THE PERIOD DESIGNS IN FINE FURNITURE ARE EXTENSIVELY FEATURED IN OUR DISPLAYS

The productions of the acknowledged leading makers and designers of the early periods—such as Sheraton, Hepplewhite and Chippendale—are now being reproduced by the foremost makers of fine furniture in America and Europe. That they have succeeded in correctly reproducing the many rare examples of art in furniture is clearly shown in our Fifth Floor exhibit of the period designs. The many chair styles shown here are exact copies of pieces famed for their artistic beauty in design and harmonious proportion. The famous mirror-back, the ribbon-back, the shellback, the Dorking, the honeysuckle, the Beaumont and the Chinese type chairs of Chippendale. The honeysuckle, the feather-back and other chair designs reproduced from the work of Hepplewhite. The Dutch Colonial, the Wycombe, the Ormonde and those of the period of Charles II by Sheraton. The work of Sheraton is also set forth in the beautifully inlaid pieces for library and dining-room, a number of reproductions of which are to be seen in our displays. There are hundreds of other rare reproductions shown here that will interest all who appreciate artistic types in furniture. Whether you contemplate buying or not, we will be pleased to show you through this rare collection.

Wealth of Comfort and Style in the High-Grade Upholstered Pieces

Large overstuffed pieces for library and living-room furnishing—Easy Arm Chairs, Rockers, Fireside Chairs, Reading Chairs and Davenport that abound in comfort and style. The construction of these displays the work of skilled upholsterers and cabinet-makers. The double spring construction is featured in a number of these pieces, and springs and filling are of the most dependable quality. In almost every instance we show these pieces in the denim, thus enabling satisfactory selection to be made as to color and weave of fabric for covering. In our Decorative Department is shown a most complete assortment of upholstery materials for the covering of all grades of furniture.

SEES NEED FOR CITY HOSPITAL

Bishop Scadding Says the Church Institutes Taxed Beyond Capacity.

Yesterday the proceedings of the twenty-first diocesan convention of the Episcopal church were brought to an end. Bishop Charles Scadding, delivering his annual message at Trinity church, congratulated the convention on having attained its majority, and then briefly reviewed the work accomplished by the Episcopal church during the past 21 years. Bishop Scadding did not think the church had kept pace with the commercial prosperity of the state, and urged his people to renewed personal consecration and effort. He referred hopefully to the work of St. Helen's Hall, the church school for girls, and to the good work being done by the Good Samaritan hospital. While this is a church hospital, and while Episcopalians are by far the largest contributors, it is in no wise limited in its rule of service to Episcopalians but reaches out to all the suffering and needy irrespective of their religion. The demands upon the hospital are greater than it can well meet, and the bishop strongly advocated the building of a city hospital, which he said is much needed, and which would relieve the pressure on the church hospitals, now taxed to their utmost. "Our policy as a church must be one of optimistic aggressiveness," said the bishop, "and I charge every layman and clergyman to renew his efforts in the confidence of a certain faith." Advocates Better Salaries. The bishop advocated better salaries for the clergy. "Nine hundred dollars a year and no house," he said, "is about the wage of a skilled mechanic, but no parish will be content for its pastor to live or dress as does a mechanic. Parishes should see to it in these days when the cost of living has increased 37 per cent over 10 years ago, that an adequate increase should be made to the pastor's salary. Rally round your clergyman, encourage him, pray for him. He is God's ambassador to you and to your children, sympathize with him, give him your loyal support, and remember that in the ministry as in other fields of service the laborer is worthy of his hire." The bishop made a stirring appeal for Christian unity, and said it was by far the most important and pressing question before the Christian world today. "It is coming," he said, "but in God's time and in his way, and is not to be brought about by any short cut, by 'pulpit exchange' or any easy compromise. The path towards reunion must be no compromise for the sake of peace, but comprehension for the sake of truth, and the goal not uniformity but unity." Officers and Committees. Following are the officers and committees of the diocese for the year: Bishop—Rt. Rev. Charles Scadding, D. D. Standing committee—Rev. H. M. Ramsey, Rev. A. A. Morrison, Ph. D., Rev. J. E. H. Simpson, Dr. S. E. Joseph, H. D. Ramsdell, Frank Spittle. Chancellor, Rodney J. Gleason. BISHOP SCADDING TALKS TO STUDENTS University of Oregon, Eugene, June 21.—The 24th annual commencement of the university began yesterday with the baccalaureate sermon by the Right Rev. Charles W. Scadding, D. D., in Villard hall. Most of the churches of the city were closed and the hall was crowded long before the services began. The senior class attended in a body. Rev. Scadding in his sermon did not follow the average baccalaureate sermon with its endless advice but touched rather on the religious or spiritual side of life in the world beyond college. The musical program by Mrs. Katherine Ward Pope, Miss Grace Campbell, Professor Irving M. Glen, the big chorus and the orchestra added to the beauty and solemnity of the occasion. Following is the complete program: Prelude and processional (Braga), Commencement orchestra; anthem, "Crossing the Bar" (Gibson), chorus and orchestra; invocation, the Rev. D. S. Trumble; hymn, "When Before Thy Throne" (Gottschalk); scripture reading, the Rev. O. C. Wright, solo, "Come Unto Me" from the "Messiah" (Handel), Mrs. Katherine Ward Pope; prayer, the Rev. J. S. McCallum; "Te Deum Laudamus" (Poole), chorus and orchestra; obligato solo, Miss Grace Campbell; sermon, the Right Rev. Charles W. Scadding, D. D., bishop of Oregon; hymn, "Our Father Omnipotent" (Mozart); benediction, the Rev. F. K. Hammond; postlude, "Freyer" (Lohengrin), Wagner, Commencement orchestra.
