

NEW MADISON BRIDGE WILL BE UNIQUE IN STYLE AND SYSTEM OF BUILDING

Judge Lowell Protests the Consideration of Proposal From Hood of Skibo.

Fendleton, Or., July 24.—To the Editor of The Journal.—There appeared in your issue of yesterday a news item which presented a situation requiring public discussion, if not rebuke, as touching the attitude of the regents of the state university in the matter of the Carnegie foundation fund, so-called. The article refers to the presence in the state of a man bearing the name of Fritchett, who comes as a representative of such fund, and his suggestion that the university should be located in Portland.

Who or what Fritchett is denotes little. He is probably a worthy individual, but in his position as a representative of the Carnegie foundation fund, he is not entitled to particular attention. His opinion as to the proper location of the university is not likely to influence the decision of any citizen. Most men familiar with the situation in Oregon are satisfied, and Eugene is not in danger of losing the institution.

The vital questions presented are whether or not the board of regents of the university shall be permitted to accept the state's donation of the fund, and whether or not the school shall become the silent supporter of a discredited business system because of a misuse of future reward in upon its teachers.

To any such proposal permit me as a private citizen to express my pride and hope of its future, to register a protest in an vigorous language as I can command, and with such publicity as the press can give.

In the name of independence and that common justice which is the foundation of all good government, I propose that the question of the manhood and womanhood of Oregon, are you willing to accept the state's donation of the fund, shall become an educational invertebrate, and that the regents of your chief educational institution shall make their charge a man in the name of dollars.

I know the people of Oregon. I have seen them upon public platforms and met them in their homes for nearly two decades, and I believe them too independent to accept any such proposal. They will never willingly bow before Andrew Carnegie or any of his class. Oregon is a state and will remain a state, and her youth reasonable salaries, and her citizenship is inspired with pride and self-reliance too great to permit the work of the Carnegie foundation to tarnish with any Carnegie association.

Picture showing method of setting spans in place, after having been assembled on shore, to be used in construction of new Madison street bridge.

Plans for the new Madison street bridge have been completed by the United Engineering company, the contractor, and the work will be begun immediately that the structure may be finished before April 29, 1910, the time set for completion in the contract.

In many ways the new Madison street bridge will be unique. It will be the first bridge of its kind in the United States, and it will be the first bridge of its kind in the world.

The center lift principle and apparatus is interesting to Portland people, because of its newness in this region. It is a principle which has been used in the United States, the most notable one, perhaps, being the one on the Halsted street bridge, Chicago, where for years the lift span has been used with varying degrees of success, due principally to the artificial construction and machinery.

The lift span, when raised, allows an opening of 200 feet clear through which ships and steamers may pass, and can be raised to a point 135 feet above the water level.

Many are the superior qualities claimed for the lift bridge over other types. The most important are that it can be opened and closed more quickly than any other type and that it is much cheaper to build than any other type.

DEADLOCK ON LEGION MEDALS FREE OR AVIATORS

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, July 26.—Senator Warren of Wyoming today was assigned as spokesman for the western senators opposed to free medals, after an extended conference today, said.

Warren asserts that this determination is final. It is said that probably 10 senators who did not vote against the bill on final passage would vote against the conference report if free medals was left in it without free boots and shoes go with it.

A deadlock is the talk late this afternoon. It is said that seven of the ten progressive senators who voted against the bill on final passage will vote against the conference report if free medals was left in it without free boots and shoes go with it.

París, July 26.—Three famous aviators were today awarded medals of the Legion of Honor. They are Orville and Wilbur Wright and Henri Farman.

Pasadena, Cal., July 26.—D. H. Pores, motorman of a Monrovia car, which last night crashed into a Pasadena short line car near the city limits, causing the death of one passenger and the injury of others, was not recovered from his injuries. His skull and jawbone were fractured and he has a slight concussion of the brain.

ONE KILLED AND MANY INJURED IN COLLISION. A peculiar feature of the accident brought to light today was that the body of Fred Kettler was removed from the wreck by rescuers who thought he was merely stunned by the collision.

INHERITS A FORTUNE FROM OLD SHIPMATE. Vallejo, Cal., July 26.—City Treasurer George Warford is heir to a $25,000 estate left him by an old shipmate who fought his way to California. The property is at Bremerton, Wash., and was willed him two years ago.

WRIGHTS THIS EVENING TEST THEIR FLIGHT

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, July 26.—Wright brothers today informed General Allen, head of the United States army, of their intention that they would attempt the first official aeroplane test, required by their contract with the government, at 6 o'clock this evening.

Orville Wright will operate the aeroplane and will be accompanied by an observer. The flight will be an endurance test, it being required that the machine carry two persons and remain in the air for one hour without alighting.

President Taft announced this afternoon that he would witness Wilbur Wright's flight. The flight will be an endurance test, it being required that the machine carry two persons and remain in the air for one hour without alighting.

Patrolman Gill and the attendants at the sanatorium, appear of the opinion that the woman is insane. She implored her guard yesterday to bring back her husband and to carry him a message.

Dr. Orlo Jefferson, Mrs. Collins' family physician, has been called into the case and he refuses to allow anyone excepting officers of the law and the sanatorium attendants to see or speak to the woman. To disturb her, he says, would be to do her harm.

MRS. COLLINS, SAYS WILLIS, IS INSANE

(Continued from Page One.) county court Thursday when it is expected Judge Lionel E. Webster will return from the city yesterday and will be made at that time for commitment to the asylum at Salem, it being asserted that her condition is such that to try her upon the charge of murder would be entirely useless.

Mrs. Collins is still at the Mountain View sanatorium, East Thirty-sixth and Powell streets, where Patrolman J. C. Gill has been detailed to guard against her making away with herself. Yesterday afternoon she wrapped a towel around her neck and tried to strangle herself, but the patrolman quickly interfered.

BETTER PHYSICAL CONDITION

She began to partake of light food yesterday and towards evening her condition was somewhat better than in the morning. And she spent fairly restful night, although partly under the influence of sedatives. She awoke early this morning and had a bath and breakfast.

This morning she asked of Patrolman Gill why her husband went away and left her. She also wanted to know why she was being kept confined in the room. She remained in bed all of yesterday and slept a good part of the time. Between times she would call for her husband and ask: "Why did he do it?"

Mrs. Collins' daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Garber, of Fisher's Landing, Wash., came to the city yesterday and visited her mother at the sanatorium. The meeting was in the presence of the hospital matron and the guard. After an affectionate greeting, they spoke for a few minutes, without reference to the tragedy.

This morning again Mrs. Garber called at the sanatorium, and she will probably spend the most of her time with her mother until the matter is disposed of in some way or other.

MALHEUR COUNTY PAYS TEACHERS WELL

(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.) Salem, Or., July 26.—Malheur county pays men for teaching school an average monthly salary of $84.10, according to the report of County School Superintendent B. L. Milligan, filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction today.

This is an increase of $14 over the average salary paid in Malheur county last year and the highest average salary paid in the state of Oregon. The average salary received by Malheur county teachers last year was $70.10, an increase from $68.55 paid a year ago.

The school population of Malheur county has increased from 1910 to 1918, the attendance from 1490 to 1534, and the amount paid out for school purposes has increased in a year from $56,580.57 to $44,833.25.

Oil in Air Demoralizes Wires. (United Press Leased Wire.) Vallejo, July 26.—The linemen of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company employed between Crockett and Oakland have turned scrub women temporarily. Every man in the party was given a thorough washing for the reason that oily deposits have coated the telegraph wires and resulted in grounding the currents.

ENGAGEMENT OF DOROTHY LAWSON

(United Press Leased Wire.) Boston, July 26.—The engagement of Miss Dorothy Lawson to Henry McCall, son of Congressman McCall of Winchester, Va., was announced today. Dorothy Lawson is the third daughter of Thomas W. Lawson, who after making a fortune in the copper market, gained national notoriety by turning truck maker and attacking the methods of the Amalgamated Copper company through newspapers.

The marriage will take place at Dreamworld some time in January. Miss Lawson, 20 years old, and McCall is but a few years her senior.
