According to Mrs. Fannie Richmond, Who Testifies That "Reward" of $1000 Was Offered for Evidence Implicating the Accused.

(By a Staff Correspondent.) St. Helens, Or., July 16 .- The lure of a $1000 "reward" for testimony implicating George Murgatroyd as Robert Livingstone's murlere has imbued witnesses for the prosecution with a spirit of zealous fealty to the state's cause, according to admissions wrung from Mrs. Fannie Richmond by Attorney Abel for the defense yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Richmond's daughter, Bessie, also admitted that while there had en no understanding as to what 'amount should be her share," she too had been told of the $1000. Neither witness would reveal the identity of the informant. Both came noticeably reticent when Attorney Abel questioned them regarding the source of the "reward." Evidence confirming Murgatroyd's in-

This ocence continues to develop. morning Attorney Abel filed an affi-dayit asking that P. H. Whitbeck and wife of Lampa, Coss county, be sum-moned. Whitbeck lived in a house ad-joining Livingstone's cabin at the time of the murder. According to the af-fidayit, he will testify that on the morn-ing of December 11, he was awakened about 5 o'clock in the morning and heard a noise in Livingstone's cabin like blows and an object failing. Murgatroyd Virtually Excuerated.

Murgatroyd Virtually Exonerated.
Whitbeck's testimony will virtually exonerate Murgatroyd. The state all along has contended that Murgatroyd murdered Livingstone between 5 and 6 o'clock on the evening of December 10; walked down the railroad track from Goble to Rainier, and there took the steamer Hassalo to Astoria, arriving at Astoria about 3:40 o'clock on the morning of December 11. The defense has satablished an irrefutable alibit that Murgatroyd was in Astoria on the morning of December 11.

Another strong link in the defense's thain of evidence exonerating Murga-

Another strong link in the defense's chain of evidence exonerating Murgatroyd of Livingsione's murder, and confirming the belief that it was committed on the morning of December 11 instead of the evening of December 10 is the evidence of J. H. Bross, section foreman, who testified that he visited the Livingstone cabin about 7 o'clock on the morning of December 11 and that the blood on the walls and floors was still fresh. T. C. Watts, storekeeper at Goble, who wisited the cabin at about the same time as Bross, also testified that the crime was but a few hours old at the time of his visit.

Then ransacked the cabin in a fulle effect to secure the victim's hoard? Who are the persons who have carefully planned, it seems, to send George Murgatroyd to the gallows to save the real murderer's neck? Who put up the $1000 "reward" for testimony that Murgatroyd boasted of the killing of Robert Livingstone?

bessted of the killing of Robert Livingstone?
In an effort to solve these perplexing questions the defense will this afternoon recall Roy Malone to the stand.
Attorney Abel will subject him to the same gruelling process that caused the youth Wednesday afternoon—until then considered the state's star witness—to collapse, refute his first story accusing Murgatroyd of the murder, and leave the stand, on the verge, it is helieved of confessing to the murder of Robert Livingstone.

Sitting beside George Murgatroyd at the trial are his two sisters, 11 and 14 years of age. Murgatroyd is 20 years old. The father, haggard from his tireless efforts to vindicate his boy's honor, sits inside the rail of the prisoner's box, in close touch with his son's attorney, W. H. Abel. It is said that the father sold his home at Elma at a sacriffice in order to fight the case.

SPANISH VETERAN IS SENT TO ROCKPILE

John Clary, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, was given the limit fine of $50 for assault and battery, for an attack on Mrs. Lizzle Smith and in passing the sentence Judge Bennett deplored the fact that the limit was not greater. Mrs. Smith was attacked by Clary, who had known her for a long time, and received a severe beating about the face and head. Clary was evidently drunk at the time.

Calbreath in City From Three Year Studies.

After spending three years in Europe in musical and vocal education, Misses Helen and Evelyn Calbreath, daughters of Dr. J. F. Calbreath, former superintendent of the state insane asylum and senator from Yambill county, have returned to Portland.

The greater part of their three years were spent in Berlin, under some of the greatest teachers of piano, violin and voice. Miss Helen, who was formerly dean of the Willamette College of Music, studied the piano under Aronsen and Alberto Jonas, and received voice culture from Mme. Honna Maro, who was the kundry of the savage "Parsifal," and is well know in Europe.

Miss Evelyn Calbreath specialized upon the violin under such famous masters as Tssay Earmas, Arthur Hartmann, and Michel Press, who is one of the foremost masters in Europe, being a pupil of Auer of St. Petersburg and Sevuk Joachim and Ysays and an associate of Mischa Elman. She also received vocal instructions from William Shakespeare in London. Miss Calbreath was considered the most talented pupil by Michel Press.

When questioned concerning Europe, the Misses Calbreath said that they found the greatest difference in the atmosphere of art and music which prevails, especially in Germany.

TACOMA'S DAY FIVE YOUNG MEN and Go to Exposition City in a Bunch.

Gusted Press Lessed Wire.)

Seattle, July 16.—Seattle is crowded today with the greatest throng of yisitors that has ever invaded it. It is Tacoma day at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition and thousands of persons from the city across the sound began arriving by steamer and by every means of land transportation early this morning. The stream of visitors continued to pour into the city throughout the forencon. Practically every business house in Tacoma closed and it was estimated that nearly 20,000 persons had arrived here before noon.

Four big steamers, the Chippewa, Kennedy, Iroquois and Hyak, were specially chartered and brought over capacity crowds. In addition to these the regular steamers plying between the two cities were loaded and apecial trains run by the Northern Pacific railroad and the Interurban line were ismuted. The visitors carried streamers and mottoes, and "You'll Like Tacoma" was everywhere in evidence.

At 9 o'clock a monster parade formed in Pioneer Place and with flying colors and stirring music marched through the principal downtown streets amid continuous and enthusiastic cheering by the multitude of Scattleites that lined the watks.

At the head of the parade rode Mayor multitude of Seattleites that lined the walks.

At the head of the parade rode Mayor Miller of Seattle and Mayor Linek of Tacoma in an automobile. Another large machine was loaded with 30 handsome young women of Tacoma and made a pleasing feature of the procession.

At Second and Pike streets, on the line of march, suspended across the street between two large American flags, was Seattle's banner, on which was painted in flaring red letters, "We like Tacoma." This compliment to Tacoma made a tremendous hit with the invaders.

The parade disbanded at Yesler Way and Third avenue and the marchers boarded cars for the exposition. On arriving at the main entrance the Tacomans were met by officials of the exposition and, headed by a band, were escorted in state within the grounds.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the visitors assembled at the Washington state building, where speeches of walcome were delivered by Josiah Collins and President Chilberg of the exposition, followed by responses by Mayor Linck of Tacoma, President Pratt of the Tacoma "Boosters" and John T. Bibb, president of the Tacoma Commercial chib.

Following the speech making the Tacoma Master.

Following the speech making the Ta-coma visitors formed in line and with several bands playing marched about the grounds, the procession ending at the natural amphitheatre, where a massed band concert was held.
