Seaside

Seaside, Or., July 31.—The last days of July find the ocean resorts the same popular outing places as in years past. The distinctive feature which has marked the season this summer is the appearance of the many strange faces among the beach visitors. It has been a season for tourists and excursionists. From week to week the personnel of the resort has changed more rapidly than in former summers. While the majority of Oregon families who have cottages at Seaside are occupying them, on the whole the number of home people who are at the resort is a little behind that of the last days of July of last year. The tourists have been welcome visitors at the beach and have enjoyed every form of recreation which the place affords. There have been more parties go over to Elk Creek and Canon Beach, up the Necanicum and around Tillamook head than in years past. The strangers who have been here during the summer have all been delighted with the outing which the resort offers.

During the early part of the week a bank of fog and mist hung over the beach, which gave an impetus to all forms of indoor entertainment. In most of the cottage and hotel parlors many many hands of bridge were played. The moving picture theatres, bowling alley and dance pavilion attracted larger numbers than during the clear bright weather.

At Locksley Hall.

The young people of Locksley Hall gave a most delightful party Tuesday evening. After a very entertaining candy pull bridge whist was played. The honors of the evening were captured by W. C. Pease of The Dalles and Miss Madge Lingenfelter, daughter of Judge Lingenfelter of Lewiston, Idaho. The prizes were two hand painted pennants bearing the insignia of the S. V. S. society, an organization which has been perfected among the summer guests of the hall. An excellent luncheon was served in one of the small dining rooms. During the entire evening a large bonfire illuminated the grounds and colored lanterns lighted the porches. The list of invited guests includes Miss Susan Murlock, Madge Lingenfelter, Pauline E. Voelfel, Lulu B. Cobban, Hazel Holland, Margaret Duboise, Lucile Dunne, Marie Van Ness, Annitia Bennett, Helen Hobson, May Kohl, Marion Kohl, Kate Nash, Margaret Swift, and Will Pease, Harry L. North Beach

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

North Beach, Wash., July 31.—The end of July finds the Washington beach resorts in the heart of their summer season. It is much the same as in years gone by. The summer crowd comes and goes. From week to week it changes, with little more disturbance than the rise and fall of the tide, or the sound of the dinner bell. Visitors come to the ocean side, enjoy an outing, leave and others take their places. During the week past a number of parties have gone to Ilwaco and visited the salmon canneries and made trips out to the fish traps. A number have also visited the North Head lighthouse. This trip has become very popular and makes a complete day's outing.

Annual Tennis Tournament.

Most elaborate preparations are being made for second annual tennis tournament to be held at the Breakers August 16 to 21. The success of last year's meet was so pronounced that there has been a demand for invitations which will fill the list to the limit. The social events which will center around the tournament will make the week the most noteworthy in the history of North Beach. The tournament will consist of six events: Men's championship scratch singles, men's handicap singles, ladies' handicap singles, men's handicap doubles, ladies' handicap doubles and mixed handicap doubles. Three prize cups are offered. The Breakers' cup is for the men's champion singles, Mrs. H. E. Judge's cup for the men's handicap singles, and Mrs. Walter M. Cook's cup for the ladies' handicap singles. The committee in charge will furnish second prizes for the events for which the cups are offered, and first prizes for the other events. The games will be played on the board courts, which were constructed for that purpose last season. They have been put in condition for the coming meet, and are being played on every day. During the week A. P. McAlpine of Portland, chairman of the committee that has charge of this year's tournament, spent two days at North Beach inspecting the courts and making arrangements for the meet.

The evenings of the tournament week will be given over to entertainment and an extensive program has been made out for the six nights. Parsons' orchestra, which plays in the hotel dining-room, will furnish the music for all of the affairs. Monday night will be given over to an informal reception. On Tuesday night there will be a fancy dress ball in the Breakers' ballroom. The costumes last year were very elaborate, and the glowing reports promise that the dress ball this year will be one of the most enjoyable affairs of the week. Plans are under way to have an amateur theatrical production on Wednesday night. It will be a short farce and given on the lawn in front of the hotel. The idea is a new one and is being followed with considerable enthusiasm. Among the guests for the week there is considerable amateur talent of note. The oyster bake, which is an annual affair, will take place on Thursday night. It will be held near a large bonfire in the grove back of the hotel. The place will be lighted with china lanterns and equipped with rustic seats and tables. On Friday night the tournament ball will take place, and on Saturday night the banquet. At the banquet the awarding of cups and prizes will be followed by speeches from prominent tennis players of the northwest.

Among those who will enter the tournament are: Misses Hazel Hotchkiss, Amy Heitshu, Mabel Goss, Lilly Fox, Stella Fording, Lilly Carstens, Irene Campbell, Myrtle Schaefer, Leasie Leadbetter, Mrs. W. L. Northrup, Mrs. F. H. Irwin, Mrs. H. E. Judge, Van Anderson, F. H. V. Andrews, Charles Arthur, James Alexander, E. D. Barrett, M. Dunne, J. F. Ewing, Stuart Freeman, H. H. Herdman, H. E. Harrigan, F. H. Irwin, George W. McMillan, Eugene Mersereau, Irving Rohr, Charles McC. Snow, R. W. Wilbur and others.

The Breakers committee consists of A. B. McAlpin, Eugene Mercereau, F. H. V. Andrews, R. W. Wilbur, T. Morris Dunne, R. R. Warinner, Irving Rohr and R. L. Ringer.

Events of Social Note.

The past week has been the scene of many picnics to North Head. On Thursday a crowd of young people from Seaview visited the lighthouse and weather bureau. From there they went to Dead Man's Hollow, where they ate lunch and then played games until late in the afternoon. Those taking the trip were Madeline Ston, Hazl Cohn, Rose Schacht, Bertha Schacht, Margaret Schacht, Lila Schacht, Bertha Botefuhr, Pauline Jacobson, Irene Colins, Pauline Roenicke, Max Smith Jr., Earnest Heeker, Willie Thompson, Cecil Greene, Howard Black, Charley Walker, Thannie Peters and K. McDaniel.

Some very good times are being enjoyed by the young people of Ocean Park this summer. Last week a party of 10 went to Oysterville on a straw ride. The same party built an old fashioned log cabin bonfire on the beach later in the week. Marshmallows were toasted and the crowd sang popular airs until late into the night. Those in the party were Marion Howell, Eliza Howell, Merle Smith, Sadie Dunlap, Mildred Smith, Ralph Hurlburt, Earnest Hood and Fred Leakley. Mrs. Fred Leakley and Mrs. Smith chaperoned the party.

One of the best picnics of the week was held at The Rocks by the young people of Seaview. In the morning the boys in the party fished and in the afternoon a ball game was played between the boys and girls, the girls winning by a large score. Those who attended the picnic were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen, Dr. B. P. Shepperd, Mrs. W. P. McKean, Mrs. Charles McKean, Luella McKean, Flobelle McKean, Mrs. Guy York, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Quinn, Mrs. D. H.
