CITIZENS FINANCE WATER PROJECT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Grants Pass, Or., June 25.—Work on the irrigation system here, into a part of which water will soon be turned, is progressing rapidly. It is generally agreed that the amount of work done with money expended is remarkable. This is owing to the willingness of the people to give financial assistance and to the untiring work and energy of the men who have had the work in charge. For some time it has been an accepted fact that irrigation with water taken from Rogue river, which here flows through the Rogue river valley proper, would be of great value to crops and orchards during the dry months of July and August, but it is only within the past few months that the matter has been seriously taken into consideration by men who do things. Last summer, the latter part of which was unusually dry, brought to these men the realization that prompt action was necessary if this section was to reach the greatest prosperity. During the month of October last, a meeting of the property owners was called, at which it was voted to take the project up at once. A little later, upon the completion of the preliminary work of an engineer, the irrigation company was formed and sufficient stock subscribed within a few days to carry on the work for this season. A week following the first ground was broken and since then the ditch has been creeping around so rapidly that it is difficult for even the townspeople to realize that has been done.

Citizens Own System. It speaks well for the people of Grants Pass and vicinity that such a system of irrigation is to be completed and owned entirely by themselves. The life and energy exhibited in the efforts in this deal were evidently of a contagious nature as there has been the spirit of push here ever since. The people have subscribed liberally in advertising the advantages of Josephine county; the professional knocker, with which all sections are infested at some time in their history, has mostly gone over to the other side and if he willfully refuses to be converted, like the bat is ashamed to appear in the light, and is heard only as the grumbling of the distant storm.

The fruit industry is advancing in a manner that leaves no doubt in the minds of the people who know the superiority of the climate and soil for this purpose, that Grants Pass will soon be second to none as a fruit center. This section has great advantages over most of the well known fruit localities in that, while its apples rank with the best on earth, pears, peaches, cherries and small fruits are peers of any others; its Tokay grapes are already taking the lead of any grown in this country. Here is the ripe and soil, which seems to loan from its own color to that of the grape, whose beauty and flavor can only be tested properly by the seeing and eating thereof. Summing it all up, the man who owns a piece of fruit land in this country is to be congratulated as surely, if there is a little ginger in his make-up, the opportunity to prosper, and live at the same time, in a country blessed with as ideal a climate as has been found.

FRISCO AGAINST MUNICIPAL ROAD

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, June 25.—This city has rejected the Geary street municipal railroad bond issue. The vote was very light, only 22,258 votes out of 89,000 registered voters were polled. The proposition failed by 400 votes to receive the necessary two-thirds vote. The election returns of Tuesday on other bond issues showed in the official count as follows: Carried—Second, to incur a bonded debt of $500,000 for a polytechnic high school, for 17,597; against 5215. Defeated—First, to incur a bonded debt of $8,480,000 for a civic center, for 12,704; against 10,584. Third, to incur a bonded debt of $160,000 for a detention home, for 14,962; against 8255. Fourth, to incur a bonded debt of $250,000 for a park on Telegraph Hill, for 14,848; against 8711. Fifth, to incur a bonded debt of $400,000 for a park in the Potrero district, for 14,350; against 8755. Seventh, to incur a bonded debt of $250,000 for an aquatic park at the foot of Van Ness, for 14,468; against 8755. Seventh, to incur a bonded debt of $250,000 for a park in Bay View district, for 14,220; against 8810. Eighth, to incur a bonded debt of $500,000 for the establishment of public playgrounds, for 14,850; against 8258. Ninth, to incur a bonded debt of $90,000 for Gen Park, for 13,455; against 9590. Total number of votes cast, 24,023; necessary to carry any project, 16,019.

Local Option at Wenatchee. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Wenatchee, Wash., June 25.—The election calling for a local option election, to be held in this city on August 24, was filed in the city clerk's office last evening.

The circulation of the petition during the last three days caused considerable comment on the liquor question and both sides feel confident they will win. The article perfected an organization and will put up a strong fight.

Insinger, chairman of the board of control of the National Irrigation congress, also spoke. This evening a reception and dance will be given for the eastern Washington visitors in the Washington building. The Spokane visitors will spend three days in Seattle. NEWS OF DETWEILER IN CIVIL SUIT FILED (United Press Leased Wire.) Toledo, Ohio, June 25.—A. K. Detweiler, who is alleged to have been a fugitive from justice since his indictment by the grand jury two years ago in connection with the San Francisco graft cases, has been traveling over the country transacting business, according to revelations made in a civil suit filed in the common pleas court. The proceedings were instituted by Attorneys Marshall and Fraser in behalf of the law firm of King, Tracey, Chapman & Wells, which has acted as Detweiler's counsel since his indictment. The plaintiffs seek fees amounting to $13,035, with interest. The petition recites that Detweiler sold his telephone interests in California to the James H. Adams company of Los Angeles for $225,000, when he had only $70,000 actually invested, giving him a clear profit of $155,000.

French Ambassador Entertained. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Husum, Wash., June 25.—The French ambassador, M. Jean Jusserand, and wife, were the guests recently of Samuel Hill at the latter's ranch at Mary-land, this county. The Spokane, Portland & Seattle road provided a number of trains for the ambassador and a number of friends from Portland, with President Clark in charge. An attempt was made to take the party in automobiles to Goldendale, but a breakdown caused the trip to be given up.

Lebanon's New P. O. Completed. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Lebanon, Or., June 25.—Wednesday night the change of quarters for the postoffice was made, and Lebanon now has a modernly equipped postoffice. A large number of combination boxes have been installed and mail can be deposited or secured at any time during the day or night. The old building, in which the post-office has been for many years, will be remodeled for a storeroom. The new postoffice comes along well with the many other civic improvements that are helping to make Lebanon one of the up to date towns of the Willamette valley. Many new cement sidewalks are now being laid. A week at Estacada will cure the blues.
