

BEST IS ALWAYS FOR THE LAST

CHAUTAUQUA HAS SURPRISES IN LAST DAYS

Sunday is always anticipated with the greatest pleasure by Chautauquans, for no matter how fine the classes, how inspiring the programs or how sweet the music and social intercourse after six continuous days, there is a strenuousness created that demands just the relief and pleasure a day in this beautiful grove affords—more beautiful for the rains that have laid the dust and washed the leaves and made the air more pure and sweet.

Cuddled up within four walls in the city, rain at Chautauqua seems a desolate prospect, but he who has never listened to "the patter on the roof" as the rain pelted through the great oaks and onto the dome of Chautauqua's auditorium has never heard the melody of real music.

Holds Vast Crowd.
Fully 4000 people can be perfectly sheltered in the heaviest downpour that ever struck Chautauqua and last night, though weather conditions were more promising, there was a general feeling that Sunday would be a good day from the standpoint of attendance.

The following program will be fully carried out, it being White Ribbon day:

10:00—Sunday school.
11:00—Chautauqua forum—"The Recent Upheaval in Turkey." Alex. Abdullah Ben Kori, formerly a subject of the sultan, professor of modern languages, Pacific university.

Afternoon.
3:00—Music, Chautauqua chorus.

Vocal duet—Alvin E. Gillette and Miss Grace Keller. Sermon—lecture—Alton E. Packard.

4:00—Music, Chautauqua chorus. Lecture—afternoon temperance lines—"Congressional Glimpses" by Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis, national superintendent of the legislative department for the Women's Christian Temperance union.

White ribbon decorations are seen everywhere upon the grounds, and at headquarters.

The W. C. T. U. headquarters presented an attractive appearance when Mrs. Badgley, state superintendent, took her place in charge of the evangelistic department home at 10 o'clock yesterday. White ribboners came with their hands filled with roses and sweet peas. Mesdames Wooddy, Weber, Addison, Harford and others took part in the discussion.

Among the mottoes is one "A-m-i-e-f-Pennies," underneath is a cut glass vase, tied with a white ribbon. Visitors have already dropped in their contributions to the "m-i-e."

Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis, the speaker of the organization has secured for the day, spoke at 10:30. Preceding this, the Chautauqua L. L. marched upon the platform, sang the "Oregon Star Song," gave the salute and the motto for the year, "Oregon Dry in 1910."

Programs Eight Classes.

Without exception all the programs that have been arranged for the next seven days are high class, and of such varied nature that, with more favorable weather, large crowds should and undoubtedly will be attracted to the park.

Monday morning all the classes will be resumed, as will also the forum. "Come up smiling after the rain and clouds of last week seems a very fitting subject to begin on this week, particularly as it will be presented by so well known a lecturer and author as Dr. Eugene May of Washington, D. C. He will also be the lecturer of Tuesday evening; subject: "The Logic of Laughter."

WOMEN'S CLUB DAY AT CHAUTAUQUA GROUNDS.

Women's Club Day at Chautauqua Grounds.

Monday evening Montville Flowers will give Dickens' "Christmas Carol" and the Knickerbocker quartet of San Francisco, which will remain the entire week, will be heard for the first time. It is said this quartet is not excelled on the Pacific coast.

Tuesday will be club women's day, with Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman the bright particular star. Mrs. Gilman's lectures in Portland and club women last week have insured her an immense audience. Her subject will be "Woman's Part in Civilization."

Will Be Great Day.
Club women are planning to make a great day of it, and with lunch baskets are going en masse for a picnic party.

From 11 to 12 Mrs. Alice Weister will give a talk on art, illustrated with stereoscopic views, in the pavilion occupied from 10 to 11 a. m. by Professor Sweetser.

Wednesday afternoon the talent will come from a neighboring state, when Honorable H. McLean, president of the Washington commission for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, will discuss "The Village Statesman." Mr. McLean is one of the leading lawyers of the Pacific coast.

Thursday afternoon, which marks the tenth day of the Knickerbocker quartet will give a concert in the evening and Dr. Matt Hughes will make his first appearance in the evening with his lecture, "The American Pessimist." He will also speak on the afternoon of Friday, July 16, on "The Art of Living."

Athletic Entertainment Provided.
On the evening of that day an athletic entertainment will be given by the M. C. A. under the direction of Professor A. M. Griley.

On the last working afternoon, Mr. Flowers will give a short reading and Dr. Eli McLean of Los Angeles will speak on "Lights and Scenes of War." This will be patriotic day and the music forum and headquarters will arrange their programs to do honor to the veterans.

Mr. Flowers has about 75 regular pupils in his elocution class, who all enjoy his method and are getting great benefit from his instruction.

The Harmony Quartet club has a new headquarters that will be opened tomorrow morning in the regular way, though the tents are now up. It is, in fact, a women's club and the members are coming not alone to enjoy themselves and advertise their town, but to dispense hospitality as well. They give a cordial welcome to all women visiting the grounds to call to see them.

How to Make Soup.
Monday, at the domestic science class, Mrs. Miller will demonstrate, for her class, corn soup, salmon salad and prune cake. The full program for Monday is:

1:00—Chautauqua summer school.
11:00—Chautauqua forum—reading, "Paulina Delovna, Miss Emma Perley Lincoln, Portland; "Nervousness in Children," Dr. Osmen Royal, nerve specialist, Portland.

1:15—Concert, Chemawa Indian School band.
2:00—Piano solo, Miss Luella Keller; harp solo, Alvin E. Gillette; lecture, "Come Up Smiling," by Dr. Eugene May of Washington, D. C., author, lecturer and traveler.

2:30—Baseball.
7:15—Concert, Chemawa Indian School band.
8:00—Knickerbocker quartet, San Francisco; recital, "A Christmas Carol" (Dickens), Montville Flowers.

Afternoon, afternoon and evening, would make one almost feel it could hardly be improved upon by any that are yet to come. Mr. Packard is a genius, for he is not only clever, but has a marked brilliancy and a magnetism that his audience couldn't, if they wanted to, get away from him.

Verdict of old Chautauquans that rarely if ever has a more entertaining speaker appeared on this platform. It is that the weather prevented the immense crowds coming that should have been there to hear him.

INSOMNIA BRINGS MURDER MANIA

St. Louis Man Attempts to Kill Wife, Then Kills Himself.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

St. Louis, July 10.—Demagogued from insomnia, Gustav Krause, aged 55 years, attempted to exterminate his family early today. He then committed suicide. Declaring he would slaughter his 9-year-old son, the crazed man tied him to a bedpost and then beat his wife into insensibility with the butt of a rifle. The boy managed to free himself and escape from the house while his father was attacking Mrs. Krause.

When he thought he had killed his wife, Krause leaped upon the mutandae of the gun and discharged it with his toe, killing himself instantly.

Mrs. Krause regained consciousness and staggered into the yard, where she was found by neighbors, who had been summoned by the little boy. She was taken to a hospital, and is in a critical condition.

COLUMBUS STATION WILL BE MOVED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Husum, Wash., July 10.—The station of Columbus, on the Spokane, Portland & Seattle road, is to be moved a half mile east of its present location and the name changed to Marysville.

Mr. Hill, who owns valuable tracts of land a mile north of the new station, will build a road between the two points that will not be excelled by any in the state. Mr. Hill is president of the Washington Good Roads association, and a relative of the railway magnate, James J. Hill.

The Columbia & Okanogan Nursery company is making preparations to put in a nursery at the new station during the coming fall. At the present time the nearest enterprise of the kind is located at Hood River, Or.

Colonel Beery of Minneapolis, has purchased the Halstead ranch of 330 acres on the Little Klickitat river west of here, paying $4500 for the property.

JEALOUS WAITER
TAKES POISON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Butte, Mont., July 10.—Crazed with jealousy and drink and morphia, this afternoon Ernest Otto Lambert, a well known waiter employed at different times in local cafes, swallowed the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid which he had smuggled into the city jail, where he was a prisoner. Twenty minutes later he died.

90 CENTS BID
FOR BLUESTEM

Opening Market Records Are Broken at Pullman—Harvest Ready.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Pullman, Wash., July 10.—The first offer for new grain here was made today when Fred Hungate, who has 1200 acres of wheat in Whitman and Garfield counties, was offered 90 cents for bluestem wheat, $1.10 per cwt. for oats, and $1 for barley. He did not sell. Mr. Hungate will begin harvesting with a combined machine on his Garfield county ranch Monday and on his Whitman county ranch one week later.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS NEW HOME

Albany, Or., July 10.—The Albany Commercial club will move its quarters to the new Bain brick block, corner of First and Ellsworth streets. This will give the club a first floor location in a prominent part of the city.

The county court ordered today the exhibits of fruits and grains which have been stored in the county courthouse be turned over to the club. They will be placed in good condition, with new products, and displayed in the new rooms as soon as the building is ready. Fruit Inspector Cooper has been authorized to prepare a cherry exhibit.

Insurance Rates May Be Cut.
Walla, Walla, Wash., July 10.—According to representatives of the Sanborn May company, who are making a fire map of Walla Walla, there is every indication that the insurance rates of this city will be lowered in the near future. The excellent fire record of the city, together with the many improvements, including a fire auto, tend to make the risk better in Walla Walla.

Walla Walla Health Officer Will Use Stickers in Election Contest.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Walla, Walla, Wash., July 10.—Judge Brents of the superior court this morning made permanent the injunction against the name of Dr. J. Ellery Fales appearing on the ballot at the city election Monday. Fales will now make the fight by the use of stickers.

He announced this afternoon in full page advertisements in the daily papers that his friends would be at the polls all day with printed slips bearing his name.

The fight is the most bitter ever waged in Walla Walla city politics. Aside from the contest for health officer there is little interest taken in the election Monday. Mayor Tausack has no opponent, and other places are going to the present incumbents without contest.

BUILD NEW HIGH SCHOOL AT COLFAX

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Colfax, Wash., July 10.—The contract for the construction of the new high school building, including the excavation and superstructure of the foundation, was let this afternoon to J. R. Good & Co. of Colfax for $29,540, and the contract for the heating plant was let to the McPherson Heating company of Portland for $1400. The building is to be completed and ready for occupancy by January 1, 1910.

ORIGIN
Of a Famous Human Food.

The story of great discoveries or inventions is always of interest.

An active brain worker who found himself hampered by lack of bodily strength and vigor and could not carry out the plans and enterprises he knew how to conduct, was led to study various foods and their effects upon the human system. In other words before he could carry on his plans he had to find a food that would carry him along and renew his physical and mental strength.

He knew that a food which was a brain and nerve builder, (rather than a mere fat maker) was universally needed. He knew that meat with the average man does not accomplish the desired results. He knew that the soft gray substance in brain and nerve centres is made from Albumen and Phosphate of Potash obtained from food. Then he started to solve the problem.

Careful and extensive experiments evolved Grape-Nuts, the now famous food. It contains the brain and nerve building food elements in condition for easy digestion.

The result of eating Grape-Nuts daily is easily seen in a marked steadiness and activity of the brain and nervous system, making it a pleasure for one to carry on the daily duties without fatigue or exhaustion.

Grape-Nuts food is in no sense a stimulant but a simply food which renews and replaces the daily waste of brain and nerves.

Its flavour is charming and being fully and thoroughly cooked at the factory it is served instantly with cream.

The signature of the brain worker spoken of, C. W. Post, is to be seen on each genuine package of Grape-Nuts.

Look in books for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." There's a Reason.

YOUNG MUSICIAN TO ORGANIZE NEW BAND

Marcellus Koempel, Cornetist.

Marcellus Koempel, a promising young cornetist, is one of the eighth grade graduates of 1909 from the Oregon Conservatory of Music.

The conservatory officials are sending Mr. Koempel down to their summer home at Classic Ridge Beach, to organize the Nehalem band.

SAYS HELLO GIRL IS GUILTY OF THIEVING

Members of the detective bureau and police department who are searching for 21-year-old Ethel Jeffery, former "hello girl," accused of larceny, are wondering what a pretty girl could not do with a marriage certificate, the picture of a 1-year-old baby boy, a wedding ring and another band resembling an engagement ring.

Anger flared in the eyes of Mrs. Lillie Peters, proprietor of a rooming house at 521 East Twenty-first street, south, yesterday when she appeared in municipal court and demanded a warrant for the arrest of the former telephoneist.

"Talking about mean people," began Mrs. Peters, "well—anyway, what can't she do with that marriage license?"

Mrs. Peters said that the telephone girl had stolen the two rings, each valued at $10, from the Peters' rooming house, where the girl formerly lived.

With Mrs. Peters was a young woman, who also lived in the house, who became the lost of her marriage certificate and the picture of her bouncing baby boy, both of which articles she suspected Ethel Jeffery of taking.

Ethel Jeffery was taken into custody Friday morning on complaint of Mrs. Peters and after being put through a cross-examination by the detectives, is asserted to have produced several articles stolen from the rooming house. Released and ordered to return later with the remainder of the loot, she has not been since seen.

If the police have difficulty in locating the telephoneist it will be through no fault of Mrs. Peters, who today turned over to the detectives a stamp picture of two young men of Troutdale, Or., whom she said "kept company" with the girl and a chum—also several postcards and letters addressed to the girl, were produced. Both the picture and postcards were returned to the landlady.

To movements of a species of seaweed are attributed the loss of 400,000 oysters from French beds. The weed apparently attached itself to them, then floated away, carrying the shells with it.

WOMAN CAPTURES
BOLD PICKPOCKET

Mrs. P. F. Gardiner's Clutch Too Much for Would-Be Thief at Cherry Fair.

(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.)

Salem, Or., July 10.—Feeling a man's hand in her pocket, Mrs. P. F. Gardiner turned quickly and grabbed a pickpocket by the coat collar who was making away with her purse yesterday afternoon. Though the thief squirmed and endeavored to get out of his coat, Mrs. Gardiner held him until a special policeman took him in charge.

At the police station the pickpocket gave his name as Hugh McDonald. He will be held until Mrs. Gardiner appears to swear out a complaint against him. McDonald is a stranger, and it was reported that he was connected with part of the entertainment features at the Cherry fair.

WOULD ADOPT
INDIAN SCHOOL PLAN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Chemawa, Or.—When the people of Chemawa read the address of President Harvey of the National Educational association, delivered at Denver this week and published in The Journal, it was remarked that what he advocated for the public schools—that is "Industrial Education"—was what the reservation schools of the Indian service have been doing and teaching for the past 20 years, and these schools have been blaring the news that the white man's education along industrial lines. The methods employed during the last three decades at Carlisle, Haskell, Chemawa and their sister schools have done much to mold sentiment in educational circles in favor of industrial education in our public schools.

New York Society Meeting.
The New York Society of Oregon will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening, July 13, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Hand, of North Twenty-first street, corner Reed. Take 8 car north to end of line. Weather permitting, a lawn party will be held. All visiting New Yorkers as well as residents are cordially invited to spend the evening with us.

Walla Walla Invites Taft.
Walla, Walla, Wash., July 10.—Publicity Manager, M. C. of the Commercial club this afternoon sent a telegram to President Taft, inviting him to stop in Walla Walla while on his western trip. The president's itinerary brings him through this city, and the business men want him to stop. A big time is planned in case he accepts the invitation.
