SACRAMENTO TO INVADE OUTLAWSManager Graham Compelled to Strengthen Team to Save a Patronage.

By Hiland Raggerly.

San Francisco, July 23.—Billy Gilbert was struck by the way Fitzgerald handled himself in the box, and if he had been the property of Sacramento he would have talked business with Charley Graham. Fitz is really the property of Pueblo. He was under reserve to Pueblo when he tied up with the outlaws. According to the ruling of the powers, Coast league clubs were privileged to grab any and all players playing with the outlaws, but only for the season, the said players to revert to their rightful owners next year. When Gilbert learned that Pueblo had a claim on Fitzgerald he refrained from negotiating for his services until he had heard from Colorado.

In a quiet way the Sacramento club is scouting for material to strengthen its ranks. The team is not playing to please the men who pay the salaries. It is not winning enough games, and Sacramento is the sort of a city that must have a winning team to draw crowds. The Senators got away to a flying start last spring and then blew up directly. Just now they are in the throes of an awful slump, and Graham is doing his level best to shake it off. Rumor is that Charles Graham is a couple of outlaws before another week passes. He would dearly love to sign Tommy Sheehan for third, Jansing, who is holding down the bag, is an straggler. One day he will play the most beautiful game and the very next he is liable to make you forget all about it. Sheehan, who has been mentioned for the place, is as steady as the proverbial clock and is a very able pitcher. He is a hitter. Jimmy McHale, who played a short season in the American league after being signed, is another outlaw Sacramento is reported to be negotiating with.

George Hildebrand got into the game much sooner than he had an idea of when he talked to the writer Tuesday. Charley Graham sent him a distress call yesterday morning. "Planagan is sick in bed and I want you to take his place," was the message Graham forwarded. "Steamboat" is confined in bed with an attack of malaria, and it is a hell of a thing when he will play again. Like a good soldier Hildebrand sent back word that he would be on hand. He was far from being in "playing" condition, fine as he felt, but so long as Graham needed his services, George reported at the park.

BEAVERS VICTORS, RED HOT GOSSIP
BUT OAKS SCORE FOR RABID FANS

Harkness was unsteady yesterday and Oakland put a run across in the sixth inning that brought to a close the sensational whitewash record of the Beavers, who went 51 innings without a run being scored against them, covering portions of seven games. Portland won the game by opportune hitting and taking advantage of misplays by the Commuters. The score was 4 to 1.

Three runs sent across the plate in the fifth inning, gave the homesters a comfortable lead. Johnson started with a two-bagger and scored on Christian's error of Ort's grounder from that cushion. Ort was sacrificed to second by Breen and the bases were full on Fisher's walk. Harkness singled across second and Ort scored but Breen was caught between bases on the return by faulty coaching. Fisher came home on a wild pitch.

Carroll scratched out a hit in the sixth frame and scored on Duffy Lewis' two-bagger to right. The Oaks scored again in the ninth by errors by Breen and Olson, the latter throwing the ball wide of Ort and into the bleachers, allowing Quigley to register. The locals put another over in the eighth when Kune's high throw allowed Speck to reach first. Billy took third on Ryan's single and another wild pitch let him in. The score:

BEAR STEAKS
FOR CAMPERS
NEAR GULER

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Husum, Wis., July 23.—The first bear killing of the season in the upper valley came a few days ago, when Eugene Rice of Portland and Ivan Wang of Trout Lake potted a yearling near Guler. The first shot wounded the bear in one of the fore legs, whereupon it made for one of the lava caves in that vicinity. It was followed and finally killed by Mr. Wang. Bruin weighed 200 pounds. Tender steaks were distributed among the campers in the neighborhood of the Guler resort.

KILL LARGE COUGAR
NEAR LYONS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Lyons, Or., July 23.—Byron Wolfe, forest ranger, was crossing a wooded mountain on his rounds when turning a bend in the trail he came upon a large cougar in the path ahead of him drinking from a small stream. Wolfe went to the nearest house for a gun. John Becker was making hay, but on hearing Mr. Wolfe's story, took dogs and gun to the place where the cougar was seen. The dogs found the trail and soon treed Mr. Cougar. Mr. Wolfe fired, breaking its hind leg. It fell to the ground, but soon jumped up and on three legs ran into the woods and again climbed a tree. A second shot finished the animal. The cougar measured seven feet, and apparently was about two years old. The hunters intend having the skin mounted.

COLTS REVIVED,
BAT OUT VICTORYGough Holds Champions
Down to Four Hits, Stopping Losing Streak.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Vancouver, B. C., July 23.—Thirteen hits were gleamed by the Colts yesterday afternoon off the delivery of Warren Hall, setting them 11 runs. On the other hand, Gough was as stingy as a small boy with an apple core, allowing but four bingles, one of which was responsible for the only run of the champions.

Portland began scoring in the first inning, when one run was above over. They made three in the third, one each in the fifth and sixth, and capped the climax by putting five over in the seventh.

Fournier, Bassey and Kennedy took an exceptional liking to Hall's slants, the first named gathering in a homer and the other two triples.

It was the first game won in nine played. The score:

Eight straight games pocketed. Fifty-one innings before a run was made off the Beavers. A record for the Coast and probably for minor league teams.

Nip-up-erray! The Colts won a game, and see what a score it was.

George Hildebrand is back in the game again after having been crippled on the oriental tour last winter. The old time seal took right field for Sacramento instead of Flanagan. Now all we need is Brick Devereaux back in harness to make the Coast league look like it used to.

Gee, but that was some pitiful looking fielding the Beavers were doing before the eyes of Scout Bobby Lowe of the Tigers. After going along at a splendid rate for over a week was about time that something started in the fielding department.

'Twas a good thing the Oaks faced Harkness yesterday instead of the Angels or Seals. The crack bunters on the team would have chased Speck to the clubhouse. Twice during the game he started to cover first on bunts that went to the left of him and counted as hits. Harkness himself was responsible for the first run that marred the long whitewash record of the Beavers.

Buddy Ryan further distinguished himself by making a beautiful throw home in the fifth cut off Quigley, who was beating it to the plate on Lewis' single to center. He won the hearts of the crowd by catching Carroll's fly in the first inning off his shoepots. Two hits concluded the day's performance.

Too bad Ivor Olson's long fly to the left field fence fell a scant yard short of the fair line. The fleet-footed shortstop had easily reached third base, when he was waved back to the plate by Umpire McCarthy.

Carroll was the hitting kid yesterday, with three bingles in five times up. However, the man who started the famous triple play from the field in the Oak-Seal game the other day, did not have so good a record as Don Cameron.

Who clipped three singles in four trips to the plate.

Through Bill Reidy's aid, Olson was saved an error in the eighth inning. McKune's grounder had been badly messaged by Olson and Carroll, who was on second, made third on the bobble and under Reidy's direction started for the plate. Olson picked up the ball and hurled it to Johnson, who relayed it to Fisher in time to tag Carroll.

Johnson has been laying on the ball with all his old time fervor. Yesterday he rapped out one that looked all the world like a homer, but it hit the boards and bounded back in the field. Johnson made second on the swipe, which started the downfall of young Mr. Thompson.

Well, the Colts finally won a game after dropping eight straight. It was the man who beat the champs. The men batted like fiends behind him. Let us hope that this is the signal to start up again.

Hal Clafflin, released by Tacoma, was signed by Manager Brown of the Indians. Clafflin was formerly with Spokane and lost a 17-inning game with Butte to whom he was afterwards traded. He went to Tacoma with the Butte outfit, but didn't have heart in the work with the tallenders.

Roller Known All Over Sport World

Dr. B. F. Roller, the 210 pound Seattle medic who is to wrestle a match with John Berg and Charley Olson here next Wednesday night, at the Exposition grounds, is the best known sporting man in the country. Not only has he made a success of the wrestling game, defeating every wrestler in the country except Frank Gotch, but he has also dabbled with the boxing game, although not very successfully as yet.

Roller is training all the time at boxing and wrestling and besides these accomplishments, he was one of the best football men the Seattle Athletic club ever had. He is well thought of by the city, who is to be one of the men to meet Roller next Wednesday evening at the Exposition grounds.

FORFEIT GROWS
SHOW-ME CROPBig Fellow Must Fight or Be Thoroughly Despised Man.

San Francisco, July 23.—Somehow or other there has been a wonderful increase in the number of native-born Missourians since Jim Jeffries posted a forfeit to bind a match with Jack Johnson. These skeptics will yell "show me" until the dog is actually dead—that is to say, until they see Jeffries and Jack seated in opposite corners of a prize ring.

That Jeffries' sincerity should be doubted is not in the least surprising. His actions throughout have been of the press agent variety. For this Jeffries is not being blamed so much by the eastern critics as is Sam Berger, the big fellow's sparring partner and manager. Sam, it is charged, repeatedly gave the press typewritten statements regarding Jeffries' alleged intentions without the least provocation, his sole desire being to keep the beller-maker's name before the public.

Jeffries' friends, so the story goes, begged Berger to change his tactics, as the continual press agent chirping without coming through with something that looked like money, was creating a strong sentiment against Jeffries.

It is even stated that Jeffries and Berger had a hot argument over Berger's policy, but this Berger denies. At any rate, the damage was done. Jeffries' popularity went to smash, the box office receipts fell off and the red-champion was hopping mad.

According to one story, he had actually made up his mind four weeks ago to fight, but the criticism that was being heaped upon him got through his hide and, stung to the quick and irritated by the force of public sentiment that Berger's statements aroused, he decided to at least post his forfeit.

This, of course, he can draw down at any time, but the criticism that will be the most thoroughly despised man that ever won honors in the ring. If he doesn't and goes through with the fight—

Well, let's wait until the battle's over.
