

COAST MEN TO GO

Portland Chamber of Commerce Considers Favorably an Invitation Extended by Commercial Body at Shanghai.

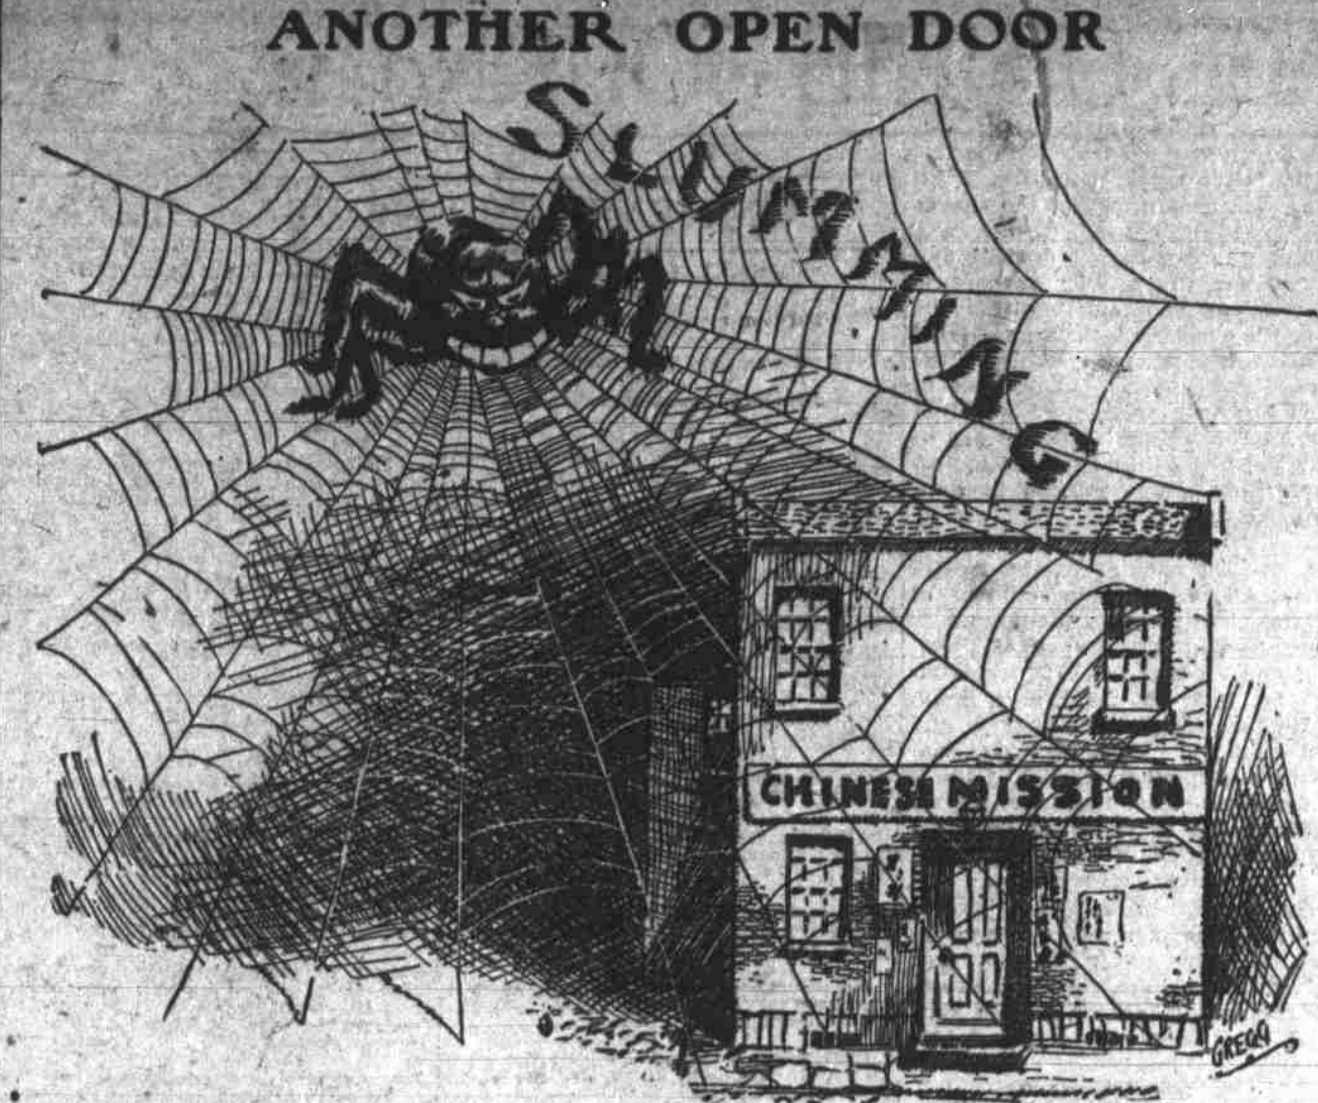

The Pacific Coast Associated Chambers of Commerce have received the second invitation within a year to become the guests of the associated commercial bodies of the Asiatic countries, this time the invitation being extended by the Chinese chamber of commerce and the time, February, 1910, at Shanghai.

Today's meeting brought to the Portland chamber of commerce a letter from C. W. Burke of San Francisco, secretary of the Associated Chamber of Commerce of the Pacific Coast, containing the formal invitation which was extended through the American Association of Chambers of Commerce. The invitation was favorably acted upon by the Portland body at its regular meeting held at noon today.

Chambers of commerce in San Francisco and Seattle have already accepted the invitation and it will now be taken up by similar bodies in Los Angeles, Tacoma and Spokane.

The authorities at Washington, D. C., especially the departments of state and of commerce and labor are particularly anxious that the invitation be generally accepted and that a large representation be made to the trip to China. The heads of these departments have asked the president of the Pacific coast association to see that a united acceptance of the invitation is forwarded to the Chinese chambers of commerce through the American Association.

The invitation was originally extended by the Chinese commercial organizations for last April, but was not received until it was acted upon by the Pacific coast bodies. It was recently renewed and the date set far enough ahead to give ample time for action by the united organizations.

TRAINS RUN ON TILLAMOOK LINE

First 10 Miles of New Railroad Formally Opened on Fourth of July.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tillamook, Or., July 6.—Tillamook held her celebration of the Fourth Monday. The principal attraction was the opening of the Pacific Railroad & Navigation Co's 10 miles of road from Tillamook to the Miami river. A passenger train of nine flat cars fitted up with seats made two round trips, carrying between a 1000 and 1100 passengers. General Manager Charles B. Lytle was in charge of the excursion. The track was in good shape, notwithstanding it rained. It rained heavily all day.

People came 30 miles from Nehalem and beyond Cloverdale from the south to take a ride. Hundreds had never seen an engine and train. It is expected that rails will be laid to opposite Nehalem city by September. Sixteen automobiles from the south are in Tillamook city, having come in Saturday and Sunday, this being the first large excursion party of the season. Hotels and private residences are filled with summer visitors, adding greatly to the attraction at the opening of the railway.

CHURCH WORKER CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Harriett Ibelia Ward, Mother of Mrs. Hollingshead Passes Away.

Rev. W. B. Hollingshead, D. D., superintendent of the Portland district of the Methodist Episcopal church and president of the Oregon Anti-Saloon League, and family have been deeply bereaved by the death of Mrs. Harriett Ibelia Ward, who died at 10 o'clock Monday evening, July 5, aged 75.

Mrs. Ward was born in Allegheny county, Pa. As a child of four years she moved to Mount Union, Alliance county, Ohio. In childhood she united with the church and was ever after noted for her devout life. She graduated at and became a successful teacher in Mount Union seminary, where she met Professor A. E. Ward, whom she afterward married and who became a noted minister in the Pittsburg conference. Mrs. Ward was a dutiful minister's wife and shared the hardships of the Methodist itinerancy in the east Ohio conference.

Twenty-six years ago Dr. Ward died, and Mrs. Ward thereafter made her home with her son, Professor James H. Ward of Mount Union college. Upon his death 11 years ago she came west to live with her daughters, Mrs. Busby of Seattle, and Mrs. W. B. Hollingshead, whose husband was a minister in the Oregon conference. She spent a number of years with them in Minnesota and made the parsonages of Dr. Hollingshead her home in the Oregon conference. Everywhere she had been a successful church worker, a woman of sweet and even temper, and deep spirituality. She was a member of the Methodist church of this city where Dr. Hollingshead spent three successive years. Mrs. Ward had a fine confidence and appreciation of the membership.

A month ago Mrs. Ward was stricken with pneumonia, and after a long illness which medical skill could do nothing for, she finally succumbed through heart failure on July 5. Funeral services will be held at her late residence, 936 Front street, on Wednesday 8 a. m. and the body will be taken for interment to Hillsboro, Ohio and laid by the side of her husband and son. Various Methodist pastors of this city will be pallbearers, and assist in the service.

TWO BOYS HAVE NERVE, NO MONEY

Young Canadians Reach Portland to Celebrate, Land in Jail.

Afflicted with wanderlust and short permanent abiding places, Roy McLeod of Vancouver, B. C., and Homer Brighley, are confined in the county jail hereafter in the juvenile court. When arrested this morning the boys had a buldog revolver, an immense amount of self conceit, the hobo lingo well developed, but no money.

Wearing clothes which carried the trace of breakbeams and coal bunkers, the boys arrived in Portland for the proper celebration of the Fourth. Short of money, but long on nerve, they soon became known to the police, and their arrest followed as a matter of course.

Without a qualm of conscience, apparently, they entered the county jail this morning, an apparent satisfaction coming with the change from the cruel world to a place of shelter, food and care. The cases will be taken up in the juvenile court tomorrow, as soon as some facts concerning the boys can be secured from outside points.

ASTORIA FISHING FLEET IN PORT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Astoria, Or., July 6.—Telegrams today tell of the safe arrival of the Astoria fishing fleet at Nushagak, Alaska. The fleet arrived there on May 21, and the telegrams are dated June 27. The ships and men all arrived safely. Messages were late in coming and anxiety had commenced to be felt. It is evident that the San Francisco vessels are all right. Fear was felt for the safety of the fleet this year, as it was known the ice and weather had been bad.

COMPLAINT AGAINST ASTORIA SERVICE

(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.) Salem, Or., July 6.—Dr. Thomas W. Ross, former chief of the Astoria, and now practicing physician at Astoria, has a grievance against the Astoria & Columbia River railroad and has filed an informal complaint with the commission at Salem alleging that the service maintained by that road is inadequate and unnecessary.

The train arriving in Astoria at noon, writes Ross, was 40 minutes late last Thursday, one hour late Friday and Saturday, and one hour and 30 minutes late. Both trains into Astoria are constantly late. The engine on the morning train is very small and carries a coal burner and absolutely inadequate for the needs of the road.

Dr. Ross says he has also complained to the postal authorities and will use every endeavor to have the service between Portland and Astoria improved.

PURDY SAYS EVANS TELLS WRONG STORY

Disputing the denial of F. S. D. Hughes, the Tacoma detective, that he never asked Mr. B. Evans of Will E. Purdy of the Will E. Purdy Investment company to pay him $300 in return for making his office with them here, a statement signed by Purdy, H. Winters, M. L. Pratt, J. L. Wigle and O. J. Purdy has been handed to The Journal, in which they assert that they saw a letter from Hughes making such a proposition. This vast difference of views arises as one of the circumstances connected with the disappearance of Martin B. Evans, formerly connected with the Purdy concern, and his reappearance after a week with the statement that he had been drugged.

In the letter sent by Hughes, according to the signed statement, Hughes offered to move into the office here if Evans would have a half interest in his detective business, the plan being that he and Evans do the outside real estate and detective work as a side line. Hughes said he wanted to leave Tacoma because he was too well known there, according to the statement of the contents of the letter. Three alarms were sent by W. E. Purdy, Evans sent a non-committal letter, inviting Hughes to call when he came to Portland. In the letter sent by Evans, he said he had made Evans a full fledged detective, according to the statement, and Evans said $300 for a half interest in his detective business, the plan being that he and Evans do the outside real estate and detective work as a side line. MORO OUTLAW AND BAND EXTERMINATED

Manila, July 6.—The Moro outlaw chief, and his entire band, were exterminated in a fierce fight near Patian, Island of Jolo, with detachments of regulars and constabulary. The slain were George L. Liram of the Sixth United States cavalry, operating with a flotilla of the mosquito fleet under Lieutenant Commander Signor.

The American loss was one private killed and three officers and 20 enlisted men and one sailor wounded. Private O'Connell of Troop Sixth cavalry, was the one man killed among the Americans. The officers wounded were Lieutenants Miller and Arthur H. Wilson, all of the Sixth.

The Moros took refuge in a large cave. The troops and sailors surrounded the place, but Jikki refused to surrender.

A concerted attack was made, the Moros fighting desperately. The Moros of the cave until the last member of the band was dead.

PRESIDENT TAFT AT TICONDEROGA

(United Press Leased Wire.) Fort Ticonderoga, N. Y., July 6.—Franco-American residents of Vermont and New York had charge of today's program in honor of the 300th anniversary of the discovery of Lake Champlain. The romantic history of the beautiful lake and of this city was represented by a series of elaborate floats that traversed the streets to the lake-side this afternoon. In spite of rain, the original program was fulfilled.

President Taft arrived at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and was saluted by the troops and the guns of the torpedo boat Manley.

Taft's speech was brief but to the point and was well received.

President Taft was accompanied by the British and French ambassadors, the governor of New York and other dignitaries. The distinguished guests witnessed a presentation of the Indian drama of "Hiawatha," and later made an inspection of the ruins of Fort Ticonderoga, which is now being restored as it was in revolutionary days.

Tomorrow the presidential party will go to Plattsburg for what promises to be the biggest day of the entire celebration. Three nations will be officially represented. Troops of the United States and Canada will participate in the events of the day and the National Guard of New York and Vermont likewise will take part. The principal oration will be delivered by United States Senator Elihu Root.

COX WILL FOLLOW OUT MAYOR LANE'S POLICY

"Houses of ill fame will not be tolerated in Portland," declared Chief A. M. Cox of the police department today, denying statements credited to him.

"Until some definite policy regarding the tendorium has been settled we will pursue the same course as did the department under Mayor Lane, and all disorderly houses will be raided."

"It is not true that I instructed Captain Moore not to molest houses of ill fame," Chief Cox said that Portland will be kept a strictly moral city.
