

WASTHINGS AT CARMEN'S PICNIC

Great Crowds at the Oaks Enjoy Entertainment Provided at Third Annual Picnic—Baby Show This Afternoon.

Everybody went. The cars to the Oaks were filled with picnickers, young, old and middle-aged; the cars returning from the Oaks contained lots of vacant seats. Everybody was happy at the Oaks—everybody stayed.

Today is Carmen's picnic day. The committee in charge did all in its power to make the day a success. The Carmen did all they could. The weather man did his best. There was no wind, the thousands of friends of the Carmen who attended the picnic to do a good time came to everyone without the slightest effort. There was an epidemic of happiness.

Just how many people took the trip out to the Oaks today one cannot say. There were too many to count. How many will go to the Oaks tonight? One cannot say. To say "at least 25,000 people" may not do justice to the multitude. There will be at least 25,000, and very probably more than that.

Baby Show a Feature.
The baby show started the afternoon's program. It was a delight for everybody to see so many chubby, dimpled, rosy faces, and fat, pudgy fists. They were certainly a healthy looking, rosy-budged bunch of youngsters.

Special Features Tonight.
Nor is this all—the picnic is not ended. There will be something doing tonight. A pillow fight between Hummersville, the champion pillow fighter of the Carmen, and Charley Selma, champion of the Woodmen wrestling, boxing, blindfolded contests, an athletic exhibition by members of the M. C. A., besides all the usual Oaks attractions—all these events will take place tonight.

TWO MURDER CASES ARGUED AT SALEM.
(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.)
Salem, Or., July 21.—Two murder cases were heard by the supreme court today following the Finch case, the argument in which was completed yesterday afternoon. The case of H. J. Jancig, convicted of murder in the first degree at Oregon City and accused of killing his sweetheart, was argued this morning and the Harry Daly case this afternoon. Daly was convicted of first degree murder in Portland.

Medics at Seattle Spend Day at Fair.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, July 21.—Convention routine was dispensed with today and the delegates to the medical association of the Pacific northwest, comprising physicians from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and British Columbia, visited the exposition today, where a luncheon was tendered them in the New York state building. This evening the medical men will attend a dance at the Washington state building. Tomorrow a public session will be held in the assembly room of the Broadway high school. The afternoon will be devoted to a general discussion of the subject of tuberculosis, under the auspices of the Washington association for the prevention and relief of tuberculosis.

MARY MARBLE'S LAUGH GOD GAVE; DUTCH GIRL'S DISGUISE HER OWN

Domestic Little Actress Comes of Pioneer Family in Dramatic Art.

No wonder Mary Marble can laugh as she does. What woman wouldn't laugh if she had her perfect husband? Well, the secret of Miss Marble's laugh is out, for in real life she is Mrs. John W. Dunne, and she says, "I like every place, everybody, and is just perfect—and I hope you say so."

Of Early Stage Work.
Her great great grandfather came to America with the first dramatic company sent here from England. Her great uncle, the famous William Warren, played at the Boston Museum for 26 years. Her grandfather, Cas Marble, played Sam Patch, the first Yankee comedy part in America, and Joseph Jefferson was her second cousin.

Dressing Rooms Need Attention.
"The dressing rooms in the vaudeville houses are a delight, for they are always in such good condition and so clean. You notice I keep by vaudeville friends on one side of the mirror and my dramatic friends on the other. I don't think they would like to be mixed, do you?"

Wanted Something "Different."
Miss Marble wished to have something different from the ordinary play. The idea of the two Dutch kiddies and the little fairy tale in all of their blue. This is the first time that a color scheme has been used in vaudeville.

WIKTOR ADMITS FOUR MURDERS.
Killed Christie to Rob Him and Others to Cover First Crime.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Aberdeen, S. D., July 21.—Admitting that he killed four persons so that he might rob one, Emil Wiktor confessed to the police today. Wiktor has been held here since July 8 on suspicion of having murdered John Christie, his wife, daughter and a farm hand named Michael Royanac.

LUMBER KING VISITS PORTLAND.
Frederick Weyerhaeuser, "the lumber king of America," was in the city yesterday enroute to his home in St. Paul, after having spent a few days taking in the A. T. exposition and looking over his interests in the Pacific northwest. The Weyerhaeuser syndicate holds immense tracts of timber in Oregon, Idaho and Washington and is also engaged in the operation of large logging camps under different names.

YOUTH DROWNS RESCUING MULES

C. R. Wickert of Washington County G6es Down When Struck by Hoof.

Astoria, Or., July 21.—C. R. Wickert, who came here from Washington county, Oregon, was drowned at the seining grounds of Sand Island Monday afternoon. Information of the death did not reach the authorities until last night. Young Wickert was in charge of a team of mules at one end of the seining and the strong tide swept the team from their feet and started to carry them out through the surf.

PROPERTY OWNERS OBJECT TO MAIN.
A number of property owners of North Eighth street, between Ankeny and Gileson, angered by plans of the water board for placing an eight-inch main on that street after a hard surface pavement has been laid, ascribe their protest to "certain idiosyncrasies of the water board." The water board term used in a remonstrance filed with the city auditor.

BUNGALOW THEATRE MONDAY EVENING JULY 26

Under Washington's new criminal code no specific reference is made to intoxicating liquors in the sections covering the sale of commodities on Sunday. "Booze" is merely personal property and Koslovski's conduct in the eyes of the law would have been equally reprehensible if he had sold the slush a pint flask of violet ink or a pair of shoes.
