Mrs. Thomas L. Parkinson entertained at luncheon Thursday in honor of her sister, Mrs. Walter J. Howard of St. Paul, who is here to spend the summer. Luncheon was spread on the lawn under the trees of the hostess' pretty east side home. Caroline, a hostess in bowls formed a pretty table decoration, and rose vines trailed over the cloth. A large bird was at each place for the guests. The party later saw the parade on the west side. The guests were Mrs. L. H. Knudsen, Mrs. Thomas P. T. Wilson, Mrs. Lucy Morgan, Mrs. George H. Nelson, Mrs. Carlsson, Mrs. J. H. Dreary, Mrs. Roderick E. Jameson, Mrs. Percy J. Carl, Mrs. Harold T. Crowther, Mrs. Henry Stephenson, Miss Frances Thompson, Miss Myrtle Crowther, Miss Maybelle Smith, and Miss Florence Helen Rodney.

Thursday evening Miss Wilhelmina Franklin entertained a party of friends with a coaching party. The company drove into the country early in the evening for supper and returned in time to view the parade from their places in the trolley. Afterward they drove out the Linnton road and making a joyous din with tin horns and cowbells. Ice cream and cake were served at Miss Franklin's home when the party returned. The guests were: Miss Dora Wilson, Miss Margaret Tanthor, Miss Frances Gregory, Miss Helene Lawson, Miss Marguerite Powell, Miss Florence Dodson, Miss Lily Persson, Frank W. Thompson, Marshall T. Simson, William L. Hutchinson, Frederick Peterson, Dean Charles Bar- rister, Ward J. Smith and Henry K. Karlson.

Among the enjoyable events of last week was a party given by Miss Edna Taylor of Pismo. The young women of the party assembled at the home of Miss Taylor about 10:30 o'clock, leaving shortly afterward for Columbia lakes where the day was to be spent. There on the banks of the lakes, hammocks had been put up, boats had been engaged, and such other arrangements made as to insure the merry-making a pleasant day. Those of the party were: Louise Meyers, Dora Rhodes, Dorothy Rhodes, Louise Taylor, Merriel Taylor, Katherine Limewebber, Marguerite Jesse, Hedwick Casper, Edna Taylor, Addie Limewebber and Miss Janet Arnold Casper. The chaperons were Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Casper and Miss Rhodes.

Mrs. R. Caughey of 932 East Couch street entertained a few friends Tuesday evening in honor of her guests, Rev. J. Louis Caughey and Mrs. Caughey of Harlem Presbyterian church, New York City, who attended the Young Men's Christian Association festival. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Morton Doty, Miss Beatrice Doty, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Last Friday evening, the younger members of Winona circle 576, W. Q. W. entertained with a delightful informal party at Green's hall in Woodburn. Music was furnished by a four piece orchestra and the early part of the evening was devoted to dancing, after which light refreshments were served, and the latter part of the evening was given up to the enjoyment of games. About 15 couples were present.

WEDDINGS

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Richard Scott on Tuesday when her daughter, Eva Jane, and Dr. Henry Cline Fixott were married by Father Taylor, vicar of St. John's Episcopal church. The bride was charmingly robed in cream silk tulle, crepe, and tulle, and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. William, as matron of honor, and was given away by her uncle, William Scott. The bridegroom was attended by William Whitfield. Mrs. Garfield played the wedding march. Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present, on account of the recent death of the bride's father. The rooms were tastefully decorated. The drawing room in roses and the spacious dining room in California poppies and goldens. A pretty bouquet was the throwing of the bride's bouquet.

which was caught by Miss Farrell. After refreshments were served, the Doctor and his bride left for a short trip, mid showers of rose petals and good wishes. They will be home at Seaside after the 29th of the month. The bride is the daughter of the late Richard Scott, who was one of Oregon's most beloved and honored pioneers. The groom is a son of J. S. G. Fixott of Seattle, Wash. He comes from an old family that has for generations supplied many eminent physicians. His great grandfather, Dr. Charles Fixott, of St. Helens, Jersey, England, was an associate of the late Sir Antley Cooper and with him studied under the same tutor, Sir John Cline. His grandfather, who was a physician, settled in the maritime provinces 70 years ago, where his uncle, H. J. Fixott, is now a practicing physician. Dr. John Fixott, his great great grandfather, was surgeon on a British man of war in the siege of Louisburg.

A pretty wedding was celebrated in Forest Grove last Sunday when Miss Clorise Myrtle Vanden became the bride of John A. Davis at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Venden, parents of the bride. Rev. H. L. Bates, principal of Tualatin academy, read the marriage service. The ceremony was performed beneath an arch of white roses and ivy, from which were suspended bells, nosegays of roses and ivy. The bride was attired in a gown of silk mull made empire, with a blue sash. Mrs. Charles Brockman was ring bearer, and Ray Venden was best man.

Mrs. Davis is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Venden, who have made their home for a great many years in Forest Grove, and she is a social favorite among the younger society set. Mr. Davis is an electrician of Portland, and they will make their home after a trip to the Seattle exposition and to points in California.

A beautiful wedding was celebrated at St. Patrick's church Monday morning in the presence of immediate friends and relatives when William T. Concannon, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Concannon, and Miss Hannah Hoglund were married. The church was decorated in white and pink roses. The bride party with Miss Agnes Dinneen, maid of honor, and Ralph Blake, the attendant of groom, proceeded up the aisle to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Mary Concannon. Mass was celebrated by Rev. E. P. Murphy. During the ceremony Miss Irene Blake sang "Ave Maria" and "Act of Reparation." The bride wore a blue traveling suit and a hat to match and carried bridal roses. The maid of honor wore a cream colored suit and carried white ribbons. The immediate relatives gathered at the home of the groom for a wedding breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. William Concannon have gone to Seattle and British Columbia and will be at home at 749 Xavier street after June 15.

Last Sunday, at the home of the bride's parents, 886 Division street, Leslie Clyde Pershin was united in wedlock to Lydia Margaret Paulsen, both residents of this city. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and there was a bower of roses amidst which hung the magnificent bells. A luncheon followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Pershin left in a well decorated auto, under showers of rice.

Tuesday morning Miss Katherine Lillis and Joseph Jacobberger were quietly married at the St. Lawrence church by Rev. Father J. C. Hughes. They have come to Seattle and Victoria on their wedding trip and will return in a week or 10 days. For the present they will be at home at 109 Gibbs street and later they will occupy their own home at the head of Hall street. Mr. Jacobberger is one of the most prominent architects in Portland and is president of the Architects' association. Miss Margaret Murphy was the bridesmaid and Thomas E. Hulme was the best man.

There was a pretty family wedding celebrated at the residence of the bride's brother, S. Kafka, 13 East Eleventh street, last Sunday evening by Rev. Jonah B. Wise of Temple Beth Israel, when Miss Emma Kafka was married to Philip Apter of this city. About 40 guests were present.

The rooms were tastefully decorated in pink and red roses, ferns and ivy forming a beautiful color scheme. The bride, in a handsome empire gown of champagne messaline entered with her brother and carried a bouquet of bride roses, while her sister, Miss Jennie Kafka, acted as maid of honor, and the groom was attended by his brother-in-law. Light refreshments followed the congratulations.

A pretty home wedding was celebrated last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cartman, 291 Jackson street, when their daughter Clara was married to Lee Kemp. Rev. H. N. Heller officiated.

The bride was beautifully gowned in a white liberty satin gown trimmed in silver and applique lace. After the ceremony supper was served to 40. Mr. and Mrs. Kemp left the same evening on their honeymoon, which will be spent in the Puget sound country and the Yellowstone park. On their return they will reside at the home of the bride's parents.

A pleasant wedding took place at 713 Hoyt street at 10 o'clock last Monday morning when Bruce G. Hurt and Bessie W. Robinson were united in marriage by Rev. E. M. Patterson of Kora Park Christian church. The wedding was a quiet one, only relatives of the bride and groom being present. Mr. and Mrs. Hurt will make Portland their home.

A quiet home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. O. Baldwin, 1058 East Madison street, last Tuesday evening when Edward Ahlgren
