WORLD'S MARKETS TODAY

NEW WHEAT IS SELLING HIGH

Some Turkey Red and Bluestem Contracted in Interior—Few Strawberries.

TODAY'S WHOLESALE MARKETS.
Contracting new wheat crop.
Strawberry season closing.
Bing cherries coming.
Lemon market advanced 25c case.
Provisions showing advances.
Sugar decline takes effect.
Eggs still unsteady.
Some chickens carried over.
Tomato market easier.

Contracting New Crop Wheat.

Several contracts on new crop wheat have been reported made at interior points since last Friday. A number have been completed in the Palouse around 80c a bushel for Turkey red, warehouse interior. Range of values for new crop is very wide; bluestem selling as high as $1 a bushel, while some deals are reported down to 90c. However, the market is unusually firm for contracts and producers would be able to sell heavy supplies at ruling values providing they were of that mind.

Talk of New Oats Contracts.

While no news of a definite nature is obtainable at this time, it is stated that several contracts on the coming crop of oats have been made around $1.30 a cental for early delivery, although it is quite possible that this figure is not exactly in line with real conditions. While there is likewise some talk of barley contracts at unusually high figures because of the bare condition of every market along the coast, no figures are available even in a rumored way.

Efforts to Advance Flour Futile.

Efforts are still being made by some of the outside mills to force a higher value for flour in this market but thus far they have not met with the least success. Larger millers say there will be no rise in flour values as far as they are concerned and without them the smaller millers would be unable to maintain a higher range even though they tried.

Strawberry Season Is Closing.

Market for strawberries is closing very fast and this morning's offerings along Front street were not half of what they were on Saturday. The prices are not ranging any higher because of the poorer quality of the offerings and growers say the stock is getting poorer as the season wanes. For best Magoons the price along the street this morning ruled around $1.40@1.50 a crate of 24s, although most of the sales of best quality were made at the higher range. Clarks were very scarce and sold at $1.75, while some Wilsons were offering at a similar figure.

Bing Cherries From The Dalles.

Receipts of Bing cherries from The Dalles are increasing. Quality is the best of the present season—in fact present arrivals are about the only first class cherries received thus far this season. Some receivers made considerable effort to hold the price at $1.25@1.50, but the trade was unable to obtain more than $1@1.25 generally. As a whole, the cherry market is in unsatisfactory shape, because of the huge offerings of poor early stock. Prices range from 3c a pound upward.

Lemon Market Advanced.

Anticipation of warm weather and not present conditions, caused an advance of 25c in the price of lemons recently at primary points and in this market a similar rise is being quoted today by the Front street trade.

Mexican limes are offering in small lots around $1 per 100.

Some Chickens Carried Over.

Some chickens were carried over from Saturday by the Front street trade because of the slower demand. Receipts have been so liberal of late that the big retail buyers have their places filled and are more independent than heretofore.

Egg market is easy with no visible change in prices.

Dressed meats are firm for all lines of good quality.

Butter market is firmer.

Cheese is steady with prices unchanged.

Brief Notes of Wholesale Trade.

Provision prices are generally advanced according to the list issued by the Union Meat company today. Hams are up ½c, bacon ½c, and lard of all grades ¼c a pound.

Tomato market is easier with heavier offerings from California and local hothouses.

Decline of 5c in the price of western and California and Hawaiian sugar quoted by local jobbers and mentioned in this report Saturday, took effect this morning.

More local cabbage is offering. Price unchanged.

GOING OVER TO SEPTEMBER PIT

July Up but Loses Ground—Advance Made Despite Good Crop Reports.

CHICAGO WHEAT MARKET.

	June 21.	June 19.	Gain.	1908.
July	114¼	113 A	1¼	86½
Sept.	108⅛	106⅝A	1½	85½
Dec.	106½B	105⅜	1⅛	86½
May	109¼	108⅛	1⅛	....

Chicago, June 21.—There was a better showing of values during initial trading in the wheat pit today and quotations were generally advanced. The closing was 1⅛ to 1½c a bushel over the final of Saturday.

At the opening the July moved to 113¼ today, September 106⅞, December 105⅞, and May 108¼. The closing was 114¼ bid, 108⅛, 106½ bid and 109¼ for the four options respectively.

Traders in the July acted with considerable caution at the start although the bids were ⅛c advanced over the ending of Saturday's session. Many of those who had figured prominently in the July deal started over toward the September today and this forced the latter option into most prominence with the result that it closed with the highest gain for the day.

News of the growing crop was not of character to inspire confidence in the bull side; all news received today indicating a better yield than had been anticipated.

Liverpool was on the fence with an opening unchanged to ⅛d higher and a closing ⅛ to ⅜d above Saturday. Paris closed 5 to 15 centimes advanced but Antwerp was weary and again showed no change.

QUALITY CALL IS PRONOUNCED

Best Cattle Absent but Demand Is Heavy—Poor Stuff Neglected.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK RUN.

	Hogs.	Cattle.	Sheep.
Monday	95	254	326
Saturday	131	180	...
Friday	70	80	...
Thursday	166	223	407
Wednesday	349	495	1,967
Tuesday	90	231	1,290

Portland Union Stockyards, June 21.—There was a fair showing of cattle in the yards over Sunday so far as receipts were concerned but the quality of late arrivals has been unusually poor.

There is practically no supply of good stuff available at this time although so far as demand is concerned there never was a better time to ship than the present moment. So say commission handlers and buyers and there is no getting away from such evidence.

Total run of cattle in the yards during the past 48 hours were 254 head comparing with 180 Saturday, 80 Friday, 223 Thursday, 495 Wednesday, 231 Tuesday and 204 head a week ago today.

Poor Stuff Carried Over.

So far as prices are concerned there was no change of sentiment in the cattle market. Demand for some time has been for the better class of steers and cows, but few of this character have been offering. Some very poor stuff which put in appearance on Saturday, could not be sold that day and was carried over until this morning and still was without any one favorably enough impressed to purchase even at low prices.

Hogs Not Fit to Kill.

While the run of hogs has been very poor recently, some of the arrivals have not found buyers because they are not good enough to kill. Top hogs are very firm and there is no doubt that former high values would be easily maintained providing the quality was offering but as killers have been forced recently to bring in heavy supplies from the east, they say they cannot use the poor stuff at any price. So far as feeders are concerned the present price is far out of line when compared with good stuff and this is why stockmen are not buying.

Sheep market remains in about the same position as Saturday with some lambs moving at $5@5.25, although the latter price was obtainable only in a nominal way and then for select quality.

Frank Dinges of Junction City was in with lambs that brought top quotations.

Today's run of livestock compares with this day in recent years as follows:

	Hogs.	Cattle.	Sheep.
1909	95	254	326
1908	...	55	100
1907	168	63	829
1906	...	50	...
1905	...	375	...

A year ago today there was weakness in cattle and sheep but hogs were firm.

What the Dealers Say.

J. C. Lonergan—"Market is quiet with buyers seemingly out of the field."

William Burke Jr., of Burke Commission Co.—"Market is rather quiet with no special change in the situation."

A. F. Hunt of Hunt & Lacey—"I would like to impress upon shippers the necessity of sending good stuff to market, for that is the kind buyers are looking for."

S. P. Gould, for Gould Commission company—Market is quiet, with only a small amount of stuff coming forward.

Tom C. Benson, of T. C. Benson & Son—Market is quiet, with no apparent change in quotations. Hogs are very firm.

Colonel Hall, for Sharkey Commission company—General range of values in the livestock market is showing no change. Good stuff in extra demand.

MIXED CONDITIONS, WRITES JOHN INGLIS

Chicago, June 21.—John Inglis writes from Springfield: Springfield is heralded in having such a fine crop, but I find conditions much more mixed than in previous years. For 10 miles north from the city, yields will run eight to 20 bushels, with some good quality, but bradth of area of good wheat limited. General average will be disappointing, some fields look like 15 bushels, but will not make over 8 to 10 as blight and scab has almost ruined some of it. Cutting is general, too much rain has caused injury. Oats have improved greatly, average very large. Corn all right, but a month late.

FINEST SPECIMENS OF WHITMAN GRAIN

Colfax, Wash., June 21.—Two of the finest specimens of growing grain ever seen in this section were today forwarded to I. B. Harris, manager of the Whitman county exhibit at the A.-Y.-P. exposition at Seattle, by Former State Senator Oliver Hall of Colfax, to be added to the already extensive collection of cereal exhibits in the Whitman county display.

The larger of the samples is 40-fold, and is 6 feet and an inch in length, while the smaller one, which is but half an inch shorter than the other, is one of the hybrid varieties propagated at the experimental station at Washington, known as No. 123. Both of the samples were selected at random from an 80 acre field of fall sown grain on Senator Hall's farm, a mile east of Colfax, and the land on which they were grown has never been artificially fertilized, nor has the grain had any more cultivation or care than is customary in the common methods of farming employed in this locality.

Liverpool Wheat Market.

Disbursements, $1,960,000.

WABASH CAUSE OF STOCK RAID

Reported Failure of Delaware & Hudson to Absorb Road Forces Selling.

New York, June 21.—Reported failure of the Delaware & Hudson to absorb the Wabash brought about a heavy line of short selling and liquidation in the general stock market today, resulting in a serious decline in most shares with Wabash preferred the principal sufferer.

Wabash preferred went down to 53½ at the closing today or just 4 points lower than Saturday while common stood at 20⅝ today compared with 21⅞.

Selling of Wabash shares unsettled the entire list and Union Pacific closed 3¼ points lower, Southern Pacific 2⅜ and Reading 3½ points.

Much weakness was shown in copper shares. Continued pressure abroad and an unfavorable outlook for the metal market forced heavy blocks of Amalgamated on the market and the close was weak, 3 points under Saturday.

Steel stocks felt the pressure of other losses and common closed 2⅜ and preferred 2 points under the previous ending.

The Wall Street Journal says: "Americans in London steady, about parity. Wisconsin state railway commission authorizes St. Paul $50,000,000 new bonds for branch lines. Lackawanna will adjust its holdings of coal lands in the near future. Canadian Pacific will earn nearly 10 per cent on the common this year. Better movement of anthracite and better outlook. Harvesting of winter wheat generally delayed by lateness of season. Dry goods houses report orders plentiful."

STRIKING FISHERMEN TIE UP STEAMERS

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Vancouver, B. C., June 21.—The crews of the American fishing steamers belonging to the New England Fishing company are on strike and in the event of successfully tying up the Manhattan when she comes in from her present trip, the fleet will be practically out of commission and the plant idle. The steamers Kingfisher and New England are berthed at the company's wharf and the men are waiting the outcome of the arrival of the Manhattan crew.

The strike is the result of attempted organization of Canadian fishermen by an American union and if the strikers succeed in putting the boats out of commission, it is said to be their intention to bring out the nonunion crew on the Canadian Fish company's steamers.

Specifications for the construction of earth roads presented by County Engineer G. B. Roberts were read, approved and indorsed.

Speeches Over Phone.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the several addresses by local speakers. The addresses were delivered on the opera stage in front of a large telephone, which was connected with the granger line, and the addresses and work of the convention were plainly heard in the grange hall at Stella, 12 miles distant. This was accomplished by means of the granger telephone line, recently constructed in this county.

Among the speakers delivering addresses were Rev. George of Kelso, B. F. Hubbell and Dr. L. M. Sims.

C. A. Soney of Woodland spoke favoring a bond issue. Upon motion it was decided that a bond issue would be necessary to secure the necessary funds to build roads. A. L. Bozarth of Woodland introduced a resolution favoring the bonding of the county for an amount sufficient to build a trunk road through the county and the connecting laterals.

The following resolutions were adopted:

"Resolved, That the Cowlitz County Good Roads association recommend and indorse to the county commissioners of Cowlitz county, the construction of free bridges at Woodland, Kelso and Castlerock.

"Resolved, That the Cowlitz County Good Roads association recommend to the state highway commissioners and to the county commissioners the early completion of the state aided road over Carrollton mountain.

The ladies of Kalama surprised the members of Kalama Commercial club on their return from the good roads convention with a banquet of strawberries and cream.

Accident Mars Races.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Independence, Or., June 21.—In scoring for a place in the second heat at the Independence Driving association's meet Saturday the wheels of the sulkies of Perry Nauzey, driving Son Nort and H. C. Cox, driving Lou Miller, became interlocked, tearing one wheel off the sulkey in which Nauzey was seated and tearing the tires from all the other wheels. Son Nort started to run and the broken sulky turned over, spilling Nauzey. The sulky dragged over him, injuring him slightly and rendering him unconscious for a few minutes. The horse then had free rein and started away, running into the fence and cutting himself badly. He ran half way around the track before coming to a stop, tearing the sulky and harness to pieces.
