SUPERIOR QUALITY AND PRICE LOWNESS CHARACTERIZES OUR MERCHANDISE

WOMEN'S, MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S READY-TO-WEAR APPAREL

GREAT SHOWING of THINGS SEASONABLE—PORCH and LAWN FURNITURE, PORCH BLINDS, HAMMOCKS, REFRIGERATORS, GAS RANGES, LAWN MOWERS, GARDEN HOSE, ETC., ETC.

OUR NEW TAILORED SUITS AT $25.00

The beautiful new models which we are showing at this price certainly command attention—fashioned from the advance fall styles, with such style features as the long coat and the new pleated skirt, either showing flounce effect or the pleated kilted style, and also the cluster of pleats. Some of the fabrics in these garments were used in the much higher priced suits earlier this season. An immense line of fancy stripe solid-color worsteds in beautiful shades of green, gray, tan, gold, rose and the popular prevailing shades of blue. Others are shown in light grounds with dark stripes, also white serges. Better values, more exclusive styles and finer quality of material are not offered anywhere at this price.

SILK TAILORED SUITS—Both the two-piece and three-piece models, in Tussah, Rajah and Pongee. The natural shade and other beautiful colors to choose from—the light and dark grays, old rose, mulberry, watermelon pink, gold and the popular shades of blue, including the new duck blue, which in broadcloth will be used extensively for fall. Both the medium and long coat styles are shown in these exquisite models—$30, $40, $45, $50 and $60.

Linen Auto Coats

The very latest creations in the new shades of champagne, copper and tan. The large buttons add no little effect to these coats. They are priced from $15 to $30.

NEW DRESSES IN LINEN, LAWN, LINGERIE AND SILKS and in the Foulard and rough silk materials, in the popular one-piece styles, with both the short waist and natural waist line effects, plain and trimmed. Shown in fancy stripes in silk and in many solid colors in plain linen and silk. From $9.75 to $75.00.

VISITORS' week is what it has been. The only large functions of the entire week were the reception Monday night given at the Portland for the Japanese officers and the reception Friday night for the French ambassador and his wife. In addition a good deal of attention was given to the Chicago visiting party, to the A.-Y.-P. fair officials, and to Governor General and Mrs. Smith of the Philippines. Many minor affairs for the distinguished French and Japanese guests filled in the time. Then almost every home also had guests and a little entertaining there was room for even for them informally.

The Rose Festival spirit seemed to permeate everyone this year. There were more visitors than usual, and the hostesses put aside the usual demands on their time to show these guests the beautiful roses and the pageants celebrating Portland's pride. The rose show at the fair grounds was visited by literally everyone. Many of the finest homes in town were represented in the wonderful displays. The profusion of roses was stupendous. In the gardens, too, many prominent people were entered, driving their own fine horses or their automobiles. Roses figured in the decorations of all the entertaining done during the week.

The interesting news aside from the Rose Festival was the announcement of Miss Alta Smith's engagement to Elliott R. Corbett, which was announced in the paper earlier in the week. Both are so prominent in the younger set and so popular that though there is decided regret that Miss Smith is no longer in the ranks of the unmarried set, there is decided interest in her engagement. The marriage is to be celebrated in September. The engagement of Miss Mary Lela Goddard and Horace Burnett Fenton was announced the same day.

The season of engagements is at hand, as well as the season of engagements, and in addition to three prominent ones the first week of June will be celebrated. The engagements of Miss Mary Lela Goddard and Horace Burnett Fenton was announced the same day.

with pink predominating. Miss Dorothy Morrison was in yellow satin.

The engagement of Miss Mary Lela Goddard and Horace Burnett Fenton was formally announced Thursday at a luncheon and a tea given by her aunts. Though the engagement was not a surprise the announcement of the approaching wedding was unexpected. They will be married in early September and will go to Baltimore to make their home for a year while Mr. Fenton completes his medical course at Johns Hopkins.

Mrs. E. C. Goddard gave a luncheon for her niece and made the first announcement. The table was decked with bride roses and a doll bride decked in veil and orange blossoms was the central figure. Tiny suitcases were the favors and they revealed bags of covers were laid for Mrs. E. C. Goddard, Mrs. H. W. Goddard, Miss Goddard, Mrs. Ernestine Failing, Miss Milola Ward, Mrs. Ralph Fenton, Miss Hannah Connell, Mrs. Arthur Barendrick, Mrs. H. W. Goddard, Mrs. Ralph Fenton, Miss Failing and Mrs. Milola Ward. Mrs. Arthur Barendrick, Mrs. H. W. Goddard, Mrs. Ralph Fenton, Miss Failing and Mrs. Milola Ward.

A tea followed given by her aunts, Mrs. Geo. Haskell Marsh and Mrs. Jessie Goddard, at their neighboring home on Mill street. Miss Goddard was attractive in an embroidered pink lingerie gown and received with the hostess. Assisting about the reception were Mrs. H. W. Goddard, Mrs. Ralph Fenton, Miss Failing and Mrs. Barendrick. Punch was served by Mrs. Morrow and Miss Church. In the dining room Mrs. W. D. Fenton served loss and the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. A. W. Goddard, poured tea. Miss Ward was the assistant.

Miss Goddard is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Goddard and has a large circle of friends. She is a handsome brunette who was most popular and active in college affairs at the University of Oregon where she was graduated. She is a member of the Beta Epsilon Sorority at that college. The past year she has spent at home in the study of music. Mr. Fenton is the second son of Judge and Mrs. William D. Fenton, also a graduate of the University of Oregon. He has won scholarship distinctions at Johns Hopkins.

The annual Paton Rome tea will be held next Tuesday afternoon at the home and a special program of music has been prepared by the Lakme quartet, assisted by Mrs. Estelle Berry, violinist, and Miss Marguerite Egebert, reader. The Lakme quartet's personnel now is Mrs. May Dearborn, Schawab, Connelly, Mrs. W. A. Bushong and Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, director. The members of the board will receive—Mrs. John H. Burnett, Mrs. D. H. Rand, Mrs. D. M. McLaughlin, Mrs. August Lang, Mrs. Fred A. Daly and Mrs. Alfred D. Gile. The women of the White Temple will have charge of the candy table.

Those who were present at the tea tables are: Mrs. Sigmond Grant at the tea Henry Waldo Coe, Mrs. Albert E. Butcher, Mrs. J. K. Locke, Mrs. A. D. Charlton, Mrs. R. L. Lyle, Mrs. Theodore Nicolai and Mrs. William D. Fenton. Those who will be assisted by Mrs. John W. Watson, Mrs. Herman R. Burke, Mrs. K. S. Erwin, Mrs. George Knudsen, Mrs. E. B. Holmes, Mrs. Charles R. Henry, Mrs. Clifford E. Irwin, Mrs. Oscar E. Overbeck and Mrs. G. A. Hoffman.

The rose tea at the Baby Home last Saturday afternoon was largely attended and the rooms were attractive with roses. The members of the board received the address of the afternoon, and a reading by Mrs. Sylvia McGee, a song by Mrs. K. Rose and a recitation by little Mary. The program was completed. Almost 200 people attended. The tea room was attractively arranged by Mrs. F. L. Ladd and Mrs. John K. Kollock assisted by several young girls and several young girls served. The Dix society had charge of the tea and candies, and the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Miss Pauline Fithian, Miss May, Miss Jessie Beckwith, Miss Mildred Van, Miss Edith Sheehy, Miss Sue Morrow, Miss Margaret Pike, Miss Philomena Barnes and Miss Harrington.

It was Mrs. Charles Scadding's plan to give a tea in honor of the graduating class of St. Helen's Hall annually at Bishopcroft, but owing to her illness this was impossible this year, and at the request of the bishop, entertained the graduates in the large reception room at St. Helen's hall Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Scadding sent a message of loving interest and best wishes, and the girls were happy in the assurance of her recovery from her serious illness. A class photograph was taken and dainty refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Dorothy Gilbert, Stella Jones, Vieve and Louise Cecil, Daisy Green, Helen and Roxann White, Lucille and Emmeline Powell, Grace Collier, Elizabeth Blair, Margaret Caldwell, Ellen Thielens, Frances Clay, Adele Dyott and Clara Fildner. The bishop acted as host and gave a brief talk.

The annual benefit baseball game for the flower mission day nursery will be played at Multnomah club next Saturday afternoon. As usual the contest will be between the bankers on the one side and the lawyers and doctors on the other. As an athletic event it promises to be of some importance because the famous Fielder Jones will play in the game. Socially it is always prominent because such well known matrons lend their support. The champion is a popular one, which engages many of the younger set as well as the older. The patronesses for this game are Mrs. Lewis Ladd, Mrs. C. E. S. Wood, Miss Williams, Mrs. James C. Zan, Mrs. C. F. Adams, Mrs. Ralph W. Hoyt, Mrs. A. E. Rocky, Mrs. John C. Almsworth, Mrs. Joseph N. Teal and Mrs. William L. Wood.

Mrs. J. G. Gaid entertained at luncheon Thursday for Miss Frances Lewis bride-elect. There were four brides-to-be at the luncheon and much attention was bestowed on all of them—Miss Lewis, who is to be married week after this; Miss Caroline Kamm and Miss Alta Smith, who will be married in September, and Miss Hannah Adair, whose marriage will be the last of this week. The other guests were Mrs. Walter B. Burrell, Mrs. J. G. Edwards of Hay Creek, Miss Elsa Grele, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mrs. David T. Honeyman and Mrs. Herbert S. Nichols. The centerpiece was a tall brass vase with red poppies. Brass was evident throughout the service and coffee was served from a handsome brass samovar and tray.

The marriage of Miss Olive Elizabeth Neal of Lewiston, Idaho, and John Claire Monteth of Portland, was celebrated in Lewiston Wednesday, June 2. It was an event of interest in Lewiston where the Neels are a prominent family and Miss Neal was one of the social favorites. The ceremony was celebrated in the large garden under the trees. The bride and groom were accompanied by the party from the house and formed an aisle of white ribbons to the floral altar where the service was read. Mr. and Mrs. Monteth took a short trip and then came to Portland where they are at home at Southampton court. Mrs. Monteth is musical and will doubtless take her place here with the musical set in which Mr. Monteth is prominent.

The reception given Monday evening at the Portland by Japanese Consul and Mrs. Y. Numano for Admiral Iliohi and his officers was an extensive affair. Over a thousand guests called during the evening. The hotel was beautifully decorated. Indoors, flowers were everywhere.

George Barclay Moffatt of New York was honor guest at a luncheon given by Guy W. Talbot at the Arlington club Wednesday. The guests were Judge C. H. Carey, T. B. Wilcox, C. E. S. Wood, John F. Carroll, E. S. Jomelyn, C. F. Adams, J. C. Almsworth, Henry Ladd Corbett, J. B. Kerr, Dr. E. F. Tucker, Harvey W. Scott, C. F. Swigert, Francis R. Clarke, W. M. Ladd, J. Couch Flinders, Edward W. Cookingham, W. Turner, C. A. Coolidge and G. E. Nevins.

Announcement was made of the engagement of Hazel Schaefer Greene to Ralph Malcho Sutherland of Duluth, Minn., at a bride party given by Mrs. Norris B. Gregg on Friday at her home in Irvington. The wedding is to take place next Wednesday morning at 10:30 at the United Presbyterian church. Mrs. Greene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Schaefer and sister of Miss Myrtle Schaefer of Irvington. Mr. Sutherland is one of the firm of Sutherland-Bruer Timber company.

W. D. Wheelwright entertained Friday evening with a beautiful dinner at the Portland for Monsieur and Madame Jussaraud. Covers were laid for 15 and the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dolph, Dr. and Mrs. Holt, C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster, General and Mrs. C. F. Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koehler, Mrs. and Mrs. C. E. S. Wood and Miss Peale, who is Mrs. Allen Lewis.

W. D. Wheelwright gave a dinner at the Portland Monday evening for Governor General and Mrs. James F. Smith of the Philippines, who spent a few days here. His other guests were Admiral and Mrs. Schreier, who came over from Seattle for the week, the admiral's aide, Lieutenant Holmes, Mrs. C. J. Reed, Major Noble of Vancouver, Dr. and Mrs. Holt, C. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman.

where. In the court which had been screened off from the street, Oriental lanterns illuminated everything, and divans, rugs and tete-a-tete tables added to the comfort of the guests. There the Japanese imperial band played. Mr. and Mrs. Numano received with the officers, and the little hostess presented a quaint picture in an American gown of pink crepe beautifully embroidered and worn with diamonds.

The loan exhibit of paintings at the Art Museum is attracting a great deal of attention and visitors have been crowding in daily to see Portland's best works of art. Those who have lent pictures are: W. B. Ayer, W. J. Burns, Miss Kathryn Beck, Judge C. H. Carey, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, W. H. Corbett, Dr. T. L. Elliot, M. H. Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Hannah Adair and Lauesat Richter Rogers of New York, which will be celebrated next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at St. Stephen's pro-cathedral. The ceremony will be quiet and there will be no reception afterward because of illness at home. The bride's sister, Mrs. Mary Adair, will attend her and Mr. Totten of Washington, D. C., will come out with Mr. Rogers to attend him. Miss Adair's daughter, Mrs. and Mrs. Samuel Dickinson Adair of Irvington and a granddaughter of the late Bishop B. Wistar Morris and Mrs. Morris.

An open meeting of the Portland branch of the Consumers' league has been announced for Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. Mrs. W. J. Honeyman and Rev. Albert T. Talbot of St. David's Episcopal church will be the principal speakers. Several interesting announcements relating to work planned for the summer months will be made. The meeting will be held in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium and all interested in the work are invited, whether members of the league or not.

George Barclay Moffatt of New York was honor guest at a luncheon given by Guy W. Talbot at the Arlington club Wednesday. The guests were Judge C. H. Carey, T. B. Wilcox, C. E. S. Wood, John F. W. D. Wheelwright gave a dinner at the Portland Monday evening for Governor General and Mrs. James F. Smith of the Philippines, who spent a son of Mrs. Jessie M. Honeyman of Portland. The wedding was celebrated quietly last week, and Elliot Corbett went up to attend as best man. The bride has often visited here and has provided a belle at the assemblies.

Madame Etienne Lanet, who is Miss Amy McKee, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Norman Lang of Oregon City. A little later Monsieur Lanet, who is consul general to New York from France, will join her here, and the entire McKee family will go to California for a family reunion at Mrs. Lang's country place, Lake Tahoe. Mrs. Pierce of Oakland, another sister, will join them there.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nixon have sold their pretty suburban home at Mount Tabor. Mrs. Nixon is planning to go abroad in about six weeks for a long stay on account of her health. She is, however, much better than she has been in a long time. Mrs. Nixon was Miss Agnes Dolph, who was one of the most beautiful young women in Portland.

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Miss Marion Blakely of Tacoma to Bruce Honeyman.

The Monday Musical club gave its annual concert and reception at Christensen's hall Friday night a week ago and it was largely attended by friends. A good program was given on which Miss Elizabeth Harwar's songs were the leading feature. Members of the club gave numbers which were heartily applauded. An informal reception followed at which refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Root entertained at dinner Wednesday evening. The Rose Festival was suggested in the table decorations, which were of pink roses with pink shades for the candles. The place cards were water color roses. The guests were Gwendolyn Kofoed, Miss Lillian Rourke, Cotton Mather of New York and George P. Goodwin.

Mrs. Harris, who was Miss Carrie Friendly, will arrive from San Francisco soon to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Friendly.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Irwin renewed acquaintances in Portland for a few days last week on their way from California, where they went to benefit Mr. Irwin's health, which is much improved. They have returned to The Breakers at Long Beach.

Miss Florence Kohn was hostess for a number of the young people evenings of last week in the Kohn apartments at the Portland. She entertained them informally, and they viewed the parades from the windows which overlook the street.
