

GARBAGE BURNER NEED NOT SMELL

Famous Engineer Gives Some Points to Portland in Refuse Incineration.

Rudolph Hering, Sc. D. C. E., of New York city, nationally famous as a consulting engineer and known as one of the two specialists in refuse incinerators, construction in the country, spent yesterday in Portland as the guest of S. H. Gruber and others prominent in the movement looking toward the erection of a new crematory.

Mr. Hering was on the way from San Francisco to Hollis, where he installed the city water supply. In passing it might be mentioned that he also laid out the east side sewer system in Portland several years ago. He has also been the consulting engineer for the San Francisco, Los Angeles, Tacoma, Sacramento, Honolulu and other water and sewerage systems.

The intention was to have Mr. Hering meet the most prominent citizens and business men in Portland and impress upon them the necessity of a larger and more centrally located refuse destructor. Decoration day made such a meeting impossible. Because of the fact that Mr. Hering is one of the two crematory engineers in the country it was thought probable that his remarks would have extra weight.

Fine Plant for Bay City.
While in San Francisco Mr. Hering laid out plans for three garbage crematories, all to cost $600,000, to be the finest in existence, being capable of disposing of more refuse than any others in the country. Mr. Hering has just recently planned an incinerator to cost $200,000 for Milwaukee.

"I have arranged the Milwaukee incinerator so that it will make steam and thus earn more than its operation costs," said Mr. Hering. In San Francisco we intend to do the same thing, and it could be done in Portland, too.

"I doubt whether a sufficiently large enough for the needs of Portland. For perfect disposal of refuse an investment equal in dollars to the investment in Milwaukee is spending $2 cents for every person in the city, on her crematory.

"But the greatest expense is not that of erection and operation, but of hauling and delivery. All incinerators should be located where the haul is the cheapest, and all hauling should be done by the refuse incinerator.

No Smell Necessary.
"Further, a crematory should not be any more objectionable than a factory, mill or pumping station. With sufficient heat there is no smell, no smoke and no danger of disease. No odor will emanate from any well constructed incinerator.

"In San Francisco and Milwaukee the crematory grounds are to be marked. In building a crematory the first cost should not be the major consideration. The cost of operation should be the first consideration. When I take bids I have all contractors give estimates on what it will cost to burn each ton of garbage.

"In San Francisco the highest bidder is building the incinerator. His furnaces will burn the garbage cheaper than any other.

This is Mr. Hering's nineteenth trip to the coast.

DELICIOUS BERRIES GROWN NEAR CITY

Strawberries as large as a hen's egg and in flavor as delicious as the famous Hood River product are being sold on the streets of Portland every day by J. F. Walkins, who has 1 1/2 acres of Marshall berries on his ranch near Hillsdale. Mr. Walkins received 20 cents a box by the crate today for his berries from the city grocers. So highly are they prized by the retail dealers that they are bringing a little better price than Hood River berries.

From half an acre of Marshall berries Mr. Walkins marketed last season 1516 boxes and this was the first crop they had ever borne. Mr. Walkins says that had it not been for the severe weather in January and February and the backward spring he would have easily picked 2000 boxes from this same half acre.

"Anywhere in the vicinity of Portland," said Mr. Walkins, "as fine berries as is grown at Hood River may be produced if the farmers will but give them ordinary attention."

Arkansas leads among the states in the production of bauxite, her output being more than 60 per cent of the total last year.

GOETENBERG PLAN NO INDUCEMENT

Hotel Proprietors Furnish Larger Revenue Than Would New Scheme.

The Oregon State Hotel association will give twice as much money for the liquor business of Portland as the Gothenberg association offers. This proposition was formally authorized yesterday afternoon. It was followed by the question from the hotel men's association: "Who compose the Gothenberg association, what assurance have the people of Portland that the backers of the idea are not working on a shoe string that is, preparing to transfer their franchise to outside interests?"

"The Gothenberg association promises an investment of $2,500,000 capital here, but the hotels of Portland represent not less than $30,000,000 capital," said G. J. Kaufmann, secretary of the Portland Hotel company yesterday evening, in reporting the decision of the hotel association. "The Gothenberg association will pay the city $25,000 a year for the first five years; $400,000 a year during the second five years. The Oregon State Hotel association will pay double this amount or $750,000 a year for the first five years and $800,000 a year during the second five years."

"So far as we have been able to learn the Gothenberg association backers have not shown where they will get the capital necessary to put their plan through. The hotel association does not doubt that the capital will be easy enough to obtain, but will it be from local people. The hotels of Portland have many times the necessary amount already invested and could use the property as a work base for the control of the liquor business in a way that will be satisfactory to all authorities. There will be no question, either, as to our ability to pay any amount we contract to pay for the liquor business of Portland. In addition the hotel association will guarantee that it will run the business upon the most conservative possible principles."

"DITCH OPENING DAY" IN JOSEPHINE COUNTY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Grants Pass, Or., June 1.—The Commercial club and officials of the Josephine County Power & Irrigation company are laying elaborate plans for a grand "ditch opening day," which will very likely be celebrated about June 12. On that day water will be turned into the big irrigation system, the high line ditches that have been under construction for several months past. Excursions will be run to this city. The date has been arranged so that the Portland business men and others who attend the "ditch opening" over at Klamath, can stop off here and witness a similar event on their return home. Several prominent men have been invited to take part in the ceremony. Water is now being run through a portion of the ditches, and by the 12th of the present month, practically the entire high line system will be completed.

Minnesota Homeseekers Arrive.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., June 1.—The excursion of Minnesota homeseekers, conducted by the E. Bohmstedt company of Minneapolis, Portland and Creswell arrived in Eugene Sunday night and spent the greater part of the day here yesterday, going on up to Creswell in the afternoon. The party numbered about 40 persons. They came west to look at fruit lands near Creswell and to attend the exposition at Seattle.

DOG LEADS MAN TO GIRL'S AID

Saves Life of Miss Carol Sheldon Who Was Clinging to Capsized Boat.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Sausalito, Cal., June 1.—Miss Carol Sheldon, the 16-year-old daughter of H. H. Sheldon of Reno, suffered a frightful experience in the waters of the bay yesterday. For nearly an hour she clung to an overturned skiff in the chill water. Her life was saved by the remarkable intelligence of her shepherd dog, Squire. Miss Sheldon was rowing on the bay when the boat was overturned by the heavy wash caused by a passing ferryboat. The dog, which was with her in the boat, swam toward the girl as she clung to the clipper bottom. Realizing that she could not long remain in the cold water, Miss Sheldon managed to slip a blue hair ribbon beneath the dog's collar and ordered him to go home. Reaching the shore, the animal rushed to the house, barking frantically. Fancet, a Reno mining man who is visiting the Sheldon home, was attracted by the dog's peculiar actions, and followed to the bay shore. He secured a boat and rescued the pucky girl from her dangerous position.

RICHEST BABY NOT MUCH PHYSICALLY

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Newport, R. I., June 1.—For the purpose of broadening his shoulders and deepening his chest, "Baby" Brown, the $10,000,000 child, is under the instruction of Thomas Shay, the famous variety rowing coach. John Nicholas Brown, as the wealthiest American child is christened, has caused his mother considerable anxiety of late because of his slow development and growth. Rowing was recommended and with this view Shay was engaged. Every day the child, who is nine years of age, and Shay are at the oars of a trim skiff near Harbor Front and the little fellow shows aptitude and liking for the sport.

The baby already possesses $10,000,000 of his own and when he comes of age will inherit $50,000,000.

A Silverton man took a horse all the way to eastern Oregon to sell and encountered 12 feet of snow on the way.
