

RAIN THREATENS SUCCESS OF FAIR

Plans for Salem's Big Cherry May Be Spoiled if There Is No Cessation.

(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.)
Salem, Or., July 6.—At 8 o'clock this morning 1.50 inches of rain had fallen at Salem since Sunday evening, which exceeds any downfall since March, and exceeds the total amount of rainfall altogether since April 1. The cherry crop is threatened with serious damage and much hay will be ruined unless there is hot sun immediately succeeding the rain.
Otherwise the farmers are rejoicing, as the heavy rain means green feed for several weeks and big grain crops. Later fruit and hops will also be greatly benefited.
The biggest event in the year at Salem, outside the state fair, is the cherry festival to be held this week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is feared that the rain will spoil the plans for the event unless it ceases soon.

THE STRANGER WITHIN OUR GATES

Boyd Vaughn, Tacoma, Wash.: "Tacoma is a better town today than she ever was, and is growing very rapidly indeed. Of course, you know every man in the west must be a booster for his home town, but I am speaking as an honest conviction. But I like Portland."
"Yamhill county will lead the state in the production of fancy fruits some of these days," said D. A. Manning this morning, "because we have the soil that is peculiarly adapted for it. The 'red hill' soil in that county has been tested by experts, and they claim that it has no equal for such purposes. Just wait a few years and then you will believe me."
"The proposed automobile highway to Tillamook will be the most valuable piece of work for Oregon that has been undertaken for a long time," says F. R. Franklin of Tillamook.
Virgil Bowman, Josephine county: "I believe that Grants Pass will be the best town in southern Oregon within five years. It has the necessary requirements to make it so."
Henry Templeton, Curry county: "I know a place in Curry county, a small sheltered valley where the oranges of the finest quality can be produced. I shall experiment with them shortly, and they claim that it has no equal for such purposes. Just wait a few years and then you will believe me."
W. Cook, Woodburn, Or.: "The country around Woodburn is fast developing and the Commercial club is receiving all kinds of incentives from the town and country. Woodburn is one of the prettiest towns in the valley."
Jay Ransom, Reno, Nev.: Nevada's mines are a back number since that state has been chosen as the Mecca for those seeking fortune. But our lawmakers are knocking that proposition in the head. It is an industry that none of us bankers after very much, look for some new rich strikes to be made in the Goldfield country again this year.
Wilbur Walker, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho: "Idaho is fast becoming an agricultural state. The mining business seems to have suffered a setback, but it is yet a wonder about the low minerals, and I believe that it will have an awakening in mining before many years."
"I have lived in Mexico, where it is so dry that you have to prime hogs before they will hold water, and I tell you that it is mighty restful to the eyes to stand on the Morrison street bridge and watch the boating and bathing," said Lionel Williams at the Perkins.
John A. Brown, Elgin, Or.: "Elgin has grown much larger than its clothing within the past two years. The lumber business is only in its infancy in that section, but we can also raise an old thing in the way of vegetables, the best on earth."
Gerald Maston, Springfield, Mass.: "I was in Alaska during the gold rush to that country and I have lived along the Atlantic coast in most all kinds of weather, but I am certain that I spent a colder Fourth of July. It will guarantee that the weather will be as mild all summer as it has been since I came here three weeks ago. I will move back here in a regular weather crank."
Deibert Adair, Goldfield, Nev.: "I used to have several friends in Portland, but they have all either moved away or else they are in politics and are too busy to see me. I am going back to the camps. Life is too strenuous up this way for me."

Murray Clay, Provo, Utah.—"I bought a copper mine down in southern Utah last fall for $1000 and the first assay I got from the mine showed $35,000 in gold to the ton. I have worked a dozen men every day since then and haven't taken out to cents worth of ore. Somebody lied."
"I believe that the American race will be extinct some of these days," said Professor E. E. Van Cleave of Oberlin, Ohio, at the Portland this morning. "There are no many foreigners coming here who still remain loyal to their mother country and the present generation is so busy trying to accumulate riches that we are forgetting our patriotism. Something should be done."

"I visited a 'max mine' in Utah recently and for the first time discovered that there is a mineral so closely resembling kerosene that no one can tell the difference. There are a great many wonders under the earth yet to be discovered," said G. L. Wales of Philadelphia.
D. Y. Pollock, Chicago.—"Chicago is capable of producing the worst kind of crooks in the world, I believe. I do not mean the petty thieves and vagabonds, but the polished, high class crooked man. I have lived there less than three years, and have come in contact with the worst class of criminals on earth. I would advise any one going to Chicago to leave his money at home. The crooks will get it somehow, no matter how wary the visitor may be. They surely know the game."

"I was at Crater lake a short time ago and I do not exaggerate when I say that the trip was the most sublimely beautiful one I ever took in my life. Crater lake is indeed one of the wonders of the world and to my mind the greatest. By all means Oregon should see to it that a road is built to the lake," said J. Cradleigh at the Perkins this afternoon.
"There are never two people exactly alike in temperament," says Wiley Estabrook, Houston, Texas, "and I can't understand why a man—a full grown man—will get a bunch of fire crackers and go shooting up the streets. For my part I can't see the point. It is all right, I suppose, for children to make all the noise possible on the Fourth of July or any other time, but somehow it seems to me to be only a remnant of former barbarism. And I am not supposed to be a grouch, either."
"I saw a fruit tree yesterday down the valley that nets the owner about $50 every year. That is going some and beats anything I ever saw. I will take home some very interesting remembrances if nothing else," said Fred Williams, Nova Scotia.
"You have an excellent streetcar system here in Portland," said Gladys Chapman, Glenwood Springs, Colo., at the Imperial today. "A corporation like a streetcar company generally receives the share, and a little more, of courtesy by the public that knows nothing about the business, but I believe I can safely say that your system has Denver and other Colorado cities beaten by a great deal."

O. R. Wakefield, Lynn, Mass.—"The Southern Pacific railroad is fittingly named 'The Road of a Thousand Wonders.' That Columbia river scenery is very beautiful and I enjoyed it greatly. One reason why it is so delightful, I think, is because the eye is tired from gazing at the sand and lagoons on the trip from Pendleton to the river."
"I can testify to the invigorating qualities of Oregon's climate. For the past six months I have been living on a meal a day and didn't care for that. Now I eat three and wish I could have even more. I am from New Jersey. I went to the extremes, you see—coast to coast. The Pacific looks good to me," T. W. Haley.
"Don't you have mosquitoes in this country?" inquired Lester Caughthran, Plumas, Cal. "Of course I have seen a few of the little buggers you call mosquitoes, but they don't amount to anything. California produces the biggest and best of everything, and we never 'fall down' on prize mosquitoes."

Rain at McMinnville.
McMinnville, Or., July 6.—Preceded by a rumble of thunder a warm rain began to fall last night and continued through the day. More rain has fallen than for more than a month. So far there has not been enough to hurt the crops and will be a great aid to late garden stuff and the later hay.

ASSASSIN GAME THOUGH PENITENT

Giuseppe Sanducci Electro-cuted—Regrets Dis-gracing Parents.

(Called Press Leased Wire.)
Auburn, N. Y., July 6.—Making a final request that his dearest regret be conveyed to his parents in Rome because of his disgraceful end, Giuseppe Sanducci, who assassinated Jose Sarco, a United States secret service man, at Belfast, December 17, 1907, was electrocuted this morning.
Sanducci went to the chair without a quiver and his remarkable show of nerve was commented upon. He had been remarkably cool ever since he was placed under sentence of death. Yesterday he listened to the singing and celebration of his fellow prisoners and although he knew it was his last day on earth he appeared to enjoy the festivities.

Many Women Have Diseased Kidneys

And Bladder Troubles Who Suffer Endless Torture, Without Knowing the Nature of Their Ailment, or Its Cause.

This is because women are told that their every sickness is due to "ailments of their sex." The notion that to cure a woman's ailments, it is only necessary to treat the distinctly feminine organs, is one that has caused much unnecessary suffering.

The tortures and discomforts of weak, lame and aching back, swollen and bloated feet and limbs, nausea and fainting spells, lassitude, despondency, sick headaches, painful, scalding sensation, inflammation, etc. are invariably due to derangements of the kidneys and bladder.

And unless there is proper healing and curative treatment for the organs, which are diseased and out of order, there can be no cure of the woman's ailments. For the cure of these conditions—and as a safeguard against even more serious and fatally dangerous diseases—there must be a thoroughly good and effective kidney and bladder medicine.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills act at once—and with the most beneficial results—on the organs in question—insure prompt and permanent relief in any cases where the disease has not been too long neglected. These pills may be depended upon to do all that is claimed for them.

They are thoroughly antiseptic—surprisingly healing and cleansing, purifying, and reconstructive in effect—and, containing no opiates, narcotics, or other harmful substances, may be taken in perfect confidence.

Thousands of women all over the United States gratefully affirm the marvelous efficacy of these Pills.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills are put up in air-tight, sanitary, glass containers (to preserve their full strength and curative qualities) and are sold by all druggists, at 50c and $1.00 a box. They are pleasant to take, and can in no case work injury to the system—a syrup, alcoholic, liquid preparations are apt to.

E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill., want every man and woman who have the least suspicion that they are afflicted with kidney and bladder diseases to at once write them, and a trial box of these Pills will be sent free by return mail postpaid. Do it to-day.
