

MISSISSIPPIAN: MISSES HIS BABY

A. L. Bozeley Fined $50 for Assaulting Bet-ter Half.

How much wood is needed for a day's washing? Are six sticks sufficient? And is a woman wasteful if she uses more?

Because he left his wife only a few pieces of wood with which to wash, A. L. Bozeley must either pay a fine of $50 or remain in jail for some time.

paid their bribes, and up to March 13, 1906, when Calhoun returned from the east the United Railroad had not made a single step to get an overhead trolley franchise.

"No mention of Trolley. It is important for you to keep in mind the fact that this conference between Spreckels and Calhoun and myself, who have been accused of conspiring to get the street railway business of San Francisco, took place before the United Railroad had made any mention of an overhead trolley.

"Immediately after March 13, 1906, on his return from the east, Calhoun started to get an overhead trolley franchise on Sutter street. Spreckels' testimony was introduced here to show which was the better system, but to show the motive for Calhoun's frenzied attempts to get an overhead trolley franchise.

"Does that show Spreckels wanted a street car system himself? No, it shows that he wanted the best car service possible for the city.

"I maintain that Calhoun came here in 1906 to get the franchise on Sutter street. The people couldn't give it to him. The adorning committee couldn't give him. The only ones who could give it to him were Abe Ruef and the board of supervisors and the way the case has been conducted from the time of his coming to this city, it is the friend of Calhoun and still is.

"That Abe Ruef held up the United Railroads is inconsistent with the dinner party he gave him and Eugene E. Schmitz; it is inconsistent with every piece of evidence in this case. No Abraham Ruef still belongs to them and they didn't hold him during this trial. He didn't hold them up; Calhoun says so. The board of supervisors held Abraham Ruef up, and Abraham Ruef was the only loser."

"Circumstantial Evidence Good. Henry then upheld the value of the testimony of the supervisors. He said: 'Coffee was convicted on Gallagher's testimony. Abe Ruef was convicted partly on his testimony. Isn't it a fair instance that if in the Ruef trial the jury convicted on testimony of Gallagher, Coffee, Furs and Schmitz, is there any reason that the testimony can't be as good in this case, so far as it goes to show that Gallagher made an offer to the supervisors, that Ruef authorized Gallagher to pay the supervisors and that Gallagher paid the money?'

"The records show, however, that Abe Ruef was convicted of offering a bribe in the trolley matter. Now, you have the right to say, 'I'll acquit Mr. Calhoun because they haven't brought any witness her to testify that he gave the money to pay the bribe to Abe Ruef, or that he heard Patrick Calhoun authorize Ford to pay the bribe to Abe Ruef. When the money was paid to the trolley company, the head when no one else was in the room was convicted, you didn't need any more witnesses.'

"PRESSED HARD. Coffee's Weight on Old Age. When prominent men realize the injurious effects of coffee and the change in health that Postum can bring, they are glad to lend their testimony for the benefit of others.

"A superintendent of public schools in one of the southern states says: 'My mother, since her early childhood, was an inveterate coffee drinker, had been troubled with her heart for a number of years and complained of that 'weak all over' feeling and sick stomach. 'Some time ago she was making an official visit to a distant part of the country and took dinner with one of the merchants of the place. I noticed a somewhat peculiar flavour of the coffee and asked him concerning it. He replied that it was Postum.

"I was so pleased with it, that after the meal was over, I bought a package to carry home for me, and had wife prepare some for the next meal. The whole family were so well pleased with it, that we discontinued coffee and used Postum entirely.

"I had noticed that in times very anxious concerning my mother's condition, but we noticed that after using Postum for a short time, she felt so much better than she did prior to its use, and had little trouble with her heart and no sick stomach; that the headaches were not so frequent, and her general condition much improved. This continued until she was as well and hearty as the rest of us.

"I know Postum has benefited myself and the other members of the family, but not in so marked a degree as in the case of my mother, as she was a victim of long standing 'Headache' and 'The Road to Wellville' in p.k.s. There's a Reason."

NERVOUSNESS DUE TO OVERSTUDY

Patient Almost Despaired of Recovery but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Her.

Nervous exhaustion early shows itself in the decreased activity of the organs that normally cast out the waste products of the body. The kidneys, skin and bowels are deprived of some of their energy and a part of the poisonous waste materials, which they readily pass through their health, are turned back into the blood.

The tonic treatment for nervous troubles, by building up the blood and supplying it with good elements, and gives to the nerves the elements they need. In no other way can these elements be conveyed to the nerves except through the blood.

Mrs. Grace W. Glidden of No. 40 Adams street, Winter Hill, Somerville, Mass. says: 'I was afflicted with nervousness for nearly three years. The trouble began when I was 17 years old and was due, I think, to overstudy. I tried to get through school too quickly with the result that I broke down a year before I would have graduated. I had severe choking spells when I would turn purple and fall down in a faint. I would be perfectly rigid. These spells would last sometimes for two hours. After these spells I would be very nervous and have to be in bed for a week. The muscles in my face and neck were affected and I was worn out.

"The first doctor I employed said he did not know what caused my sickness, but that it was some kind of nervous trouble. I could not see that he helped me at all. I then went to a specialist in nervous diseases but he also failed to help me. They said I would never fully recover. I had about given up hope when a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was willing to try anything that promised help and am glad I took the advice. The pills helped me and I took them regularly for two months. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a wonderful medicine and I know they cured me. I have been in good health since taking the pills. They are sold by all druggists, or can be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

MASONIC HOME'S POSTPONED

Grand Lodge Closes Session and Continues Matter of Housing Aged Members.

With the installation of the newly elected grand officers, the session of the Grand Lodge of Oregon Masons, which has been in session in the Yamhill street temple since Wednesday morning, will come to a close. This morning's session was devoted to cleaning up routine matters that were left over from yesterday's business session.

The proposed Masonic home for aged and infirm members of the order which has been under consideration for some time by the Grand Lodge, was up for discussion at yesterday afternoon's session. However, definite action in the matter was put over until the Grand lodge meets in 1910. The committee appointed last year to look into the need and advisability of establishing such a home was continued for another year with instructions to report to the next Grand lodge on an available site for the building.

Grand Master-Elect Dr. Norris R. Cox, announced yesterday afternoon that he would resign Rev. J. E. N. Bell as grand chaplain of the order in this jurisdiction.

Charters were granted for new lodges at Bend, North Bend, Hermiston and Seaside, and the new grand master was given authority to issue a special dispensation for a lodge at Vale, for which a charter was asked.

The work of formally installing the grand officers of the Order of the Eastern Star, which took place at the time of yesterday afternoon's session of the Grand chapter, Mrs. Jessie Vert, P. G. M., had charge of the ritualistic ceremonies and was assisted by Mrs. Inez M. Ryan of Oregon City, as grand marshal; Mrs. Mary Scott of Bay City, as grand chaplain, and Miss Josie Stapleton of Portland, as grand organist.

WILLIAMS GETS TERM IN PRISON

Leather Workers to Serve Five Years for Embezzlement.

Five years in the penitentiary was the sentence imposed on D. H. Williams, formerly secretary treasurer of the Portland local of the United Leather Workers' union, by Judge Cleland in the circuit court this morning. Williams was convicted by a jury on the charge of embezzling $1000 of the union funds, which he had received as benefits for strikers.

Williams told the court he had nothing to say when asked if he desired to present any objection to the passing of sentence. His attorney, John A. Jeffrey, was present but refrained from making any statement. Deputy District Attorney Vreeland, representing the state, said that the case was a serious breach of trust, and one of the sort that it is impossible to guard against, so he thought a severe sentence should be given.

Five days was allowed for filing a motion for new trial and 30 days for presenting a bill of exceptions on appeal.

SORTING VALUABLES IN SULLIVAN'S GULCH

Though only a charge of carrying concealed weapons is lodged against Mike Appold, arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer J. C. Gill, he is held on suspicion of having robbed the home of J. E. Park in Hutchinson, Kan. Appold was arrested under the railroad bridge in Sullivan's gulch, and according to the officer was on his knees sorting out papers, jewelry and other articles. He told the officer he found them in the gulch.

Appold is thought by the police to be a vagabond, and it is their belief that he robbed the home of Mr. Park or was given the valuables for disposal by some brother vagabond. The papers consisted of deeds, contracts, mortgages and legal documents of all kinds. Several rings were among the jewelry.

Search of Appold's clothing revealed a large hunting knife, and as no definite evidence that he is a crook could be secured at once, he was locked up in the jail until some word can be received from the authorities of the Kansas city. Appold makes his plea of innocence of any wrong doing.

The Rev. Robert McIntyre, bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, stationed in St. Paul, has been initiated a member of the Bricklayers' union.

SONS OF DESERT READY FOR TIP

Tomorrow night is the great night in Sherwood in the Oasis of Portland. All the sons of the desert, headed by L. G. Clarke, the potentate, will be on their feet for the annual grilling of the sacred lamb, and it is expected quite a number of novices will be permitted to join in this most wonderful trip across the hot sands.

Among the chief features will be the Arab patrol, under the personal command of Captain William O. Gatch, the oriental banquet, which is to include some interesting and original separations; and, above all, the abundant supply of o-k-i-t-i-f-o-i-l, which arrived here just on time for use at this particular spring ceremonial. It is understood this innovation has been obtained from the innermost recesses of Mohammed's land.

The ceremony will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and will keep up until every one of the children of the prophet have had their share of all the good things.

NEWLY NAMED

tion was prepared and filed with the governor.

This report showed that the work of the commission had been supported and carried on by voluntary subscriptions amounting to the amount of $391.60 having been raised and expended in the conduct of the work of the commission. A detailed statement of the expenses and disbursements of the commission, together with the subscriptions and other receipts, will be reported.

It was set out that the commission had made a report on the conservation work in Oregon, which was presented to the national convention or conference in Washington, D. C., in December last, and attracted much attention. Since that time there has been a steady demand for the report, which had been printed, and the edition at the present time was about exhausted.

Did Much Good Work. The legislative work of the old commission had been important, the report stated. It was pointed out that the present water code passed by the last session of the legislature, was the result of the work of the conservation commission. As a result of its work also a law was passed providing for the appointment of a conservation commission of seven members.

The legislature, on its own initiative, the report shows, passed a law fixing an annual license to be paid for use of water power, and limiting the time of such grant, a fish law shortening the open season, a game code, a law providing for an experiment station at Hermiston and another on the dry uplands of eastern Oregon.

In concluding his report the old commission pledged the cooperation of its members individually to the work of the new commission.

An amalgamation of all industries suffering from Japanese competition, for the purpose of driving the orientals from the commercial field of the Pacific coast has been suggested.
