HEIGHTS PROPERTY

Homesite Bought by George W. Odell, a Retired Banker of Spokane.

Among the men who have shown a permanent preference for the city of Portland is George W. Odell. For years Mr. Odell has lived in Spokane, where he acquired a considerable fortune. When he determined to select Portland for his future home a suitable building site was the first question to be settled. After looking over the city carefully, as he expects to erect a very pretentious residence, he bought a quarter block at Sixteenth and Clifton streets on Portland Heights of D. E. Keasey & Co. This section of the Heights is one of the newest to be developed by this big brokerage firm. Prior to its being offered for sale the Keasey firm spent a fortune in terracing and preparing the streets. For this reason Mr. Keasey has led the van of realty agents who have attempted at various times to handle Heights property. Just now several extensive owners of valuable and sightly tracts on the hills overlooking Portland have placed their property in the hands of D. E. Keasey, knowing that it would be handled properly to effect an expeditious sale.

FOREST EXHIBIT AT A.-Y.-P. FAIR

Forest Service Employe Declares Display Very Attractive.

J. B. Knapp of the local office of the forest service, has returned from Seattle, where he attended the opening of the A.-Y.-P. exposition. Mr. Knapp is enthusiastic over the exhibits which the forest service has installed at Seattle.

The main exhibit of the service is located in the government building, and attracted much favorable comment of a thousand visitors who attended the fair on the opening day. The exhibits consists, chiefly, of large bromides and transparencies showing views of forest areas and logging operations. These are mounted in suitable cases and are very impressive because of their size and beauty of the natural coloring which has been added to the photographs by government artists. Sections of Douglas fir and redwood trees are also shown. These sections were taken from the trees at points 10 feet apart, for their full height, and are accompanied by diagrams which explain the growth of these two species. The remaining floor space is covered with cases and stands showing photographs, samples of wood, paper pulp, and other wood products.

The forest service is also operating a completely equipped timber testing laboratory in the machinery building. Here the regular timber test work of the service is under way. Each afternoon at 3 o'clock, a large bridge timber "8x16" in cross section and 16 feet long is tested. This timber is placed in a large testing machine, and is then loaded until it is completely broken. The timber is then sawed into small pieces and tests are made on these. Other sample tested specimens of various manufactured forms, such as wagon axels, buggy spokes, shafts and wagon poles, are also shown. Charts showing the strength of all of the principal American structural timbers are also on exhibit.

DOUGLAS APPEALS THROUGH ATTORNEYS

Notice of appeal has been filed by the attorneys for W. E. Douglas, who was convicted in April on the charge of embezzling $25 from the Thiel Detective agency. An appeal was not expected, as Douglas was sentenced to serve only five months in jail and nearly two months have elapsed since his conviction. If the appeal is perfected and a new trial is ultimately denied, he will get no credit for the time he has spent in jail.

Douglas was twice tried on different charges, the total sum he was alleged to have embezzled being nearly $5000. On the first trial the jury disagreed. The last time the jurors were out over two days, finally agreeing on a verdict after Judge Morrow had appealed to them not to make another trial necessary. He was then found guilty of embezzling only $25, and it was expected that the defense would accept this as final.

GARDENS AROUND EAST SIDE STATION

Cement platforms entirely covering the half block around the new station and some effective floral gardens on the East Morrison street front are among the plans that the Southern Pacific company is going to carry into effect at its new East Morrison street station.

A special permit is now awaiting the signature of Mayor Lane that will allow the railroad to extend its concrete platform out into East First street to the tracks, so that passengers will step from the cars to the platform. The purpose is to extend this concrete platform all around the station, but to leave place on the East Morrison street side where a small formal garden will be placed.
