Fire Drives Out Roomers—A small fire originated in a double rooming house at 13-15 East Sixth street at 2:40 this morning and drove a number of roomers into the street, but did little damage. The fire originated from unknown causes in a stairway in No. 13 and broke through to the adjoining house. When the department answered the call the houses were filled with smoke, and this caused considerable trouble, but prompt action prevented any considerable loss of property. The houses are conducted by Mrs. H. Piper and Mrs. G. Brace.

Caledonian Day at Seattle—Caledonian day has been set for August 21 by the management for the Seattle Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, and on that day many of the past chapters of the Caledonians are expected to be represented. Games and a parade with a silver cup to be presented to the society having the largest representation in the parade are scheduled. Information and requests for reservations should be sent not later than August 15 to Avid Brown, secretary of the Seattle chamber of commerce.

Nails Down Lid—Mayor Simon yesterday afternoon directed Acting City Building Inspector Plummer not to issue permits for alterations of two frame buildings in the north end district. The mayor believes the repairs are sought to be made so that the buildings may be used to house disreputable women. He thinks that wherever old wooden structures are altered at all that modern fireproof buildings should replace them.

New Pen Invented—Blaine Hallock of Portland has just received his patent on a new fountain pen. It provides for a double barrel fountain pen with two points which are placed back to back. The barrels may be filled with different colored ink, such as red and black, and may be used alternately by turning the pen over in the hand. The pen was designed to be of special use in bookkeeping and indexing.

Car Scattered Milk—Alleging that a streetcar that collided with his milk wagon ran without a headlight and at a rate of 25 miles per hour, Thomas Langford has begun suit in the circuit court for $15,300 damages. The incident took place October 1, at Williams avenue and Fargo streets, Langford being thrown from his wagon. He says his hearing and eyesight have been injured and he is subject to dizzy spells.

Hearing at Washington—Tuesday, August 3, 1909, at 10 a. m., a general hearing will be held by the board of food and drug inspection in the board room adjoining the office of the chief clerk, department of agriculture at Washington, D. C. This hearing is to be on the subject of "the present practice in the manufacture and labeling of compressed yeast and other yeast preparation."

Skull Broken by Falling Tree—Magnus Erickson, a logger, was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital yesterday with a shattered skull, which he received at Castlerock yesterday morning. He was engaged in felling a tree when he was struck on the head by a falling limb. An operation was performed upon the broken skull by Dr. E. A. Marshall. Erickson's condition is said to be critical.

Newton's Store Sold—Newton's Cash Grocery in St. Johns has been purchased by Hendricks & Horseman of that city and will be run in connection with Mayor J. F. Hendricks's hardware store from now on. Newton himself will leave for California soon, he having been forced to sell out here on account of ill health. The store is situated at 111 South Jersey street.

Want Oregon Woods—Requests for bids on a supply of white oak and Douglas fir have been filed with secretary of the chamber of commerce, from Captain R. C. Boggs, general purchasing officer of the United States army at Washington. Bids must be received in Washington before August 9, and delivery is to be guaranteed at Colon later in the season.

Streetcar Hits Delivery Wagon—Otto Westfielder, a driver for L. Mayer & Co., was injured by being struck by a streetcar on the Fulton line yesterday. The car, Fulton car 306, was said to be going at a high rate of speed, but Westfielder escaped with no injury other than bruises to his arms, although the wagon was broken and a number of windows in the car were shattered.

Talks on Temperance—A good audience filled the Cotton tabernacle at East Eleventh and Morrison last night to hear Elder Daniel Nettleton, chaplain of the Portland Sanitarium, speak on temperance. The speaker not only took a stand against the use of alcohol in its commonly recognized forms, but showed by physical tests its presence in many of the patent medicines used at the present time. Incidentally he took a slap at mustards, peppers and other condiments. At the close of his talk Evangelist Martin made a few remarks, stating that his people stood for temperance in its broad sense. He also said the Adventist people were in the move to make Oregon a dry state in 1910. The meeting will continue for some time. Evangelist Martin will speak tonight on "Satan's First Lie." He will deal with the condition of man between death and the resurrection. Much interest is taken in the music rendered by the large chorus.

Eilers Welcoming Delegation "Beat the Band" Playing for Festival Chorus

A delegation of three from Eilers Seattle music house boarded the Commercial club Portland day special at Tacoma and went through the train with a blare of base and snare drum while the banner of welcome was carried by the seven foot colored porter of the store. When they came to the coach where the Symphony orchestra of 300 was located there was a general jollification. The stunt was pronounced the hit of the trip. A. A. Schell and H. G. Terry of the Eilers staff were each equipped with an instrument supposed to be of a musical nature, as well as a pleasant greeting for the numerous salutations of the festival chorus on its way to the A.-Y.-P. exposition.

ONE TASTE OF SYMPATHY MAKES DONALDSON BUY CAR TICKETS

Alex Donaldson, the handsome highlander at the head of the city's street cleaning service, wore a becoming blush all morning—one that could be plainly discerned through a thick coat of tan. And the employes of the city hall all wore broad smiles—also plainly discernible. It is whispered about that Alex purchased a book of streetcar tickets today, so that he can presumably make daily trips to the Union depot. For it is rumored that the big Scotchman is particularly anxious to meet a charming friend on one of the many incoming trains. He doesn't know which train, but if the streetcar tickets should hold out he ought to be there when the time comes.

You see, Alex went down to the station this morning to see a friend off. He carried the friend's baggage obligingly to the train, said good-bye, and was smilingly backing off the platform when there was a swish and rustle and a fluttering or dazzling white lace. Then two pink sleeved arms encircled the neck of the surprised official. Two warm lips of softest cerise met—Oh, what's the use!

Then the owner of the lips looked up. It was the wrong man. She fainted. But first—"Oh, you're not my husband!"

Children Have Outing—Through the invitation of R. M. Townsend 50 children of the Boys' and Girls' Aid society visited the Oaks yesterday afternoon. Mr. Townsend's assistant, Sam Taylor, conducted the children through the various attractions and the remainder of the time was spent on the grounds. The management expresses thanks to those who contributed to the children's entertainment and to the Portland Railway, Light & Power company for transportation.

Music Company Enjoined.—Following the filing of a suit in federal court, the Graves Music company of Portland, Or., has been enjoined from infringing upon patents alleged to be owned by the Victor Talking Machine company, the latter corporation having brought action some time ago. The local company, after the filing of the suit made a plea that an injunction be entered against it.

Death of Joseph Duncan—Joseph Duncan, who has lived in Portland for 29 years, died at his home, 663 East Fourteenth street on Monday after a long period of illness extending over the greater part of two years. He was a well known shipbuilder and is survived by a widow and four children. The funeral will be held this afternoon under the direction of the Forester's lodge, of which he was a member.

The New Catalogs for the department of law of the University of Oregon are now ready for distribution. The fall term of the school opens September 20 and the indications are that the new year will begin with an increased attendance. Catalogs free. Address Walter H. Evans, secretary, 611 Corbett building.

Dobson Wants Longer Vacation—By adopting the report of the ways and means committee this morning the city council refused an application for an additional 15 days' leave of absence made by City Building Inspector Dobson. Mr. Dobson will, however, be permitted to take the regular fortnight's vacation allowed by the city charter.

Kleiser Takes McPherson's Place—George W. Kleiser was elected by the city council this morning to fill the place on the automobile registry board made vacant by the resignation of R. G. McPherson. R. D. Inman, another member of the board, was granted a 20 days' leave of absence.

Plumbing Inspector Denied More Help—The city council this morning refused to grant the request of City Plumbing Inspector W. Hey for additional help. The action of the council was taken at the suggestion of the ways and means committee.

Removal of Unused Wires—Chief of Police Cox was directed by a vote of the city council this morning to ascertain the location of all unused electric wires in the city and to have the same removed.

OAK STREET EXTENSION BACK TO COMMITTEE

The city council this morning adopted the second report of the viewers on the extension of Oak street from Park to Burnside. The viewers stated that after careful investigation they could see no reason for changing their original report, and the assessments were allowed to remain the same.

On motion of Councilman Driscoll, the entire matter was re-referred to the street committee, where opposing property owners will have a last opportunity to thresh out their differences.

NO SURE PLANS SAY LUMBERMEN

Prominent Dealers Say the Agency Is Talked Of but Not Established.

Lumbermen who are interested in the establishment of a cooperative selling agency for the mills of Portland and the Columbia river are apparently unwilling to make difinite statements in regard to an organization such as has been established in Centralia and Grays and Willapa harbors, Washington.

On N. Clark, president of the Clark-Wilson company, admitted that plans for an agency were being made, but pleaded ignorance of anything more definite. Mr. Clark said that he understood that there was to be a meeting Saturday for a discussion of the idea.

President Jellison of the Oregon-Kansas Lumber company at Rainier said:

"We have made no definite plans because we could find no one to manage such an agency satisfacterily to all of us."

W. H. Little, agent for the Loop Lumber company, and one of the largest buyers on the river, said that while he had received no positive information on the subject, he had understood that such an organization was to be formed, although he could give no positive information as to what steps in that direction had already been taken.

A. R. Wastell, secretary of the Oregon & Washington Lumber Manufacturers' association, said:

"The thing has been talked about a good deal, but nothing has been done. I have told you all the theory of such a cooperative agency, but if you seek information about the actual plans or steps which have been made I can tell you nothing, because, to my knowledge, none have been made."

Fred C. Knapp of the Peninsula Lumber company, and L. J. Wentworth, manager of the Portland Lumber company, both pleaded ignorance of the plan.

NOTED MINISTER IS AT THE CONVENTION

Dr. F. C. Berger, who is to take a prominent part in the conventions of the Evangelical association of Oregon, which opened yesterday, arrived from Cleveland, Ohio, this morning.

Dr. Berger is a well known minister and lecturer of the Evangelical Association of America. He will deliver a number of addresses as well as conduct the round-table exercises at the present conventions in the Jennings Lodge campgrounds.

The round-table discussions will begin this afternoon and the subjects for discussion are: "How to Secure Regular Attendance," "How to Improve the Spirit of Reverence," "Shall Boys and Girls be Separated in Classes?" "Better Singing and Music," "Can a Person Using Tobacco Be a Successful Sunday School teacher?" "Plans for Ideal Sunday School Rooms."

This evening Dr. Berger will deliver the annual sermon in the Tabernacle, and on August 2 he will address the Women's Missionary society convention to be held on the campground. He will also address the Young People's Alliance convention.

A number of tents are pitched on the grounds near the Tabernacle and the opening attendance of the conventions was satisfactory, although it will increase during the week.

PERSONALS

Rev. Edgar P. Hill, D. D., former pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who is visiting in Portland, has gone to Hood River for the remainder of the week.

Roy Ritner, one of the wheat magnates of the Umatilla Indian reservation, is spending a short vacation in Portland.

Dr. C. H. Lytle, state sheep inspector, has returned to Portland from an inspection tour over the Willamette valley. Dr. Lytle's headquarters are in Pendleton, but he is spending the summer months with Mrs. Lytle in Portland.

Either the latter part of this week or the first of next Robert Sears, a graduate of West Point this June, will arrive in Portland. Robert Sears is a son of Mrs. Alfred F. Sears, and was born in Portland in 1884. He received his appointment to West Point in 1905 by Congressman Williamson. Lieutenant Sears has been appointed to the First infantry at Vancouver barracks, and his arrival in Portland is interesting his many friends here. Upon his graduation from West Point Sears was given a commission as second lieutenant.

RUMOR HAS SPRECKELS ATTENDING CONCERT

There was a report that young Claus Spreckels, whose name rumor has so persistently coupled with that of Miss Mary Adele Case, was in town Tuesday night to attend her concert. Although Mr. Spreckels had considered coming up from California at this time, he did not arrive. Many of Miss Case's friends came from Oregon City and Salem to hear her in the only concert she expects to give in the northwest, and after the concert she was overwhelmed with congratulations.

WESTMORELAND!

MESSRS. BECKWITH AND MILLS HAVE BOUGHT

Our Sales Managers Among the First Purchasers of Westmoreland Lots. Both Bought on First Seeing the Tract. Their verdict is that of experts.

When we placed Mr. Beckwith and Mr. Mills at the head of our Westmoreland property we picked the highest grade men in the city—men known for their integrity and experience. Both of these men, while they are conservative, have been critical students of affairs and events in the Northwest for years.

Both of them, on their first visit to Westmoreland, made selections of lots for their own use. Both of them are pushing plans for their own homes at Westmoreland. It is gratifying to us to know that both of these keen men saw the real home building advantages at Westmoreland from an entirely unselfish or unbiased standpoint.

They believe in Westmoreland themselves, and that possibly explains their unprecedented record of sales.

Our tract office is open during the entire day. Why not go out and see the property now? Our representative will meet you and will be glad to answer your questions and show you over the tract.
