FIGHT TO SAVE WARRY CHARLES

High Influences Back of Appeal Case of This Noted Chinese.

Boston, Mass., July 16.—It was learned today that a fund of nearly $10,000 has been raised to carry the case of Warry Charles, a well known Chinaman, to the United States supreme court. Should the appeal to the highest tribunal fail to bring about a new trial Charles, together with four of his countrymen, will be put to death in the electric chair in Charlestown prison in October. The murders for which the Chinamen have been sentenced were committed August 2, 1927. On the evening of that date 10 Chinamen, armed with large caliber revolvers, entered Oxford place, one of the thoroughfares of Boston's Chinatown, and proceeded to shoot up the street, stores and houses in the vicinity. Chin Mon Quin, Wong Shu Chung, Chin Leet and Lee Kai Nom were killed or died later from wounds received at that time, and Gong Gong, Joe Guey, Wong Duck, Wong How, Jong Bock Ling, and Yee Wat and others were wounded.
Ten Chinamen were arrested and charged with the murders. The first trial began on January 30, 1928, but was discontinued after three days because of the illness of one of the jurymen. In the meantime one of the accused Chinamen had died and the case of another was nolle prossed. The second trial began on February 2, 1928, and lasted for 23 days, the jury returning a verdict of guilty in all cases.
Public interest centers almost wholly in the case of Warry Charles, who is one of the most widely known Chinamen in America. For a number of years he has conducted a large laundry business in Boston, with branches scattered throughout the city. Charles came from the Hoy Ping district in China. He lived for a time in New Orleans and there became thoroughly acquainted with the English language. From Boston he went to Omaha, where he took his scanty earnings and started a lad of 16, in business for himself. Ambitious to get ahead, intelligent, active and sturdy, he sought an education. While he was attending a business college in Omaha he met Mary Whiting, a young woman who afterward became his wife and the mother of his children.

In New York Charles was successively an agent for the Santa Fe railroad, a dealer in stove, laundry machinery and hardware, and interpreter in the court of general sessions, a floor walker in a department store and a Chinese inspector under Secretary Carlisle in the second Cleveland administration.
In New York he was arrested charged with conspiracy against government secrets, but was discharged. He was then Chinese inspector, but was suspended. He later worked for the Lexow investigating commission and came to Boston after having been attacked in New York. After coming to this city he worked for a number of years as a court interpreter and became well known.
The effort to save the Warry Charles from the death chair has been taken up all over the country by members of the army and navy union, of which Warry Charles, a New York policeman and son of the condemned man, is a member. Several prominent army officers also have taken a lively interest in the case of the condemned man and they are also doing some work. General Felix Agnes of Boston has taken an interest in the case and he has written several letters in behalf of the condemned Chinaman. Warry Charles was a member of a New York regiment in the Spanish-American war and many of his comrades are assisting him in his efforts to save his father. Among those who have taken official action in the matter are the Major Charles F. Roe garrison of Brooklyn and the General Lawton Garrison of Newburg, N. Y.
The local authorities, notwithstanding the widespread movement started in behalf of Charles, declare he is deserving of little sympathy. According to their belief he is one of the most dangerous men in America and was the brains of the conspiracy which caused the murders in Oxford place two years ago.
A Prairie creek, Wallowa county man has 200 acres of hay put up mostly alfalfa and some timothy and 400 acres of grain. The ground was prepared and the grain all sown since he returned to the valley last March.

DRILLS TOUGHEN YOUNG SOLDIERS

Camp Benson Is Putting Guardsmen in Shape for Battle Maneuvers.

Today's program at Camp Benson included those drills and exercises which will best fit the guardsmen for the trying duties connected with the field maneuvers scheduled for tomorrow and Sunday. The three battalions were given work in guarding the van, rear and flanks of a marching column, and in guarding a bridge camp from attack by an enemy.
Company G, the force of regulars in camp with the Third Infantry, gave an exhibition in extended order and battle formations today. This company in command of Captain King gave a fine exhibition drill yesterday in close order formation.
One of the most interesting events at camp yesterday was a lecture to the officers of the regiment by Colonel Rudolph Ebert, chief surgeon of the department of the Columbia. Colonel Ebert's first lecture was on infectious diseases. He will deliver another lecture this afternoon and probably another tomorrow.
At 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon dress parade of the entire regiment was given in honor of Governor Benson, who arrived at camp early in the afternoon, accompanied by Adjutant General Finzer and Inspector-General Colonel James Jackson, U. S. A., retired. Governor Benson was highly pleased with the appearance of the troops on parade, and took occasion to warmly congratulate Colonel McDonnell and the other officers of the regiment upon the splendid showing made by the guardsmen.
Beyond routine camp duty, little will be done in camp tomorrow, except to prepare for the long march to the maneuver grounds which will begin early in the afternoon.

DESERTER MAGNESS GOES FREE TOMORROW

Portsmouth, N. H., July 16.—The gates of the naval prison here will be opened tomorrow morning for the release of Charles Magness, who was arrested for desertion from the navy a few days after he married Miss Ada Gorman, daughter of the late Senator Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland. Mrs. Magness has arrived here from Baltimore and will be the first to greet her husband when he is given his freedom.

Magness enlisted in the marine corps under the name of Charles J. Hartlove and was assigned to the U. S. Dolphin at the Washington navy yard. According to the official records he deserted in July last and was arrested at Louisville in October. Much influence was brought to bear upon the president and the secretary of the navy to get the young man out of trouble. He was tried and convicted, however, and sentenced to be dishonorably discharged and to be confined at hard labor for one year. The term of imprisonment has been reduced to eight months by good behavior.
