aspirations, and while the election to the office of chief executive of this city is a great honor. I seek neither honors, emoluments or party power, and am ready to do what may seem best for the future welfare of the city.

Mr. Simon is the personification, in control. I am inclined to believe that the blare of trumpets at Mr. Simon's control into politics once more will not have the effect to dismay the antimachine forces, but will, on the contrary, concentrate them in opposition to his election. Every effort is being made to give out the contrary impression.

I am firmly convinced that, with the support of the forces opposed to Mr. Simon's candidate, who stands squarely on the primary law and who has the support of a united opposition to Mr. Simon can be elected.
