Members of Local Baptist Will Supply Convention Visitors With Butonnieres as Regularly as Sun Rises.

The Northern Baptist convention which opens here June 25 for a week will be made another means of advertising Portland's roses. Each morning during the convention one of the local during the convention one of the local Baptist churches will undertake to supply each of the 1500 or 2000 visiting delegates from all over the country with a rosebud for the day.

The churches will take turns and as there are more Baptist churches than convention days some of the smaller churches will unite in furnishing roses. The delegates will be met at the trains as they come in and will be there supplied with roses as well as badges.

The convention was talked over at length this morning by the Baptist ministers in the absence of a paper for the day. The ministers were asked by Dr. Brougher to stir up enthusiasm to inday. The ministers were asked by LH.
Brougher to stir up enthusiasm to insure a large attendance at all the meetings. Dr. Brougher has sent a request to the central committee of program to arrange for a double program throughout for the evening sessions. The committee decided it would rather arrange substitute one program and then an overmittee decided it would rather arrange only the one program and then an overflow meeting could be provided each evening but Dr. Brougher has sent a protest saying that in Portland alone there are enough Baptists to fill the White Temple twice and he objected to having any of the people start to attend a meeting of good speeches and have to be content with any makeshift program. The mornings will be devoted to business meetings, the afternoons to conferences and the evenings to public inspiration meetings.

At the White Temple a tithing campaign was instituted yesterday to last till the convention opens. About 115 signed up for this method of raising funds.

The Baptist assembly will immediately follow the Northern Baptist convention and will be held at Columbia beach for 10 days. This is in the nature of a combined outing and religious conference, and the committee reported that it has secured the services of Dr. W. B. Riley, president of McMinnville college for the entire session. Services and class instruction will be included in the program.

The rest of the morning session was taken up with short talks by Rev. D. T. Frior of the middle west and Rev. W. Howard of St. Louis, who visited the meetings.

CROWDS AT EAST ST. JOHNS

The Mysterious Mr. Baffles Attracts

East St. Johns was visited by hundreds of people Sunday, the great majority being attracted by the mysterious Mr. Raffles, who was scheduled to visit the tract between I and 5 o'clock. A great many, too, visited the property during the morning. During the day crowds wandered all over East St. Johns for a double purpose—in hope of capturing the man of mystery and to inspect the district which will soon be the industrial and business center of the Peninsula. Many lots were selected by people who foresee the great future of Maegly Junction. Scores of people walked from East St. Johns across to the Swift plant. Mr. Davis, the mysterious Mr. Raffles' business manager, addressed a crowd after a young man laid Mundreds Sunday Afternoon, dressed a crowd after a young man laid his hand on Mrs. Davis' shoulder and repeated the required salutation.
