

CALLS LABOR RAILROAD FROM EUGENE TO SEA

FEDERATION DISLOYAL

Van Cleave Darkly Hints at Dread Conflict Ending in Labor's Subjugation—Policy to Fight, Not to Conciliate.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, May 18.—In a strenuous attack upon union labor and labor organizations, James W. Van Cleave opened the convention of the National Association of Manufacturers here today. As president of the organization he made a report in which he defended the aggressive policy pursued by the officers in the contests with the labor leaders and indicated that more hard fighting must be expected. He reviewed the events of the year, taken in order to reveal the adroitness, persistence and unscrupulousness of the enemies with whom every employer in the United States will have to deal and thus give an indication of the manner in which we will have to proceed in the future to make our laborers count.

Van Cleave referred to the fact that certain members had expressed the opinion that the measures taken had been too aggressive and had suggested that more could have been accomplished by conciliation. In this connection he declared the association had set the program for the officers. He said they had met the alternatives of fighting or surrendering, and that he had always fought. In part he said:

Warns Against Labor Legislation.

"We defeated them at Washington, and then the conspirators massed their forces at Chicago and attempted to frighten the national Republican convention into sanctioning an undemocratic, anti-republican and un-American propaganda. We defeated them there also.

"With the cunning engendered by a quarter century of duplicity, the labor leaders then transferred their field to the state legislatures.

"Let me warn this association that under the cloak of legislation for the defense of men and children, insidious attempts undoubtedly will be made by the politicians of the trades unions to get special favors for their organizations."

Van Cleave went on record as favoring an amendment providing for a tariff board, as suggested by the finance committee of the senate.

He referred to the menace of permitting immigrants to become influenced by the federation which has grown up amongst us and which seeks and deceives its leaders to abrogate the laws of the land."

Predicts Greater Troubles.

In predicting that more serious trouble was yet in store, Van Cleave said: "The United States in 1896 abolished the Indian tribal governments. France in 1899 has substituted the insurgent chief executives. Now I ask you whether sort of treatment the American people in 1910, 1912 and 1915 will be forced to deal out to the rebellious American Federation of Labor?"

The report of the committee of interstate commerce was presented and contained a denunciation of legislative regulation of common carriers. It referred to the $29,000,000 fine which Judge Landis assessed against the Standard Oil company as "a mere outburst of judicial frenzy."

A protest against ships and shippers being taxed in order that the postoffice department might show a smaller deficit in operation was contained in the report.

Labor and Industrial Education.

The report deplored the destruction of the natural forests of the nation and contained an estimate that at the present rate of lumbering the lumbermen will deplete the forests directly, and will indirectly destroy many of the waterways of the country within eight years.

John Barrett, director of the bureau of American republics, in a speech before the association yesterday, pleaded for the development of the export trade with South America.

A special committee that had been investigating industrial education said in its report: "Where organized labor conducted along rational lines it would be a sin to exclude it from any movement for the advancement of the human race, but as it now stands, to put it in charge of a movement in the interest of industrial education would be like putting a lamb in the care of a wolf."

The report then refers to the defiance of the courts by the labor leaders.

The following morning a meeting was announced into afternoon by President Van Cleave: D. M. Parry, chairman; H. M. Chamberlain, L. L. Lincoln, C. H. Barber, H. L. Deen, H. S. Barrett, L. D. Reynolds, Charles M. Jordan, T. C. Ripley, George Coppins, T. W. Foster, M. J. Howe, Henry Abbott, H. M. Leland and Charles Gattell.

Easterners Offer to Build Line If $150,000 Is Subscribed.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., May 18.—A proposition was made to the citizens of Eugene at a mass meeting held last night in the Commercial club rooms, by Stea Lund, representing the capitalists, to build a railroad from this city to Florence, on the coast at the mouth of the Siuslaw river.

The proposition is that if the people of Eugene and Lane county will raise $150,000 in stock subscriptions, their money to be expended on the first 10 mile stretch of road westward from Eugene, the capitalists whom Mr. Lund represents will guarantee to finance the balance of the road and to have it completed to Florence inside of a year, barring unexpected delays. If the stock is immediately subscribed, one of the construction plants owned by the capitalists represented by Lund will be brought here and put to work at once.

Among the capitalists whom Lund represents is J. A. Davis, vice president of the Pullman Car company, who has recently bought the Cottage Grove-Bohemian railroad, and who intends to extend it a point 20 miles westward to Cottage Grove, with the ultimate object of extending it to Coos Bay. He is also building a railroad from Brownsville into a tract of timber owned by him east of there.

The matter will be taken up at once by the citizens.

ONE EYED CONVICT WITH CROOKED NOSE SLIPS FROM GUARDS

(The Journal Leased Salem Wire.)
Salem, Or., May 18.—A one-eyed convict, H. W. Harvey, escaped this morning from the feeble minded institute. He was committed in September from Jackson county to serve one and a half years for larceny. It is believed his recapture will not be difficult because of the fact that he has lost his left eye and that his nose is crooked and turns to the right.

ONE GIRL COMPOSES MARSHFIELD CLASS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Marshfield, Or., May 18.—Extensive preparations are being made for the graduating exercises of the North Bend school at the opera house in that city May 18. President P. L. Campbell of the state university will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. There are three graduates this year, Miss Marjorie Cowan, Miss Reynolds and Ralph Coke. The alumni society is planning to give a banquet and reception to the graduates.

ISLAND CITY SAFE CRACKER IS CAUGHT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
La Grande, Or., May 18.—The safe of the Island City Flour mill was cracked Monday night at 11 o'clock. Three young men returning from a dance in La Grande, stopped for a drink in a well near the mill, noticed the light inside and became suspicious. They crept up and saw a man working at the safe. Two remained on guard while the third got a gun and stayed while the others armed themselves. As the burglar came out the door with the money, he was ordered to throw up his hands. His captors phoned for the sheriff. The man is now in the county jail. He refuses to give his name. One theory is that he is an ex-convict and is afraid of a cumulative sentence. He says he was a fool for trying the job and asks to be sentenced immediately.

CALDERARA WILL GO AEROPLANING AGAIN

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Rome, May 18.—Undaunted by his fearful experiences when he was hurled to earth from a Wright aeroplane two weeks ago, Lieutenant Calderara today ordered the repair of the machine and will continue his flights in the near future.

MRS. TAFT AND HER SON RECOVERING

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, May 18.—Mrs. Taft and Charlie, wife and son of the president, are reported resting well today. Mrs. Taft has almost completely recovered from her nervous breakdown and it is expected by night she will be in her usual health. Charlie is operated on for tonsillitis and his throat is tender but his condition is announced to be entirely satisfactory.

COOS BAY VISITOR

Dr. M. O. Stemmeler of Myrtle Point is in the city.

"The prospects for a railroad from Coos Bay via Roseburg to eastern Oregon and thence into Idaho are the best," said Dr. M. O. Stemmeler of Myrtle Point. Dr. Stemmeler is in the city of Portland visiting relatives, having come overland from his home to Roseburg and thence to Myrtle Point in southern Oregon a few nights ago.

"With all the drawbacks of transportation," continued Dr. Stemmeler, "the vast territory tributary to Marshfield on Coos Bay is rapidly developing. It is growing so fast that it has begun to attract the attention of outside capital. There is no section of Oregon that offers more sure and an earlier reward for the investor than the properties of our towns, and the farm and timber lands of our section. During the six years I have resided in Myrtle Point I have seen all classes of property values double, and there has been even a great increase in the value of the land nearer our seaport town of Marshfield. Coos Bay is already a great shipping point, and its importance is appreciated by comparatively few people, even in the great state of Oregon."

The cost of an ad is the only charge to secure the advantages offered by the use of the facilities of this paper which cost thousands of dollars.

ELGIN CITIZENS DON OVERALLS AND WORK TO MAKE NEW PARK

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Elgin, Or., May 18.—The Elgin Park association has effected a permanent organization and elected the following officers: President, H. Townner; vice president, H. H. Weatherspoon; secretary, S. M. Slough; treasurer, J. B. Thorson; directors, L. Overton, N. Hackett, R. C. Mays. Work on the park is progressing rapidly. Drives will soon be graded, flower beds set and fountains installed. Most of the work has been done by citizens, ministers, merchants and carpenters working side by side cutting brush and pulling stumps.

PRISON FOURTEEN YEARS FOR ASSAULT

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Redding, Cal., May 18.—Fourteen years in the state penitentiary is the term that awaits Ledon Dawson for assaulting Miss Hazel Hayden, teacher of a Tehama county school. He was given the limit penalty by Judge Head. Dawson attacked Miss Hayden while on her way to the school Tuesday morning, near the village of Cottonwood. Her cries brought help from the village. He pleaded guilty in the superior court and waived time. Intoxication at the time of the attack was his only excuse. In pronouncing the sentence Judge Head said he regretted the law did not make it possible to sentence the accused to a longer term.

School Districts to Consolidate.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Mist, Or., May 18.—Two meetings have been held by the residents of school districts Nos. 12, 17, 47 and 81, surrounding Verona, and petitions are being circulated to have a vote taken upon the question of consolidation of these four districts at the coming annual school election in June. Should the consolidation carry, which it evidently will, it is proposed to build a large modern school at Verona, which will include a high school.
